LANSING LETTER

signs of a trend towards recovery, government economists are reported to be more convinced than ever that the key lies in the field of home building.

Michigan rated fourth in the nation last year in the number of new homes.

Towns like Holland and Muskegon attained remarkable results in the small homes classification.

The newly liberalized FHA provides government backing for 90 per cent of construction cost up to $6,000. Thus for $600 the American worker can have a modern house valued at $6,000, and the obligation is payable over many years at easy terms and at a low rate of interest. Furthermore, the farmer can build a new barn, purchase needed equipment, and otherwise add to his investment under advantageous terms.

The same government that criticized the Michigan automobile industry for easy installment plan financing is offering Michigan the opportunity of a life-time to get a new house.

Monthly Income

Industrial production may be scraping bottom, but the consumer's monthly income has dropped only from around 3,900 million dollars to about 3,400 million dollars.

This is heartening news, for it is buying power that counts.

With adjournment of Congress and removal of fears which produced the recent dictatorship hysteria, America is expected to get a new grip on itself. And when that moment arrives Michigan will receive the first benefit in the industrial pickup. Watch then for a home building revival. We should be back again in the column of leading states.

Workers' Revolution

The specturle of utility plants being seized by workers to forestall possibility of a wage cut was presented to the nation last week by the CIO in Michigan.

In Europe it would be a "workers' revolution".

The New York Times gave its conservative readers the jitters on Sunday, April 3, when it devoted a front page column to the Michigan property seizure.

The remarkable thing about it, at least to outsiders, is the complacency with which Michigan officialdom acceptad the situation. Governor Murphy continued his policy of madiation via the conference table. No one raised the question about sending troops, or law and order, or constitutional rights, and so on. In this modern day, such things have been apparently relegated to the limbo of "horse-and-buggy".

A circuit court judge added confusion to the pictutre by announcing that state courts lacked judicial rights to interfere in labor difficulties now that the National Labor Board has jurisdiction. This was news to many citizens, who had been under the impression that the rights of property could be defended and protected in court.

Jubilantly, the CIO union proclaimed it had triumphed again, forestalling any wage cuts for four months.

All of which raises a query: What next?

"Partnership"

Grand Rapids manufacturers are introducing a new program in industrial relationship.

Here is the logic: Many industrial plants in Michigan during depression years benefited the worker more than the stockholder. After the ovar-staggering burden of taxes was met, wages of the workers were paid. Then the stockholder got what was left—if anything.

The complication, or "fly in the ointment", has been the neglect or indifference on the part of industrial leaders to acquaint their co-workers with the facts of the business. If the workers' wages must be paid first, why not provide the workers with a statement of operating costs, profit and loss, in an easy-to-understand form?

The manufacturer realizes that the worker is just as human as he is. He has the same appetite for food. He craves a home for his family. He enjoys movies, radio, newspapers. He wants security, but he is willing to share his future with the stockholder when he is convinced that "capital is on the level".

This viewpoint is old-fashioned neighborliness that you find in every small town.

"Industry comes back to Main Street!"

SPRING PINE PLANTING PROGRAM OUTLINED

Expect CCC Workers to Plant Nine Million Seedlings in State

CCC planting crews in lower peninsula state forestry camps will start the spring pine planting program beginning about April 12, while upper peninsula camps will start about 10 days later, CCC authorities said today.

Weather permitting, it is planned to plant upwards of 9,000,000 pine seedlings in State Forest areas this Spring.

Ten camps will be engaged in the program. Lower peninsula camps are Houghton Lake, Higgins Lake, Kalkaska, AuSable, Wolverine, Pigeon River, Presque Isle and Black Lake. Camps Markinac and Paradise will plant in upper peninsula state forests.

Planting will have priority over all but a few specific projects, it was said, in an effort to reforest as much acreage as possible before weather conditions terminate the program.

Approximataly 50,000,000 pine seedlings have been planted on burned-over or cut-over state owned land adjacent to the State Forestry CCC camps to date, since camps were established in 1933.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Protect Yourself Against Smallpox Now!

Smallpox is caused by a filtrable virus and is found in the secretions of the nose and throat. It is communicable before the eruption appears. While it is not considered an insect-borne disease, yet it is considered that flies or other insects may visit a case of the disease and carry the infection to others.

This disease may be very mild in type during one epidemic and very fatal in another epidemic, or both types may occur in the same epidemic. An unprotected person may contract the fatal case of smallpox from a very mild one. It usually develops about the 12th day after infection; chills, fever, headache, and vomiting are the usual beginning syntoms. Firm red pimples appear on the face and hands and then show on other parts of the body.

In spite of the fact that for 140 years we have known how to prevent smallpox by vaccination, more than 5,000 cases of the disease were reported in 47 states of the United States and the District of Columbia in 1934. A striking illustration of the protection vaccination gives was shown in Vancouver, B. C. in 1932. Here an epidemic of smallpox in its most severe form broke out. Seventeen of the 50 cases resulted in death. Seven members of one family died. But not one person who had been vaccinated within 15 years caught the disease.

Smallpox is not limited by age or sex or occupation, it may attack any susceptible person. Epidemics occur at fairly regular intervals of six or seven yeas. When smallpox is epidemic, vaccination is widespread. With the resulting drop in cases comes carelessness in revaccination, at the end of six or seven years a large group of the population is again suscaptible, and an epidemic is the result.

Already during 1938, with the week ending April 1 there have been 120 cases reported throughout Michigan, both from the lower and upper peninsulas. The incidence of the disease again after its absence for many years has forced its attention on parents throughout the state who are now seeking vaccination of their children as well as themselves.

The vaccination scar is your mark of safety; let it protect you and yours. Be vaccinated yourself and have the other members of your family vaccinated. Why endanger your health and happiness and those you would protect by putting off so simple a treatment.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Township Officers' Guide Coming Out

The Department of State will shortly start distribution of an 800 page publication to every township officer in the state, in accordance with an act of the 1937 legislature.

The book was prepared for the guidance of all township officers, in the performance of their official duties. It contains excerpts from all laws bearing on townships and township officials; the last previous compilation was issued in 1926, since when many changes have been made. There are some 190 forms used by township officers included in the book, together with a copy of the state constitution.

Distribution will be made by Leon D. Case, secretary of state, through county clerks. Copies will be furnished to township clerks, treasurers, supervisors and qualified justices of the peace. There are 1,266 townships in Michigan, and as many as four justices of the peace in each township. This requirement, together with those for members of the legislature, state officials, the state law library and other official needs, will mean printing of about 8,600 copies of the guide.

Orders for the book have accumulated from attorneys and other public sources. The book will sell for $1.50 to the public, on written application accompanied by remittance. First copies will come from the press late this week. General distribution will take place as rapidly as possible.

Facts Regarding Unemployment Compensation Answered for Benefit of Workers

Editor's Note—This is the second in a series of questions and answers on Job Insurance in Michigan. Today's installment answers some of the questions being asked by employers covered by the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission Law. Readers of the Charlevoix Courier are invited to submit their questions either to this newspaper or to the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission, Information Service, 815 Fox Building, Detroit, Michigan.

Q. Are all Michigan employers subject to the law?

A. No. Only those who have employed eight or more workers in some portion of 20 different weeks of the calendar year, are subject and required to pay contributions on their pnyrolls.

Q. What is the contribution rate?

A. Three per cent on the annual payroll, until 1942 when the merit rating system will go into effect.

Q. Does the merit rating system offer any encouragemnt to employers to stabilize their employment?

A. Yes, it does. The merit rating system will reduce the contribution rate or increase it on the basis of the employers' stabilization of employment. The rate may be as low as one per cent or as high as four per cent.

Q. Does the Federal government cooperate with Michigan in the job insurance program?

A. Yes. The Federal government allows Michigan employers to credit contributions paid into the Michigan Fund against the Federal tax levied on payrolls by Title IX of the Social Security Act. It also makes Federal grants to pay for all of the administrative costs of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Law and shares in the cost of operating the Michigan State Employment Service.

Q. What is the rate of the Federal excise tax levied on employers by Title IX of the Social Security Act?

A. The rate is three per centum of wages payable by subject employers during the calendar year.

WARNING AGAINST PEDDLERS IS ISSUED HERE

Spring Brings Annual Influx of Salesmen to North Region

A joint warning to citizens of Charlevoix has been issued by the local Board of Commerce and Police Chief Clarence Coblentz, cautioning local residents against being duped by false solicitations and fake salesmen during the annual spring influx of various "rackets."

Each year Charlevoix, along with hundreds of other communities thruout the nation, is visited by scores of persons representing themselves as reputable salesmen of nationally known firm or solicitors for alleged civic organizations of the state. Numerous calls are received by the Board of Commerce and city police department during the spring and summer by housewives inquiring as to the qualifications of certain solicitors, their background and their reliability.

As an aid in the suppression of illegitimate and costly promotion, sales and solicitation schemes, the Board of Commerce and police department is attempting to educate local citizens to "investigate before they invest." Official records and other data concerning petty racketeering is on file at the Board of Commerce and open to inspection by the public at any time.

Included in the directory of commonly known petty rackets is every type from the offer of free books and special bargains to so-called "charity bandits," promoters for trading hooks and coupons, and on down to the smuggler, frequently dressed in foreign costume, who sells furs, cigars, or jewelry which he intimates is either smuggled or stolen goods, which accounts for the great bargains.

PRESIDENT SIGNS LEUCKE-BROWN BILL

Provides for Uniform Fishing Laws on the Great Lakes

President Roosevelt has signed the Luecke-Brown bill, H. J. Resolution 504, which authorizes the states bordering on the Great Lakes to enter into compacts for the conservation of fish resources through uniform regulatory laws. The measure, drafted and piloted through the House of Representatives by Cong. John Luecke, of the 11th Michigan District, was sponsored by Senator Prentiss Brown of Michigan in the Senate, which passed the resolution several weeks ago.

Luecke expressed gratification over the signing of his bill, which completes Federal action thereon. Cong. Luecke has also introduced a supplementary Committee Resolution which was adopted by the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries. This latter resolution requests the Secretary nf State to negotiate an agreement with the Canadian Government for uniform regulation of fishing in international waters of the Great Lakes. Luecke was recently advised by Secretary of State Cordell Hull that early consideration would be given the Committee Resolution.

EARLY BREAK-UP OF ICE SETS A RECORD

Lake Charlevoix Free of Ice in March First Time in History

When the ice cleared from Bayne City's end of Lake Charlevoix March 30th this year it broke u twenty-year precedent. During the twenty years from 1918 until 1938 Lake Charlevoix was never able to break King Winter's grip until early April. In 1925 the ice cleared from the lake on April 4th, and until this year that was the earliest on record.

In 1929 the ice broke up on the 7th of April and in 1934 not until April 29th, the latest on record for the ice to stay in the lake. The average for the other years is between these two dates or about the 16th of April.—Boyne Citizen.

B. Niekerson, Pere Marquette station agent, supports the above contention with the remark that the March break-up in the west end of Lake Charlevoix is the first in his remembrance.

NEW CITY COUNCIL IN FIRST MEETING

received and referred to the ordinance committee and city attorney. The proposed changes, which would prohibit use of the city docks for commercial use, particularly by persons operating boats for hire, will be acted on later.

Contrary to custom, Mayor Bridge did not appoint committees at his first meeting, presenting in lieu of such action a proposal to employ a superintendent or manager of utilities, whose duties would embody supervision of many city departments now handled by committees. The suggestion met little apparent favor from three hold-over members of the council. A proposal to table the matter gave way to passage of a motion offered by Alderman Wood and supported by Alderman Heise to authorize the mayor and city clerk to make an investigation and procure information relative to the proposition.

In a communication to the council, City Attorney Arthur L. Fitch outlined the contention that his appointment by ex-Mayor Arthur Bergeon was effective only for the present appointive term which ends the second Monday in May, and that before that time he would tender his resignation, thus allowing the mayor and council the opportunity of making an appointment of their own choice.

The council adjourned until Thursday evening, April 15, when the matter of bond bids will be considered.

She now is using a goodly portion of her movie income in the purchase of a California newspaper, so that she can some day become a newspaper "man" again.

SUPERVISORS ADJOURN THURSOAY

MUCH BUSINESS TRANSACTED AT SPRING SESSION

Vote Aid to Dental Program; Finance Boat Docks at Ironton; Put "Teeth" in Dog Tax

Much legislation of benefit and interest to the public resulted frem the four-day session of the Charlevoix county board of supervisors which adjourned last Thursday.

The county-wide dentsl correction program of the District Health Unit, which has had the morsl and financiol assistance of both rursl and city civic groups since its inception, was given financial ossistance by the board. An appropriation of $230 wes voted to provide employment of a trained assistant for Dr. Nelson. The program, which had as its goal 100% dental correction for school children of Charlevoix county, will be greatly expedioted by this action.

Resort promotional efforts at Ironton were given u boost through the bnard's provision of finances to construct three 40-foot and one 75 foot dock on county property south of the Ironton ferry. The hoard voted $300 to be added to $100 provided by Eveline township for completion of the project. Boating interests of the rapidly expanding resort coleny in the Ironten vicinity will be served by this leke improvement.

If a resolution of the ngriculture committee of the hoard receives favorable action from the Michigan Department of Agriculture, a quarantine will be established around Charlevoix county to prevent importation of cettle which have not been tested and proven free of Bang's disease. The resolution pointed out that all Charlevoix county herds have been tested and are free of the plague and such a quarantine would prevent infestation in the future.

In conformance with state law, the board availed itself of the privilege of raising daily pay from $4 to $5 and set mileage at 5c per mile daily to and from meetings. They were formerly nllowed 10c per mile for one trip to and from the county seat regardless of the number of days the session convened.

SPRING FERRY SCHEDULE IS NOW EFFECTIVE

Crossings Every Ninety Minutes Begun at Straits Saturday

The spring schedule for the state forries at the Straits of Mackinac opened Suturday.

The schedule, which continues through June 30, calls for departures from Mackinaw City and St. Ignace every hour and a half during the day and evening until 9 p. m.

Because there still is some ice in the Straits the leased ice crusher "St. Marie," which has been in service throughout the winter, will continue in operation for a week or so, Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner said.

The other boat will be the state owned "Straits of Mackinac". The "City of Cheboygan", largest of the fleet, will replace the "St. Marie" in about ten days.

Meanwhile, Van Wagoner reported, remodeling of the Pere Marquotte No. 20 at Manitowoc, Wis., was progressing rapidly.

The oew end-loading slip dock facilities for the new hoat "City of Cheboygan" will be completed at St. Ignace for inauguration of the summor schedule.

SALE TAX DELINQUENT PROPERTY TO BE HELD

Owaers Have 18 Moaths for Redemtioa Following Sale

Plans for the first delinquent tax sale in Michigan for the past six years are going forward despite Governor Murphy's expressed hope that the sele could be postponed or modified.

The governor's statement brought u flood of letters frem widows and elderly persons who fear they will be evicted from their homes after May 3 for inability to pay back taxes. Since Murphy has left the state, the letters are routed to Auditor General George T. Gundry, who is nominally in charge of the sale.

Gundry said he is telling the distressed home owners that:

1. They cunnot be evicted from their homes until ahout two years after the sule nnd during 18 months of that time they huve an opportunity to redeem their properties.

2. There is nothing any state official, including the governer, can do ahout postponing the sale.

3. The legislature will convene long before the 18 months' grace period has expired and may, if it sees fit, previde relief by extending the grace period.

BASEBALL SEASON ON HERE FRIOAY

CHARLEVOIX MEETS BOYNE IN INITIAL CONTEST

First Track Meet With Mancelona to Be Held Here Friday, April 29—Local Prospects Bright

Charlevoix high school's spring athletic activity opens Friday, April 22, with the first competitive event—a baseball game with Boyne City on the local diamond.

The contest will open a six-game schedule for Charlevoix and will initiate competition for the western division of the Little Eight class C conference in baseball.

Short of practice due to unfavorable weather and with only four veterans from last year's team available in a light list of material, Charlevoix's prospects in baseball are rather an unknown quantity. "Chick" Gallagher, Eddie Gengle, Elmer Crain nnd Ira Smith played last year, but the other candidates are untried.

Coach Kipke has not decided on a definite line-up for Friday's tilt, but intimated Ira Smith probably will work behind the plate and either "Chick" Gallagher or Bruce Henley would draw the hurling duties. Eddie Gengle is slated for shortstop, Lewis Brown for first base, Bob Straw for second base and either Keith Carey or Charles Greely at third base. Fielders include Ernie Nowland, Elmer Crain, "Bub" McGhan and Max Smith.

Charlevoix's first track event will be a dual meet with Mancelona, 1937 class C conference champions, at south side athletic field on Friday, April 29. Coach Coleman has a large and promising group of candidates which includes Dick Bergmann, "Chick" Gallagher and Olach, last year's point winners.

SEA SERPENT? NO, IT PROVED TO BE A SEAL

Appearaace Suaday Gave Bill Fessenden Unexpected Thrill

If anyone saw "Bill" Fessenden acting queerly Sunday, there was ample reason.

It seems Bill was out to shoot a crow along the Lake Michigan bluff off the north end of Michigan avenue when a creature which he could neither identify as a fish, serpent or animal appeared in the water a short distance off shore. Bill watched the creature rear its head out of water as it swam along and his perplexity deepened. An inclination to shoot the thing was thwarted by "buck fever," Bill admits, and he went home.

Then came the difficulty of telling the family what he had seen for fear they might wonder? You know how it goes! The truth finally came out, however. Bill had forgotten about the seal supposed to have escaped from a Chicago zoo. When he found out this animal had been seen quite regularly at various points in Lake Michigan for the past three years, the mystery cleared, but not until he had been given the biggest thrill in a lifetime.

DISTRICT HIGHWAY OFFICES RELOCATED

Charlevoix County to Be Served From New Cadillac Headquarters

Headquarters of the state highway department in District 3 will soon be located in one of the landmarks of the early timber days at Cadillac.

The state administrative board has approved the request of Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner to purchase the Cobbs and Mitchell building for $15,000. For years this building served as the home office of one of the world's largest lumbering concerns. The company is now in the process of dissolution and the purchase price of the building, which is of masonry construction, is only a fraction of the original cost.

The interior of the building is designed to exemplify the principal natural resources of the Cadillac territory. Practically every type of lumber produced in that area is represented in the woodwork of the building.

Counties served by District 3, in addition to Wexford, are: Clare, Osceola, Lake, Mason, Manistee, Missaukee, Kalkaska, Grand Traverse, Benzie, Leelanau, Antrim, and Charlevoix.

GRAY MEMORIAL SITE IS CHOSEN

STONE CAIRN WILL BE ERECTED AT KEWADIN

Ceremoay Honoriag Michigaa Resort Promoter Is Scheduled for Tuesday, Juae 28th

Selection of the site upon which will be erected the Hugh J. Gray memorial cairn, a monument construeted of stones from each of Michigan's 83 counties in honor of the dean of this state's tourist and resort leaders, has been announced by J. Lee Barrett of Detroit, vice-chairman of the Hugh J. Gray Testimonial Committee.

The site chosen by the committee is a plot of land near Kewadin, on US-31, a point exactly half way between the north pole and the equator. Final approval of this location was made by the committee following an inspection tour of several potential sites for the cairn, made by Mr. Barrett and other committee officials earlier this spring.

Negotiations have been opened by the committee for going through the proper legal procedure to secure the selected site, which will be started at once, Mr. Barrett stated.

Mr. Barrett has written Commissioner Van Wagoner, Senator Prentiss M. Brown of Michigan, and several other prominent officials, asking them to make brief speeches at the dedication ceremonies of the cairn, to be held Tuesday, June 28, at 2:00 p. m.

Gordon Todd, secretary of the Charlevoix Board of Commerce, is chnirman of the Charlevoix county committee named to select a stone from this county for the memorial cairn.

CITY COUNCIL ORGANIZED FOR YEAR

STANDING COMMITTEES APPOINTED MONDAY NIGHT

Numerous City Improvements Placed in Committees for Report at Next Regular Meetiag

Organization of the Charlevoix city council was completed Monday evening with appointment of standing committees for the year by Mayor Robert Bridge.

Committees were named as follows, the first acting as chairman:

Streets, sewers and public health—Aldermen Hooker, Heise and Erber.

Police, fire and license—Aldermen Wood, Hooker and Curtier.

Public parks and water front—Aldermen Hallett, Erber and Heise.

Charter, ordinance and advertising—Aldermnn Cartier, Wood and Hallett.

Finance, printing and purchasing—Aldermen Heise, Erber and Hallett.

Utilities—Committee of the whole council.

The plan of the entire membership of the council acting as the Utilities committee is a new departure, designed to bring control of this large municipal investment under the council as a whole.

Applications for permits to build docks on Round lake harbor by Culver & Beaudoin, who have leased the Sears property for a trolling camp, and by John Nordrum, were given approval. The applications now go to the U. S. war department for final sanction.

The improvement of East Park on Round lake was taken under discussion and City Engineer Robert F. Sloan was instructed to present plans for recreational facilities and other contemplated features at the next council meeting.

In an effort to bring about completion of the Lake Michigan scenic drive through supplementary WPA grant was discussed and resulted in a decision to invite the Norwood and Charlevoix township boards to the next council meeting for a conference aimed, if possible, to align local contributions required for continued WPA participation in the project. Due to damage resulting from spring wash-outs and the lack of local cooperation, the WPA, it is understood, is contemplating taking up culverts, blocking the highway at the Charlevoix-Norwood township line and abandoning the project. Many thousands of dollars have been spent to bring the highway to its present state of completion. It is felt abandonment would deprive the city, as well as Charlevoix and Norwood townships, of potential resort property development and tourist attraction.

MUST GIVE NUMBER OF OLD DRIVERS' LICENSE

New Licease Cannot Be Issued by Officers In Case of Failure

At the request of city and county officers examining drivers' license applicants, this article is to bring to public attention the fact that applicants must have their old license number when making application for a new license.

This requirement, it is pointed out, is mandatory by law, and no examining officer may issue a new license unless the applicant produces the old license number. In cases where the license may have been lost, it will be necessary to write the Secretary of State and obtain the required number.

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

Like a financial juggernaut rolling down upon Michigan is the unemployment or welfare problem.

Even with the federal government allotting 30 per cent of the WPA extra appropriation for use in Michigan, Governor Murphy was moved to release a statement to the press that he had talked directly to the White House and had appealed for a grant of 10 to 15 more millions. Cheerless newspaper headlines chilled the citizenry: "110,000 face starvation, says Murphy."

Last week-end the governor flew from Wichita, Kan. to Washington to plead personally for additional federal cash.

Gone long ago was the hope that the state treasury would be balanced and that a huge deficit could be diverted. Terming the care of unemployment "the major responsibility of state government", the governor has let it be known that he insists upon full and adequate treatment of the jobless not only in food and clothing but in medical care.

Lawrence Jensen and Kenneth Slough inspected the telephone line Monday and made whatever repairs were needed.

A meeting of the PTA will be held in the school gymnasium Thursday evening of this week. A fine program is being prepared.

One day last week the wind blew the smoke stack off from Lawrence Jensen's arch, and the sparks set fire to the sugar shanty, burning it to the ground with several cords of wood that were piled in and near it. There were about eighteen gallons of syrup nearly ready to come off in the pans when the fire occurred.

The first Sunday in May church services will be on their summer schedule beginning at ten o'clock.

Next Sunday morning Rev. Parker will speak on "A Christian and His Amusements". Everyone interested is urged to attend as we feel this will be a very interesting subject to all.

Mrs. Lottie Tumath of Ann Arbor spent the past week in her local home. Her daughter Eleanor, a teacher in Grayling, and Mr. and Mrs. George Nebis of Caro, spent the week end with her.

A large attendance enjoyed the Easter services at our church last Sunday morning. Miss Wade of East Jordan and Mrs. Datus Dean each sang a beautiful solo, which were enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ward are now living in Charlevoix, having sold their farm to T. Beard of Chicago. The Ward family has lived in Ironton many years and will be missed from our community.

Mrs. Ross Alexander received word that her grandmother, Mrs. E. A. Carlisle, passed away last Monday at the home of her daughter, Edna, in Lodi, Calif. Mrs. Carlisle was ninety-two years old and was one of the first pioneers in Antrim county.

BARNARD

Busy days are the rule for farmers now.

An Easter program was given at the regular Grange meeting Friday night.

Mrs. Clarence Beattie is improving after her long illness, but is still confined to her bed.

Miss Jennie Klooster was home for the week end, returning to her employment in Detroit Sunday.

Clayton Smith returned last week from his trip to California, and reports a very enjoyable time.

Mrs. Albert Klooster was called to Detroit on account of the illness and subsequent death of her sister, Mrs. Geo. Hamilton, formerly of Charlevoix.

PHELPS

All the club's members have finished their articles, and we sure are having a swell time making "Hot Lunch" posters.

A large crowd enjoyed the Easter Cantata at the Pilgrim Holiness church. We think it was very good. We are planning on having a May Day cantata too.

Save the date April 29th at 8:00 to visit the Marion Center Grange hall to hear an uproarious little comedy, the scene is in the country. "Kidnapping Betty" is the name of the play and usually people do not try to kidnap themselves. If you want to enjoy a good evening full of entertainment, be sure and be present.

BEAVER ISLAND

Joe O'Donnell returned Wednesday from a business trip on the mainland.

James Carnes, Chicago, is at his cottage in Peaine township for the summer.

Mr. Mellencamp, county agricultural agent, was a business caller here last week.

Tony Wojan and John Dubell went to Pellston Friday to spend Easter with their families.

The Antrim Iron Co. plant has closed down and the crew gone back to their former homes.

CENTRAL LAKE

Alden M. E. church Easter program was as fine as we have seen in many years.

The condition of John Muckle, who suffered several light strokes, is quite a bit improved.

Rev. Robie, the revivalist, held services at the M. E. Church at Central Lake Sunday morning.

Bright northern lights Sunday night, presages colder weather. That big snow storm is still due.

Oliver McGuire of Saginaw made a visit with friends in Central Lake recently. He and son, William, are still employed on the same farm.

Mr. Hooper from Boyne City has been very busy at the county agent's office at Bellaire, fixing up crop loans. The loans come in very handy this year, as so many need help in that line.

There were fourteen ministers present at the ministerial convention at Bellaire last week, Rev. Weaver among them. He goes with his family this week for a short visit at Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bowers, former officials at the local postoffice assisted there last Saturday. They have lately returned from Florida, and say they like it all right in the winter time.

Farmers are very busy these days with teams and tractors plowing and seeding. The season is so early that it has been a fine time for such work. The county agent, too, is a very busy man both with office work and field meetings.

Mrs. Jean Campbell of Bellaire was a busy caller at different homes here last week in regards to the old age pensions. She has purchased the late William May property, northside Bellaire, and is fixing it up in fine condition, we are told.

Elk Rapids church people certainly gave a fine Good Friday program at the M. E. church there last week. Singing by the choir and the talk given by Rev. Albert Rogers of Reed City, brother-in-law of the resident pastor, Rev. E. T. Smith, was very much enjoyed. The quiet spiritual atmosphere was very impressive. The day was as pleasant as summer, and the beauty of the town's scenery on that day was very striking. Elk Rapids is one of northern Michigan's prettiest places in summer, and so many cars parked on the streets made one think that resort time was again here.

Whatever it is that is to be proved by war games, it is proved.

FAIRVIEW BANKS

John Drenth is building a new cottage.

Farmers have started to sow oats the past week.

Some real spring weather the past week, and a few showers of rain.

Mr .and Mrs. William Timmer were visitors at their parents' home Sunday evening.

DeGroot Bros. had the misfortune of losing one of their good horses this Monday morning.

Harry H. DeGroot of Ellsworth was a caller in this neighborhood last week Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. DeJong of Pleasant Hill are entertaining their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Lamer of Zeeland, Mich., over the week end.

Mr. Fielstra of Pleasant Hill with his truck, has been hauling some lumber for DeGroot Bros. the past week to be used for the new barn.

The Misses Kate Van Straten, Kathryn and Cora Timmer, went to Petoskey Friday afternoon to visit Miss Kathryn Klooster, who is taking treatment there in the hospital, and found her very much improved, and expecting to come home soon.

On April 22 it will be 36 years that ye correspondent and his family arrived in this neighborhood, and certainly can see some changes made around here in this length of time. At that time (1902) it was all virgin woods, large tall maples standing side by side, roads had to be made, and land had to be cleared, lots of hard work to be done. Only a few teams of horses were available, and people made their living by making and selling wood, only a few crops raised for home use. Modern conveniences as we have now, such as auto, telephone, electricity, radio, good roads, rural mail delivery, machinery, etc., were never thought of. We found the following families here at that time: Mr. and Mrs. John Oosterbaan, Mr. and Mrs. Albert VanDerJagt, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Glass, Mr .and Mrs. T. K. Wielenga, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kass, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob VanDerArk, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ganzevoort, Mr. and Mrs. Klaas Postmus and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. VanDerArk. Of the above only John Oosterbaan Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. VanDerArk, are still here with us today in this neighborhood, the rest having died or moved away.

Early Discovery of Tuberculosis Means Early Recovery

Pulmonary tuberculosis has been known to take its greatest toll between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five. No age is immune to this danger but the peak of development has been found to be in the above-mentioned group. At present 60 to 70 per cent of all recognized tuberculosis patients in this country are in the advanced stage of the disease when the diagnosis is made, and treatment is exceedingly costly in terms of money and other less tangible but more important values. Recovery sometimes involves a loss of permanent functions, a limitation of the usual activities of life, and a danger of relapse. Could the knowledge that has been accumulated through years of experience and research be applied wisely and widely this picture could be changed almost completely for the better.

The patients having few or no symptoms of illness, does not seek the physician. Rather, the physician, in his capacity as a far-seeing health officer, must seek the patient. Tuberculin testing and x-ray examination of the chest, wisely planned and applied, are indispensable periods of the diagnostic method.

The earlier pulmonary lesion is one of the vital and focal points for the attack. This lesion will be discovered only in a smaller minority of cases unless the disease is viewed as a community problem and organized searches for it are made periodically. The reasons for directing attention particularly to this early tuberculous lesion and its cure are as follows:

1. The nature of the early lesion is better understood now than ever before.
2. The time of life when the lesion is most likely to appear is more clearly defined.
3. The methods of diagnosing its presence have been developed and perfected.
4. The subsequent behavior of the early lesion and the ways of its healing or advancement are better known.
5. Most disabling and fatal tuberculosis originates in this lesion.
6. Knowledge of the methods of treatment and their proper selection and application is more accurate and reliable.
7. The far reaching and vastly superior results of proper and timely treatment of the early lesion are firmly established.

CHAPTER XV

"Good. You shall read to me the dispatches that arrived on the San Antonio. You who have been my legs, must now be my eyes. I have looked at these letters once, but I can scarcely see . . . so read, my son, and carefully. I may have been mistaken when I read them."

The boy read, slowly, painfully, stumbling over the stilted official phraseology of the letters from the Viceroy, and the Father Guardian in Mexico.

There was no hope for the Mission Santa Barbara. The Governor, Don Pedro Fages, had not recommended the idea. It was regrettable the two Franciscans, Fray Mariano Rubi and Froy Bartolome Gili, were unsuitable, but it was hard to get decent men to leave Mexico, and go to the distant province of California.

There was a friendly personal letter from the Father Guardian, but that gave Junipero Serra no comfort. Serra was warned against using his temporal influence, as there were rumors abroad that the missions in California were to be turned over to the Order of Dominicans, and the Franciscans returned to Mexico.

"No, no," faltered the Franciscan. "No, Pio, you do not read that truly! California to be delivered to the Dominicans? But California is San Francisco's own country . . . chosen by his own wish . . . never should it be in other hands than those of the Brothers of San Francisco! Ah, it is just a rumor . . . it could be nothing else, God forbid that it should!"

Serro elosped his hands and was still. "Are there no more letters?" he asked calmly

"There is one, but it is not from Mexico, Padre. It is from his Excellency."

"Don Pedro! Read it."

The note was curt, brief. The Governor had received dispatches from Mexico, regarding the founding of the Mission Santa Barbara, and he presumed the holy father had received the same intelligence. It was unfortunate the holy father had not seen fit to communicate with him, or shown any disposition to enter again upon friendlier relations. He himself and La Gobernadora, with an escort, were leaving on the San Antonio when she sailed for the Presidio and Mission of San Francisco, where La Gobernadora would be confined by the eminent doctor who was stationed there. And that was all.

The father rose painfully from his cot, and stood in the center of the little cell, his hands outflung to Heaven.

"Deserted! Betrayed! The face of all mankind is turned against me, but Thou, O Father, art with me! Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me! Thou art with me always . . ."

"And I, Padre," whispered Pio, kneeling at the father's feet. "I am with you, always."

The Missionary put one hond on the Indian's bowed head, and with the other still upraised, stood, with rapt face, his lips murmuring prayers. Pio could feel the heat of the trembling hand even through the thick thatch of his hair, and close to the father as he was, could feel his limbs trembling. At last Serra spoke to him.

"It is finished, Pio. And if all the years that I have toiled have brought me nothing else, it is enough that you are here, simple, loving, righteous. Pio mio." He smiled at the boy, and turned again to his cot. He knelt beside it.

"But, Padre, will you not lie down?" questioned the onxious boy.

"This attitude is more comfortable, son, for it is one to which my body is more familiar than any other. Pio, will you try to find Estevanico, and bring back my speetocles to me? For now I have mony, many letters to write, and the time is getting short, ay, short."

Pio tightened the red aash around his waist and straightened proudly.

"Father, it shall be done. At once." He dashed out of the cell, through the mission grounds, and in the direction of the village of the gentile Indions.

Junipero Serra did not feel the hard floor beneath his knees, nor the hord boards on which his head rested. He was pondering deeply, sadly, praying to keep the bitterneas from his thoughts.

He began dreaming of the past, of his earlier days in California.

Episodes whleh he had forgotten long since came into hia mind. His first boptism of an Indian child, the sweetness of a hedge of wild roses along a newly broken trail, a sunset glow on the white peaks of the lofty sierras. With each of these impressions came the figure of Pedro Fages, whose eyes saw the same beauty, ond whose heart loved it as he did.

"Ai, mi companero," he sighed, "you have deserted me. Friend, brother."

The room grew dark. A swallow darted in the low doorway, eireled the eell and flew out with a silky rustle of swift wings. Junipero Serra smiled.

"Father Franeis . . ." he whispered, "Father Franeis . . . I recognize thy messenger . . ."

Then he lay very still.

Into the room, ofter a long while, darted Pio, as swiftly and noiselessly as the swallow.

"Padre mio!" he crowed, "Padre mio! Look, your spectaeles!" There was no answer from the priest. Pio leaned over him breathlessly. "Look," he said, "I have them, your spectacles, Father." At last Serra stirred.

"Ah, bless you, my child?" he said in a faint voiee. "Now light the candles for there is work to be done."

Pio lighted the eandles. If the father had not been so engrossed in his own thoughts he would have seen the youth's faee was bleeding, that one eye was closed, and that his hair was standing wildly on his usually sleek head.

The father fitted his speetaeles over his ears, took them off, and adjusted the steel bows a bit, wiped the square lenses with the corner of his brown robe and pieked up his quill.

He must summon his brethren to him. First there were those stauneh countrymen of his, Fermin Lasuen, Francisco Palou, islanders like himself. Ah, but Crespi . . . but lately he had been laid to rest beneath the altar of the church here at Carmel. And Jose Antonio Murguia, the Builder . . . but he too now slept in the beautiful church at Santa Clara, which he had builded, and whose dedication he had not lived to see.

Junipero Serra sighed deeply, and breathed a prayer for those sainted souls. California had exacted her toll from the Franciscans . . . but there were many left, praise God. And to them he must write; to Mission San Buenaventura, San Gabriel Areangel, San Juan Capistrano, San Diego de Alcala, Santa Clara, San Luis Obispo de Tolosa, San Antonio de Padua, and San Francisco de Asis.

As he leaned over the table his head was light with fever, and the quill in his hand shook. For a moment he needs must lay his head down on the elean page before him, and close his eyes. Yet he must write . . . though well he knew those brothers of the farther missions would never reach him in time. But Palou, his elosest brother, his Mallorean countryman . . . he must eome. He roused himself and started writing, ending the letter, "Good Brother Palou, eome and assist me to die!"

For hours into the night, the little eell was quiet exeept for the scratching of the pen, and the gentle clieking of his rosary when he rested from his writing. Onee Pio slipped in, and put fresh eandles in the eandle-soekets. He eurled up at the father's feet, and was soon asleep.

As he wrote a white fog moved ailently in from the sea, traveling inland to the great valleys of the Salinas, the San Joaquin, the Saeramento, drowning all things in thick white vapor. Along the far-flung eoast, golden beaches, shingly strands, jutting promontories and forhidding rocks the tides of morning raeed.

The letters were finished, all but one. Junipero Serra walked to a wooden shutter, opened it to the cold dawn. A breath of fog drifted into the cell like a wraith, and warmed itself at the candles.

He seated himself again. With a prayer he pulled a clean page toward him, and wrote slowly:

"To Be Delivered After My Death.

"To His Esteemed Exeellency, Don Pedro Fages, Gobernador-General of the Californias, Baja and Alta."

Lifting his apectaeles, he wiped away some tears that had gathered beneath the thick lenses, then wrote,

"My beloved son . . ."

Just as he finished, Pio awoke, and the swallows were aware that it was dawn. Junipero Serra read the letter, sighed, and signed it with his rubric:

"Fr. Junipero Serra."

Production of 1939 Plates Starts May 1

Manufacture of 1939 motor vehicle license plates will begin at the State Prison of Southern Michigan, at Jackson, about May 1, immediately after completion of the last of the 1938 half-year plates.

Use of Michigan-made materials in the making of these license plates has increased by about a third because of the replacement of the old windshield "sticker" with metal plates.

The manufacture of 1938 motor vehicle license plates involved 1,245 tons of steel and approximately 10,000 gallons of paint. There were 2,489,600 pairs of plates made for 1938. To handle them required an equal number of envelopes, and 49,792 cartons for shipment from the prison to the branch offices of the Department of State. Plates for 1939 will show black letters and numerals on a buff background.

WINTER WHEAT CROP TO BE ABOVE THE AVERAGE

Following the spring weather of late March, Michigan growers reported the winter wheat crop in good condition on April 1 and indicated that the yield per acre would probably be above average for the 10-year period, 1927-36.

Growth of the crop was further advanced than usual, and apparently winter killing was very light, according to the Michigan Co-operative Crop Reporting Service.

LICENSE SALES SHOWS MICHIGAN POPULARITY

Hunting, Trapping, Fishing Permits Reached Top During 1937

More people hunted and fished in Michigan last year than ever before in the history of the state, tabulations at the department of conservation show.

Sale of virtually all types of hunting and fishing licenses reached an all-time high in 1937, giving proof of both improved economic conditions and the increasing popularity of Michigan as an outdoor recreational state.

More than 600,000 fishing licenses, more than 485,000 small game hunting licenses and more than 155,000 deer hunting licenses were sold last year according to conservation department records completed up to the first of this month. Trapping licenses also increased, a total of 21,065 being issued last year compared to 12,106 in 1936.

Plans for repair of the water main under the upper channel between Round lake and Lake Charlevoix were put in motion through instruction to Engineer Sloan to prepare plans as a basis of bids for the work. The main was damaged last summer by the government dredge Meade.

Suggested amendments to the present harbor ordinance and a nuisance ordinance which became invalid through a circuit court decision handed down at Traverse City by Judge Parm C. Gilbert, were referred to City Attorney Arthur Fitch for report at the next meeting.

FARMERS ADVISED TO USE HOPPER POISONS

Western Methods Not Reliable, According to Tests

With a grasshopper infestation that may prove more serious than any previous growing seasons in Michigan, steps are being taken to catch up early with the young hoppers with poison bait.

Advice from the United States Department of Agriculture indicates that farmers in Michigan had better stick to poison baits. Reports from states farther west had indicated that perhaps the castor bean plant was capable of protecting other crops by poisoning and controlling grasshoppers. The federal department has tested out the theory and claims that castor bean plants are not the answer to the farmer's prayer for a cheap and easy way to control the pest.

AERIAL SURVEY OF 53 COUNTIES IS PLANNED

Charlevoix County Included In Summer Highway Dept. Program

Charlevoix county is included in a cooperative aerial survey of 53 Michigan counties will go forward this year under the sponsorship of the state highway department and the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

The Federal agency will spend $120,000 on the project and the highway department $30,000. The survey will result in new information on land use planning, acreage determination, erosion control, flood control, and highway planning, construction, and maintenance. The information, Commissioner Van Wagoner pointed out, will be of value not only to governmental units but also to private business. A similar survey was made two years ago in the metropolitan area.

Notice To Whom It May Concern

Please to Take Notice that on Wednesday, the 25th day of May, 1938, at one o'clock in the afternoon, at the office of the Judge of Probate at the Court House in the city of Charlevoix, county of Charlevoix, Michigan, I will make application to the Honorable Judge of Probate in and for said county, to change my name from Lionel Alvord to Lionel McClanaghan.

Signed: Lionel Alvord.

EASTER PARTY GIVEN AT OTTER LAKE BILLET

Mrs. Elizabeth Trimble One of Hostesses at Annual Affair

The ninth and eleventh districts of the American Legion sponsored the April birthday party at the Legion billet at Otter Lake on Easter Sunday. Mrs. Mae Peddler of Muskegon, and Mrs. Elizabeth Trimble of Charlevoix, child welfare chairmen of the two districts, were hostesses.

Every month the children at Otter Lake billet are given a birthday party. On Easter Sunday a moving picture was shown in the recreation hall, after which the children were treated to ice cream, cake and Easter eggs. Every child was given a large balloon and a tiny Easter basket, and birthday gifts were presented to those who had birthdays during April. About 75 visitors were present.

The Otter Lake billet is not an orphanage, but a home maintained by the Legion and Auxiliaries for undernourished children and children having tuberculosis. The children are kept there only until they have regained their health, usually from 3 to 6 months, and then are returned to their homes. Several hundred children are taken care of every year. At present there are 126.

The billet consists of the administration building, recreation building and several cottages. Every cottage is like a modern home with its kitchen, dining room, play room, living room and enough sleeping room to accommodate 20 to 30 children. As yet they have no school building and the children are transported to the village of Otter Lake.

"Dobbin" Again Loses Out

Old "Dobbin," as a means of transportation, has received another body blow in Marion township. The gasoline wagon has put the horse drawn vehicles on the shelf definitely. OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

Farmers Depict Ideal Michigan

Picturing Michigan agriculture as it would look in an ideal has been and is the work of hundreds of key farmers in 79 of the 83 counties in the state.

Heading up the survey of farming as it is and as it should be is H. A. Berg, extension specialist in farm management, Michigan State College. He started the work by summing up Michigan's rank nationally in leading farm crops for acreage and production.

Such national records as being first in acreages of potatoes, field beans, peppermint and spearmint, cucumbers for pickles and alfalfa were reckoned in the preliminary work. Second place production rankings are apparent in clover seed, late canteloupes, celery, late market cucumbers and late onions.

Of the 79 counties, Charlevoix county is aiding in the work and at present B. C. Mellencamp has prepared through a committee of representative farmers, a mapped picture of the county as its farmers think it should be. Changes in land usage are leading goals in many counties.

For the state as a whole, totals indicate 50.2 per cent of the land is in farms, while the county surveys point to a more desirable goal of 49.2 per cent. This is a reduction over the state but 1.9 per cent, but a total of 357,855 acres.

Tillable acreage should increase 51,387 acres, summaries show. There could be 4,098 fewer farms from the 196,517 total, yet the farm population could increase by 24,515 persons from the present total of 840,514.

Corn could occupy 81,616 more acres; the state should grow 167,559 fewer acres of beans, but could add 1,810 acres of potatoes, 28,203 more acres of sugar beets, 158,386 more acres of barley, 475,205 more acres of all hay and 756,829 more acres of alfalfa for hay.

Potato Regulations

The new regulations covering the number of seed potatoes both in and out of the state should be studied by each grower if he is to avoid difficulty. It is felt that the importance attached to this subject is such that it seems desirable to add comments relative to the program.

1. There are no exemptions for seed potatoes moving in inter-state except certified seed.

2. Definition of certified seed: Potatoes which are officially certified for seed purposes by the respective official state seed potato certification agency. Potatoes coming under this heading must be inspected and sealed in the presence of a certifying agent.

3. Potatoes from certain designated districts moving in inter-state which are not certified are subject to the regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States. These regulations are enforced thru the control committee of potatoes of these various districts which include the states of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota.

4. By order of the Secretary effective January 25th all potatoes moving in inter-state must be U. S. Commercial grade or better. This means that any lot must contain at least 80% U. S. No. 1 and must be 1⅞ inch minimum in diameter, unless otherwise specified, which means that 1½ inch minimum potatoes may be shipped when grade is so declared. In addition, size U. S. 1B can be shipped inter-state.

5. Seed potatoes moving within the state of Michigan (intra-state) may be transported by the grower within the state of Michigan. There are no size requirements for these potatoes. The grower is required to have a permit for transportation. This can be obtained from the inspector in the district. The containers used for these potatoes do not have to be branded as to grade or size. The inspector will ascertain whether or not the party asking for the permit is the actual grower of these potatoes. It must be remembered that this permit does not allow the grower to move this stock outside the boundary of the state of Michigan unless he complies with the requirements covering table stock, which must be of a grade at least 80% U. S. No. 1 (Commercial) 1⅞ inch minimum unless otherwise specified as to size.

AT THE MOVIES

"Of Human Hearts" Story of Ohio's Pioneer Days

"Of Human Hearts", Walter Huston's first screen appearance since his triumphs in "Dodsworth", is the attraction coming April 23 to the Palace Theatre, with James Stewart, Beulah Bondi and an elaborate character cast.

Also prominent in the large east are Guy Kibbee, Charles Coburn, Gene Lockhart, Ann Rutherford, Arthur Aylesworth, Clem Bevans, Charley Grapewin, Gene Reynolds, Sterling Holloway, Charles Peck, Robert McWade, John Carradine, Leona Roberts and Minor Watson.

Hijack Film Pries Behind Racket Wars

One of the country's most powerful rackets, highway hijacking, to which legitimate business last year paid a tribute of fifty million dollars, is turned inside out for the first time in the new Paramount drama, "Tip-Off Girls", which will be seen starting April 27 at the Palace Theatre.

Edmund Lowe Scores in "Murder On Diamond Row"

Edmund Lowe is a super-sleuth again—this time in "Murder On Diamond Row" Alexander Korda's thrilling mystery melodrama, which buws in at the Palace Theatre April 27.

The film, which is based on one of Edgar Wallace's greatest detective novels, casts Lowe as Barrabal, an ex-Scotland Yard inspector whose taste for liquor has brought him upon evil days, and the popular star has never been better.

The Golden Text (I John 5:25) is: "Verily, verily, I say until you, the hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (I Cor. 15: 19, 20): "If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable. But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first-fruits of them that slept."

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

April 14, 1938

The common council of the city of Charlevoix met on date at an adjourned meeting with Mayor Bridge presiding.

Aldermen present: Cartier, Erber, Hallett, Hooker, Heise and Wood.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved.

The bid of A. S. Huyck & Co. on bonds of the City of Charlevoix Electric Light System was read as follows:

Chicago, Ill., April 14th, 1938

Honorable Mayor and City Council
City of Charlevoix,
Charlevoix, Michigan.
Gentlemen:

We understand that the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, has under consideration the issuance of $98,000. Self-Liquidating Electric Light System Revenue Bonds of the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, for the purpose of defraying the cost of the installation of additional equipment and to make certain additions and extensions to the present Electric Light Plant necessary for such additional equipment and installation.

It is also understood that the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, deem it very unsatisfactory and not for the best interests of the City of Charlevoix, its inhabitants and electric light consumers to grant an exclusive franchise, or any franchise, to the ultimate holders of these securities, which franchise would have to be voted on by the electorate, and in force while any of these securities are outstanding in the hands of the public; and are desirous of issueing the securities under any manner of law that will legally permit the issuance of these bonds without a franchise being granted.

Having an interest in the purchase of these bonds we respectfully submit the following proposition for your consideration, under the following terms and conditions.

1. If our contention is correct that the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, does not have to grant a franchise in the issuance of these bonds but may legally issue them under an amendment to their existing Charter, which amendment must be submitted to the legal voters of the City; then the City agrees to call and hold a special election to vote upon the proposition of making an amendment to the Charter.

2. Upon the favorable result of the election to make the amendment, we agree to purchase such bonds, which will be payable solely from the earnings of the system and secured by a first lien of the revenues of the system for the payment of principal and interest as they become due. The amendment to the Charter, it is agreed, will permit the issuance of additional revenue bonds upon the system, within a reasonable amount, together with other suitable stipulations and submitted to the City Council and your City Attorney for approval.

3. Description of bonds:—$98,000 City of Charlevoix, Michigan, Self-Liquidating Electric Light System Revenue bonds bearing interest at the rate of 4% per annum, to be dated on or about June 1st, 1938, both principal and semi-annual interest to be payable at the Detroit Trust Company in the City of Detroit, Michigan, to be in the denomination of $1,000 each and mature $3,000 on June 1st, 1939 and $5,000 each year thereafter on June 1st up to and including June 1st, 1958.

4. Inasmuch as the existing laws of the State of Michigan provide that the Electric Light System Revenue Bonds must be advertised for sale, we agree and guarantee to submit a contract for the purchase of the bonds on the date of sale of par ($98,000.00) accrued interest from date of bonds to date of delivery to us in Chicago, Illinois, furnish the unqualified approving opinion of our attorney and in addition furnish the blank bonds ready for signature.

5. CHAPTER XVI

Don Pedro Fages agreed with Angustias that it was indelicate for La Gobernadora to be confined hy a physician, a man. But the lady herself, when she learned that a very learned man of medicine was stationed at the Presidio of San Francisco, made up her mind that she would not remain in Monterey, to be delivered by the midwife from the Mission Carmelo, who also delivered the Indian women.

The Governor himself, greatly worried by the news he had received from Mexico concerning the possibility of the missions of California being put under the guardianship of the Dominican Order, felt the need of discussing the situation with Junipero Serra's countryman, Francisco Palou, the Mallorcan, at San Francisco. Fray Palou was wise, liberal, friendly, and with him Don Pedro felt he could discuss his impasse with Serra, and other matters.

So, amid great grumblings from Angustias, whose pet Chichi had developed a dangerous cold from the fogs and sea air of Monterey, the gubernatorial party embarked on the San Antonio for the Mission and Presidio of San Francisco. Angustias had at last settled herself in some comfort in the Governor's palace, and had, she confided to the Gobernadora, just got the cramps out of her bones from the long journey she had made, when she must needs pack and move on again. As she fussed over the little trunk that held the layette, she scolded, "A rolling stone gathers no moss."

Eulalia laughed. "And a dog that stays at home never finds any bones!" she countered.

The San Antonio was drifting between Points Lobos and Bonita that guard the gates of the great Bay of San Francisco. It was sunset, and as the Governor stood on the bridge of the clumsy ship, he looked west into the sky, all vivid with color, where islands called the Farralones could be seen rising dimly above the water.

When she landed at San Francisco, leaning heavily on the Governor, all the people of the presidio and mission were there to greet Eulalia. But her pride and pleasure in the royal greeting were interrupted by a feeling of great uneasiness; followed by acute discomfort. The Governor, busy greeting his old friends, was just shaking hands with the genial Fray Palou when he felt his lady's fingers clutch him convulsively. He looked into her face. It was ivory white, with wide-staring, black eyes, and white drawn mouth.

"Eulalia. Eulalia . . ."

"Pedro . . . Oh, merciful God," she whispered.

A day later Fray Palou, with a pleased expression on his kindly face, drew toward him the great Register of the Mission Dolores at San Francisco, and inscribed in his fine scholarly hand, that was to record so many priceless records for the annals of California, these words:

"Born, on August the Third, 1784, to Dona Eulalia Celis de Fages, wife of Don Pedro Fages, Gobernador-General of the Californias, a daughter."

Some ten days later the young daughter of the Governor, his little flower as he called her, was christened with as much pomp as was possible in the shabby little mission church. Fray Palou proudly pointed out, however, the cornerstone already laid for a new temple to be erected.

Then the party returned gaily to the mansion of the Commandante of the Presidio of San Francisco, Don Jose Moraga, and his wife, Maria del Pilar de Leon y Bareelo, who were the padrino and padrina of the baby.

There was a christening feast, with Don Jose as the host. Dona Maria del Pilar had dug out her dearest treasures to grace the board; the adobe room was a strange background for the rich linen and silver, the sparkling gloss and china.

Outside the wind blew great sheets of fog on the pitiful settlement, clinging so precariously over the gray waters of the bay. The rain poured ceaselessly, doing still greater damage to the little houses, and the wall around the presidio which had already, earlier in the year, been partly destroyed by a severe storm.

But in the humble mansion all was gay, and La Gobernadora looked a very queen indeed in her wine red velvet and rubies as she sat beside her husband, her eyes brighter than the candles. And gracefully slim. She ran her hands over her body beneath the tablecloth and sighed with pleasure. She was free, strong. She could accomplish anything now!

During the festivities on Indian servant announced that a messenger had arrived from Monterey to speak to Fray Palou.

In a moment the shivering soaked boy came into the warm room, and handed the friar a letter.

After obtaining permission to read it, the missionary bent close to a candle and read the words of his brother, Junipero Serra, his heart saddening more and more until he read the last lines that Serra had penned in his dark hour: "Good Padre Palou, come and assist me to die!"

Fray Palou covered his eyes with his hands a moment, then turned a white face toward the company.

The Governor rose slowly to his feet, his face drawn. "Father," he said harshly, "what is it?" Without a word the priest pointed out the last words in the message. Fages read them, and without hesitating spoke decisively.

"Come, Father. Let us go at once. I am ready. There are horses for us, Don Jose? We are going to Carmelo. Junipero Serra is dying."

There was perfect silence for a moment. Outside the wind sighed and moaned, and sea-gulls, circling, screamed as they made their evening flight to aeries among the rocks and crags that overhung the sea.

"Dying . . ." someone whispered, "Junipero Serra dying . . ."

There were sighs and exclamations all around the table.

"It does not seem possible," exclaimed the Commandante.

"But here is the letter, in his own hand," replied Fages. He turned to the messenger. "Was there no word for me?" he asked.

LANSING LETTER

The state legislature appropriated $16,000,000 for welfare needs during the biennium ending June 30, 1939.

By the middle of April—the 10th month of the first fiscal year—the state had started on its 12th million dollars, and the end is not yet in sight. State revenues have been falling, general state expenses are the highest in history, and relief costs have been mounting steadily. The combination is enough to give any budget director the jitters.

Theodore I. Fry, state treasurer who follows a conservative policy, protests that state expenditures for relief "must stop somewhere".

Experience of other states has also shown that unemployment compensation, whereby temporary "stop gap" aid is given to a worker when he becomes unemployed, has proved wholly inadequate to meet present living costs.

Men on WPA projects have been encouraged by CIO leaders to believe that collective bargaining with the government would benefit their lot—fewer hours and more wages — all through the payment of CIO dues.

To say that the present situation is bewildering and confusing is to put it mildly.

Perhaps you have a better name for it.

Gasoline Taxes

Taxes are high enough, according to the governor, and yet additional money must be obtained in some manner to solve the present crisis.

First as a revenue-getter is the sales tax. Last year it raised over $54,000,000.

Second is the gasoline tax paid by motorists and truck and bus companies for building and maintenance of highways. This includes such costs as snow removal, sanding icy roads, and chemical treatment to lay the dust.

The gasoline tax is particularly profitable in Michigan because so many tourists visit us from other states. A sizeable part of the $130,000,000 tourist income last year was paid by outstate visitors in the form of the little gasoline tax.

Tax Diversion?

The third major source of revenue is the automobile weight tax, also paid by the motorist. This income exceeded $19,500,000 during the past fiscal year.

Here are two financial wells that had a combined flow of $47,000,000.

In the quest for additional relief money it is inevitable that somebody at some time will rise to suggest: "Why not divert some of these millions?"

No official at Lansing has publicly declared himself in favor of motorist tax diversion. And the matter is a hit involved because 1938 happens to be campaign year.

Grand Rapids Rally

President Roosevelt originally proposed that Congress reduce the highway aid fund for matching state expenditures without a similar reduction in the federal gasoline tax. The reaction was unquestionably unfavorable. Local communities rose in protest against tax diversion because it would mean that projected local road improvements would not be undertaken.

In the spirit of "safety first", good roads promoters of Michigan—chambers of commerces, city officials, tourist leaders, county road commissioners and engineers, the road builders and the state highway department—will meet next Thursday, April 28, at the Grand Rapids Civic Auditorium.

The good roads movement has many supporters. The tourist business depends upon good highways for future development. Enterprising civic leaders see in the extension of concrete highways a hope for expansion of their trade territory.

In a state as motor-minded as Michigan it is inevitable that automobile owners should think also in terms of highways.

Tax Sale Likely

Attorney General Raymond Starr's recent opinion that public officials "must proceed with their duties" in connection with the May tax sale is believed to have clinched the certainty that delinquent properties will go on the block as scheduled.

The governor had previously hinted his intention of calling the legislature into session to authorize another tax moratorium. The idea fits in with labors' demands at Flint for a "debt moratorium".

Auditor General George Gundry discouraged Murphy. Few homes were involved in the tax sale, he said.

Starr's logic, however, is coldly irrefutable. Property owners will have 18 months to redeem property sold for non-payment of taxes.

Unless all signs fail, the tax sale will be held as authorized.

A heart balm seeker in the Far West says the defendant told her she looked good enough to eat. We may come to it, but surely the recession isn't that bad.

"So You Can't Be Swindled—Eh?"

An article in The American Weekly, the great weekly magazine with the April 24 issue of The Detroit Sunday Times, discloses many startling facts that may save you from wasting your money on the hundreds of up-to-date worthless equivalents of the gold brick that was offered for sale in days gone by.

NEW TROLLING CAMP PROPERTY IMPROVED

Permits Awaited to Start Construction of New Docks

Improvements on the former Sears property, under lease by Culver & Beaudoin for a trolling camp, are progressing rapidly.

The main dock with gasoline servicing equipment has been repaired and re-planked. A plank walk has been constructed at the water's edge. Other plans include a dock paralleling the lake and continuing north to include the Glados lake frontage. Landing slips will extend into the lake from this dock.

War department permits are awaited to begin the new dock work. In the meantime other general improvements on the property are going forward.

PYTHIAN "LADIES NITE" A SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

Over One Hundred Present for Dinner and Entertainment Monday

Pine Lake Lodge No. 122, Knights of Pythias, observed "ladies' night" at the temple Monday evening with a 7 o'clock dinner and evening of entertainment. Over one hundred persons were present.

The banquet was followad by a bunco party, in which winners were awarded suitable prizes—some quite appropriate and a greater number more on the ludicrous side, depending who was the recipient. The main prizes were won by Mrs. Harold Bedford and Mrs. Grover Genelt. Mrs. L. E. Benton, widow of the late Lyman E. Hanton, one of the first members of the local lodge, was presented with a beautiful potted plant.

Dancing to Davenport's orchestra was enjoyed until 11:30 o'clock, providing the closing feature of one of the most enjoyable entertainments of the year.

MACKINAW TROLLING SEASON INITIATED ON SUNDAY

Deep sea trolling for mackinaw trout in Lake Michigan off this harbor was officially opened Sunday. Louis Wallace and William Supernaw landed two fish weighing over 9 pounds each off South Point. This catch will no doubt provide the impetus for a general exodus of trolling boats to Lake Michigan.

SUPERVISORS ADJOURNED THURSDAY

To meet the present relief situation, the board voted that the unused portion of an appropriation of $6,000 to the County Emergency Relief Commission for dependent children be transferred to the ERA general relief fund. To avoid apparent duplication in relief and hospitalization accounts, the board instructed county poor commissioners to contact the ERA office before approving cases.

The advertising committee, which has conduct of the county's efforts in resort promotional work, has placed order for another attractive folder outlining the recreational facilities of Charlevoix county as a whole.

The board put "teeth" in the dog license collection procedure this year. Ruffled over the fact claims for dog damage exceed license collections as well as the neglect and refusal of some dog owners to pay the tax, the board instructed the county treasurer to furnish a list of delinquents to the sheriff and prosecuting attorney before June 15th. The prosecutor was further instructed to issue warrants and the sheriff to serve them on those who neglect to pay their dog license. The limit for payment without penalty was extended to June 1st, but after that date it appears delinquents are "in for trouble."

FORM BICYCLE CLUB FOR YOUTH OF CITY

Gamble Store Has Cooperation of Board of Commerce and Police

Plans are going forward rapidly for organization of a Hiawatha Bicycle Safety Club. This club is sponsored by the local Gamble Store, with the aid of the Board of Commerce and police authorities.

"The purpose of the club," says E. D. Robinette, Gamble Store manager, "is to instill in the minds of the boys and girls who are riding bicycles in this community, the necessity for carefulness. The club will teach safe riding to its members. They will be taught the rules of safety. It is an appreciated fact that present day bicycle riders are the future automobile drivers, and if they are taught to be safety-minded, they will carry this training through later life. In many states safe bicycle riding is taught in the schools.

The first meeting of the club will be held at 4 p. m. Thursday, April 28, at K. of P. hall, for the purpose of organizing and making future plans. Election of officers will be held at the second meeting to choose the following: president, vice president, program chairman, secretary, treasurer, news reporter, captain, first lieutenant; second lieutenant, service mechanic and two service assistants.

The Club organization will be in direct contact with bicycle riders at all times, and with each member acting in the capacity of Club policeman, it will be considered a violation of Club rules to break laws and city ordinances which pertain to bicycle riding.

Special Club membership cards, together with lapel buttons and sweater emblems are expected to create a desire for fair sportsmanship and carefulness. The emblems are to be awarded for deeds performed. Meetings will be held once every two weeks and may include trips, picnics, treasure hunts and races.

All members of the Quarterly Conference should be present. All reports must be given in writing. This is very imperative.

Greensky Indian Mission

All members of the Indian Mission official board and other members of the church are asked to come to the Charlevoix church for the potluck dinner and be present at the quarterly conference. Reports will be required from all officials.

It will be possible to hold the church school at 3:30 as usual.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCHES
Charlevoix and Ironton
G. R. Parker, Minister

Next Sunday will be Sportsmen's Sunday. For the past five or six years this has been an annual event. It occurs the Sunday before the trout season opens. The public is invited but we call the day Sportsmen's Sunday because the Sportsmen's Club of this city is our guest.

The subject at Charlevoix will be "Security".

At Ironton our subject will be different. Last winter while our series of interesting subjects was in progress one subject was "The Christian and His Amusements". Bad weather prevented the service at Ironton. Several have asked for the subject. Therefore our subject at Ironton will be, next Sunday, "The Christian and His Amusements".

Sunday, May 1st, Rev. H. C. Ringenoldus, pastor of the South Barnard Dutch Reformed Church will speak in the Congregational churches of Charlevoix and Ironton.

CHURCH OF GOD

Revival services all this week and next, ending Sunday, May 1st. Our evangelist, H. R. Shock, is with us. You will enjoy hearing him, every night at 7:15.

Young people's and children's meeting at 6:30, then the regular meeting again at 7:30.

There will be special singing at all the services throughout this series of meetings.

You are cordially invited to come, and bring your friends.

FISHERMEN AWAIT '38 TROUT SEASON

OPENING DATE IS SATURDAY, APRIL 30th

One-Dollar Trout License for Both Men and Women Over 17 Years of Age Is Required This Year

With an anxious eye scanning weather conditions for the week end, Charlevoix and Michigan anglers generally are looking forward to the opening of the 1938 trout fishing season on Saturday, April 30th.

The weather man, at least up to the present time, has done well by the trout angler. The spring thaw is several weeks past, allowing streams to reach a near-normal level. Recent rains have not greatly affected streams and rivers, thus ideal conditions, possibly with the exception of low temperatures, should prevail. Winter conditions were exceptionally favorable also. The streams were well insulated by deep snow against extreme conditions such as anchor-ice, which tends to limit the places where trout can winter successfully.

The opening day of the season, established as "the last Saturday in April," falls on April 30 this year, thus leaving those anglers who have strong compunctions about getting out on the streams before May 1 little difference with those eager to begin their wading and casting as soon as the law allows.

As voted by the legislature, this year's trout fishermen will be licensed under a new classification. Last year only one type of resident permit was issued, a 50-cent license allowing the purchaser to take all legal species including trout. This year two resident licenses are available. One, the "resident" license costs one dollar and allows the taking of all legal species. A 50-cent "non-trout" license is good for legal species other than brook, rainbow and brown trout. Wives may obtain a 50 cent license free if their husband has one, but no such provision is made for the one-dollar permit.

Another change in the license regulations is reduction of the age limit for fishing without a license. Now all persons over 17 years of age must have a license.

Many local anglers will take advantage of the opening day, and no doubt Sunday will find the streams and rivers of this region crowded. The Jordan, Cedar, Boyne and numerous smaller streams will all have their quota.

CHARLEVOIX WINNERS FIRST BASEBALL GAME

Defeated Boyne City by 11 to 10 Score Here Friday Afternoon

Charlevoix high school opened its Little Seven class C conference baseball schedule with a 11 to 10 victory over Boyne City at south side athletic field Friday afternoon. The contest was decided in an extra inning.

Trailing by a 1 to 6 score going into their half of the second frame, Charlevoix tied up the game with an 8-run spree, resulting from three bases on balls, two hits and three Boyne City errors. Boyne scored two runs in the fourth and one each in the sixth and seventh frames to gain a 1-run margin, but Charlevoix scored in the seventh for a tie and came through with the winning run in the extra inning.

Henley and Gallagher each worked four innings for Charlevoix with Smith ut catch. Bradley and Lockman were the losing battery. Henley made a double and a single for Charlevoix and Bradley a double and three singles for Boyne. Hausler made a nice running catch of Smith's long hit in the sixth inning to head off two runs.

Charlevoix meets East Jordan this afternoon (Wednesday) for its second home game.

AGE REQUIRMENT FOR GOLF CADDIES

BOYS AND GIRLS UNDER 14 YEARS MAY NOT WORK

Communication Received by Board of Commerce Outlines Requirements Which Must Be Met

Compliance with a state department of labor and industry ruling which prohibits boys under the age of 14 years from working as cuddies, is required by local golf clubs.

A communication directed to Gordon B. Todd, secretary of the Board of Commerce in answer to an inquiry on the subject, is self-explanatory and is quoted, in part, as follows:

"In response to your inquiry of April 14th, please be advised that by agreement with the Michigan Golf Association, boys under the age of 14 years will not be permitted to work as caddies on any golf links in this state.

"Boys 14 years or over shall place on file with the club, a working permit issued by their local school authorities. The club shall then be required to obtain from the Department of Labor and Industry, the necessary approval of such occupation.

"We note your inquiry as to the necessity of having two working permits if the minors work part time on one golf course and part time on the other. Please be advised that it will be necessary that they file with each employer, a working permit and each employer is supposed to have an approval on file from this department.

"No minor under the age of 14 may be permitted to work as a caddie on any golf course in the state of Michigan, as stated above."

In view of the above outlined information, it appears boys or girls 14 years old or over who intend caddying next summer should obtain a working permit from local school authorities and have same ready for filing with the golf club prior to the season opening. It is understood both the Belvedere and Charlevoix Golf clubs will comply with the ruling.

GROWTH CANNING INDUSTRY TOLD TO KIWANIS

Carlton F. Sturdy, American Can Company, Tuesday Speaker

Carlton F. Sturdy, representutive of the American Can Company of New York, gave an interesting talk before the Kiwanis Club at their meeting Tuesday evening.

His address, entitled "The Story Behind the Label," was a very interesting description of the growth and development of the canning industry, one of the largest in the country. He told how machinery, uncanny beyond belief, does the work without the touch of human hands; how foods are prepared with all their goodness in the cans.

Mr. Sturdy's address was given in an entertaining manner and with a keen sense of humor. It provided the Kiwanis and their guests an evening they will long remember.

Forney Clement, Kiwanis state secretary, attended the meeting.

COUNCIL APPROVES PROMOTION FUNDS

BOARD OF COMMERCE BUDGET IS GIVEN SANCTION

Resort Promotional Activities Outlined for 1938 Season at Monday Night Meeting

The city council Monday night placed its approval upon the annual budget of the Charlevoix Board of Commerce for resort promotional and entertainment activities, insuring its inclusion in the annual appropriations.

E. J. Edwards, spokesman for chairmen and members of the board's various committees, presented the budget and outlined in a general way the program contemplated. Without exception, councilmen spoke highly of the efforts and accomplishments of the Board of Commerce, also of the desirability of continuing its program.

The budget aggregates $5,745.00 for the period of May 1, 1938 to May 1, 1939, and is divided as follows: Advertising committee $1,500 for cooperation with the West Michigan Tourist & Resort Association, signs, folders and newspaper advertising. The amount is a decrease of $1,000 from last year. Entertainment committee, $100 to provide entertainment for cruises, etc. The sports committee requested $425 for baseball, softhall, golf and tennis. A marine committee quota of $400 provides for water sports, boating and the annual Venetian night parade. The conservation committee, cooperating with the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club in its fish rearing activities and planting, was allotted $400. The industrial committee was granted $400 to finance efforts to land manufacturing concerns and $1000 was listed for promotion of conventions. Salaries and office supplies were estimated at $1,520.00 to complete the budget.

JESS SMITH PRESIDENT OF FAIR ASSOCIATION

Re-Elected Along With Other Officers at Annual Meeting

Jess Smith of this city, was re-elected president of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society at its recent annual meeting.

Other officers re-elected were: vice-president, J. F. Kenny, East Jordan; vice-president, F. O. Barden, Boyne City; secretary, Charles P. Murphy, East Jordan; treasurer, George Nelson, East Jordan; marshal, Robert Barnett, East Jordan.

Dates for the 53rd annual fair were set for the first full week in September, bringing the opening day of September 13th. Extensive improvements were outlined, including a gravel road to be hullt around to the north and east of the floral hall through to the exhibit barns. The race track will be re-surfaced and new fence erected around the grounds.

Plans were made to change the fair program as largely as possible. The matter of holding a four or five-day fair is still to be decided.

Correction

In the announcement of the opening of the Home Appliance Co. in last week's issue, the street address was erroneously given as 311 Bridge street. The address should have read 113 Bridge street.

PROGRAM OF WPA WORK IS SOUGHT

COUNCIL MOVES TO GET FEDERAL APPROPRIATIONS

Community Building Proposed as Project — City-Wide Park and Beach Development Planned

Plans to provide local unemployment relief through participation in the 1938-39 federal Work Progress Administration program were outlined Monday night by the city council.

A resolution provided for appointment of a committee to investigate the feasibility, examine details of location, cost, construction and plans for a community building which would furnish quarters for city departments and various civic organizations. This committee is to report its recommendations at the next council meeting.

Another proposal upon which application will be made at once is a city-wide plan for improvement of parks and bathing beaches. Embodied in such a project would be the improvement of East Park on Round lake, improvements at the Lake Michigan bathing beach, construction of a bathing pier and establishment of a bathing beach on city owned property adjoining on the south the Charlevoix Terminal Co. on Lake Charlevoix. Construction of a bathing pier opposite the Pere Marquette depot on Lake Charlevoix is also included and is contingent upon selection of site, which necessitutes obtaining deed to the city of what is known as Pere Marquette park. Negotiations are now under way to obtain this property. Materials for both the north and south bathing piers have already been purchased and driving of piling for the new south pier will be placed for bids within the next week.

Other projects suggested, but upon which no action was taken, including widening of Dixon avenue and a general street repair and sewer program.

D. T. McHugh, district WPA supervisor, was present at the meeting and provided the council advise along lines of procedure.

MARINE CLUB OUTLINES SUMMER PROGRAM

Water Sports Day Tentatively Set for Sunday, July 31st

At its last meeting, a largely attended session at the council chambers, the Charlevoix Marine Club outlined its program of activities for the 1938 summer season.

Sunday, July 31, was tentatively set for the annual water sports carnival. The program as outlined will include sailing and motor boat races, a Venetian boat parade designed to eclipse the spectacle of the past years, and a fireworks display over Round lake as the final feature.

The club has sponsored a petition to the government lighthouse department requesting a fog signal on the pierhead and a bell buoy marking South Point.

The club's program will be incorporated in the summer activities of the Board of Commerce.

REV RAUCH PRESIDED ASSOCIATION MEETING

Rev. W. H. Rauch, pastor of the local Baptist church and vice-moderator of the Grand Traverse Baptist Association, presided at a meeting of clergymen in Traverse City on Friday. Plans for the annual association session to be held May 12 and 13 at Onaway were outlined.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Ken Usher

Have you noticed that strange expression on the faces of many of the boys lately? Sort of an absent look as if their minds were a long ways away. You speak to them and their head pops up like coming out of a daze. Well, it can be only one thing—the trout season, which is just exactly three days away. The signs can't fail. Bill Fessenden in a huddle with Earl Miller; Frank Chvatil and Harry Powers talking kinda serious like; Joe says to Pete, where you goin' the first day, etc. Them's the signs alright.

Here's a timely suggestion. You know it is necessary to have a permit to burn brush. Conservation department regulations have this requirement so they know where fires are to be set. Every inch of territory is under the scrutiny of some fire towerman and it saves a lot of time and bother if when they see smoke curling up they can check their maps and records and find someone has been given a permit to burn in that locality. Otherwise they would have to hurry to the fire to be sure it was under watch. It's not much trouble to get a permit and is the kind of cooperation that is appreciated.

Looks like the perch fishermen are to have their inning. This perch fishing is pretty much like the old saying: "Where there's smoke, there's fire." Meaning that when you see boats anchored in the favorite spots in Round lake, there's some reason.

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

Governor Frank Murphy's political future continues to be closely allied with the White House.

It was President Roosevelt who selected Murphy, depression mayor of Detroit, to be federal administrator of the Philippines. It was Roosevelt who induced Murphy to leave a flattering salary to head the 1936 New Deal ticket in Michigan.

Two years later when the most precipitious industrial slump in American economic history was plaguing Michigan, throwing one-fourth of the population on public welfare, Murphy was confronted with the unhappy prospects of a $15,000,000 deficit in the state treasury. Taxpayers were becoming sensitive again, as demonstrated by the widespread interest aroused by Booth papers through publication of Michigan tax articles.

At that cruxial moment, the White House decided to launch a gigantic pump-priming program, pouring four billion dollars into cities and farmlands from coast to coast.

Carl sent home a special edition of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin dedicated to the fleet. After the cruise is over Carl expects a 30 days' leave, when he and his wife plan to come home for a visit.

Auto Titles Issued Near All-time Peak

The volume of motor vehicle titles issued by the department of state in March hit the highest peak since 1929 figures disclose. The total was 86,237 titles.

Of the total number of titles issued, 61,344, were title transfers, which always reflect the volume of used car sales in the state. The great bulk of such transfers gives an indication of the success of the recent drive by automobile dealers of the state to reduce their used car stocks. Transfers of title in January totaled 25,082, and for February, 31,328.

In March, 1937, the total number of titles issued was 81,303.

FRUIT GROWERS CAN BENEFIT FROM ACT

New Farm Program Has Provision for Payment of $2 Per Acre

The commercial fruit grower has a special build-up in payment, under the new Farm Program, of $2.00 per acre. This applies to commercial acreages of all tree fruits, vineyards, cane fruits, and other bush fruits, except those fruits which have not come into bearing.

This payment can be qualified for by carrying out soil building practices. Among these practices are many which are particularly adapted to orchards. Some of these are the use of cover crops, seeding and fertilizing of sod crops, application of mulching materials, plowing or discing green manure crops, and application of liming materials.

Soil erosion and depletion is one of the most serious problems in many Michigan orchards according to E. C. Sackrider of the Soil Conservation Service. All of these building practices help in protecting and rebuilding orchard soils.

The fruit grower can find just how the program fits his own farm by inquiring at the office of the county agricultural conservation committee or the county agricultural agent.

Large Deer Herd

Beulah — A Thompsonville school bus driver was recently obliged to stop his bus and wait while a herd of about 50 deer crossed the road. He reported that several of them were especially large.

Shoe Shop Vanishes

Manchester — Attracted by what sounded like an automobile crashing into a building, local residents discovered that Joe Weiss' shoeshop had disappeared. The rear of the building which was on the steep river bank was supported by poles; frost working out of the ground weakened these supports, causing the building to slide into the tailrace of a mill.

Odd Accident

Manton—Albert McKinley of near Morey is reported to have lost the sight of an eye in a peculiar accident. He was prying on a can lid with a fork. The fork slipped and pierced his eye.

False Alarm

St. Johns — Local citizens were aroused one recent midnight by the wail of a warehouse burglar siren. It was a false alarm, however, as a sudden blast of wind had forced a door ajar, thus setting off the alarm.

Wild Swans

Whitehall—Observed by hundreds of motorists, a flock of from eight to fifteen wild swans spent a week end on White Lake a short time ago. Quite far out in the lake, the birds hovered around the vicinity of Idlewild and the Lyons dock for several days before leaving.

HOOVER ON DEMOCRACY

Newly returned from a round of visits in Europe, with several new academic honors, former President Herbert Hoover talks to America over the shoulders of the Council on Foreign Relations, which he addresses in New York. The world he feels has returned to old "shifting balanced power." Whereas more than 500,000,000 Europeans were turning to democracy at the end of the World War, the rise of Fascism has eclipsed the democratic ideal among about 370,000,000 of these people. And this shift in ideologies, he declares, has always been preceded by "so-called planned economy." The greatest service the United States can render humanity, he insists, is unqualified protection of democracy. We must live it; revitalize it; clean it of infections; wipe out its corruptions; fight its abuses; insist upon intellectual honesty; build its morals! And that's a good recipe for any government.—Christian Science Monitor.

The boy shook his head. Fages tugged at his beard, his head bent. He looked up abruptly.

"You will pardon me if I leave, Don Jose," he said, "but you see I must. Father Palou, I will be ready in a moment. I must change these fiesta clothes for my old leathers. And you, Don Jose, will you see that horses, servants and food are ready for us?"

The Commandante hesitated.

"Of course I will excuse you. But—but does your Excellency think it is necessary to leave"—he stole a glance at La Gobernadora—"just now?"

"By heaven, yes! Nothing on earth could keep me from going to Junipero Serra. Father, are you ready?"

The priest had been standing silently, his beads moving between his fingers.

"Ready, your Excellency. Ready and anxious."

The guests had left their places at the table and were gathered about the letter which Fray Palou had received, leaving La Gobernadora sitting alone, like a ruby madonna with her child in her arms. The Governor started to leave the room. Then he stopped suddenly before his wife and stared at her as though he had furgotten her existence.

"Eulalia . . ." he faltered.

She turned her face upward toward him, and clasped the child closer to her. She did not speak.

"Eulalia . . . you see I must go."

Everyone was looking at them, arrested by the sudden change in the Governor's manner.

"I do not see it," she said coldly. "You shall not go."

"I am going."

Still he stood, though she had not detained him even by a gesture. The guests began moving in a shocked silence out of the room. Eulalia saw Fray Palou going as though to join them. She looked at him.

"Do not go, please, Padre. There is nothing we have to say that you may not hear."

The priest bowed silently.

"You shall not go. You will stay here with me, where you should be."

"I should be with Junipero Serra."

"No. I am your wife, flesh of your flesh. I have suffered for you. I have borne you children. I have traveled over a dangerous country that even strong men dread tu face to be by your side. And now you are not going to leave me."

Fages tugged at his beard.

"You do not understand a love between men. I must go."

"Nu, I do not understand such a luve. But if it separates you from me at this time, I do not want to understand it. I despise it."

Her voice began rising from its icy, controlled inflections. The arms that pressed her baby to her, trembled.

"What is Junipero Serra to you, that you should leave me, with your new-born child in my arms, still weak and ill from my travail? What is he anyway but a mad old fanatic? Love!" she laughed contemptuously. "Love! All I have ever heard between you is quarreling and bitterness. Junipero Serra hates and despises you in his heart, as you do him!"

Stung by the words she hurled at him, Pedro Fages took a step toward her, his hand raised. She stared up at him without flinching. The baby began to whimper softly, and nuzzle the red velvet of her bodice. Fray Palou moved forward quickly, but the Governor only laid his hand gently on his wife's shoulder.

"You do not understand, my dear. If you did you would see how necessary it is to my honor, my position, my very life that I go to Junipero Serra now. You will not make it any harder for me? Be a brave soldier's woman!"

Her face did not change.

"If you go, I shall never live with you as wife again."

Pedro Fages looked into the shadowed eyes burning so bitterly into his.

"You do not mean that."

"I do."

The Governor shrugged his shoulders and moved toward the door. "Be that as it may." He turned again to the door, and this time walked out without a word.

Hours later Eulalia awoke to see the Governor standing beside her. His leather jacket was running rivulets. His eyes burned out from a wet face.

For a moment she looked up at him in surprise, then she put a hand toward him.

"Ai, my Pedro," she cooed. "You did not go! Oh, my love, I am so happy."

Still he did not speak, nor make a move toward her. The love that she pleaded for from his eyes did not kindle. There was only bitterness in his face. Eulalia grew afraid. "You . . . you are not going?" she whispered pitifully.

"I started. But I came back," he said shortly.

"Ah, my lover." Again she reached toward him.

But Pedro Fages made a slight exclamation of grief, bitterness, revulsion against the woman who held him, and left her room to wander along the bleak cliffs in the rain.

CHAPTER XVII

Fray Francisco Palou sat heavily down in the aliso wood chair the Indians had made for Junipero Serra the same armchair in which the father had sat to write his farewell letters. Fray Palou's fingers reached for the same quill and, leaning his arms where the missionary's arms had so often rested on the crude table, gave himself up to thought.

For a long while he sat silently, listening to the darting swallows as they flew around the eaves of the tiny cell. Then he took a deep breath, and shaking his head sadly, dipped the quill into the ink and began writing:

"Mision San Carlos.
"September Seventh, 1784.
"Hail Jesus Mary and Joseph!
"Very Reverend Father Guardian, Fray Juan Sancho:

"On the twenty-eighth of August just passed God was pleased to take to eternity the soul of my ever loved and honored father, the Father President, Fray Junipero Serra."

Fray Palou read the words carefully after he had written them, then continued with a deep sigh.

"As soon as the news was made public, it spread through all the town, everybody mourning the death of their dear father. Everybody crowded to see him, and it was necessary to close the gate in order to place him in the coffin he himself had ordered made. As soun as he died his body was placed in it, taking it from the bed or platform on which he died without removing his habit.

"Then the Indians, whom the dead father had baptized and confirmed brought roses with which to adorn his dead body, and weeping at his death, they did not want to go away.

"At night we took his body to the church with a procession formed by all the town and the six soldiers of the guard, one of whom stayed on watch all night with many neophytes and sailors.

"When the father died all were eager for some little thing that he had used. I promised that I would comfort them all so they might not do anything unseemly, but in spite of all this and of the sentinels at night they cut off bits of the habit that served as a shroud and much of the hair from his tonsure . . .

"The following day which was Sunday . . . I said mass for the body present . . . In the afternoon the burial took place with all solemnity. The procession went by way of the Plaza, making four stops and singing at each response. The soldiers carried the body, the rest going with tapers in their hands. When we arrived at the Church we sang lauds with all the ceremony of the ritual of the Order. All were eager to honor the deceased . . . Although I was forgetful of the fact that I had been asked for some mementoes of the deceased father which they said they wanted as relics, they did not forget. On the contrary they importuned me to such an extent that I was forced to give up his tunic which I told them they must make up into scapulars and bring them to me together with their cords. They did this, and when I distributed them, I explained they were scapular and girdle of Our Father San Francisco in return for which they should pray for the soul of the dead father. In this way I satisfied the eager whrshipers and interceded for the soul of the

ON THEIR WAY

Years ago some one observed: "He who is not on his way is in the way." Had he lived today, he would have changed that observation to "Everybody is on his way whether he knows where he is going or not."

In this old world of ours the people of every nation are moving toward some objective, though that objective isn't clearly defined in their minds.

Disappointed, discontented, restless, they think there is in government conditions or personal estate something better than they now have only again to be disappointed when they find what they seek.

PERCH FISHING A BIG ATTRACTION HERE NOW

Annual Spring "Run" on In Round Lake; Walstead Lands Mackinaw

The annual spring perch run—earlier than last year—is under way in Round lake.

It is estimated in the neighborhood of fifty boats, with parties from throughout the northern Michigan region were on hand for the sport Sunday. Subsequent days have been no exception.

Due to predominance of the male species, indicating the "run" is in its early stages, good fishing is anticipated for several weeks.

Harry Walstead initiated the mackinaw trolling in Lake Michigan last Sunday. He brought in a 5½-pounder and hooked two others which were not landed.

START RURAL ELECTRIC CONSTRUCTION IN JULY

Equipment and Materials Are Expected to Arrive This Week

Construction contractors for the R. E. A. lines have already been on the ground and it is anticipated that equipment and materials will begin arriving this week. It is practically assured that the first 250 miles of construction will be completed by some time early in July.

Along some of the proposed lines the property owners have been slow about executing their right of way agreements and unless this situation is remedied within a week it is possible that some lines may have to be relocated.

COMMERCIAL STUDENTS INVITED TO CONTESTS

Traverse City Has Worked Out Fine Program for Friday, May 6

For the first time in history commercial students of Northern Michigan will have an opportunity to test their speed in real competition when 500 of them gather at Traverse City on Friday, May 6, for a series of commercial contests sponsored by the Lewis-Chapin School of Business.

On the program will be speed contests for typists and in shorthand. Looking on will be Miss Reecie Hodgson of Chicago, holder of the Gregg diamond medal for typing speed with a record of 200 words per minute and a shorthand speed of 150 words per minute.

Not all of the day will be used in academic work, however. Conducted tours of the Con Foster Museum and Clinch Park, the Grand Traverse county court house, The Record-Eagle newspaper plant, The Michigan Bell Telephone plant and the Park Place Hotel will be held during the morning. In the afternoon Dr. R. P. Sheets, superintendent of the Traverse City State Hospital, will conduct the students through that institution and present a two hour program. The Lyric Theater will also be host to the students at the afternoon performance. In the evening Miss Hodgson will demonstrate her stenographic speed and the program will close with a complimentary dance.

The Lewis-Chapin school executives have sent invitations to all Northern Michigan schools having commercial departments and have received 450 acceptances. Members of the Traverse City high school commercial department will compete, in addition to the acceptances already received.

Heretofore Saginaw is the farthest north in Michigan that commercial students have held speed contests.

SPEARING VIOLATIONS RESULT IN ARRESTS

Increase Conservation Patrols During Spring Rainbow "Run"

Increased patrols on Charlevoix county rivers and streams during the spring rainbow spawning "run" are being maintained by the Conservation Department and several arrests and convictions have resulted.

Stanley Floinski, Robert McCrae and Felix Spaniak, apprehended spearing on the power pond at Boyne Falls, were fined $6.85 apiece.

Earl Lawson, Walloon Lake, was assessed fine and costs of $10.85 for spearing with an artificial light. Indians are giving trouble in the Pinney Bridge district on Jordan river and a group of school boys taken for violations at Boyne Falls, have been turned over to juvenile authorities.

Western dictators would never endure the easy, leisurely way the mikado is taking China.

PLEASE HANDLE WITH CARE

That most beautiful and most fragrant of Spring flowers, at least to the notion of Northern Michigan residents, the arbutus, is in bloom, although in less abundance than in past years. The main reason for the continual diminishing of the supply is the way in which over-enthusiastic pickers pick. The best advice is: DON'T pick,—cut. Take along a pair of shears and snip the flowers with fairly short stems. If you attempt to pick them, you pull up the roots, which trail along the ground, and the plant is forever destroyed.

ELECTRIC EXTENSION HITS SNAG

COUNCIL LACKS LEGAL AUTHORITY TO PROCEED

Absence of Statutory Provision for Issuance of Bonds Halts Prospective Purchasers

Charlevoix's proposed electric light system extension, approved in February by electors at a special election, has brought up against a legal stone wall and appears very uncertain of completion for the 1938 summer season.

Attorney for the firm of Strunahan & Harris, successful bidders on the proposed bonds, has declined to approve the proceedings for issuance of the bonds, a condition for purchase. The reason set forth is the contention that there is no statute or constitutional provision authorizing issuance of such bonds even after an affirmative vote of the electors. Section 24 of Article VIII of the state constitution covers the right to borrow money to acquire and operate such a utility. It does not cover maintenance or extensions. Act 94, under which self-liquiduting revenue bonds were issued for the sewage disposal system, omits electric light plants entirely. Thus the city is without statutory authority to issue bonds for the proposed extension, it is contended.

The council, it is understood, has two avenues of action. One embodies a test case to the Supreme Court to obtain a judicial determination of the questions involved. The other is submission to electors of a franchise proposal, a requirement prospective bond purchasers had earlier sought, but which, it appears, fails to alter the legal status of the matter. Both actions are deemed rather uncertain.

At present the council is seeking to determine whether the extension can be completed for use during the 1938 summer season in case legal obstacles are hurdled. Delays up to the present time, the required for a judicial determination, together with time requirements for building construction and installation of machinery all enter consideration and present a rather uncertain picture.

As strange as it may seem, the difficulties are due to a lack of statutory authority to proceed, thus nullifying the efforts of city authorities.

LOW TEMPERATURE HITS REGION'S CHERRY CROP

Damage from Wednesday Night's Freeze Estimated at 25 Per Cent

A heavy freeze last Wednesday night, when the thermometer dropped to 22 degrees, seriously damaged the Grand Traverse Region cherry crop.

Following a day of cold winds the thermometer started falling away Wednesday night and early Thursday morning reached the 22 degree mark. Reports from the Peninsula on temperatures varied according to location, 23 degrees being the lowest reported and 25 the highest.

Growers and canners agreed that there is orchard damage. The cherry buds are in a tender stage and the below-freezing temperatures were certain to penetrate the buds and kill the cherries.

AT THE MOVIES

Girls, Fun and Songs Feature New Comedy

Easily the most lavish potpourri of music and mirth, fun and beautiful girls of the current season, "The Big Broadcast of 1938," Paramount's latest laugh musical, makes its bow next Thursday, May 4, at the Palace Theatre, with a splendid cast starring W. C. Fields and including Martha Raye, Dorothy Lamour, Shirley Ross, Ben Blue, Bob Hope, Lynne Overman, Rufe Davis, Leif Erikson, Grace Bradley and Tito Guizar. And just to make the cast of stellar performers overflow from sheer abundance, the producers have tossed in specialty routines by Mme. Kirsten Flagstad of the Metropolitan Opera and Shep Fields and his Rippling Rhythm Orchestra, currently heading the popularity lists among dance orchestras.

Always hilarious, always tuneful, always girl-filled and most of the time more than a trifle mad, "The Big Broadcast of 1938" is the story of a transatlantic boat race and a handsome radio announcer who can never keep track of the number of ex-wives to whom he is paying alimony.

NAME WPA RECREATIONAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Federal Requirement Met and Comprehensive Program Planned

A federal requirement calling for an advisory board to cooperate in providing a program for WPA recreational directors in all communities has been met in Charlevoix.

At a recent meeting, Norman Ance was named president, and Pat Hawley secretary of a local advisory board consisting also of E. J. Edwards, R. F. Sloan, Harry Glossenger, O. P. North, C. B. Meggison, Rev. G. R. Parker, Rev. John Alexander and Gordon B. Todd.

This group will have the responsibility of formulating a recreational program of sufficient scope to provide for a director and assistants, otherwise the work will be abandoned, it is understood. Likewise, if a program large enough is provided, the staff will be enlarged.

The local group will make preliminary plans at a meeting scheduled for Wednesday night and will complete the details of a comprehensive program at near future session, thus insuring continuance of the WPA recreational work in this city.

DETROIT CRUISE HAS SELECTED CHARLEVOIX

Detroit Board of Commerce May Make Stop Here on June 17th

According to Gordon B. Todd, secretary of the Board of Commerce, prospects for a stop-over here on June 17th of the Detroit Board of Commerce cruise on the side-wheeler City of Detroit III, are promising.

Harold Jennings, publicity agent for the Detroit group, will arrive here Monday to look over the situation for report back to Detroit. Charlevoix has been definitely selected as a stop-over, it is understood, provided there is sufficient depth of water in the channel for entrance of the large vessel. Soundings have proven there is sufficient depth and notification to that affect has been sent to Detroit.

COAST GUARDS RESCUE EXHAUSTED BEAVER FROM LAKE MICHIGAN

Somewhere in these parts is a beaver which may not subscribe to the theory that travel broadens one's life. It nearly ended his.

Apparently taken one day with a desire to visit its cousins on Beaver Island, the beaver set out from the mainland near here. But heavy seas made the going too difficult and the beaver tried to head back for shore. Coast guardsmen saw the animal, nearly exhausted, battling waves and ice floes. They set out immediately, fished the beaver out of the water and brought it to shore, later turning it over to Conservation Officer Ed. Deuell of Boyne City who freed the weary animal in Hortons Creek, where it could recuperate from its attack of wanderlust.

Can You Afford to be Sick?

Few of us can afford the expense and loss of time that a serious illness entails. Yet rarely do we take the simple precautions to forestall a "sick spell." Consider your own case. If you are not feeling quite up to par, don't delay or drift along. Go at once to a trusted physician. Get his diagnosis. Be guided by his competent and experienced counsel. Not only is delay dangerous, but it usually results in adding substantially to your bill. And then—take his prescription to us for accurate compounding.

Nation Loses 2,000 Babies Annually by Accidental Death

An interesting article appeared in the October 1937 Statistical bulletin of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company on the large number of infants lost annually due to accidental causes. So far interest has been centered around the infant mortality due to disease and it is only recently that attention has been focused on those who succumb to death by accident, a rate which has been all too high. Every year more than 2,000 babies are killed in accidents of one nature or another—more than die, in an average year, from measles, scarlet fever, and diphtheria combined.

It was observed in this Company's study that over a three-year period ending in 1935, of every 100,000 babies born alive in the United States 97 met with a fatal accident in the first year of life. That is a higher fatal accident rate than is found at any other age from one year up to age 21 for males. Among females a rate as high as this is not attained until late in life, or about age 64.

One reason for the high mortality from accidents in early life is the large number of deaths from suffocation — mechanical suffocation to state it in a technically descriptive term. Almost two fifths of the infant accident fatalities are charged to this class of accident. Data for the United States as a whole on specific types of accidents falling in this classification are lacking but analysis of the death records of industrial policyholders of this Company show the manner in which these accidents occur. Smothering by bed clothing was chiefly responsible, followed in order by smothering by adults sleeping in the same bed and by the child's sleeping on its face, usually with the face buried in the pillow. Soft pillows are a serious hazard and should not be used for very small children.

Foreign bodies, lodged principally in the air passages, caused about 9% of the infant fatalities. Burns, third in importance in the registers of infant accidents also caused about 9% of the deaths. Scalding by hot water, coffee, and tea, in cups or pans upset by children, accounted for the majority of this type of accident. Falling into hot water, falls against stoves and other hot objects were also represented.

Another important type of accident is falls—chiefly falls out of crib, or bed, but also including falls from high chairs, out of windows, and falls down stairs. Poisonous substances accounted for a number of deaths. Motor vehicle fatalities are at a minimum in this group but even in infancy 5 in every 100,000 are killed by automobiles each year.

Hundreds of babies could be saved every year to live out full, useful lives if parents were aware of the special accident hazards of early infancy and were instructed in methods of preventing them. The first year of life is full of perils and parents can at least minimize these perils by keeping a watchful eye on their baby and preventing many of these fatalities that so often happen in the home.

The "Battle of Bluebloods" is what Colonel Matt J. Winn, President of the American Turf Association, calls the Kentucky Derby, America's greatest racing classic. Read the story about this event by the man who expects to see his sixty-fourth Derby on May 7. It appears exclusively in This Week, the color-gravure magazine with Sunday's Detroit News.

A New Comic By Walt Disney

Every week, in the Detroit Sunday Times, starting with the issue of May 1, you will find "The Practical Pig", a new comic by Walt Disney, starring "The Three Little Pigs" and "The Big Bad Wulf" in a weekly fun riot. Boys and girls, adults, too, will enjoy this comic scream.

TOPSY TURVY OUT IN HOUSECLEANING

Brains can defeat that annual blot on pleasant spring memories—housecleaning.

Time, energy and money can be saved from the seven rules laid down by Julia Pond and Helen Noyes, home management specialists at Michigan State College. The rules call for a plan for cleaning, to invest in suitable equipment, have a supply of essential cleaning materials, find easiest and quickest ways to do the jobs, have plenty of convenient storage space, eliminate dust collectors and get cooperation to keep the house attractive.

Soft water should be used, or if it is not available then some sal soda, ammonia or tri-sodium phosphate. Mild soap saves the hands. Whiting, tripoli powder or powdered pumice are best for scouring, using with any one of them a grease solvent that is non-explosive.

Grimy walls can be cleaned. The start recommended is to brush walls up and down and also crosswise to remove loose dirt, begin washing at the bottom to prevent streaks, wash a small area at a time and rinse before the surface dries. A powdered glue solution is suggested for wall washing. This is made by dissolving a quarter cup of powdered glue in three cups of hot water and then add to three quarts of tepid water. This requires no rinsing but should be replaced when it becomes dirty.

"Cleanliness in a home is necessary for sanitation, and for physical comfort and mental contentment. Yet few like the turmoil of a month of upset twice a year displayed by some housekeepers," the two specialists agree in pointing ways to easier home management. Clean brooms and brushes and frequent cleaning of the carpet sweeper and vacuum cleaner aid in the process.

dead father if, indeed, he needs our prayers and petitions."

Francisco Polon read the letter that he had written, added a few formal phrases, and ended the message:

"Your Reverence's most humble servant, and the humblest of your brothers,

"Fr. Francisco Palou."

When next Pedro Fages heard of Junipero Serra, he was already buried. The days that had elapsed from the hour that he had said an embittered farewell to Francisco Palou, riding through the rain to the side of his dying brother, the Governor had spent in a silence so great that no one had dared disturb it. No one knew how far, or where, he traveled with only his horse as companion. But he was seen, a lonely figure, tragic, aloof, along the bleak crags; sometimes walking, one hand tugging his beard, the other clenched behind him, the faithful horse following with bent neck, cropping at the scant grasses; or riding furiously with the wind.

On the night of the christening, La Gobernadora took her to her bed and did not rise from it for days, defending herself from the Governor's black mood and despair with a fever that burned her hollow-eyed. The people of the Presidio of San Francisco trod softly during the crises of their Governor and his lady. The women whispered, askance, in corners, and took the part of La Gobernadora in her attitude toward her husband. But the men remained silent, or cursed softly when the lady's name was mentioned.

As though to mock Don Pedro, when the news of the Padre Presidente's death arrived, the day was clear, sparkling, as sometimes the days are in the San Francisco country, in late August and early September.

When he received the message, Don Pedro went straight to La Gobernadora's room for the first time in days, and stood before her formally.

"He is dead," he said curtly.

Eulalia closed her eyes. Still the Governor stood silently, awaiting some word from his wife. After a while she opened her eyes.

"I am sorry," she said softly. "It must be a relief to you to know that it is over." She tried to sit upright. "Will you help me?" she asked. "I think I should like to get up today. It is the first time I have seen the sun for such a long time."

"I will call Augustias . . ."

"No, please. You can wrap me in a cover, and carry me outside, if you will." He bundled her into a quilt, and took her in his arms without altering his expression. Light as a child she was, as he carried her outdoors, and into the golden sunlight. Servants hurried with chairs, Augustias followed with the baby.

Then the people of the presidio were amazed to see the Governor, his youngest-born in his arms, sitting quietly beside his lady, taking the air.

"She has won him over, our beautiful Gobernadora!" whispered the women happily. "Gracias a Dios!"

But the men glowered at the domestic scene, and muttered, "She has won, the zorra!"

They all uncovered and knelt hastily as the bells began tolling for the passing of Junipero Serra.

Both men and women were wrong. A few days later a small package and a letter were brought to the Governor. It was the last letter Junipero Serra had written, to be opened after his death. And the package . . . Pedro Fages opened it before he opened the letter. He found a small square of grayish-brown cloth, coarse and worn thin, made into a scapular. He did not need Francisco Palou's accompanying note to tell him what it was, but held it in his hands a moment, then opening the throat of his leather jerkin, slipped the scapular around his neck by its cord until the blessed scrap of Junipero Serra's robe rested on the strong arch of his breast. Then he picked up the letter and read the opening words, "My beloved son . . ."

It was obviously the letter of a very sick man; one at the point of death. The thought rambled; the sentences staggered up and downhill. He spoke of hours they had spent together on the march, of the hundred little black heaps, scattered the length of California which had been camp-fires they had shared.

"If I had been a soldier, or you a priest," he had written at one point, "I could have understood you better, Pedro my son, but I could not have loved you more."

During all the perusal, the Governor's eyes had been filled with tears, so that he had many times to dry them. But at the last paragraph a flash of rage dried the tears . . .

"When all else had fallen away from me," said the faint lines, "I had hoped that your faithful wife could accomplish that which was impossible. In our talks together she had promised that she would intercede with you for our friendship, and for the founding of the Mission of Santa Barbara. But that has failed, for you have made no sign. And that is not Dona Eulalia's fault, for she has tried. I had hoped you would listen to her when she told you the messages I have sent; of my trust, and confidence in you . . ."

The Governor read no further, but crumpling the letter in his hand went to seek his wife. He found her leaning over the crude cradle, filled inconsistently with laces and pillows where lay his little daughter.

Roughly he pulled Eulalia away from the infant, and stood before the cradle.

"You have no right to touch that child!" he said, his face working with rage. "You a deceitful, lying woman, lower than the low!"

Eulalia put both hands to her face as she staggered back.

"What do you mean? What is it? What has happened?"

Pedro Fages stretched the letter toward her. "Read it, read every word . . ."

She read rapidly until she reached the words that had sent the Governor raging to her. She let the letter slip to the floor as she stood with trembling lips, her hands pressed over her heart, staring at her husband.

"You made promises to him . . . to help him when he was desperate! You kept me from him when he was sick, dying! You kept me from him when he was laid in the grave. You drove him to that grave with your false friendship and your empty promises. God knows what your plots and schemes were, but they will never succeed, for you are a murderess!" He stopped as though the word choked him, then putting his hand to his throat, flung the accusation at her again.

"Murderess!"

Eulalia took a wavering step toward him, her hands outstretched as though to ward off bludgeons, then sank at his feet.

CHAPTER XVIII

The Lady Governor, La Gobernadora, returned to Monterey with her husband in a pleased, unusual and utterly unaccountable state of complete subjugation.

Unaccountable, at least, to his Excellency: If Dona Eulalia had a confidante, and having one, confided in her, much might have been learned. But the Governor went his way with a little sense of guilt after his outburst in San Francisco, and enjoyed the favors of his docile wife greatly. He enjoyed watching her nurse the child, who flourished like a wild flower; he enjoyed seeing her beauty re-blossom; and watched the airs of the Monterey peninsula give his lady's cheeks a clarity and glow that had never graced them before.

The lady herself drifted for two whole years in this state of docility. She even grew to enjoy the simple social pleasures of the presidio; the clam bakes and the dances, the gossip with other women of the colony. Sometimes in the midst of some simple gaiety she would pause, and her mind would grope as though to remember something. Then she would recall her grievance, and withdraw into herself.

California! Here she was, after two years! And she had vowed she would be in Mexico City before that! She would wring her hands helplessly. There was nothing to do. Nowhere to turn. Junipero Serra . . . she shuddered. He was in his grave. And Nicolas Soler, with his wild dreams of the governorship, had slowly but surely gone blind and returned to Mexico. Surely, all who had crossed Junipero Serra suffered.

And Indizuela . . . often she looked at the girl, lissome, brown, mysterious, who served her master the Governor, like a dog, and wondered. Something might be done there . . .

But days, months, years slipped by, and nothing happened.

Nothing happened to Eulalia! She sat in front of her mirror and scanned her black tresses for silver threads, frowning, with a sick fear at her heart.

Eulalia Celis de Fages found the white hair she had feared finding, set her teeth, pulled it, then wept on her husband's breast in the gubernatorial bed. And the Governor smiled, and liked it.

Pedro Fages went about long delayed and heart-breaking plans for the mission in Santa Barbara, and still another, Mission La Purisima. He wrote scathing diatribes on the laziness, bestiality, gambling, profligacy and immorality of a little pueblo, El Pueblo de Nuestra Senora de Porciuncula la Reina de Los Angeles, which the natives called Los Angeles. (The diatribes did no good.)

On a bright sunny day in August, 1784, about the time that Eulalia gave birth to her California flower, there was a great hubbub in the harbor of New York city. All the notables of the new nation were at hand to greet a distinguished visitor, who, with a love for the young country in his young heart, had traveled across the ocean to pay a visit of congratulation. There were public receptions, congressional honors. George Washington extended the hospitality of Mount Vernon to the guest.

From France came Marie Jean Paul Roch Yves Guilbert Motier, Marquis de La Fayette, general and statesman.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Everlasting Punishment" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 1st.

The Golden Text, (Ezekiel 18:23), is: "Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God: and not that he should return from his ways, and live?"

Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Job 31:3,6): "Is not destruction to the wicked? and a strange punishment to the workers of iniquity? Let me be weighed in an even balance, that God may know mine integrity."

Corrective passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 404): "If the evil is over in the repentant mortal mind, while its effects still remain on the individual, you can remove this disorder as God's law is fulfilled and reformation cancels the crime."

LANSING LETTER

Millions for Michigan

—What effect will the additional New Deal billions have on Murphy's prospects for re-election?

Political wiseacres are seeking the answer.

Here are new factors:

1. Every town and city in Michigan is scrambling to get its share of federal money. Projects, already approved, call for $33,302,000 — and that is only the beginning! PWA projects will put thousands of union laborers at work. That much money at the disposal of any group of public officials in any campaign year is something to be considered.

2. Farm loans to the farmers. The federal farm subsidy in 1938 will reach an all-time record of more than one billion dollars. The new ever-ready granary plan alone will put $4,000,000 more into the pocketbooks of Michigan grain growers.

3. Unlimited millions for direct relief and WPA have been extended to Michigan as result of Murphy's personal appeals at the White House. This outpouring of cash will spare Murphy from additional financial deficit.

Put these three together and they spell VOTES in any man's language.

No Special Session

Unless the unforeseen develops in the near future, the state legislature will not convene in special session.

When pressed by pressmen, Murphy declared a month ago that if a call was issued, it would be because of the need for more relief money. Today Washington is supplying the cash.

Several weeks ago the governor intimated that he might call a session to authorize another tax moratorium. Labor leaders were pressing him for such action. This idea did not meet with approval among members of the governor's cabinet. Auditor General George Gundry frowned on it, declaring that few homes were involved. Attorney General Raymond Starr, whose hard-headed rulings have earned for him a reputation for independent thinking, neatly squelched the plan by reminding the executive office that taxpayers would have more than a year's time in which to redeem property sold for non-payment of taxes.

The only possible justification for a special session in 1938 would be to amend the state housing act to permit cities under the population of Detroit to participate in the government "slum clearance" program. The new housing act, however, has eased the pressure for this revision. Prospects are bright for resumption of home building this year.

Labor Rocks the Boat

The "what next?" chapter in Michigan's turbulent labor history was supplied this month by Flint CIO forces.

In utter violation of their contract with General Motors, Homer Martin's lieutenants at the Buick-Chevrolet city decided to employ force and violence for collection of delinquent dues.

Almost as disgraceful as the recent CIO seizure of utility plants of the Consumers Power Company was the tactics employed at Flint in refusing to permit workers to enter automobile plants unless their dues were paid. The CIO-GM agreement does not authorize a closed shop. Yet a closed shop was established, unofficially at least, for several days.

It has served to foment further the labor unrest that now seethes in Flint.

Newspapers in Chicago and New York carried news stories of the Michigan labor trouble. Several years ago General Motors embarked on a definite program of decentralizing industrial operations. It is generally conceded that this movement will be accelerated—opening plants in other states—unless there is a definite turn in Michigan affairs. Youngstown tire workers have seen their jobs dwindle by the thousands under similar circumstances. The writing on the wall is clear. But will Michigan heed it?

Schools Seek Relief

A total of 7,134 teachers in 402 Michigan school districts receive salaries ranging from $500 to $1,200, according to Dr. A. J. Phillips, executive secretary, Michigan Education association. Furthermore, many local school districts are in serious financial trouble. Taxes are already high; taxpayers are rebellious; yet a $500 to $1,200 salary for a professionally trained person does not fit in well with American standards.

The answer eventually will come from the local taxpayer. State funds are local funds in reality. You pay the bill, and no one else.

"Get Out of My Way I'm In a Hurry . . . . TO BE KILLED"

"Gosh am I making time! Look at my speedometer . . . 45 miles an hour! I'm clocking myself on this trip . . . 9 miles to my office in 15 minutes flat. Boy, this car's a honey—smooth as an arrow—bet I can do 90 easy . . . there's 50! Wow! There's an old jalopy in front of me . . . get out of my way you fool . . . move over! Cars like that shouldn't be allowed on the road. Of all the nerve . . . boy did I make him move over in a hurry. Well, serves him right if he did have to drive into that parked car. Four more minutes and I'll be there . . . will I be able to brag about this trip! What's that coming out of that side street . . . it's a truck—I can't stop—I'm going to crash . . . save me! Save me! Why don't these brakes hold . . . oh, I can't die—I can't die—oh, God . . ."

BUT HE DID DIE . . . And most unfortunately, thousands of innocent victims die every year at the hands of just such thoughtless, selfish drivers. Take your time and you'll get wherever you want to go a lot quicker . . . at least you will get there.

SHOT AT RANDOM

Boats have been out there the past few days!

The L. P. Adams building, present location of the liquor store, is getting its first coat of paint in a long time. Certainly helps the appearance of the main street.

Everyone mentions mushrooms, but nobody seems to have found many yet. We've had the needed rains, but the weather has been too cold. First warm days should bring them up, though.

Saw Frank Lamphear painting at the Bartlett House the other day. Haven't seen Frank since (this writer) was a kid and want to remark he hasn't changed a bit. Frank's been wandering around a bit since the Florida crash. Traded what he had down there for New York state property and now has unloaded that. With nothing much else to do, he has wandered back to his old home town and it certainly is a familiar sight to see him wielding a paint brush. Says he expects to spend the summers here and winters in Florida.

We note that Otsego county supervisors have decided not to collect any dog tax this year. They enforced the law last year, eliminated the dogs for which licenses were not provided and collected enough in tax to pay damages last year and this year too. Charlevoix county supervisors have decided to tackle the dog license problem in earnest this year and the success of their action will no doubt be watched with interest.

It is with no small amount of pride that we watch local citizens go about justifying that slogan: "Charlevoix, the Beautiful." On every hand one can observe unusual spring clean-up activities and right here we venture the remark that you can travel many a mile and not see a better "dressed" city than Charlevoix.

You've perhaps noticed the state highway department surveying crew setting stakes on the north side. We naturally take it for granted they're surveying a route for the relocation of US-31. Similar operations are going on out on M-66 between Charlevoix and Ironton. Inasmuch as those state highway fellows are sort of closed-mouth regarding their activities, we have nothing substantial to offer. Will say our hopes are soaring, however.

Even though the prospects for the 1938 resort season are uncertain at this time, we can be sure our regular summer visitors will be with us. Prompted by what we suppose is the same urge that brings us all back to this beautiful city of ours when we go away, they drop in early to look over the place of their summer contentment. We refer to Arthur P. Taylor, the Schearers and the Okrants, whom we have noticed on our streets just recently.

DUAL FIELD MEET HERE ON FRIDAY

CHARLEVOIX AND MANCELONA THIN-CLADS COMPETE

Event Opens Conference Competition for Both Schools and Is Warm-Up for Future Events

Charlevoix high school thin-clads will compete in their first conference track meet, a dual affair with Mancelona, at south side athletic field Friday afternoon.

The competition will open the conference track season for both schools and will provide a tune-up for athletes in preparation for future meets.

Stewart Coleman, track coach, has announced a program of twelve events, starting at 3:45, as follows: 100 and 220 dashes, high hurdles, low hurdles, mile, half mile, quarter mile, high jump, broad jump, shot put, pole vault and relay.

Charlevoix's track candidates, reduced by fourteen through graduation last spring, include Clement Olach, Dan Gallagher, Dick Bergmann and Bob Goss, last year's point winners, in addition to a likely group of new-comers. They will be divided in the events as follows: dashes—Ray Nowland, George Light, Robert Arnold, Oliver Duplessis; high hurdles—Dick Bergmann, Robert Bergmann, Edward Bronerski, R. Guild; low hurdles—Bob Goss, Dick Bergman, Edwin Gregory; mile—Jim Martin, Don Tillotson, Clement Olach, Ed. Stinson; halfmile—Harry Withers, Tom Carey, Warren Allison; quarter-mile—Richard Edwards, Keith Carey; high jump — Dan Gallagher, Dick Bergman, Bob Goss, Warren Helms; broad jump—Gallagher, Goss, Allison and K. Carey; pole vault, Gallagher, Harry Withers, R. Bergman, Fred Wagner. Coach Coleman has not selected his relay team yet.

Charlevoix nosed out Mancelona 54 points to 50 last year in a dual meet, but later Mancelona nosed them out by a single point to win the conference championship. With an apparently better balanced team this year, Charlevoix's chances to win the class C crowd appear good.

FIRST MEETING BICYCLE CLUB SET FOR THURSDAY

Boys and Girls of City Invited to Meeting at K. of P. Hall

All boys and girls interested in joining the newly organized Hiawatha Safety Bicycle Club will meet Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the lodge rooms of the K. P. hall.

At the first meeting plans will be made for future events and a date will be set to hold the second meeting when election of officers will take place. Every boy and girl in Charlevoix who owns a bicycle is invited to join this new club which is being sponsored by the local Gamble Store for the purpose of teaching safety in bicycle riding to the children of Charlevoix.

Plans are being made for staging field days, races, parades during the summer months so that the interest of the children in the Hiawatha Safety Bicycle Club will be at a high peak at all times. Each and every member of the club will be upon their honor in observing the rules of safety. This method is expected to prove highly satisfactory in that every member will attempt to always remain in the good graces of the club in order that he or she may be entitled to the special privileges the club affords.

While bicycle clubs are comparatively new in the state of Michigan, there are many states in the nation where bicycle clubs are rapidly gaining prestige. In some states, safe bicycle riding is taught in many of the schools and has been the chief factor in saving lives and preventing accidents.

EXTENSION GROUPS MEET ON TUESDAY

ANNUAL ACHIEVEMENT DAY AT METHODIST CHURCH

Thirteen Charlevoix County Groups Will Exhibit Work of Winter Projects—Program Arraoged

(By B. C. Mellencamp)

The big event of the year for members of the various home economics groups will he the annual achievement day to be held in the Methodist church ut Charlevoix on Tuesday, May 10. All members who have participated in the extension program last fall and winter are making their pluns to attend.

A big feature of the day will be exhibits displayed by all of the groups who have participated. Inas-much as the project study was on the subject of nutrition, all exhibits will display nutrition facts. These exhibits will be attractively displayed, and will tell pretty largely the story of what the members have studied during their project.

Another feature of the day will be a travel talk attractively illustrated with motion pictures given by Mrs. Rood from the Upper Peninsula. She and her husband, who is the Upper Peninsula District Club Leader, made an extended tour last year and were successful in taking many lovely pictures. In addition Miss Roberta Hershey, nutrition project specialist, will give a talk including a report of last year's project and plans for the coming season.

In order to inform the women of the latest developments in the soil conservation program your county agent will very briefly outline the main objectives of the program. As usual the certificates of achievement and other awards will be given those who have completed the year's requirements. The program will be nicely balanced by the inclusion of several musical numbers, all of which points to a most enjoyable afternoon.

The forenoon program will begin promptly at 11:00 o'clock followed by the noon luncheon, given by the ladies aid groups of the Methodist church. The ufternoon program will start about 1:15 o'clock and should be finished not later than 3:30.

The entire public is cordially invited and urged to uttend. It is expected that well over one hundred ladies will have finished the requirements and will receive their awards. Don't fail to mark down the date of Tuesday, May 10 for the achievement day.

PERCH SPAWNING RUN ATTRACTS SPORTSMEN

Nearly Sixty Boats Aochored Suoday on Round Lake Harbor

Round lake harbor took on the appearance of a regatta Sunday as hundreds of sportsmen gathered from regional and down-state points for the annual spring perch run which is now under way.

One observer counted 58 boats, ranging in size from rowboats to cruisers, anchored on Round lake. Hundreds of persons also fished from docks and, without exception, good catches were reported.

Excellent perch fishing is also available at Ironton. Boats were scattered from Orvis Bay north beyond the ferry last Sunday.

SPECIAL ELECTION IS SET FOR MAY 25

FRANCHISE ON ELECTRIC LIGHT SYSTEM SOUGHT

Sale of Bonds Contingent Upon Franchise; Contracts for Extension Dependeot Upon Bond Sale

Through action Monday night of the city council, a frunchise proposal to secure a $98,000 bond issue approved by electors in February to finance a proposed electric light system extension, will be submitted at a special election set for Wednesday, May 25th.

Submission of the franchise proposal is in compliance with a condition imposed by legal advisors of the firm of Stranahan, Harris & Co., whose bid of April 14 for the bonds approved was accepted by the city council. The firm has required that a franchise be granted as a condition under which they will purchase the bonds. The franchise was not a part of the proposal approved by electors in Fehruury.

A franchise, designed as u protection to the investing public (in this instance purchasers of honds of the City of Charlevoix) provides a mortgage on all the property and revenues of the Charlevoix electric light system, ns security for the bonds. Its provisions allow, in case of default of the honds, foreclosure proceedings and sale of the property and operation hy the purchaser of the system for a period necessary to pay the defaulted bonds from the revenues. When the amount in default is paid, the franchise terminates.

Existing contracts awarded by the council for the electric light system extension are contingent upon sale of the bonds. Approval of a franchise is necessary for sale of the bonds. These statements briefly sum up the situution of the council in connection with the proposal at the present time.

MOVE TO EXTEND AIR MAIL SERVICE STARTED

Meet Thursday at Cheboygan to Outline Needs of District

Through the suggestion of Cong. John Luecke of the 11th district, efforts to extend air mail service already assured between Detroit and the Soo to other northern Michigan communities, is under way.

While it is indicated that Cheboygan would be the only stop on the route north of Bay City, the postal department desires that other stops be made in order to extend the service, Mr. Luecke has pointed out. With this uim in view, Mr. Luecke's suggestion that postmasters and Chambers of Commerce of northern Michigan cities meet to prepare a report showing where other stops should he made and what additionul auxiliary service would he necessary in order to extend the service to the entire district, is meeting with hearty response.

Such a meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening, May 5th, at Cheboygan. Charlevoix will be represented by Postmaster J. M. Foster.

NATIONAL HOSPITAL DAY NEXT THURSDAY

Charlevoix Public Invited to Visit and Inspect Local Institution

National Hospital Day will be observed by Charlevoix Hospital, as throughout the nation, on Thursday, May 12.

On this day the hospitnls invite the general public to visit their institutions so that they muy become acquainted with the work which the hospital is doing in behalf of the patient and community.

May 12th, the date of this observance, was also the birth date in 1820 of Florence Nightingale, who is immortul not only, for her contribution to the elevation and development of nursing, but her work for the improvement of hospitals.

Most persons have probably been in a hospitnl either as a patient or as a visitor. Their observations then were probably only casunl, concerned with illness and recovery.

Nntional Hospital Day provides an occasion when the puhlic is invited to visit the hospital as a guest—to observe the various departments with their highly technical equipment, observe its functions, etc.

ACHIEVEMENT DAY A GREAT SUSCESS

OVER SIX HUNDRED TOOK PART HERE LAST TUESDAY

Largest Exhibit in Club History Was Shown — Name the County Champioos for 1938

(By B. C. Mellencamp)

Last Tuesday, April 26, the largest attendance ever to enjoy the 4-H Club Achievement Day were present and comoented favorably on the most wonderful displuy exhihited by 4-H club members throughout the county.

The program started shortly after ten o'clock with free moving pictures at the Palace Theater in Charlevoix. A special program was secured for the occasion and, judging from the enjoyment of the audience, it certainly was the most pleasing event of the entire day.

From 12:30 until 1:30 it seemed that a never ending stream of humanity made its uppearance in the dining room of the high school to receive chocolate milk and ice cream cones. The ice cream treat was a surprise being contrihuted hy the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club to show their appreciation of the wonderful program being accomplished by over four hundred club members.

The afternoon session was featured by the style revue in which nearly one hundred girls made their appearance on the stage wearing the dresses they had completed as their club project. They made a most pleasing appearance in their new dresses which indicated the high quality of workmanship. It just didn't seem possible that these young girls, many only ten and eleven years of age, could possibly have done such fine work.

Another feature was a short concert by the Charlevoix high school band under the direction of Max Smith. Their numbers show rare perfection from such a youthful organization. The address of welcome was given by Oscar P. North, superintendent of schools, with the response very capably given by Miss Jean Black of the Marion Center school. An exceedingly fine musical number was given by Elizaheth Penfoid and Frances Malpass of the East Jordan club, followed by tap dancing by Marilyn Davis and Jean Dennis, also from East Jordan.

William C. Palmer, commissioner of schools, extended his greetings to the 4-H club members and added his well chosen words of encouragement and inspiration. Probably the big feature of the day, anxiously awuited hy hundreds of young folks, was the awarding of pins and medals and the announcement of the county honor roll by Miss Olga Bird, assistant state club leader, Kenneth Ousterhout, Bellaire, who judged the handicraft articles, and O. F. Walker, district club leader, who awarded pins to the leaders who were so greatly responsible for the success of the program.

The county honor roll is a means of recognizing the most excellent club work being accomplished by the club members. From this list of county honor members some twelve to fifteen delugates will be selected to attend the northern Michigan Club Camp at Gaylord during August of this year. Also gold seals were placed on the certificates of achievement of those who were selected as out-

"CLEAN-UP" WEEK IS DESIGNATED FOR PERIOD OF MAY 9 TO 14

Charlevoix's annual house cleaning campaign will start Monday, May 9, and continue through Saturday, May 14, and as long thereafter as necessary for completion.

Through designation and proclamation by Mayor Robert Bridge, that period for the annual "Clean-Up" week, and health and fire officials and citizens generally are behind the movement to properly "dress" up the community for the summer season.

The immediate purpose of the Clean-Up Week is to clear yards, alleys and vacant property of all refuse, rubbish and garbage piles, thus reducing fire and health hazards and giving the city a cleuner appearance.

Leo Allard, street commissioner, asks citizens to place rubbish in substantial containers at the curb or in alleys to be picked up hy truck. Just dumping the ruhbish in piles is not satisfactory and causes extra work for city employes.

Sorensen & Holms have been brightening up the Model Home Laundry in preparation for the summer. The Charlevoix Coal & Ice Co. is also sprucing up with interior decorating. So has the A. & P. store and a lot of other local business places.

George Smith Jr. is making preparations for the construction at the corner of Dixon avenue and Prospect street of a drive-in barbecue lunch room. According to the plans he presented at the last council meeting, the building contemplated is an extremely attractive structure. It seems Charlevoix would be well served by such an institution.

Two years and a month later two ships sailed grandly into the Bay of Monterey, as whales frisked and blew around them. France was wondering about America . . . thoughtful about what country lay west of that nation visited by the Marquis de La Fayette. Dreaming, perhaps, that another empire might lie beyond the mountains and inland seas, the deserts and pinins, west of the mighty Father of Waters.

So His Most Christian Majesty Louis XVI of France sent two ships around the world, to visit California, under the leadership of an accomplished scientist and gallant gentleman, the Comte Jean Francois Galnup de La Perouse.

It happened one gray morning in September that Don Esteban Martinez, commanding two Spanish frigates, the old San Carlos and the Princesa, that lay in the Bay of Monterey, saw two lofty ships loom out of the fog for a moment, before disappearing. Then they were reported by a lookout on shore, and all day watchers saw them glide like phantom ships out of the mists. At night they disappeared entirely.

Morning brought sunshine, and a closer view of the ships. Don Padro ordered Don Esteban to send out two pilots, and watched the little pilot boat put out toward the drifting strangers. Through his glasses he strove to make out the flags they flew.

"What are they? Who are they?" breathed Eulalia eagerly, her chin on his shoulder.

He propped the glasses before her eyes, holding her in his arm.

"Look and see, perhaps you can tell better than I."

"I see! . . . Oh! A fleur de lis! . . "Frenchmen! Yes, you are right! That will be the expedition of whom I have been advised by the Viceroy. La . . . La La Perouse . the Conde de La Perouse."

"A count!" shrilled Eulalia. She snatched the glasses from him and pointed them as though she expected to see the French gentleman smile at her.

"Ah!" she said after a long unsatisfying look. "We must prepare to entertain them I suppose." She said it very calmly, but her heart was aflutter. Two shiploads of French gentlemen, and a count: to her that meant news of the world for which she longed, news of la belle France, of Spain, of opera, books, theater, coiffures, modes . . .

As she rode back to the presidio to prepare for the entertainment of the distinguished visitors her mind ran over the articles of her own wardrobe, jewels and cosmetics.

"Now," she sang, "praise God, something will happen!"

It was late afternoon before the frigates, the Astreinha and the Boussole were safely at anchor, and the Governor, who had not left off watching, saw two long-boats put out for shore, seeming to thread their way among the whales diving and spouting about them.

As the boats landed, strong bare-legged Indians assisting the sailors who leaped into the water, Padro Fage stepped forward to greet a pleasant round-faced officer, in immaculate epauletted uniform and white curled peruke, and accompanied by several other gentlemen. For an instant, even while he had his hand stretched in welcome, he had a moment's panic. These were Frenchmen, and he spoke no French, that is no decent French. But the Comte de La Perouse was already greeting him in broken friendly Spanish, and the Governor seized the Count's hand gratefully.

When Don Pedro invited La Perouse and his aide, Le Pante Dagelet, a young man who spoke no Spanish at all, to dine with him, saying that his wife expected them, the stranger raised his eyebrows, and accepted.

"His wife!" he said in French aside to his aide. "Surely there are no ladies here in this God-forsaken spot!"

As they entered the adobe palacio they saw La Gobernadora framed in candlelight.

La Perouse snatched his three-cornered gold-laced hat from his faultless peruke. So did Le Pante Dagelet. Both gentlemen bowed from the hips, deeply, amazedly.

The lady greeted them in French, with a slight hesitation and tiny accent of Castilian that the gentlemen found delightful.

All through the dinner, which, though strange to their palates, they relished, they watched La Gobernadora in surprise. The deference, their obvious curiosity told the lady of their admiration with every look and gesture. So, though she was bursting with things to say—things which must be said—she played the part of the Lady Governor with dignity and chaste smiles, keeping a wifely silence while her lord and master made speech with his guests.

But when the Governor and his guests pulled their chairs around the open fire, La Perouse began speaking.

"We have been here in your California but a few hours, Monsieur le Gouverneur," he said, "and have already met many surprises. First, it was a surprise to find the place. What fogs! Is the weather this way all the time? And then the whales! Poof! I did not know they smelled so badly, when they blow that beautiful geyser! It is a very bad perfume."

Pedro Fages laughed defensively. "We do not smell that ashore here."

La Gobernadora smiled.

"Very often," she murmured softly in French.

The Governor looked at her sharply.

La Perouse laughed "It is to be hoped not," he replied in the same tongue. "Then," he continued in Spanish, "it was a surprise to find such luxury in your palais de adobe. It was a surprise to find such wine and such brandy as this, and," raising his glass to La Gobernadora, "it was a surprise and a great pleasure to find the palais, or perhaps I should say the hotel de ville with such a chatelaine! Such grace, and if I may be pardoned for speaking so frankly, such beauty, such elegance could scarcely be found in the court of Louis XVI himself, or of your own sovereign, Charles of Spain! But to find it here! Madame! But of course you know how fortunate you are, Monsieur le Gouverneur, to have . . . how do you call her, La Gobernadora? . . . here in the wilderness with you! I envy you, parbleu, I do. You are like the first man and the first woman, Adam and Eve, in this Paradise; your life here must be a perpetual honeymoon!"

Eulalia smiled, with sidelong glances at the two Frenchmen. She studied them carefully. Such finesse! Such fine clothes! And from those curled perukes she was sure there came a faint perfume, very faint to be sure, and very masculine, but unmistakable. Those neat breeches, and buckled shoes.

She studied her husband. Why had she not trimmed his beard that day? And why had she not insisted that he come and change his clothes before the distinguished Frenchmen came ashore? That leather jacket, and those stained leather breeches dusty boots. She shuddered. Ugh, and that faint odor of horses that clung around him always. She sighed deeply.

"Yes," La Perouse was saying to the Governor, "we have with us on this expedition astronomers, philosophers, meteorologists, watchmakers, cartographers, every sort of scientist you can imagine. With your permission we will make a camp near here, and set up a laboratory. There are many things here we wish to study, as well as the Indians, their habits, physical characteristics, and religions."

Eulalia saw her husband lean forward eagerly, with the expression on his face that told her he would soon launch into a lengthy, and to her, uninteresting discourse on his favorite subject, California. She looked at young Dagelet, brooding before the fire, untouched by the spate of unfamiliar Spanish that flowed around him. She moved closer.

"You are very quiet, Monsieur,"

Dagelet started.

"I am at a disadvantage, Madame, because of my ignorance of your language. But you speak mine so beautifully it would be a charity on your part to talk with me."

"What can I say? I have nothing to tell. There is nothing to talk about in this God-forsaken and lonely country. And I have been here so long that I can hardly remember what the world . . . my world . . . is like. Tell me!" she demanded eagerly.

At the emotion in her voice Dagelet leaned toward her and spoke softly.

"I can hardly imagine, Madame, that you are out of touch with the world. One would not believe it to look at you. But what shall I tell you? Of politics? Wars and rumors of wars? The theater? Opera? Gossip? Scandal?"

The lady's eyes sparkled, and her lips curved in an enchanted smile.

"Gossip!" she demanded. "Scandal!"

So while Pedro Fages and the Comte de La Perouse talked of stars and tides, flora and fauna, horses and ships and men, La Gobernadora and young Dagelet talked of modes and manners, the gayest whim of the Queen of France, the newest actress to set Paris by the ears, the brightest songbird to be the toast of the jeunesse dore.

"I am sorry I can tell you nothing of your own city, Barcelona, Madame, but hope Paris interests you."

"Ah, Paris! I have been there! I love the place "

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

County Grasshopper Campaign Being Developed

The Charlevoix county grasshopper control committee met last week and is now developing plans for this year's campaign. C. B. Dibble, insect control specialist of Michigan State College, met with the committee and outlined the procedure to follow in this year's activity.

First of all he emphasized the fact that each man who desires to use bait must first sign a request blank. Each supervisor in the townships where infestation is likely to occur has a supply of these blanks. Furthermore, no bait can be given out for cutworm control this year. Anyone not signing up will be unable to obtain bait.

Forestry Planting Demonstrations Scheduled for Week of May 9th

Charlevoix county farmers are rapidly becoming conservation conscious as shown by some twelve woodlot improvement demonstrations. Now at this time of the year plans have been developed for six planting demonstrations. These trees will be set out under the supervision of Larry Wines, junior forester from Camp Wolverine, and a crew of from fifteen to twenty CCC boys.

The following schedule of these demonstrations will be closely adhered to: Charles Shepard, East Jordan, Monday, May 9; James Novak, East Jordan, Tuesday, May 10; Hemingway's Nursery, East Jordan, Wednesday, May 11; W. D. Burmeister, Boyne City, Thursday, May 12; John Taylor, Boyne City, Friday, May 13; Mr. Frechtling, Walloon Lake, Monday, May 16.

Plans Being Developed to Hold a Big Dairy Sale in East Jordan

It has been felt by many farmers throughout this area that the organization of a livestock sale would benefit those who have high quality surplus dairy stock for sale. Charlevoix and Antrim counties at the present time have had all of their cattle tested for both tuberculosis and Bang's disease which means that out-of-state buyers are interested in buying their dairy cattle from these two counties.

On Monday night, May 2, representatives from the cooperative organizations in both Antrim and Charlevoix counties met at East Jordan with a committee which had been previously appointed by the Chamber of Commerce. The problem of financial assistance was discussed at some length and resulted in plans to have a small amount of money contributed by the various cooperative agencies and banks in the area to finance the first sale. Advertising material would be sent out all through the state to attract the attention of buyers. A very standing members of their own group.

In the hot lunch project there were seven schools that were placed on the county honor roll in recognition of the very attractive posters developed and type of work carried on. Following is a list of the schools:

Sometimes it seems that prescriptions are priced with as much accuracy as guessing a number. But that isn't our method. Here is the way we do it:

We take the cost of our fresh, potent ingredients, add the time of a skilled pharmacist, plus overhead and a modest profit—a fair, honest system. Because we make a business of prescriptions, our volume is large, our costs low. We'll appreciate your prescription business!

If you havn't had a cold, you're out of style.

Miss Marvel Knowles was the first to wear a straw hat, last Friday.

Steve Harrow is in the Upper Peninsula looking for work, but has failed, so far, to find any.

Chilton Stafford, wife and daughter Hildred, were visitors at their farm at Bay View Monday.

Johnnie and James Dawson made a trip to the Elk Rapids dentist last week and had their teeth removed.

Rev. Bolitho and wife of Harbor Springs were Monday callers at the Albert Snitseler farm north of town.

Howard Bradshaw is home from Detroit, after living there some five years, and has found work on a farm.

Richard DeYoung, who now has a good position on the Loan Board, was a business caller at Bellaire Monday.

Jack Gibbard of Marsh district east of Central Lake, with his wife, were business callers at Bay View Monday.

Andrew Dunsmore appears to be about the same in health at the home of his daughter, Beatrice, at Traverse City.

Mrs. Dennis, who is stopping at the Jack Smith home at Eastport, was able to be up and around the house Sunday.

Mrs. Lenzie Morse returned from a visit with her mother at Lansing, last Sunday. Wilmer Morse has been looking for work there.

Mrs. Eva Morse Petersen of Stat street, Detroit, and two children, came Sunday for a visit at the O. R. Morse home at Bay View.

Miss Virginia Arnold of Detroit, who has spent the fortnight with her parents, the Spencer Arnold's at Bay View, returned home Sunday.

Miss Bertha Hooper of Eastport has been spending her spring vacation at her home at Eastport, and at Mnrins resort at Torch Lake.

Jack Muckle's condition appears to be about the same. Rev. A. A. Wall has returned from Detroit, and his health remains about as usual.

Earl Barnes, car salesman for the Ford garage at East Jordan, was a business caller here last week. Last year he sold thirty cars near here.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregory of Burnard were visitors at Eastport Baptist church last Sunday. There were 39 present at Sunday school there, and 27 at Cresswell.

Clifford Morse of Central Lake has been on a trip to the Harry Miller home, his cousin at Warren, Ohio. He has been contracting for sale of seed for G. A. Morse and Son Seed Company.

Miss Mildred Stafford and Mrs. Jackson have charge of the Mother's Day program at the Baptist church next Sunday. Ye scribe's birthday happens to come on Mother's Day this year.

Richard DeYoung was a caller at the court house, Bellaire, Monday. Friday he was home long enough to set out a nice patch of strawberries. He is in the building iona division of the state work.

It was thought that the cherry crop had frozen last week, but there doesn't appear to be any signs of it yet. Last year they "froze" cherries after canning; perhaps this year, they will be frozen before canning.

A good contribution for the help of the M. E. church was received at the church supper here last Thursday. Rev. Roble, the "Flying Evangelist" was present. He will begin revival services here this week, Tuesday.

Alfred Christensen of South Milton, was a caller at the John Dawson home at Central Lake Monday. He is looking up a little farm to locate on to be used as a poultry farm. He was over looking at the Olmstead and Robinson farms at Bay View.

Mr. Thumer of Ellsworth has let the local contracts for pickle raising here this year. The local canning factory has also closed its contracting. Not so many contracts have been let this year, presumably on account of the uncertainty in business. Can't tell which way the "Poor Dealers" will jump next.

Mrs. Simon Eschleman's death last week at a Grand Rapids hospital was a shock to her many friends here. She was a much respected resident of this village. Mr. Eschleman, who passed away several years ago, was a barber here for many years. Funeral services were held from the local Congregational church, Rev. Rector officiating.

Mrs. Minnie Bradford Sherman passed away at her home here last week. Funeral services were held last week, Wednesday. She was well thought-of by many friends here. She and Mrs. Eschleman were members of the local Congregational church. Her husband, Wm. Sherman, who passed away several years ago had been proprietor for many years of the local bakery. Not many of the residents of fifty years ago are left.

We notice Gould Pinney, a former pupil of the writer, is on at Charlevoix, for the pledge. A former pupil of the writer had his school and himself in the picture taken of the conservation crew contestants. His name is Donald Richards of Bellaire. Another pupil, Clifford Larson, runs a restaurant at Mancelona, and was kept busy serving meals to hungry attendants at the Achievement exercises. We didn't see a teacher or pupil using intoxicants or tobacco, which I think is a fine showing for Antrim county's schools.

Last week we visited what is probably the most uniquely located fruit farm in the county. We refer to the Claude Fairman farm. It is located between two lakes which serve to give it proper air-drainage, so that it is free from frost until late in the fall. On this farm are cherries, peaches, raspberries, and strawberries of many different varieties. Last year Mr. Fairman sold a number of bushels of tree-ripened peaches. His is probably the farthest north peach orchard in the state, unless Evelyn Orchards may have some. Three men are kept busy trimming, cultivating, etc. It would be quite a sight for North Michigan tourists to visit this farm. Were it not for those lakes, this place would probably be frosty. The brother of your correspondent taught his second term of school in this district, and one would never have thought then that such a fine fruit farm would be located there. This is one of the great possibilities of north Michigan, where they have no floods or cyclones.

Otho Mathias, Kenneth McKay, and J. W. Morse took loads of young people from Bay View and Grand View schools to the Achievement Day exercises at Mancelona Friday. Everybody appears to have had a good time, although the weather was a bit cold. The young people were entertained with conservation moving pictures in the forenoon, and the style show and program in the afternoon, at the high school auditorium. Miss Allen of Ball school, was given highest honors in the style show. The best exhibits ever were in evidence, and it is estimated that about 750 people attended. On the way back, Mr. Morse took his load around by the Twin Bridges picnic ground, and also stopped to pick arbutus. An interesting thing happened when the conservation officer asked the young people how to stop forest fires, one boy said, "Quit smoking cigarettes." Otho Mathias of Bay View lead the 4-H pledge. It would be fine if they, too, would give the dog salute. Mr. Stevens gave address of welcome, responded to in fine style by Miss Bonnie Lou Anderson of Alden.

Proposal relative to mortgage and franchise to secure $98,000 electric light bonds, payable only from the revenues of the Charlevoix electric light system.

Shall the city of Charlevoix secure the payment of $98,000 electric light bonds, payable only out of the revenues of the Charlevoix electric light system, by a mortgage on all the property and revenues of the Charlevoix electric light system, including a franchise stating the terms on which, in case of foreclosure, the purchaser may operate the same, as follows:

"A franchise is hereby granted, subject to all laws in force at the time of the execution of this mortgage, to become operative in the event of foreclosure, by which the purchaser at such foreclosure sale may operate said electric light system for a term not to exceed twenty (20) years from and after such sale, and may furnish electricity to the city and its inhabitants, and to that end may construct, equip and maintain poles, wires and conduits for the transmission of electricity in, over and under the streets, alleys and public places of the city, subject to such reasonable regulations as the common council may prescribe, and may charge for electricity so furnished, reasonable rates which shall, as near as may be, produce a return sufficient to pay operating expenses and costs of maintenance, repair and replacement, and repay to the purchaser within the term of his franchise the amount of his bid (not to exceed the bonds then outstanding, interest thereon to date of sale, and taxable costs as fixed by the decree of foreclosure) and interest on the amount of such bid at the rate borne by the bonds. When that amount has been repaid, the franchise shall terminate.

"In case of disagreement as to the reasonableness of any rates or regulations, such rates or regulations shall be fixed and determined by the Public Utilities Commission of the State of Michigan."

SHOT AT RANDOM

the loss of five lives a year ago New Years day. Bill Wallace has the whistle mounted on top of his gas station and uses it to call Louie on after-hour occasions.

The new Department of Labor and Industry ruling prohibiting boys under 14 years of age from working as caddies is not altogether good news for a lot of Charlevoix lads. We won't attempt to guess whether it is right or wrong, but we do know that it upsets something that has been going on here ever since a golf links was established. It takes away that opportunity for boys to earn school clothes money and their own spending money. This writer lugged a golf sack hundreds of times before reaching the age of 14 years. Didn't need anyone to tell whether we were big enough. The caddy master took care of that detail and when he did let us work, saw that we had a light bag to carry until big enough to take on a heavier load. The money bought much wearing gear and many of those "kid luxuries" the parents couldn't afford. Many boys are going to miss that caddy money, not to mention the help it provided at home.

Jack Van Coevering got off on the wrong foot when he "panned" the Conservation Department in an editorial a week ago Sunday for not enforcing a law passed by the 1937 legislature which classed Lake Charlevoix and a lot of other lakes connected with Lake Michigan as "pike" lakes and prohibited the taking of all species of fish excepting mackinaw trout during March and April. It is comforting to know that the Conservation Department looks at the other fellow's side of matters. They knew that to stop fishing for smelt and perch, particularly, would be so darn unpopular with the public that they wouldn't have been able to get a conviction if they did make an arrest. That's only a sensible attitude to take when the Legislature makes a slip and such action will win more respect for conservation than a jail-ful of violators. If perch and smelt were not migratory from Lake Michigan where the commercial fishermen can grab them off while the hook and line fishermen wait for May 1st; if the smelt were anything else but a menace to our waters; if communities along the west coast of Lake Michigan had not commercialized to the extent of handsome profit by the annual "runs" of these fish; if there was any sense at all in a law which prohibited the taking of these migratory species—then VanCoevering would have an excuse for his contention that "law is law and should be enforced." We'll string along with the Conservation Department in their attitude in the matter.

In view of the fact many Charlevoixans feel that the city council's recent action in approving a Board of Commerce budget of $5,745 for resort promotional activities is a waste of the taxpayers' money, it is interesting to note how a progressive neighboring city feels about the same matter. Here's what the Petoskey Evening News says: "Charlevoix is handling its tourist and resort promotion in a sensible, economical manner. The Board of Commerce presents a budget to the council and it is approved after discussion. The Board then contracts obligations according to the budget and submits the bills to the council. As long as they fall within the limits of the approved budget, the bills are paid. In Petoskey the situation is different. Representatives of the Chamber of Commerce canvass the town, picking up a contribution here and a donation there in an attempt to carry on the necessary work. The Petoskey city council is beset by various organizations seeking funds, usually for worthwhile propositions. Merchants are hounded for donations for this and that. It is probably the best arrangement that can be made under the present set-up, but think how much better the Charlevoix system is. Solicitation of business houses is barred because the Board of Commerce budget takes in all activities. If Charlevoix has $1,000 to indace conventions to meet in that city, what chance has Petoskey of getting conventions with practically nothing to offer organizations in financial inducements; with $400 to bring new industries there is enough money to finance surveys and travelling expenses of the city's representatives at least; with $400 for fish planting, enough steelhead trout can be placed in Lake Charlevoix to attract thousands of fishermen. Charlevoix citibens are far-sighted enough to realize that the resort business is highly competitive and that the city must be provided with financial ammunition if it is going to compete in the battle for the tourist trade." There's an unsolicited opinion and one which answers critics of Charlevoix's efforts to keep its head above water in its efforts to entice tourist trade, which, by the way, happen to be our only bread and butter.

OPENING OF TROUT SEASON UNFAVORABLE

Ideal Weather and Stream Conditions Fail to Produce Catches

Trout fishing conditions in this district are becoming normal this week after a week end during which what is believed the largest army of anglers ever to open the season traversed rivers and streams.

Despite favorable weather and ideal stream conditions, catches were generally light throughout the region. "Bill" Fessenden and Earl W. Miller probably topped the local field with a catch which made up in size for what it lacked in quantity the opening day. They fished "somewhere over east." A few limit catches were reported, but the majority were far under the legal limit.

Veteran fishermen and conservation officers believe the lack of outstanding catches was due to the crowded condition of the streams. In some places it was more like a smelt ran than trout fishing. This writer counted 18 fishermen in sight at one location on the Jordan river.

CITY ADOPTS NEW HARBOR ORDINANCE

REGULATES USE OF MUNICIPAL DOCKS AND PIERS

Buy 7½-Ton Truck for Street Department; Approve Water Main Repairs and Park Development

A new harbor ordinance, eliminating antequated features of a previous ordinance and providing control of contingencies of late years, was adopted Monday night by the city council.

Embodying changes suggested by the Charlevoix Marine Club, invited to cooperate with the council in its drafting, the ordinance makes it unlawful to operate a vessel in Charlevoix harbor at a speed over six miles per hour; prohibits deposit or discharge of ruhbish, garbage, refuse, etc., in the harbor or in any waters within the corporate limits of the city; prohibits the use of any municipal dock or pier for the purpose of loading or unloading freight other than vessel supplies or provisions other than fuel; prohibits use of municipal dock or pier or bathing pier for commercial business for gain or profit, or for the storage of any vessel or cargo or other muterial, except those docks which are specially designated fur such purpose; sets a 5-day limit for the timo a dock may be used in any sixty-day period without a license or permit, subject to printed signs to be erected; prohibits docking a vessel or anchoring adjacent to a bathing pier longer than a specified time; outlines the duties and authority of the Harbor Master and police in assisting enforcement of the ordinance; sets penalties for violation, etc.

The ordinance is primarily designed to eliminate the use of city docks for commercial purposes.

The council voted the purchase of a 6 to 7½ ton Federal truck for the street department to replace a piece of equipment which has been used the past ten years.

A contract for operation of the city auto camp under conditions being worked out by the park committee was entered with Harry Ladd, who will succeed H. R. "Dad" Brady as caretaker.

Plans for repairs to the water main crossing the lower channel between Round lake and Lake Charlevoix, and for the construction of shuffle board courts in East Park, were approved. Bids are being advertised for these two projects.

DELINQUENT TAX LIST WAS ACTUALLY LIGHT

Small Portion Parcels First Advertised for Sale Were Unpaid

Boiled down to actualities, the tax delinquent property list recently offered for sale in Charlevoix county was far smaller than the list originally advertised and the sale created only a flutter of interest.

Of the approximate 5300 parcels originally advertised for sale, a check up at the office of County Treasurer Lillis M. Flanders revealed that taxes on 3434 had been paid and receipts issued therefor. Consequently only 1866 were offered for sale and only 45 were actually sold.

It is estimated that the taxes on around 1000 descriptions were paid during the month of April prior to and as a result of the impending sale. The treasurer's office was rushed for several weeks and, because of the volume of payments, issued temporary receipts at that time. Treasurer Flanders estimated it would require six weeks to write regular receipts and bring the record up to date.

MAY COURT TERM CONVENES MONDAY

CLERK ANNOUNCES A JURY WILL BE CALLED

Calendar Light, But Clean-Up of Pending Civil Cases Will Require Call to Jurymen

County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow has announced that despite a light calendar a jury will be called for the May term of circuit court which convenes Monday, the 16th, before Judge Parm C. Gilbert.

Only one criminal case appears on the docket, but numerous civil actions which are pending will be cleaned up at this session, requiring the culling of a jury. Due to light dockets, no jury has been summoned the last two terms, accounting for the accumulation of civil cases which will be heard in May.

Following is the list of jurors:

Bay township, George VanHusen; Chandler, Ward Mackie; Charlevoix, William Prevost; Evangeline, L. J. Fincout; Eveline, Charles Fett; Hayes, T. J. Smith; Hudson, Louis Magee; Marion, Robert Dougherty; Melrose, Sam Garringer; Norwood, Clyde Warner; Peaine, Fred Nackerman; St. James, Dominic Gallagher; South Arm, Herman Hammond; Wilson, Basil Holland; Boyne City, Ray Boynton, Hattie Bovee, Vern Kuhns, Walter Talhoy; Charlevoix, Clare Staley, Harry Walstead, William Byers; East Jordan, Ray Gee, William Aldrich, Howard Porter.

NORTHERN CLASS C FIELD MEET MAY 14

NINE SCHOOLS TO COMPETE HERE ON SATURDAY

Officials Named for Annual Conferoce Event — Charlevoix Glveo Good Chance to Top Field

Preparations are under way by local school athletic officials for the second annual Tip O' Michigun class C conference track und field meet scheduled for Saturday, May 14, at south side uthletic field.

Nine schools will purticipate, according to Stewart E. Colman, Charlevoix track coach, bringing upwards of a hundred athletes here Saturday. Competing schools will he Charlevoix, Mancelona, Onaway, Boyne City, East Jordan, Harbor Springs, Kalkaska, Grayling and Gaylord. Mancelona is the defending champion by virtue of a one-point victory last year over Charlevoix.

While all arrangements have not been completed, it is planned to hold qualifying tests for the various events in the morning, starting at 9:30 o'clock. Finals in all events will start at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Officials named at the present time are Earl Brutherston, Boyne City, starter; Ray Kipke, Charlevoix, timer, and H. E. Bingham, Charlevoix, scorer.

In view of Charlevoix's fine record in dual meets so fur this season, Conch Coleman's thin-clads are considered favorites to cop the moet. Charlevoix lost by a single point a year ago, the school's first season for participation in track, and this year presents a far more versatile and better-halanced team. Charlevoix defeated Mancelona, class C defending champion, in a dual meet here two weeks ago and last Friday established three new conference records among nine first places won in competition with Boyne City and East Jordan.

The conference meet tops the list of track and field events for northern Michigan class C schools and a large following of supporters is expected to accompany the several teams.

COUNTY TAX ALLOCATION BOARD COMPLETE

Stephens, chairman of the finance committee of the board of supervisors; Lillis M. Flanders, county treasurer; William C. Palmer, school commissioner; Fenton R. Bulow, county clerk.

Forms for the filing of budget reports have been suhmitted to various county taxing units as a means of setting up in the near future a tentative county budget as required by law.

DETROIT CRUISE COMES JUNE 17TH

CHARLEVOIX IS DEFINITELY SCHEDULED FOR STOP

Plans Under Way for Entertainment of 350 Members of Detroit Board of Commerce

According to information received by Gordon B. Todd, secretary of the Board of Commerce, Charlevoix has definitely been selected as one of two stop-overs for the annual Detroit Board of Commerce cruise, a "stag" affair.

The cruise, with an anticipated 350 members, will leave Detroit at 2 p. m. on Thursday, June 16, on the sidewheeler City of Detroit III of the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation Company, which will be the largest passenger boat to visit Charlevoix. Arrival here is scheduled for 12 o'clock noon on Friday, June 17th, and departure at midnight the samo day.

Providing the lake is calm, the ship will enter the channel nnd unload its passengers on the piers near the coast guard station. Otherwise, the vessel will anchor off the pier heads and the passengers will be lightered ashore. While there is sufficient water depth and channel width, these steps are being taken as a precaution against damage to the ship. Arrangements are under way to obtain Conservation Department Patrol Boat No. 1 to transfer the passengers. If this plan does not materialize, coast guard boats will be used.

Plans for entertainment of the cruisers are now under way. The Belvedere golf course has been made available without charge. Other features will include tennis, fishing, baseball. Cars will be furnished the visitors. A public dance at the Charlevoix Beach Hotel is being planned. A 12-piece orchestra accompanying the cruise will furnish music.

Other details regarding the cruise, which is one of three scheduled for the month of June, will be announced when available.

CHARLEVOIX WINS AGAIN AT TRACK

COPPED INVITATIONAL AFFAIR AT EAST JORDAN

Broke Three Conference Records in Winning Nine First Places—East Jordan Second, Boyne Third

Charlevoix high school athletes won their second track meet of the season Friday at East Jordan, an invitational event in competition with East Jordan and Boyne City.

Coach Stewart Coleman's squad clearly demonstrated its versitality with nine firsts, including three conference records, and enough other places to necumulate 75 points. East Jordan was second with 32 points and Boyne third with 23.

Dick Bergman, Keith Carey and "Chick" Gallagher bettered conference records. Bergman lowered Turnipseed's record of 17.2 in the high hurdles to 16:8; Carey's heave of 40 ft. 10¾ in. in the shot put bettered Bowman's record of 40 ft. 4 in., and Gallagher cleared the bar at 10 ft. 3 in. in the pole vault to beat the mark of 10 ft. set by Turnipseed, Mancelona athlete. Those were the high spots in a performance which saw Charlevoix dominating the majority of events.

From a standpoint of individual performance, Bergman was outstanding. He won the high hurdles in record time, was first in the low hurdles, broad jump and high jump for four firsts. Carey turned in two firsts. In addition to his record heave in the shot put, he won the quarter-mile event.

Charlevoix won the first three places in two events. Bergman, Gallagher and Goss placed in order in the broad jump; Carey, Nowland and Pearl in order in the shot put. Allison won the mile with Martin second and Stinson fourth. Olueh copped the half-mile and Duplessis placed second. Tillotson placed fourth in the quarter-mile, won by Carey. Light scored fourth in the 100-yard dash and third in the 220-yard event which were both won by Hausler of Boyne City.

BUILDING IS SLATED FOR ISLE OF PINES

Several Cottages to Be Constructed There This Summer

Historic Holy Island,—one of the beauty spots on the south arm of Lake Charlevoix, will see real building activity this season, according to an article appearing in a recent edition of the Lansing Journal.

Holy Island, purchased in 1914 by C. I. B. McLean of Lansing, is also known as Isle of Pines. McLean platted it and built a home on the east side of the island. This home was acquired some time ago, together with adjoining lots, by William Cameron, official of the Bostnn Insurance, Lansing. Don Cameron of Royal Oak, brother of Mr. Cameron, will build this year on the east side of the island. Dave Davenport, supervisor of grounds at Michigan State College, and F. W. Shaver, East Lansing, also plan to build on lots purchased some time ago.

Before McLean purchased the island the only manner of approach was hy hoat from the mainland. He purchased and installed a steel bridge spanning the water gap hetween the mainland and island, making it accessihle by uutomohile.

POSTMASTER FOSTER IS KIWANIS SPEAKER

Urgad Cooperation Duriog Air Mail Week Beginning May 15th

Postmaster J. M. Foster was the speaker at the Kiwanis meeting Tuesday evening.

Mr. Foster pointed out some very interesting figures on the cost of air mail service and stressed the point that much good could be accomplished by having letters sent by air mail during national Air Mail Week which starts May 15th. Mr. Foster states that only by creating a demand would this section of Michigan he given air mail service and such service during the summer season would be popular with summer visitors.

"Show the government that we want air mail service by sending letters through this branch of the postal service during Air Mail Week," Mr. Foster stated.

By Kao Usher

Can you imagine: Floyd Supp without his pipe? What the court house would be without Charlie Marshall around?

This item might be captioned: "Gone — To Her Earned Reward." It has to do with a hen owned by a fellow near Central Lake that layed an egg measuring 8 inches around one way and 7 inches the other. In reality it was two eggs, one inside of the other. The hen was found dead in front of the coop.

Monte Withers and Bob Bonthron are improving their places of business. So is "Bill" Wallace building a new front at his gas station. There's an awful lot of such activity going on, typical of Charlevoix, too.

If we happened to miss someone along this line, don't feel slighted, for we'll get to you sooner or later.

Did you ever see Earl (Car Painter) Miller's "sausage" raft. Looks like a cross between an over-sized bologna and a baby dirigible. But between you and I, it's the secret behind those catches of brook trout Miller and "Bill" Fessenden get. They put the thing on their back, hike off to those hidden places no one else gets to and sneak up on the unsuspecting trout who think they're safe from humans. No wonder the poor trout get caught. They probably are lured to their doom while getting a look at that strange contraption Miller has.

MICHIGAN BULLS GET TOP RATINGS

Participants in Federal-State Dairy Herd Improvement Recognized

Among the first in the nation to get approved ratings are the bulls of seven Michigan dairymen participating in the new federal-state dairy herd improvement association project which includes ear tagging and the linking of bull identification with records of their daughters.

For 305 days the daughters have been in dairy test work. Owners of these first records are Vern Higbee, Eagle, near Lansing; W. C. and C. L. Harder, Three Rivers; Fred C. Gleason, Sodus; S. Ardis and Son, Lake City; Henry Ojala, Brimley; B. O. Rawson, Quincy, and Parker Brothers, Montague.

Through state headquarters of the test work at Michigan State College, the records were sent to Washington for checking and recording. A. C. Baltzer, college extension dairyman, is announcing some of the results.

Typical of these first records is the bull owned by Higbee. Six daughters, instead of the required five, are in the record. The Michigan serial number of 34 is found in the bull's ear tag which is number 34 A 11493. Whether he's sold or kept, his record will be available wherever he is.

Proof of his worth, as can be found in other records of other good bulls, is the fact his daughters indicated an average in the 305 days of 73 pounds of butterfat more than their mothers. Milk weight dropped slightly from an average of 9,694 pounds to 9,279 but fat went to 487 pounds average compared to the dams' average of 414 pounds.

Seventy-six associations in the state, a record, now include new groups in Gladwin, Sanilac, Washtenaw and Saginaw counties, Baltzer announces.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Permanent Immunity to Diphtheria Can Be Obtained Early In Life

The diphtheria bacillus which is the germ that causes diphtheria is a short rod-like growth which can be seen only when it is magnified several hundred times. Our knowledge of diphtheria is quite satisfactory in that we know both the cause of the disease and the ways in which it is spread. The spread of this disease can be controlled as we possess specific preventative and curative agents of great power.

Diphtheria has its greatest prevalence in the fall, winter and spring months. The diphtherin germ enters the body by way of the mouth or nose and the affected area is usually confined to the membranes of the nose, throat, larnyx and upper part of the air passages. It leaves the body in the discharges of the mouth and nose. This germ may be passed directly from person to person by direct contact or by droplet infection in the fine spray talked, coughed, laughed or sneezed from the mouth or nose. It may be passed directly from person to person many ways as in the common handling of toys, food, pencils, handkerchiefs, towels and other objects. Diphtheria is spread by active cases, recently recovered cases, mild or missed cases or by health carriers.

The diphtheria carrier is not recognized since he harbors the germ without having symptoms unless smears are examined from the throats of practically the entire community. He often is a source of infection and may, unknowingly, be responsible for many cases of diphtheria.

Diphtherin may resemble a mild sore throat, a more severe sore throat or a very severe sore throat. In order to prevent the spread of diphtheria to others and to determine definitely that the disease is diphtherin it is necessary that cultures be made from the nose and throat. However before the report from the cultures is obtained all suspected cases from diphtheria must be isolated.

Protection against diphtheria can be obtained early in life, preferably at seven months of age, by the injection of one or two doses of alum precipated toxoid. Three months after this has been given, the child should be Schick tested to determine whether he has obtained immunity or not. If no immunity has been obtained, the toxoid should again be administered.

It is the aim of District Health Department No. 3 to keep as many children free from diphtheria as possible and as this disease, is particularly fatal among children in the preschool group, parents are urged to have their children protected either by their family physician or by your District Health Department at the time of their visit to your community.

Tuberculosis is spread chiefly by close association with an individual who has active disease, says the Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

License Plates Lost by Thousands Yearly

Leon D. Case, secretary of state, has renewed his caution to motorists against haphazard attaching of license plates to their motor vehicles.

Records of the department of state over many years show that thousands of plates are lost in the early part of each license year, indicating that those who are going to lose plates, lose them shortly after they attach them to their cars.

No definite count of the number of plates actually lost is possible. Some, of course, are stolen; others are mutilated in accidents. A set of duplicate passenger or commercial plates costs $2; municipal duplicate plates cost 25 cents. Dealers pay $15 a pair for their first three sets of plates and $5 per set thereafter, but subsequent duplicates do not indicate losses, but rather the desire to equip additional cars with dealers' plates for demonstration purposes.

In 1937, the department of state collected $52,307.75 from the sale of duplicate plates. The 1938 total will probably reflect the drop in registration. Though collections from this source for the first three months of 1938 totalled $29,299.50, the total for the corresponding period of 1937 was $35,841.25.

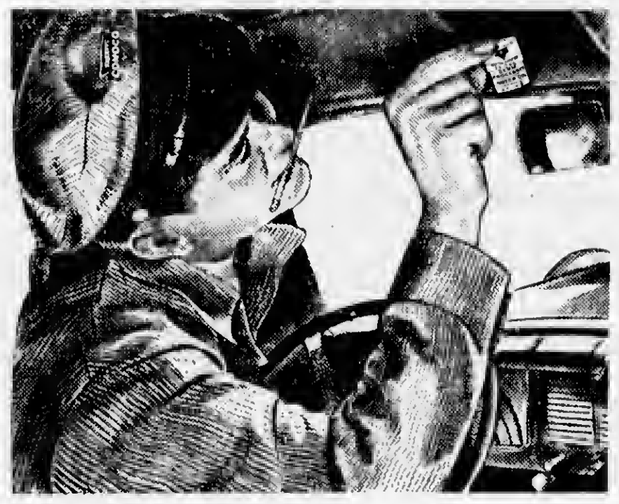
ONLY YOUR MILEAGE MERCHANT OIL-PLATES YOUR ENGINE



Do you need any reminder of what oil you bought? Not if it delivers smooth long mileage that you can't forget! Then here's the real big value of the little drain tag you get from Your Mileage Merchant: he marks it with your mileage today as you change to his patented Conoco Germ Processed oil, and then you can keep tabs on how far you go before you ever need another quart in your OIL-PLATED engine.

OIL-PLATING is exclusive with Conoco Germ Processed oil. The patent-guarded Germ Process forces this oil to "magnetize" on to the working parts in the form of implanted slippy OIL-PLATING. The parts that used to wear worst and make your oil "rub out" fastest, now possess this all-over, deep-seated OIL-PLATING. It can neither drain down while your engine is stopped, nor let loose in all the whirl of 4,000 revolutions a minute. Therefore OIL-PLATING, done only by Your Mileage Merchant, distinctly tells you why your Germ Processed oil and your car money won't do a "disappearing act."

"So you have enjoyed my gossip, my news? Remember, it is not really news, for we have been nearly a year on this cruise since we sailed from France."

Eulalia raised melancholy eyes to him. "But you are going back to your country, your beloved Paris, some time. But I, I never shall return to my home. I shall die here some day, and be buried in the mission graveyard, and forgotten, without ever really having lived." Tears were in her voice, and very near her eyes. Dagelet stirred toward her as though to touch the hand that lay so close to him, with palm upturned appealingly.

"Ah, no, Madame! Do not speak so! There must be some hope that you will. It would be wicked for you to waste your life in a rough outpost like this, a place fit only for men, and strong men, used to danger! Why do you stay?"

Eulalia was about to speak, but noticed the young man's eyes straying from her suddenly. Indizuela had silently entered the room, and was picking up the empty glasses. La Gobernadora spoke sharply.

"No one called you, moza. Leave the room." The girl looked somberly at the Governor, sliding her eyes over the two Frenchmen.

"Ah!" said the Count. "What a specimen!"

"Isn't she?" said the Governor. "One of our finest." The men watched Indizuela as she sidled slowly and insolently out of the room, while Eulalia clung to her outraged dignity with clenched hands.

Later, Eulalia was conscious of speaking farewells as her husband departed to escort the travelers to their long-boat, for they would spend the night aboard their ship.

Then she hurried into her room and picked up her tiring glass. She stroked the color that still flamed in her cheeks. For a few minutes she looked into her own eyes. Then she put the mirror down and, lifting the sweeping lengths of flowered broeade that made her skirt, danced a slow minuet with her shadow, to an air she had heard years ago in Paris.

CHAPTER XIX

Pedro Fages looked with awe and curiosity at the collecting of esoteric instruments scattered around the tent which La Perouse had had erected on the beach for a laboratory.

"You will pardon me, Senor el Conde," he said with a twinkle, "but these look strange to me. I have not found such things neeessary in my study of this country and people."

The French scientist straightened up from the microscope into which he had been peering, and laughed as he stretched himself. His place at the instrument was immediately taken by a pale lank-haired scholar who adjusted it to his sight with the loving care of a fanatic.

"And how do you study them, mon ami?" he asked.

The Governor looked puzzled.

"I do not really know. I just live with the country, and the people. And if the things that they do seem odd to me, I take them for granted, ask them no questions. But I feel as though I know and understand them. As for the country, I know I understand it. Oh, I don't mean your botanical names and terms. But I know an oak tree, a sycamore, an alder when I see it. I know the birds . . . but all by little Spanish names that would seem strange to you . . . I know the animals and their habits . . ."

"In fact you know much more than I and my two shiploads of scientists would ever know with all their instruments if they stayed here a quarter of a century."

The two men strolled away from the tent, and the Governor rolled La Perouse a cigarette from his supply of cornhusks and tobacco.

The Frenchman inhaled deeply. "You must give me some of these to take with me," he said. "Now I have here a list of things I was to ask you." He looked over some notes. "Hum-m-m. These were some questions that the medical profession was interested in. The answers will no doubt be simple for you. What is the relation of the color of the skin of the natives to the fluids in their bodies?"

The Governor took his cigarette from his mouth and stared at his questioner, with open mouth.

"How should I know?" he said at last. "How should . . ."

"How should you indeed! Hum. That is one question our medical brethren will have to find out for themselves. Reverons a nos moutons . . . hum."

While Don Pedro and La Perouse were discoursing La Gobernadora and young Dagelet walked their horses to the edge of a shallow cliff, where gnarled cypress writhed in distorted attitudes away from the sea, and sat silently a moment looking at the scene beneath them. A score of servants were preparing a merienda . . . a picnic . . . on the shore. Against a blackened rock, where savage people of ages past had baked food salvaged from the sea a fire had swindled into glowing coals, the correct temperature for cooking.

"I see Augustias, managing everything," said Eulalia, pointing at the scene with her riding whip. "And there is Indizuela," she went on with a sidelong glance at her cavalier. "Don't you see her?"

Dagelet reached for her reins, and pulled Eulalia's mount closer to him. "I see only you. You are indeed Queen of California in your green habit of regal velvet, except that you have a very chic hat with a sweeping plume instead of a crown. Do you ever wear a crown?"

Eulalia sighed inwardly with delight at the compliment.

His look strayed over her from trembling plume to the restless toe of her riding shoe.

"You were made to be a queen. It would not matter where you were, you would have to be a queen. But it seems to me you could have chosen a better domain to reign over than this California. You should be . . ." he hesitated delicately, but the lady's deepened color and attentive eyes gave him permission to speak farther, ". . . queen of a court of love and beauty."

Eulalia only sighed, and stared out at the turquoise waters of the cove. Dagelet drew nearer and took her hand gently. He stripped the embroidered gauntlet from the relaxed fingers. Leaning over suddenly, he kissed her palm.

She did not start, but withdrew her hand, still staring across the waters. Dagelet was moodily silent for a few moments before he spoke.

"Yes, there it lies, the ocean," he said at last following her gaze. "And in two days there shall be I, upon those heaving waters wafted hither and thither by all the winds of heaven, drifting to strange isles and distant lands."

"But you will be on your way home . . . to your Paris . . . with its life and color and music. Where the lights twinkle at night on the boulevards. And where there is gaiety. Ai, Dios de mi alma!" she sighed, speaking in Spanish. "I would I were going too!"

The young Frenchman was staring strangely into the distance. "Perhaps I shall see Paris again, perhaps not . . . who can say? It is half around the world or more from here, and many things can happen. But I wish you were." He stopped suddenly. "Pardon me," he mumbled, "I forget myself."

"No," said Eulalia excitedly, "say what you were going to say. Did you not understand what I said in Spanish just now? I said I would if were going with you! There . . . I have said it."

"Come!"

Before there was time for further speech the Governor, La Perouse and his French gentlemen on their horses, Fray Fermin Lasuen and some priests from San Carlos at Carmel on their mules came upon them.

"Ah, here is our hostess, La Reine herself!" exclaimed La Perouse.

The Governor looked quickly from his wife to young Dagelet, and crowded his horse beside his wife's.

"Why are you not seeing that everything is ready for our guests?" he asked shortly. "Why are you . . ."

But Eulalia, after a moment's silence in which she summoned flying senses and thoughts back to her, threw back her head with a ringing laugh.

"Come, my merry gentlemen!" she cried gaily. "Come, the fiesta awaits your pleasure! Follow me, Senores!"

Her horse slid on its haunches straight down the bank in a cloud of flying sand and dust. Soldiers, scientists and priests followed her waving hand, infected by her gaiety.

From the lady's mood the merienda took its tone. Music was wild and abandoned, jests in Spanish and French, were bandied about with great good humor, whether any understood them or not. Don Pedro had sent hasty messages to San Francisco and to the Presidio at Santa Barbara inviting the officers of the two garrisons to the celebration, and they had arrived with their wives and children. There were the officers of the Presidio of Monterey and their families.

RECENT RAINS ALEVIATE FIRE SITUATION

Forest Fires Get Early Start This Season; Burn 1,350 Acres

Although the forest fire season developed earlier than usual this year, rains during the middle and latter part of April brought a temporary relief.

Records of the department of conservation up to the last week of the month show that compared to the first two weeks of April, during which more than 80 fires burned approximately 1,350 acres, compelling an early call for the return to duty of fire wardens and towermen, the third week brought a decided respite. Only 18 fires were reported during this seven day period and they were confined to 67 acres.

TWO THOUSAND TREES ON ATHLETIC FIELD

White and Norway Pines Set Out by Enrollees at Camp Wolverine

On Saturday, April 30, a thousand 3-year-old white pines and an equal number of Norway pines were set out at the south side athletic field.

The trees were purchased by the school from the Hardwood State Nursery through the Conservation Department. It is the intention to use these trees for group plantings in the future.

Cecil Drost, Irving Drost, William McMillan and Richard Duffey, Charlevoix young men now at Camp Wolverine, voluntarily contributed their labor in planting. They were assisted by Clarence Sigafus, Frank Peters and James Lyons of Chicago, camp enrollees. Harvey Eastrom, engineering aid at Camp Wolverine and commander of the State Veterans' Council, supervised the work.

BAND FESTIVAL WAS A COLORFUL EVENT

Nine Schools Participated in Fourth Annual Program Saturday

Charlevoix was host Saturday to the Northern Michigan Band and Orchestra Festival, the most colorful and largest since the event was instituted here four years ago. Max Smith, local band director, handled arrangements for the affair.

Nine schools had bands in the parade, opening feature of the afternoon program and, with Charlevoix's two organizations, there were altogether ten bands. The parade furnished a colorful spectacle with its wonderful music and the precision of the uniformed musicians.

Individual appearances by bands and orchestras occupied the afternoon. King Stacy, director of the Industrial School Band, Lansing, was the critic. In the near future each school will receive his written comments on faults and good points of the individual bands and suggestions for improvements.

The evening massed concert, directed by Mr. Stacy, was an outstanding event. There were 393 band pieces and, including orchestra members, a total of 430 school musicians participating. The massed concert program had been worked out by each individual band and was rehearsed earlier in the evening prior to the concert.

The festival, providing northern Michigan school bands a get-together and opportunity to play before an eminent director, has grown since its inauguration. Alanson and Rogers City were new-comers to the festival this year.

At an evening meeting it was decided to hold next year's festival at Traverse City.

After working several weeks the Ironton choir presented their operetta in the church Tuesday evening to a large audience. The musical novelty was the "Stationary Express" with sixteen voices under the direction of Mrs. J. C. Dissette, who presided at the piano. Those taking part were Burl Walker, Clyde Cunningham, Sherman Thomas, James Dissette, Paul Hanson, Ray Cunningham, Percy Brown, Ann Cunningham, Josephine Stec, Sam Alexander Jr., Nancy Price, Marjorie Scott, Jane Alexander, Elsa Bradley and Mrs. Ross Alexander. During the operettn we enjoyed Mrs. D. Dicken of Boyne City who sang several vocal solos, accompanied by Mrs. S. W. Mower, Susie Porter of East Jordan played the harp and "Bud" Porter the marimba, Mrs. W. Johnston of New York the violin accompanied by Mrs. Mower at the piano. We surely appreciate the kindness of these people helping us. The proceeds from this community function will go to our church. The young people deserve a great deal of credit for all their efforts to make this a success.

In Memoriam

In sad and loving memory of our dear husband and father who passed away five years ago, May 13, 1933.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears in silence often flow.
But memories will keep you ever near us,
And the loss no one will ever know.

At one time his syndicated articles were being published in more than a third of the weekly and daily newspapers of Michigan. They were circulated in every county of Michigan.

In his announcement, the retiring legislator declares that he is entering the campaign as a result of hundreds of letters and editorial comments emanating from every section of Michigan urging that he continue in state affairs.

"I believe I can best serve the state at this time in the office of auditor general," stated Mr. Brown. "It is my belief that the importance of this office to the people of Michigan has been overlooked in recent years. I am confident that if I am nominated and elected I can render a distinct service in that capacity.

South Sea Island Forms Film Setting

An alluring and mysterious island in the South Seas, filmed for the first time in breath-taking Technicolor, forms the background for the new Ray Milland-Dorothy Lamour romance, "Her Jungle Love", which Paramount will present next Saturday and Sunday at the Palace Theatre.

In the same spirit as the spectacular "Jungle Princess" of a season ago, "Her Jungle Love" tells a romantic story of a handsome young aviator who is cast away on a deserted South Seas island only to discover that its only other inhabitant is a lovely girl who has never before laid eyes on a white man.

Mae West a Sensation In Gay Nineties Comedy

Mae West in any role is enough to cause a man-sized riot. But when the dazzling belle of the nineties appears as a Bowery beauty and "the toast of Gay Paree" in the same picture it should bring on a stampede of international proportions.

In "Every Day's a Holiday", which opens Wednesday, May 18 at the Palace Theatre, Mae plays the part of a wise-cracking New York cabaret singer in the best West tradition as well as that of a French mademoiselle with enough oo-la-la to make the franc fall.

The story, straight from the pen of Miss West herself, contains all the bubbling good humor and hard-hitting satire that made her first great picture, "She Done Him Wrong", the hit it was.

GARDENS OFFER CHILD TRAINING

Rare feet and toy shovels seem to attract youngsters in the spring.

So why not turn the urge to dig in the earth to the practical and educational trend offered in a little gardening, suggests Catherine G. Miller, director of the nursery school at Michigan State College.

All it takes is a little supervision and some help. Results ought to be that the child can have a spot in the family garden for his own. He or she can plant, tend and enjoy a few simple growing plants.

A set of small garden tools helps get interest started. Too much supervision will ruin the idea. Miss Miller finds, for the small boy or girl ought to be able to go ahead after the ground has been spaded. With help the young gardener can plant some easily grown flowers such as nasturtiums, and perhaps some lettuce and carrots.

"To be able to go out and pick some lettuce from one's own garden certainly is a good way to have a child learn to like vegetables.

"Then there are many simple things about nature that a child can learn from his own garden, how seeds germinate and grow into carrots or leaves of lettuce and how the plants need and use plant food, sunlight and water."

Any child's garden ought to belong to that child. To develop responsibility and initiative there should not be too much supervision, yet when the thing is started it ought to be carried through to be considered a part of good training.

New Youth Hostel

Allegan—A youth hostel, a service for youthful travellers which is being introduced into the United States, will be established at Allegan. When young men and women wanderers are in need of low-priced accommodations, they stop at a youth hostel, just as the commercial traveller stops at a large hotel. The Allegan hostel will accommodate nine girls and 20 boys, the latter to sleep in the out-buildings of the farm where the hostel is located.

Banking Alligator

Lapeer—Alan David, teller, and Frankie, a full-fledged alligator, are bosom friends now at the First National Bank. Frankie arrived in a special delivery package from the bank's president, vacationing in Florida. The 'gator was promptly named after the boss and placed in David's cash drawer.

NOTICE

To CHARLEVOIX ELECTORS:

Your attention is called to a special election set for Wednesday, May 25th.

The necessity of this election in connection with the electric light system extension bond issue of $98,000 approved by voters on February 8th, is because a franchise and mortgage clause was ommitted from the proposal.

Due to the ommission of such a clause in the proposal, legal advisors of prospective purchasers of the bonds have declared them void.

They have advised that the approval by electors of a franchise clause will legalize the bond issue, a condition of purchase, and provide necessary protection to the investing public.

Contracts made by the city for purchase of equipment are contingent upon sale of the bonds. Approval of a franchise is required to continue the electric light system extension.

THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL

SHOT AT RANDOM

Saw Earl Publow on the street the other day. You probably know he has gone back to his old job at Lansing. Things hummed in the building business when Earl was here and it was Charlevoix's loss when those down-staters lured him away. We knew he'd be snooping around here sooner or later on occasions though, for Earl's smitten badly with the trout fishing "bug" and he could stand to be away entirely from his old haunts only about so long. Bet you a worn-out shin plaster we could have located the very stump he was fishing off from within a few hours of his arrival in this neck of the woods.

Here's an idea which is not original with us, but of sufficient merit to pass along. Communities throughout Michigan are getting themselves lots of publicity by taking advantage of some natural resource. We mean such activities as blossom, cherry, tulip, celery, trout, smelt and peach festivals; deer hunters' round-ups, etc. One might think the thing is over-done, but it's big time stuff. Charlevoix's spring and fall perch "runs", right at our door, certainly are of festival merit. In view of the fact hundreds come here for the perch fishing without any special hallyhoo, think what is possible if the event was properly publicized and given the festival build-up. Here's food for thought.

Elsewhere in these columns this week is a report by Doc Dean of the activities during the past year of the District Health Unit of which he is director. It gives one an idea of the scope of this great institution in a letter and ink sort of way which is rather shallow in view of the very downright importance of the work to humanity. When we stop to analyze what the report means in the protection of our children, it should give the old heart-strings a tug of appreciation and bring forth a little prayer of thanks that the world created such fellows as the late James Couzens, who had that spark of love for his fellow men that induced him to use his millions in their behalf. Words are sometimes so inadequate!

Gene Stroud is developing a tourist cabin camp below the hill opposite his place on US-31 north of town. Fronts Lake Charlevoix and is certainly a beautiful setting. Gene has one cabin started, not sufficiently along however to give one an idea of the finished product. One thing you can bet your last cent on, though. If it compares to those log cabins on the hill, you can look for something unique and original. Which all prompts us to drop you a hint. It may not have occurred to you, but Gene is full of the most original ideas you ever imagined. Those log cabins on the hill are the proof. Drop in and look them over and you'll wonder same as we did where Gene ever found all the gadgets he used for lights, ornaments, etc., where he got all his ideas to produce something different. There are seven or eight cabins and none of them are alike. You think you have seen all the wonders in the first and then find the same thing over again in every one you inspect. Take a look for yourself and then you'll find out why we have wandered around so madly trying to explain what we saw.

NEW STATE HIGHWAY MAPS ARE OFF PRESS

Copies Available Without Charge from State Highway Department

The spring edition of the official Michigan highway map is just off the press and is available for free distribution to the public.

Similar in most respects to previous editions of the map within the last year, the new issue has two new features. They are a simplified mileage table and a reproduction of most of the official warning and regulatory signs used on the state highway system.

The map, as usual, contains the latest corrected information on the state trunkline highway system, the state ferry schedule, a table of state parks, a listing of cities with a key to their location on the map, and locations of state police posts, airports, state game areas, national and state forests, and individual maps of the larger cities of the state. The accordian fold, first introduced two years ago, is retained in the new edition.

Public demand for the official highway map is indicated by the fact that 400,000 copies were distributed last year. The map can be obtained at no cost by writing State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner.

HIAWATHA BIKE CLUB HOLDS SECOND MEET

Plan City-Wide Bicycle Parade on Memorial Day

The newly organized Hiawatha Safety Bicycle club, which is being sponsored by the local Gamble Store, held its second meeting Thursday afternoon with about fifty members present.

Election of officers was held and plans were mentioned for holding a city-wide bicycle parade to be staged Memorial Day. Prizes will be given for the best decorated bikes.

Thursday's meeting included an enlightening talk by State Trooper Clarence Bloomquist of Traverse City Post, who spoke on rules of safe bicycle riding. Trooper Bloomquist stressed the fact that the rules governing bicycles were precisely the same as those of an automobile and that it was a state law to have lights on both front and rear for night riding. Each member of the club received the popular booklet called, "What Every Driver Should Know".

Motion pictures of Charlevoix and vicinity were shown by Gordon B. Todd, secretary of the Board of Commerce. These pictures proved very interesting to the boys and girls of the club, and the Hiawatha Safety Bike Club wishes to thank Mr. Todd and the Board of Commerce for their cooperation at this meeting, also the K. of P. Lodge for the use of their hall for the past two meetings.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday afternoon, May 19th, and all members are asked to attend as plans will then be made for the bike parade to be held Memorial Day. This parade is being held only for the members of the bicycle club. The club, however, is open to any boy or girl in Charlevoix who owns a bicycle regardless of make or condition.

Weird Creatures of the Sea! A page of remarkable painting in brilliant colors, will be published in THE AMERICAN WEEKLY, the magazine distributed with NEXT SUNDAY'S CHICAGO HERALD AND EXAMINER.

'38 SOIL CONSERVATION DETAILED ANNOUNCEMENT FOLLOWS MEETINGS IN COUNTY

Soil Building Practices in Obtaining Maximum Benefit Payments is Emphasized

The amount of payment that will be made on a farm under the 1938 farm program is figured from the allotments of general soil-depleting crops and the special soil-depleting crops of wheat, and potatoes.

The payment build-up for these crops on a farm, will be at the rate set for corn, wheat, and potatoes only on the actual acreage of potatoes planted in 1938, and the corn or wheat acreage used in figuring the payment. The total acreage for any of these mentioned crops must be within the allotment of these crops which may apply to the farm.

If a farm has a corn, wheat, or potato allotment and none or only a portion of the allotted acres, stated above, is planted on the farm in 1938, the balance of the acreage in the corn or potato allotment will enter into the payment build-up at the general soil-depleting crop allotment rate.

To qualify for full payment under the new farm program, a farmer must meet the following requirements on his farm:

1. Plant no greater acreage of depleting crops than his farm allotment.

2. Plant only his farm potato acreage allotment on commercial potato farm. Payment will be made only on the actual acreage of potatoes planted in 1938.

3. Plant not more than three acres of potatoes on non-commercial potato farms.

4. Carry out soil building practices to meet his farm soil building goal.

Deductions will be made from the maximum farm payment if these provisions are not met on the farm. A payment will be made on farms which have stayed within the general allotment and potato allotment, even tho no soil building practices have been carried out.

Further explanation of payment build-up for the farm can be had by writing or calling at the office of the county agricultural conservation committee, Boyne City.

SEEK PWA AID FOR ELECTRIC SYSTEM

FEDERAL LEND - SPEND PROGRAM IS CONSIDERED

Possibility of Grant Complicated by Special Election on Franchise Proposal May 25th

The possibilities of obtaining federal aid in financing an extension to the municipal electric light system which has been approved by electors and is now pending approval of n franchise clause for continuance, is being considered hy the city council.

City Engineer Robert F. Sloan explained briefly Monday night details of the pending new federal spend-lend program, which, it is understood, provide grants through the Public Works Administration up to a maximum of 45% for municipal electric light, water and sewage disposal plant construction, extensions and addition of equipment. It was pointed out that the new federal program is more simplified and less encumbered with "red tape" than the set-up under which Charlevoix financed its sewage disposal system.

The opinion was expressed that this city's proposal would no doubt come within the scope of the new PWA program and in case of the approval of a federal grant for the electric light extension, the city would stand to save as high as $45,000.

The council authorized Mr. Sloan to get in contact immediately with PWA officials in Detroit, determine whether Charlevoix's project comes under the program, and report to the council.

The situation brought about by possibility of obtaining federal grant is a peculiar one. On Wednesday, May 25th, electors will go to the polls of a special election to vote approval or disapproval of granting a franchise in connection with the pending electric light system extension. A franchise is required by bidders for purchase of the $98,000 bond issue approved to finance the electric light extension. Contract with the Nordberg Manufacturing Company for purchase of a diesel engine is dependent upon sale of the bonds. Thus, if voters approve the franchise, legal barriers which now bar the city council from going ahead with the $98,000 proposal are removed, the bonds will be sold, the Nordberg contract fulfilled.

DONALD F. HERRICK, DETROIT, GIVEN POSITION

Graduate Electric and Civil Engineer Deemed Necessary Aid to Council Problems

As the result of action taken Monday night hy the city council, management of the various municipal departments will soon be placed under a city superintendent.

By a four to one vote, Alderman Hooker dissenting, a motion was approved to employ Donald F. Herrick of Detroit, to fill the position. Alderman Erber was absent from the session.

Monday night's action came after several weeks of investigation and contacts with numerous applicants for the position. The council has been considering the plan for some time with the purpose in view of centralizing control of departments, relieving aldermen of detail work in connection with city departments, and, most of all, to provide the council with the advise and personal cooperation of an electrical and civil engineer acquainted and qualified to handle the many engineering problems confronting the council at frequent times.

Mr. Herrick brings to his new position all of the required qualifications and experience deemed necessary. He served as city manager at Albion from 1923 to 1926, leaving that position to become city manager and engineer at Oberlin, Ohio, a position he held until 1929, when he became secretary-treasurer of the Albion Lumber Company. He resigned to establish his own business as consulting engineer at Albion. This work consisted of general design and supervision of construction of power plant and generating plant for the Horner Brothers Woolen Mills at Eaton Rapids; design of sewers and sewage plant for Homer, Mich., besides general survey and municipal work. Mr. Herrick entered the government service as an engineer in 1933 and has been with their various departments since.

Mr. Herrick is a graduate electric engineer from the University of Michigan in 1922 and is also a registered civil engineer in Michigan. Between 1922 and 1923 he was test engineer with the General Electric Co. at Schenectady, N. Y.

It is expected Mr. Herrick will take over his position around June 1st.

Light Buoy at South Point, Fog Signal on Piers Insured

Through efforts of the Charlevoix Marine Club, two safeguards have been procured to aid navigation here.

A lighted buoy has already been installed to mark South Point outside the Charlevoix pier heads and a communication received May 10 by C. S. Webster from G. B. Skinner, superintendent of the Department of Commerce Lighthouse Service, Milwaukee, insures installation of a fog signal on the end of the south pier.

Equipment for the fog signal, understood to be a defleeting type, has been delivered here and Mr. Skinner's letter promised installation at an early date.

The chief of police was provided an allowance for gasoline used in his car while in the discharge of official duties. By a four to one vote against, Alderman Cartier voting for it, the council refused application of Goldie Pant for a dance permit.

Painting, installation of toilet and wash room and construction of septic tank at the Bellaire hydro plant was referred to Supt. Forest Plum with authority to act.

By resolution the council approved application of the U. S. Lighthouse Service to make electric extensions necessary for installation of a new fog signal on the south pier at the harbor entrance.

Bids were opened for construction of four shuffle board courts in East Park on Round lake and this matter was turned over to the parks committee with power to act.

CHARLEVOIX WINS CONFERENCE MEET

TOPPED CLASS C FIELD HERE SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Placed First in Half of Twelve Events for 72 Points, Five New Conference Records Set

Running true to predictions, Coach Stewart Coleman's Charlevoix thinclads walked off with the annual northern Michigan class C conference track and field meet here Saturday afternoon.

Scoring firsts in half of the twelve events, Charlevoix piled up 72 points. Mancelona, the 1937 champions, were second with 45½. Boyne City scored 26, Harbor Springs 6, Onaway and Kalkaska 5 each.

In addition to the firsts, Charlevoix had four second places, six thirds, three fourths and two fifth places. Keith Carey won the shot put and 440-yard dash; Stinson, won the mile, an event in which Charlevoix took the first four places; Bergman and Gallagher placed first and second in the high jump and Bergman won the 200-yard low hurdles; Goss took the broad jump and Gallagher and Bergman placed second and third; Olach was second in the half mile event.

Five conference records were shattered despite a high wind and cold weather. Turnipseed, Mancelona, cleared the bar at 11 ft. 2¾ in. to beat the record of 10 ft. held hy Bailey, also of Mancelona. Bailey also bent his old record and Gallagher, placing third in the event, bettered the former mark. Turnipseed turned in a second record in the 120-yard high hurdles, trimming his old mark of 17:1 to 16:3. Hausler, Boyne City, established two new records. He lowered the 100-yard dash time of 10:5, held by Smith, Mancelona, to 10:3, and the 220-yard record established last year by Dickerson, Boyne City, from 23:7 to 22:6. Bergman's performance in the high jump was a high light of the meet. He set a new mark of 5 ft. 10¾ in. to break the previous record of 5 ft. 7 ¾ in. held by Bennett of East Jordan.

Following is the summary of events:

Pole Vault — Turnipseed, Mancelona; Bailey, Mancelona; Gallagher, Charlevoix; Schroeder, East Jordan; Breakey, East Jordan. Distance 11 ft. 2¾ in.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Ken Usher

A reflection: Remember quite n number of years ago when the dandelion was a most popular flower. They were picked by the bushel in this neighborhood by lots of folks.

Pretty nearly everybody has a hobby of some sort or other. Charles Emrey's hobby is his yard and it's mighty nice to look at.

And speaking about hobbies. You may have at times last winter wondered where Bill Wallace hurled himself. Well, we'll let you in on a secret. Bill's got a workshop up on the hill back of his place, and he spent a lot of time up there last winter making gadgets for new house he is building on top the Belvedere avenue bluff. He says there won't be a house anywhere finished better inside than his when it's finished and we're looking forward with anticipation to seeing the completed product.

Run into Albert Holmes in Wood Bros. the other day just as he asked for a fishing license. He ordered a non-resident permit, making Clarence Wood's eyes pop and mine too. He'll always be a Charlevoixan to us even if he has established residence in Florida where he spends more time than he does here.

Doctors say leeks are a fine nerve tonic. Guess it must be so, for it must take a lot of nerve for those folks that eat them to appear in public.

So Near and Yet So Far!

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

Unless Michigan is an exception to recent political history, President Roosevelt's latest "spend-to-save-democracy" program will enhance the re-election chances of Governor Murphy.

After reviewing primary victories for the New Deal in Florida, Georgia and elsewhere, observers have come to the conclusion that the President retains much of his old popularity with the masses. As for Michigan, many Democrats have no great love for Murphy, chiefly because his idealism has hurt their partisan feelings now and then and because he has gone out of his way to befriend the CIO, placing Frankenstein on the state welfare board. Yet the annoying question arises, can they afford to repudiate the party on election day?

With the federal government using red ink nt the tune of several billion dollars a year, Murphy's current deficit of $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 seems puny hy comparison. And anyway, it is the politicans' conviction that the average wage-earner

Coop Elevators Yield History

Ten years of changes in nearly 100 Michigan cooperative elevator associations are outlined in a new Michigan State College bulletin, "A Decade of Michigan Cooperative Elevators," prepared by W. O. Hedrick of the Michigan State College staff.

Nearly 100 cooperatives contributed to the survey, including three cooperative marketing associations in Charlevoix county.

Causes of success as well as failure are listed. Three types of failures included lack of managerial competency, credit mistakes and inadequate capital.

Handling the bean crop alone constitutes considerable volume for the cooperatives. Michigan annually ships approximately 70,000 carloads out of the state.

Thirty cooperatives reported handling and shipping more beans than grain. Forty-six of the 98 handled no beans at all, but substituted some other commodity such as poultry, potatoes, seed or wool.

Business volume for 1935 ranged from $8,000 to $500,000 among these cooperatives. These figures indicated that in ten years changes caused losses in volume up to 92 per cent of the 1925 business and gains up to 1,155 per cent.

Areas served by the associations also differ. Estimates for 1935 range from 10 square miles up to 600. Ten years ago the service areas apparently were larger for the average association but the service today is credited with being more thorough.

The ideal wife in our estimation, is the one who thinks she has the ideal husband.

NEW CROP INSURANCE WILL OPEN IN STATE

Floyd B. Himes, Perrington, Is Named State Supervisor

Appointment of a Gratiot county farmer, Floyd B. Himes, Perrinton, as state supervisor for the new crop insurance corporation that is to begin operating this summer on the 1939 wheat crop, marks the opening of a new phase of Michigan agriculture.

Description of the plan is announced briefly by M. A. Doan, chairman of the Michigan State Soil Conservation committee.

A statewide meeting for field men, extension service personnel and farmers interested in the federal crop insurance plan is to be held on Michigan State College campus Monday and Tuesday, May 23 and 24.

Policies to cover insurance on the 1930 wheat crop are to be sold this summer on a voluntary basis. In 37 counties of the state there are 5,000 or more acres in each county.

In succeeding years after the first year of the insurance plan, Doan explains, farmers will be required to participate in the federal soil conservation plan in order to purchase insurance. They will not be required to purchase insurance, however, in order to participate in the federal soil conservation program.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

But One Question Ready for Ballot

Of six special questions and proposed constitutional amendments stated to go on the November general election ballot, but one is thus far qualified.

The legislature of 1937, by joint resolution, proposed a constitutional amendment increasing the annual salaries of certain state officials, but doubt as to its legal meaning has caused it to be referred to the Attorney General for consideration.

Four other proposed constitutional amendments have been approved by the Secretary of State as to form; each of these petitions must bear the signature of 174,977 voters of the state and be re-submitted by July 8, to be placed on the ballot. The number of signatures required is equal to ten percent of the total votes cast for all candidates for governor in the 1936 election.

The four proposals would provide for: appointment, rather than election, of justices of the state supreme court; four year terms for certain county officers; prohibition of deficiency judgments for more than past due installments on purchase contracts; a one percent per month interest rate for loans of $300 or less.

The one special question thus far certified to the ballot is the referendum on the 1937 statute revising the state's welfare and relief machinery. Operation of this statute has been suspended pending the November election.

And there were the wife and children of the Governor. He looked around for them. The children were playing wildly with other children, and La Gobernadora was talking and laughing vivaciously. He frowned. There was something almost hysterical about her manner. Ah, he had enjoyed the visit with the Frenchmen but was privately thankful they would soon be gone.

While the party was progressing noisily Eulalia retreated into her own thoughts. What had she said to Dagelet? And what had he said to her?

"Come!" Could she? Was it possible? Her breath came more quickly at the thought. Her mind painted a picture for her, moving rapidly into a nebulous future; she saw herself wrapped in a mantle . . . slipping across the sand . . . lifted into a boat. She could even hear the sound of muffled oars. Then she was on a ship. But here the vision broke. She would be seasick!

But she braced herself. Seasick or no seasick, she would go. Must go! California would be left behind, and the world would be before her! "I must," she whispered to herself. "I shall!"

Engrossed in her dream, unconscious that the picnic party was moving away, she found herself with her husband, the priest Lasuen, and La Perouse. The Governor silently lifted his lady to her saddle, and the four rode to the top of the cliff. When they reached there, the Governor turned his horse toward the ocean where the sinking sun was suspended between two banks of clouds like a glowing Chinese lantern.

"I almost wish I were sailing away into that sunset with you, Senor el Conde," he said wistfully. "I wish I were."

"Ah, the sunset makes me sad, homesick!" sighed Eulalia.

"That is natural," said the priest quietly. "I too am homesick."

"You?" asked Eulalia. "For what place?"

"For my heavenly home," murmured the old man.

"I am homesick also." La Perouse spoke in a low tone. "I am homesick for my native land, which is so far from me. La Belle France!"

"I am homesick for my homeland too, Senor el Conde," replied Eulalia. "For Spain, the province of Catalonia, Barcelona."

"We all seem homesick," observed Le Perouse, "except his Excellency. Are you not homesick too?"

Pedro Fages was looking off across the water with that dreaming, questioning expression that annoyed Eulalia so.

"I?" he asked. "Yes, I have my longings, though to me California is the most beautiful spot in all the world. Still I am homesick for places I have never seen."

The men looked at Pedro Fages with sympathy as they turned their mounts around and started back to the presidio. But Eulalia had not heard her husband's words. Her head was whirling with her own thoughts. Again she heard Dagelet's impulsive word, "Come!"

Her thoughts were interrupted by the gentle voice of Padre Lasuen.

"It was a beautiful fiesta, Senora La Gobernadora," he said, "a reat event in the history of California, this entertaining of the first distinguished visitors to reach our shores. But now I must hasten ahead to prepare another feast for them, a feast of the soul, at our little mission San Carlos de Carmelo. Until then, adios!"

CHAPTER XX

Along the darkening Via Cruces a mounted messenger flew ahead of the Governor and his guests to warn the fathers at Carmelo that the party was approaching. Don Pedro and his guests lingered along the way, deep in talk.

"It has been wonderful, this visit here, Monsieur le Gouverneur," La Perouse was saying. "Sans doute, this is one of the wonder countries of the world. Me, I foresee great things. These bays and harbors full of ships from all the world ports. And strange people from all over the universe. I see commerce, trade and great cities. What is to prevent it? Ah, if you or I or some one of these restless people who travel and explore could only find that Northwest Passage!"

"If it exists," replied Fages thoughtfully.

"Exist it does! I am sure of that."

"Then why isn't it found? But never mind. If, as you say, California is to become such a great place, teeming with ships and people, I hope it will be after I am dead. I should hate to see it that way. But if it happens, it will not be in my time."

Still deep in thought, her febrile imagination tricking her into the maddest imaginings, La Gobernadora rode quietly by her husband's side. It had been impossible for her to have another word with Dagelet, who rode, also wrapped in thought, close to the side of the Count.

The Governor and his guests cantered up to the gate to the compound which surrounded the mission buildings, and left their horses with servants. At the door they were greeted by Padre Lasuen, swinging the aspergillus. With welcoming murmur he sprinkled them with holy water, and they entered the church.

How could the French visitors know that it was a matter of prida and sacrifice that the altar was illuminated with a hundred candles in their honor, or that the ceremonial vestments Padre Lasuen wore were only brought out on the highest occasions?

To them it seemed so simple, so crude, so nearly pitiful . . . but their religious feelings were deeply touched, and the sonorous Latin of the old pioneer priest, thanking God for their safe delivery to these distant shores, and begging Him for a safe conduct across the waters, home, brought tears to many eyes.

Eulalia sank into the chair provided for her, and let her eyes rove about at the people around. There was Indizuela, her face stolid, impassive. And there was Angustias. She was weeping!

"What, in heaven's name," thought La Gobernadora, "ails her? I must find out."

And there was her husband, and La Perouse, the dark of the Governor's head and the silvery white of the Count's peruke contrasting strongly in the candlelight.

And there was Le Pante Dagelet . . . Again her thoughts began to whirl. A sudden revelation came to her. If she sailed away from California with the French expedition, she would become Dagelet's mistress. She brushed her forehead hastily with trembling fingers. She, to belong to another man than Pedro Fages! Was it possible?

The thought struck like a blow, and stunned her for a brief spell. Her knees bent automatically in the genuflections of the service. She stood, knelt and sat automatically, her lips murmured responses. Her bewildered mind began consciously functioning again. Cautiously she turned over the thought of being Dagelet's mistress while the low tones of Fray Lasuen's devout voice droned on.

Another man . . . to make love to her. She said it over and over in the rhythm of the litany her lips spoke. Familiarity with the idea made it piquant . . . another man, not Pedro Fages, with his rough, tempestuous, robust love-making, to which she was responding less and less as time went on.

She glanced at her husband from the corner of her eye. How well she knew him! Every line, every feature . . . a tiny blood-vessel in the corner of his eye, like a question mark . . . a large vein on his temple that swelled and throbbed at times . . . the feeling of his hands, roughened and coarse when he caressed her. The smell of his clothes. Ah! Horses, leather, perspiration. Would it be difficult to change that for another man? A man well groomed, with delicate hands, a sensitive mouth not buried in a beard? A man whose every movement and gesture was graceful, deliberate . . . She shivered and clasped her warm hands together. And then she thought, Dagelet does smell so sweet!

"Gloria! Gloria!" sang the choir and the congregation.

"Gloria! Gloria!" sang Eulalia.

She tilted her eyes to the altar with its hundred candles. There Junipero Serra had stood, quenching the flames of seven candles in the blood that poured from his breast . . . there he had lain in his coffin. And there beneath the floor at the foot of the altar, lay his bones.

But suddenly it seemed that everywhere she looked she saw his eyes, staring at her from the lights, looking out from the painted sockets of the holy images, sorrowful, accusing.

She shivered again, for a cold breath seemed to rise from Junipero Serra's tomb, and blow upon her. She chafed her hands together, for now they were cold, clammy. Would this service never end! Just when she thought she could not bear it for another instant, she heard Fray Lasuen pronounce the benediction. She staggered to her feet while the procession of choir-

PERSONS EMPLOYED BY RELATIVES ENTITLED TO OLD AGE BENEFITS

Wage-earners in the employ of a parent or a relative are entitled to the old-age insurance benefits of the Social Security Act and must not be excluded, District Manager Clifton H. Little told employers today in a public statement.

"Many persons erroneously suppose," he said, "that family ties prevent the existence of the employer-employee relationship. Such persons may be confusing the provisions of the old-age insurance with those of unemployment insurance.

"In the case of unemployment insurance Michigan excludes from unemployment benefits, wage-earners in the employ of a son, daughter or spouse, or wages earned by a child under 21 years of age in the employ of his father or mother.

"The old-age insurance provisions, however, allow no such exception."

Mr. Little advised any persons who plan to work in restaurants, hotels or canning plants during the summer months to get their Social Security Account numbers now. Applicants for such numbers should apply to the Social Security Board, Weaver Building, Traverse City, Michigan.

FRUITS PERK UP SPRING APPETITES

Waxing appetites with tempting foods is one suggestion designed to ward off that laziness this time of year which some folks call "spring fever".

Menus need perking up to have appeal, says an instructor in foods at Michigan State College, Jeanette Lee. No foods do this job better than fruits, in her opinion.

So she suggests serving fruit even more than once or twice a day—serve it as a main course, side dish, salad or dessert.

"Strawberries are low enough in price to be included in the diet frequently. Fresh pineapple and rhubarb are two more fresh fruits that are seasonable and economical. Oranges and grapefruit add to the variety."

A few of the recipes designed to serve or substitute for a spring tonic include such a treat as broiled grapefruit. It's an unusual dish but it can be visualized as appetizing by Miss Lee's description of preparation.

Large well shaped and sweet grapefruit are cut in half. Cut around sections close to the dividing membranes and remove the center core. Place one large or two small cooked, pitted prunes in center of each half. Then a tablespoon of brown sugar is sprinkled over each half and the next step is to place on a baking sheet under a broiler flame until the sugar melts and the edges of the grapefruit turn a delicate brown. These are served warm as dessert.

NOTICE

To CHARLEVOIX ELECTORS:

Your attention is called to a special election set for Wednesday, May 25th.

The necessity of this election in connection with the electric light system extension bond issue of $98,000 approved by voters on February 8th, is because a franchise and mortgage clause was ommitted from the proposal.

Due to the ommission of such a clause in the proposal, legal advisors of prospective purchasers of the bonds have declared them void.

They have advised that the approval by electors of a franchise clause will legalize the bond issue, a condition of purchase, and provide necessary protection to the investing public.

Contracts made by the city for purchase of equipment are contingent upon sale of the bonds. Approval of a franchise is required to continue the electric light system extension.

HONOR THE DEAD — AID THE LIVING

Memories of the men who gave their lives in France twenty years ago will be revived in Charlevoix on Saturday, May 21st, by the wearing of the memorial poppy. Preparations for Poppy Day have been completed by the American Legion Auxiliary, whose members, assisted by canvassers, will sell the poppies, which are paper replicas of the wild poppies of France and Belgium, and have been made by the millions by disabled veterans working in 60 hospitals and workrooms in 10 states. Every penny of the money contributed for the poppies will go into the Legion and Auxiliary welfare funds, to be expended in behalf of needy veterans and families of veterans during the coming year. The Legion Auxiliary solicits the cooperation of Charlevoix citizens.

Republicans Confident

Sixty days ago the Republican high command in Michigan was confident that a victory was inevitable on election day. The growing depression, new labor troubles and general dissatisfaction among the voters were factors generally favorable to an opposition party. And then, too, statisticians brought forth the hot league figures how Murphy was elected governor by only some 25,000 votes. It seemed reasonable, at least on paper, to envision a sound spanking for the Michigan New Deal in 1938.

As the significance of new federal billion spending begins to enfold, Republican observers today are still optimistic but not so confident.

They see possible damaging factionalism developing in GOP ranks between followers of Fitzgerald and Toy. There is even talk of a third candidate.

They point out the handicap of not having millions of dollars at their command just before the balloting.

An important part of the Michigan party organization are the postmasters, most of them New Deal appointees, who will hear Postmaster General James A. Farley in blossom-boosting Benton Harbor next Sunday, May 22.

Statements are given in this column without partisan bias or prejudice. We interpret events as we see them. And it is our belief that Republicans are not going to have a "walk away" next November and, likewise, that Murphy is a long ways from being a licked man.

Labor's Row

The rash leadership of the CIO in Michigan — seizing utility plants a few weeks ago and refusing admittance of non-dues paying members to automobile plants — remains a headache to John Lewis and industrialists alike.

Even Richard T. Frankensteen, just deposed as assistant president of UAW, is weary over the lack of discipline among Michigan union automobile workers, many of whom are young and inclined to be headstrong. He saw his plan for rigid discipline receive a public rebuke from Homer Martin, at a time when a new Gallup survey showed public opinion in Michigan as strongly in favor of outright repeal or revision of the Wagner Labor Act.

In this weary picture the moderate policies of the American Federation of Labor stand out in favorable contrast.

Labor Gains

Generally throughout the nation, labor's share of the national income increased 5.1 per cent between 1933 and 1937, according to the Department of Commerce. These figures, however, include wages of workers on federal work relief which in 1937 alone accounted for two and one-half billion dollars.

In dollars this is a rise from 29 billions to 45 billions.

Capital's gain was 11 per cent, or from eight and one-third billion to just under twelve billion dollars—mostly in dividends and rentals.

The national income has already declined twelve billions. Who will absorb this loss?

Economic Opportunities

Science and industry are creating new economic opportunities today.

The Dow Chemical Company at Midland is experimenting on the utilization of poplar trees for industrial plastic products and newsprint. These trees grow like bamboo shoots. Millions of cut-over land in northern Michigan may be put to profitable use if the Dow experiment succeeds.

At Kalamazoo, the paper city, is another interesting illustration of how farsighted men have created wealth for labor and capital alike. The Kalamazoo Vegetable Parchment company is "big business" today. From its modern mills come such products as waxed wrappers for bread, breakfast food, soap and so on; oiled dusting paper that grabs the dirt; household parchment for cooking food without odors; paper dish rags which wear for weeks; and even paper tape for mother's pies.

The mills, employing 1200 men and women, are running at over 90 per cent of capacity. Wrapping paper and pie tape!

Appointive Court

Sponsors of an appointive State supreme court are striving hard to keep the proposed referendum out of Michigan politics.

Already laborites have denounced the plan, suspecting that the move is just another dark plot to deprive the people of their democratic rights.

The difficulty is that the phrase "supreme court" immediately brings to mind how Congress, abetted by Republicans, defeated the Roosevelt plan for a more responsive United States supreme court.

Actually, the Michigan court plan is as non-partisan as it could possibly be. Twelve states now have appointive supreme courts, and they haven't gone Fascist yet. You'll hear more about this new issue before November.

REPORT BUSINESS OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT

Head Michigan Bakeries Is Optimistic After Circuit of State

That this summer's tourist and resort business in Michigan will top last year's record, bringing to the state an increased number of visitors and grossing at least a 30 per cent gain in dollars and cents for Michigan, is the prediction of Percy Owen, president and general manager of Michigan Bakeries, Inc., who has just completed a circuit of the company's territories in western, southern, and northern Michigan.

His optimism is based on discussions with business persons throughout the resort areas, with other food manufacturers and with men whose business interest is the tourist trade. He reports that resorts are already stirring, the first spell of warm weather having brought the opening of many cottages and places of business, as well as a noticeable number of out-of-state motorists.

Mr. Owen's statement is strongly supported by forecast figures of the tourist and resort bureaus in the state. According to Hugh Gray, head of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, already the volume of inquiries from out-state pouring into the association's headquarters and the prophetic figures of the State Highway Department indicate that Michigan will realize a substantially increased tourist business in 1938.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Dental Puppet Show Coming to Charlevoix

The Charlevoix boys and girls will be taught a lesson in dental health by eight lively hand puppets on May 27.

The Morrey-Towse Dental Health Puppet Show has been booked by the Charlevoix County Child Health League for this day.

This visual education project which has played to over a million and a half children throughout the country is devised along the lines of the most modern theories of education. It does not resort to dancing milk bottles and vegetables. Instead, it's plot is built around the daily life of a boy named Jack and his sister Joan. Jack develops a toothache which will apparently prevent him from enjoying a holiday at the zoo. He had neglected to take care of his teeth. Jack visits his dentist and not only receives relief but he learns four big ways to improve his teeth: Eat the right food, exercise your teeth, brush your teeth twice a day, and visit your dentist three times a year.

The puppet show was written by Dr. Lon W. Morrey, supervisor, Bureau of Public Relations, American Dental Association, and Miss Anna B. Towse, executive secretary of the Good Teeth Council for Children, and author of Health Readers.

It will be presented in the school here by Miss Rosalind Rollins, a graduate of the University of Texas, and Harry Fowler. Both Miss Rollins and Mr. Fowler are members of the staff of the Good Teeth Council for Children, Inc.

The program is an evidence of the recognition by school and health officials of the relation between a child's mouth hygiene condition and his general health and progress in school work.

This year, the dental health puppet shows designed by the Good Teeth Council to promote mouth health education among school children have been used by the state boards of health of North Carolina, Texas, Minnesota and Florida. Various local co-operating agencies have sponsored the project in sixteen other states.

CHAPTER XX

der. The fire was darkened for a moment as a group of dancers postured before it. He reached for the hand, and again Eulalia felt subtle excitement when his lips kissed her palm.

"Prenez garde!" she murmured. Then, after a moment, "When you said, when you said, 'Come!' this morning, on the cliff . . . did you mean it?"

Dagelet drew away ever so slightly.

"Ah, but yes! At the time."

"At the time! What do you . . .?"

"Sh!"

The chanting of the Indian dancers had died down to an ominous silence. Only the crackling of the fire and the wind in the trees was audible. The performers filed into the darkness, silently. Then in a moment another group bounded into the firelight, grotesque, with strange headdresses and bows and arrows for a dance of the hunters. Again the tom-toms and rattle, grunts and shrieks. Eulalia shivered.

She whispered again, "Please explain . . ."

"I was carried away by the tenderness of the moment. My selfishness overcome me. Forgive me. I could not carry you away . . ."

She clutched his shoulder until her finger-nails bit into his flesh.

"Away from what? This? Loneliness, desolation, neglect? Do you think I am mad, to prefer to stay here?"

Dagelet peered at her in the firelight. Indeed her eyes did look a little mad. What was going to happen? He reached again for her hand and patted it soothingly.

"It is I who am mad," he breathed. "You do not really wish to come, I would not wish to, to . . ." He stopped, and cursed to himself. Those were not the right words.

"You make it difficult for me," whispered Eulalia. "For you have asked me to come, and I am coming. Do not worry about it. Just rest content and happy in the knowledge that when you sail, I shall be with you."

"No, no, Madame, it is too great a sacrifice for you to . . ."

His voice was rising, and Eulalia murmured "Sh!"

They were silent for a moment, watching the dancers. Dagelet's brain was whirling. The lady was determined! And if a lady were determined . . . He stole a glance at the lady's husband, the powerful Governor of the Californias, his hulk solid and imposing in the half-light. How good a swordsman was he? How true a shot? Visions of duels, of pursuit by the Spanish Armada, of international complications passed through his mind. Was he laying too much stress on the Latin understanding of affair de coeur? He must not do this, it was madness, sheer insanity.

"It is not too great a sacrifice for me, mon ami," the lady was breathing in his ear. "I am willing to make it. And what is more," she leaned far over as though to adjust a shoe latchet, and looked straight into his eyes, her own glowing feverishly, "what is more, if I stay . . . if I do not go . . . I am afraid I will have to confess to my husband that you . . . that you have made love to me," she hissed triumphantly.

Dagelet dropped his head to his knees with a groan of despair. But he recovered himself suddenly. La tendresse . . . that is what was needed now. He fumbled half-heartedly for the lady's hand again. He must kiss it. "Poor lady," he thought, as he felt her warm fingers curl around his face in the darkness. "She seems to adore this! Is it possible no one has ever kissed the palm of her hand before!"

He felt a tremor pass through her, and soon she whispered, "And all that is left to decide is where and when . . ."

Dagelet thought quickly. The nearness of the woman, her real appeal, the sound of the thudding Indian rhythm, savage, passionate, moved him. He shrugged his shoulders. After all, why not? There had been elopements before, and there would be again. And the lady was determined.

"Tomorrow night," he stipulated, "on the beach . . . at the laboratory camp. If it is clear we will be making some last observations of the stars . . . I will be waiting for you. I will manage it even if it is not clear . . . I will wait. Can you disguise yourself?"

She caressed his shoulder with a feline gesture that made him shiver.

"Fear not! I will be there, prepared, starlight or fog!"

The Indian games and dancing were over, but the program Fray Lasuen had planned for the guests was to continue with some of the old Spanish dances, and another group began tripping to the music of some guitars and a flageolet. One figure stood out among them.

Indizuela scorned the Indian dances of her people, but had taken pains to learn those of the Spaniards, and while her face showed stolid and indifferent as she danced, her slim body was alive and graceful, supple as a sapling.

The others stopped dancing to admire her, and she stood alone. When she had finished there was a burst of applause led by the Governor.

"Ole!" he called. "Bravo, niña! Viva la niña de los ojos negros! Viva la morena!" With a gallant gesture he threw his hat at her feet. She picked it up gravely, and after a slight hesitation put it on her head, did another impromptu pirouette, and stood with her hands provocatively on her hips.

The Governor half rose to go to her and claim the sombrero with an embrace as was the custom. But La Gobernadora, who was staring at the performance with set jaw and disapproving eyes, clutched him before he could rise.

"Sit down!" she commanded. "Do not make a scene of yourself. Well done, muza," she called in a high voice, with a chill smile. "Well done, naked." The Governor subsided automatically before he could protest, and the Indian girl, her face unsmiling, carried the hat to him, presenting it with a contemptuous gesture.

La Perouse rose and stretched himself delightedly.

"Magnifique!" he shouted across the space to Fray Lasuen, who was moving toward them with a pleased

"Tomorrow Night," He Stipulated, "on the Beach" smile. "One of the most interesting performances I have ever seen! These Indians, whom I had thought so crude, so stupid, can really do things, can they not?"

"Ah, Senor el Conde," replied the priest, "you must not underestimate my poor children. Perhaps you would like to come through the establishment again, and see what they have done?" he invited eagerly.

La Perouse protested hastily.

"Non, non, mon pere. I have already carefully examined the Mission San Carlos, you will remember, and have made notes about it all, and about you. Perhaps all Europe will some day read of this little place, and of your good works! Now, I am leaving you a souvenir of our visit. It is a mill, a hand mill upon which to grind barley. Thereby one woman can do the work of many. Instead of grinding the meal by hand on stones as I have seen them do here. I will have it sent over tomorrow."

Lasuen began an exclamation of pleasure and gratitude. "And I am leaving something else, aussi, something for you, and for my host, his Excellency, the Gouverneur. Perhaps I am being presumptuous in thinking there is anything you need in this California, and I have been wondering what it could be that I might leave as a gift, and to insure the fact that you, perhaps, will not forget your French brothers."

He paused and looked about him, beaming.

"It is two sacks of potatoes," he announced. "I noticed that you have none, either that you have planted or that grow wild. And these we have brought from South America. So I will leave one sack with you, Pere Lasuen, for your mission garden, and one for you, Monsieur le Gouverneur, for that garden of yours of which you are so justly proud!"

After the Governor and his party had ridden away from the mission, when the Indians had retired for the night, Fray Lasuen sat in his cell and wrote carefully in his journal:

"This has been indeed a day of historical importance. This day the potato has been introduced into California."

CHAPTER XXI

As the cavalcade of the Governor were mounting their horses to return from the fiesta at Mission Carmelo, Dagelet stooped for Eulalia's foot to assist her into her saddle. Suddenly he was good-naturedly jostled aside by Don Pedro, who, in sign language, made known to the young Frenchman that he would take care of the lady. Then, to Eulalia's surprise, instead of setting her on her horse, he took her in his arms, and tossed her into his own saddle, swung himself up behind her and said, "I think I will have you ride with me, chiquita, like a little peasant girl, tired and sleepy, from the fair. Que no?"

Eulalia tried to sit bolt upright to express her outraged dignity, but Don Pedro only pulled her closer and there was nothing to do but lean against him, in the circle of his arm, and be quiet.

On they rode, silent under the stars, with pine-needles thick beneath the horses' hoofs, and startled night birds rustling among the trees at the disturbance. From some of the riders came bursts of song, the twanging of a guitar. The horse ambled quietly, for no one seemed in a hurry to break the spell of the night. Eulalia abandoned her dignity, nodded and dozed.

La Perouse and Fages talked in low tones. They spoke of La Perouse's departure, and a little wistfully of his visit in California. The Frenchman had fallen under the spell of the country so beloved of Pedro Fages, and would leave regretfully, he told his host. And the Governor had found a warm friend in the genial little Frenchman, with his fluent Spanish, learned in the mountains of his native South of France, among the Basques. He would miss him when he was gone. Not since Junipero Serro's death had there been anyone in California with whom he felt such companionship.

All these things the two men made known to each other, with few words, as men speak, but of profound meaning, then were silent. Although formal farewells would be made later, this was the real leave-taking between them. Fages felt deeply the importance of the visit of the French ships, the first foreigners to visit California. And he wondered vaguely, what other people, and ships of how many other nations would visit the shores of the distant province. "Ships and people and cities," La Perouse had predicted. Fages pondered. So deep was he in thought that he had not noticed Angustias riding close beside him. When she spoke out of the darkness, he started.

"On my word, Angustias, you almost frightened me."

"Ai, Senor," sniffled the woman, "forgive me for speaking to you like this, but there is something I want you to do for me. It means much to me, Excellency. A matter that has lain sorrowfully close to my heart for days . . ."

"Speak, then. What is it?"

"It is about Chichi. He is dying, Don Pedro, in these fogs and cold weather of Monterey. I have managed to keep him alive so far, but I am afraid he will die." She sniveled dismally.

THE telephone service that is at your command 24 hours a day is unexcelled anywhere in the world.

That service is a product of the Bell System. Its high quality is the result of more than half a century of unceasing research, expert manufacturing, and continuous effort toward more efficient operation. Its value to the user has increased constantly while its cost has decreased.

In Michigan, telephone rates have been reduced in five successive years — 1934-1938. In the past 11 years there have been 17 items of reduction in Long Distance charges.

It is the policy of this company to provide a telephone service more and more free from imperfections, errors or delays, at a cost as low as is consistent with financial safety.

SHOT AT RANDOM

Sam Sorensen dropped us a welcome bit of news the other day. He passed on the information that the Thomson yacht Sylvia was enroute from Florida to Charlevoix for the summer. The boat will arrive here early in June.

Joel Johnston, who has gained national-wide recognition for the dahlias grown at his place, done something else besides see the sights in Mexico last winter. He brought back one of the most interesting collection of curios you ever saw. If I mentioned the size of some of the bull horns he's got you'd think it was the "bull". They're all sizes, shapes and colors. Also has wildcat, water cat and coyotte skins, basket made out of Armndilla shells turned inside out and the tail bent over for a handle, fish and birds made out of horns, deers horns, etc. Brought them all from Mexico and done a right smart job of picking. Would be worth your time to look them over in a spare moment.

If the mayor, councilmen and city attorney had to answer the door a dozen times a day more or less for the variety of peddlers swarming into town and be pestered by those solicitors selling—magazines on the "college credit" racket, they'd hurry up with that new nuisance ordinance.

Did you know that Sheriff Floyd Ikens and Deputy Edgar Behrens have turned cow punchers? Yeh, they qualified Wednesdny morning for anybody's wild west rodeo. Without pony, snddle or spur, Floyd and Ed. executed the neatest job you ever saw of capturing a wild young gentleman Jersey cow that had been rarin' nround the Belvedere Club grounds much to the dismay of cottagers and Warden Edwards. They come leading the bucking and unruly nnimal up the street for incarceration until his owner could be found and I heard someone give the boys a dirty dig. They wanted to know "which was the bull".

The government survey boat is in the harbor. Our guess is that preliminary surveys are being made for that 18-foot channel approved for Charlevoix from Lake Michigan thru to Lake Charlevoix. $18,000 has been allotted for this deepening and it's just what we need.

The new light buoy at South Point has been recaptured and put back in place. The thing sunk and was located after almost an all-day search Monday.

SPORTSMANS CLUB IMPROVING PONDS

STOVER CREEK SYSTEM READY FOR SEASON

Expect Consignments of Trout Sufficient to Meet Capacity During Present Week

Preparation of the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club rearing ponds at Stover creek for the 1938 season is nearing completion.

Roy Ranger, club president, who has had charge of the work, stated that damage to the by-pass caused by spring freshets had been repaired, dirt washed into the ponds removed and screens between the ponds repaired to have them in readiness for consignments of fish expected this week. It is anticipated every pond will be filled to capacity this season.

The Club contemplates continuing a program of building concrete retaining walls along the ponds. These walls were constructed along several sections last year and under present plans, continuance of the program is embodied in a WPA project sponsored by the cemetery board and including other improvements to the property.

Elimination of freshet damage in future years is anticipated through widening of the entrance and channel of the by-pass which was built to handle flood water and allow control of ponds levels during the rearing season.

The Junior class will be guests at the Congregational Church Sundny, May 22.—20t1.

No way would be left open to take advantage of a federal grant with its possible savings. The city would have to pay the first year's interest on $98,000 in bonds even though the extension could not possibly be completed in time for use during the approaching summer season.

This explanation of the situation is presented with the view of giving the public an opportunity to weigh the matter prior to next Wednesday's special election. It is also only fair to point out that those opposed to the $98,000 proposal base their contention upon the belief that it is not necessary to expend such an amount to provide the city with equipment of sufficient generating capacity to carry a peak load during the brief summer season when the electric light system is pressed. It is felt that the council, in view of the fact the extension cannot be completed for the present season, should give the proposal further deliberation and allow the city superintendent who is soon to take over his duties an opportunity to study and recommend the city's requirements in additional electric generating equipment.

As the proposition now stands, decision lies in the hands of electors next Wednesday.

BIG WEEK-END OF FISHING EXPECTED

RECORD PARTIES SIGNED FOR MEMORIAL HOLIDAYS

Steelhead Started "Hitting" Last Week—Expect Sport at Height for Coming Week-End

Memorial Day week-end will mark the beginning of the 1938 steelhead fishing season in Charlevoix.

Reservations expected for this three-day holidny period by boat owners furnishing guiding service for this sport indicates heavy influx of sportsmen to this city.

Responsible for this demand for fishing accommodations is the fact that the steelhead started "hitting" last week, resulting in handreds of telegrams and letters going oat to those who have made inqairy if the steelhead fishing was on, telling them to come on for the holiday week-end. That the namber of fishing parties coming from soathern Michigan and oat-of-state points will tax hoat accommodations to the limit is almost a certainty.

Quite a large number of steelhead were caught over last week-end and, with the "run" on, it is believed the coming week-end will see excellent fishing. Memorial Day week-end is also usaally the opening of Mackinaw trout fishing in Lake Michigan, and with the perch ran still on it is prohable all three of these sports will be availahle over the holidays.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Ken Usher

It hasn't been safe for me aroand the court house, particularly the coanty jail, this past week. It was one of those cases where the Editor wrote without dae reflection.

Perhaps yoa may have wondered why the fire whistle wasn't heard at noon several days last week. Charlie was on the job alright, but coart was in session.

The advertising committee of the board of sapervisors, headed by Clarence Meggison, has got out a swell new folder. By pictare and word it advertises the resort attractions of all of Charlevoix county. Didn't miss a place. It is done in two colors, blue and black, cleverly layed oat. The front page has a state map and the whole inside is devoted to a detailed coanty map squared off to include the lower part of Emmet and upper part of Antrim coanties. Shows all the highways, places of interest and best of all places to fish and what you get in those places. The lakes, rivers and streams are so plain yoa can mark out yoar roate on the map and drive right to the spot. The folder is a mighty nice piece of work.

Saw Capt. and Mrs. O. W. Trayte pattering in the front yard the other day. Came back ahoat an hoar or so latter and discovered the whyfor of it all. They had built the neatest looking stone dower pot pedestals yoa ever saw. Cobble stone finished, mighty original and attractive, too.

LANSING LETTER

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

What effect Michigan's new civil service law will have on the present $2,000,000 a month payroll, an all-time high, is an interesting topic of speculation here.

Director Brownrigg "let the cat out of the bag", so to speak, when he casually informed League of Women Voters in Detroit that from two to three thousand state employees were to be dropped by July 1. Although he insisted later to the press that the estimate was merely a guess, Brownrigg was anable to convince observers here that he did not know what he was talking aboat.

The state administration is faced with a deficit that may extend to $20,000,000 hy July 1. The likelihood grows that the hamper payroll will be cat hefore fall, campaign year or not. It represents an increase in state tax spending of over $9,000,000 in four years—an astonishing development in bareacracy at Lansing.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Gas Tax Totals Show Small Reduction

Gross gasoline tax collections by the Department of State for the first four months of 1938 were only 6 per cent less than for collections for the corresponding period of 1937, statistics show.

Departmental officials are impressed with this showing in face of the business recession which has made marked inroads as measured by other indices of business activities.

Noteworthy, too, is the fact that while the current year's gas tax collections are running somewhat under those for 1937, the total for the period indicated is still approximately 17 per cent above that for 1936.

Gross collections for the first four months of these years, are: $6,942,410 for 1936; $8,048,215 for 1937; $8,118,871 for 1938.

STATE COLLEGE SCORES USE OF CHEAPER SEEDS

Warn Farmers That Practice Is Considered False Economy

False economy. That's the term applied by farm crops staff members of Michigan State College to the possible practice this spring of planting non-adapted seeds for hay and pasture crops in Michigan.

High prices due to a shortage of red clover seed have led to booming the planting of lespedeza, crimson clover and kudzu. In spite of lower prices for planting a given acreage in Michigan these plants probably will fall far below their ratings given in southern states.

Corn belt states are feeling the shortage of adapted red clover seed. Usually about 15 to 18 dollars a bushel the price this spring has been around 28 dollars, even above the price for a bushel of good alfalfa seed.

Advice of C. R. Megee, member of the college farm crops department, principally concerns emergency plantings for hay and pasture, as the season for the more permanent legume seedings is nearly past.

Soybeans ought to be in the ground by now. In 28 inch rows it takes 35 pounds to the acre, but drilled in solid the planting takes 90 pounds. These are suitable for a good quality protein hay.

For pasture, a better recommendation is sudan grass, seeded 18 to 25 pounds to the acre. In a grain drill this rate is maintained by setting the drill to sow two pecks of wheat. The sudan can be pastured as soon as it reaches 18 inches in height and with good weather will renew growth nearly as fast as it normally is pastured.

"CITY OF MUNISING" NAME OF STATE'S NEW FERRY

The state's latest ferry will set sail this summer under the name, "City of Munising".

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, announced his selection of the name for the ferry, formerly the Pere Marquette 20, which is now in dry dock at Manitowoc, Wis., where it is being remodeled. It is to be delivered to the Straits of Mackinac by June 15. A christening ceremony, sponsored by Munising authorities, will be held when the boat is launched.

Acrobatic Squirrel

Whitehall—Teetering along a telegraph wire between two poles on a railroad right-of-way, a circus-minded red squirrel recently treated an interested audience to a novel show. The little animal made his trip safely but seemed to be quite glad to reach the ground unharmed.

Wheelbarrow Pusher

Cassopolis—Arriving at the local express office with a 120-pound trunk on a wheelbarrow, a 70-year-old man explained that he had wheeled it in eight miles from an outlying township. He added that he must wheel it eight miles back, as he had borrowed the wheelbarrow from a neighbor.

Champion Speller

Dearborn—Unable to speak a word of English when she arrived in Dearborn in 1396, 12-year-old Pauline Fucinari, a native of Italy, recently won the spelling championship of William Ford school. During her two years in this country, she has progressed from the first to the sixth grade.

Water Turns to Gas

Standish—After a Clayton township man had some pipe rods pulled and replaced in a water well, the odor of gas was detected from the flow of liquid coming out of the well. A lighted match held to the outlet set the flow ablaze, thus turning a water well into a gas well. Just how the gas found its way into the shallow depth of 35 feet is unknown.

Gas Theft Backfires

St. Johns—Two local young men, out to pilfer some gasoline, stole a sprinkling can full from a parked car and drove away without being caught. However, a short time later, some of the gas spilled out of the can onto the front floorboards, trickled through to the motor and caught fire. The theft was discovered.

Dog Adopts Little Pig

Croswell — "Queen", faithful cattle dog on a farm near Applegate, lost her puppies, but she found something to take their place. She adopted a little pig that was too weak to hold its own in competition with the rest of the litter. "Queen" nurses her new "child" and diligently stays with it to give it needed warmth.

Close Call

Mt. Morris—While a tire was being changed on a gasoline truck here, it caught fire. The local fire department extinguished the blaze and the loss was estimated at $98. Lucklily, the 7500 gallons of gas with which the truck was loaded remained intact.

* TO MAKE OR BUY? *
* IT'S A QUESTION *
* * * * * * * * * * * *

Whether to make or purchase clothing for children puzzles many a household manager.

It wasn't so long ago that courses in children's clothing at Michigan State College concerned only the texture of goods and how clothing should be put together by the home seamstress.

Times are changing. After a study of the cost of clothing made in the home and that available in ready-to-wear stores, there is so little difference in the result that the solution is left to the person who has the work to do—whether to make the clothing at home or purchase in a store.

Margaret Partlow, instructor in textiles, finds that garments made by class students at the college had an average cost of $1.30, neither higher nor lower than average similar garment purchased.

Girls shopped in stores and found dresses for 50 cents while other garments were tagged in this class of dress up to $2.98. Dresses of the same type of material and construction were made in class and cost from 83 cents to two dollars.

Garments made in class at an average of $1.30 compared favorably in texture and value with store dresses priced at $1.98 and $2.98.

Conclusions reached by Miss Partlow are that if a person likes to sew, has some time and skill, knows values in fabrics—then without doubt she is adding concealed savings to the bank account by making children's garments—otherwise it's a tossup.

MICHIGAN BELL BEGINS TOURIST AD CAMPAIGN

Extoll Michigan's Advantages for Eleventh Successive Year

Beginning the last week of May, the Michigan Bell Telephone Company will start another series of advertisements extolling the tourist attractions of Michigan.

This campaign, carried out in 250 Michigan daily and weekly newspapers, will be the eleventh successive advertising schedule of this nature, and is designed to call the attention of Michigan people to the peerless vacation advantages offered them by their own state.

The Michigan Bell Company contends that, as "Michigan Citizens," it has a responsibility to promote the best interests of Michigan and its people. Other agencies do splendid work in inducing people outside of Michigan to vacation in Michigan. The Michigan Bell Company advertises these same advantages to residents of Michigan in the hope that they will spend their playdays in Michigan, learn about their own state, and induce others to come.

It is a noteworthy effort — one which should have the commendation of every Michigan citizen.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS AT A. BERGEON STORE

New Display Window, Display Alcoves Are Nearing Completion

A fine program of improvements is near completion at the A. Bergeon store, providing one of the most modernly appointed institutions of its kind in this region.

Ply bonrd has been used for the construction of attractive backgrounds in the display windows. Concealed ceiling lights illuminate the windows. Numerous lighted display alcoves have been built along the north and back walls of the store, and practically the entire south side is devoted to an enlarged ladies' ready-to-wear department.

Mr. Bergeon is to be commended for his initiative in providing Charlevoix this modern merchandising establishment.

Pre-Nuptial Shower

URGE OWNERS KEEP DOGS OUT OF WOODS IN SPRING

With pheasants, partridge and quail now nesting in Michigan, dog owners are reminded by the Game Division, Department of Conservation, that they should not let their dogs run loose in the woods.

Nesting gamebirds are easily disturbed by dogs running wild. Hunting dogs, as well as dogs of other varieties, have been known to kill young rabbits, nesting pheasants and young pheasants discovered in the fields.

"But what can I do?" asked the Governor in dismay.

"I want to ask your permission to give him to the Senor el Conde de La Perouse," she said. "He is going to sail from here to the tropics I understand, where it is warm, and a safe place for little monkeys to dwell. Chichi would become alive and well there." She was tumbling her words one over another in her excitement. "And though it will break my heart, I must let him go. When el Conde reaches those tropic isles, he can release Chichi, and then . . . and then he will be happy and well. And he will perhaps forget his adoring Angustias and," she sniffed loudly, "find him a little monkey wife!" she ended, her voice breaking on a high squeak.

Fages saw the need for being firm.

"No, Angustias. You must not ask it. Chichi has managed to live here this long, and will not die until his time comes. He would die away from your loving care, I know. The jungle is no place for him. And besides, Conde de La Perouse has his hands so full of important matters that it would not be fair to ask him to do it. Think! He has two great ships for which he is responsible, and many men, and machinery, and instruments, and plants, and food supplies, and ammunition, and . . ." He stopped, for he realized he was talking to himself, and Anguastias was crying in her shawl. Yes, he was talking to himself, he suddenly was aware that he was wishing that it was Don Pedro Fages who commanded the two ships, and the men, and was sailing away to find new worlds.

He spoke harshly, both to himself and the weeping woman.

"No. Out of the question. I forbid you to ask him, mujer."

Angustias drifted away, sniffing sadly.

Fages bent his head again over the sleeping Eulalia. There was a warm perfume from her relaxed body, and the weight of her sagging against him was delicious to his senses.

"Let him have his ships, and men and distant lands," he thought. "I have Eulalia." He lifted his head, and saw with eyes accustomed to the dark the wooded hills, the more distant mountains. He breathed the heady odors of sea and pines that mingled in the air, and heard the ocean pounding restlessly on the cypress-decked cliffs.

"And I have my California," he said thankfully, lifting his face to the stars.

At the great gate of the presidio grounds good nights were said.

"It has been a marvelous day," said La Perouse almost sadly. "And a beautiful night. I hope tomorrow night will be as clear, for we wish to make some astrological observations before we sail. We will not dismantle the observatory until the last moment."

Angustias, about to turn into the gate, heard him.

"So!" she murmured. "Tomorrow night he will be on the beach at his funny tent! Perhaps . . ." And she whispered her hopes to herself. "I have never been insubordinate," she muttered to herself. "But his Excellency doesn't know everything. Especially about a woman's heart," she added grimly.

At the door of the palacio Don Pedro lifted Eulalia from his horse and carried her into the house.

CHAPTER XXII

So the next morning Eulalia went about her preparations for departure.

Tears of self-pity blinded her as she packed. Lonely, insulated from the world in this most remote and desolate of the King's colonies, with nothing to look forward to but more loneliness, as the years passed; perhaps more children; and at last the final desolation of being laid in the Campo Santo of the Mission Carmelo. That was her life. For she was sure now nothing would ever happen to call Pedro Fages away from California. There were no more troubles with the Franciscans, and El Gobernador served his King too well in this colony where few men wished to come and bury themselves to be recalled by the Crown.

Her jewels were already stored away in their case, and she was sorting out her clothes. Weeping, and recounting her grievances to herself, she filled a great leather chest and as she sat on the lid to close it, a thought came that made her gasp with dismay. She could never get this bulky thing to the beach. There was no safe way of sending it . . . she couldn't carry it. For a moment she sat there then a beautiful idea came to her.

She would make a bundle of her clothes, then she would dress in a peasant dress, like Indizuela, carry the bundle on her head, and barefooted, slip down to the beach in the dusk, her face covered by a concealing rebozo. She might escape unnoticed, for Pedro Fages was sending loads of provisions as a farewell present to his friends the French explorers, and many Indians were being pressed into service.

She giggled excitedly, hopped from the chest, opened it and gathering as many things as she could, piled them into a heap, then tied them in a blanket. She tried to lift the bundle, but could not budge it from the floor. Sighing impatiently, she began discarding heavier things, and at last had a weight that she could lift.

She wept again as she discarded the lovely gowns of brocade, velvet, satin and lace. Eloping was not so easy, after all. She had dreamed she could flee, unencumbered by baggage or impedimenta, to the waiting arms of an impatient and potential lover, but here she was struggling with bulky bulgy bundles of clothes, like a washerwoman.

All her lovely clothes! But then, she thought with satisfaction, the expedition would no doubt stop at the Filipino Islands, and there, in Manila, a real capital, she could buy new raiment. It would be better that way, for it was only too probable that her clothes, which she had had for more than three years, were demode, and in Manila she would find lovely things from Paris.

She lifted the load to her head, and experimented with a few steps.

Yes, she could do it. She looked at herself in her mirror, and swayed there, her hands on her hips. In the mirror she saw the face of her baby, staring at her in amazement.

Hastily she dropped the bundle and whirled on the child. The baby's Indian nurse came hurrying in after her, and stooped to pick up the child, but Eulalia stopped her.

"Wait!" she cried. She sank to her knees and held her arms out to the baby enticingly.

"Come, come to Mother, darling!" she cooed.

The baby only stared at Eulalia, nonplussed by such behavior on the part of the lady who generally ignored her good-naturedly.

"Darling, please, my little darling, come to Mother . . . won't you?"

The nurse stood stolidly by, a jealous warmth in her dull eyes. At last the baby, finger in mouth, sidled to the nurse and buried her face in the woman's skirts.

Eulalia rose to her feet.

"Take her out of here!" she demanded imperiously.

The nurse hugged the child close to her and hurried out of the room.

"There, you see?" said La Gobernadora to the Madonna who was smiling sadly at her. "You see? She does not love me at all! She never comes near me! She prefers that black Indian woman, and her father! You see? It will never make the slightest difference to her whether I stay here or not."

She paced back and forth the length of the dirt floor.

"As for young Pedro, he never sees me! He is with his father all the time. He cares only for him, and for his pony. Will he miss me? Does he need me? No, of course not. Absurd! No one wants me, no one needs me . . . I am going away . . ." She cast herself on the bundle of clothes and wept.

"I am going away . . . and no one will care . . . I am going so far . . . on the ocean! I will be seasick. Oh, Dios mio!" She turned toward the Madonna and held out her arms.

"Please, Our Lady of the Seas, make the ocean smooth, please, oh, please!"

After a while she sat herself at a table to write a note to her husband.

And while she was toying nervously with her quill, her husband and young Pedro were sitting astride their horses in Don Pedro's beloved orchard.

The trees were full of Indians, gathering the luscious fruit that hung in rich clusters, bright in the autumn sunshine; early pears and apples, late peaches and pomegranates. Little naked boys, pajareros, ran through the orchard with rattles and miniature bows and arrows, frightening away the clouds of birds that had assembled to steal the ripe fruit.

As fast as the fruit was picked, it was loaded into panniers on mules, and carried to the shore, where boats were piled high and oared to the Astrolabe and the Boussole, a princely offering from the Spanish Governor to the expedition of the Count de La Perouse.

The Governor and his son watched the scene with pleasure. The movement and life, the color, and the clamor of many voices was pleasant to them. They looked at each other and smiled, completely at harmony together.

An Indian passed them carrying a basket strapped to his back, and supported from his brow with thongs. It was filled to the rim with purple grapes. The Governor stopped him, and made a note on a list he carried in his hand.

"Twenty baskets of grapes," he said. "Hum," to the Indian, "that will be enough grapes. No more today. Vayase." The Indian plodded on.

"Yes," continued the Governor, following the basket of grapes with his eyes, "that will have to be enough. We must have enough left for the vintage. But I have already sent them barrels of wine, so I do not think I am selfish. Do you?"

"Pues, no!" cried the boy. "And too, we would not have any grapes for the fiesta, the vendimia. And we must have, mustn't we? And won't it be soon?"

"Yes, I think it will be soon. Yes, we must have a great fiesta this year . . . just for ourselves. It has been nice to have the Franceses here, but it will be nice to have a party just for ourselves. I think there is a little bull that is ready to meet a torero, and there is another that will make a barbecue. And we will have some horse-races, and some cock-fights, and some of the Indian boys will wrestle, and there will be music and dancing. Ai de mi, what a vendimia it will be!"

"And Mother will sit on a throne with grapes and leaves on her head for a crown, and be queen of the fiesta!"

"Yes, yes, and again yes! Look, who comes?"

It was an Indian messenger from the camp of La Perouse, asking that they hurry down to the beach to see something.

As they reached the beach, they could see a cloud of smoke, and a strange activity going on. On coming closer they discovered La Gobernadora with Angustias, and almost all of the people of the presidio, who had evidently been summoned hastily by a messenger from La Perouse.

The Frenchman came horrying to Pedro Fages.

"I had a thought at the last minute," he said hurriedly. "You have been so wonderful to me, all of your people have, that I wanted to give an occasion special for you. We are to have a balloon ascension!"

"Balloon ascension!" exclaimed the Governor. "I have heard of balloons but never seen one."

"Regard, then," said La Perouse dramatically, "there is a balloon which was given us to take on our voyage around the world. Why, I do not know, unless it was to impress people around the globe that Frenchmen now make balloons! What good they can ever be, I can not see, but they say some day they will be made strong enough to carry men."

"There will never be one strong enough to carry me!" laughed Fages. He and young Pedro dismounted and hurried on foot after La Perouse to where the great muslin bag was slowly filling with smoke, its rounding sides showing strange designs and pictures.

"We have had it up once before on this trip," explained La Perouse. "That was in Lima. I hope it will ascend now!" he said anxiously.

And at last it did. Slowly it staggered into the air.

Everyone regarded it with amazement. Some of the Indians muttered, and several old women prostrated themselves on the ground. Accompanied with a chorus of incredulous ejaculations it rose the full length of the cord that tethered it, then, as a fresh late afternoon breeze puffed in from the sea and threatened, it was brought down again.

"Por Dios!" exclaimed the Governor of California, greatly pleased and amazed. "Mil gracias to you, Senor el Conde, for such a miracle! A balloon raised from the shore of California! It will never happen again, and will be something to remember all our lives."

"And it will be something for me to remember all my life, that I have visited your California. More, I can not say. And now . . ."

"And now," replied the Governor with a slight formality which he assumed to cover his real feelings, "and now, my friend, I suppose the time has come for us to say, as you French put it, adieu!"

"Your Spanish word, adios, is the same, Monsieur le Gouverneur. Both speed the parting guest in the care of God."

"Yes, we must say those words. For we must not hinder your departure with our curiosity, and there are things I must attend to at the presidio. But be sure, Senor el Conde, that at whatever hour you sail we shall be here on shore, watching you as far as we can see. And wherever you shall sail, you will be in our hearts. Thank you for visiting us."

The two men gripped hands. La Perouse was frankly moved.

"Thank you for everything. The friendliness, the courtesy, the hospitality and your gifts of fruit and wine. We will appreciate those, surely. And even for the goat and the chickens, and . . . Mon Dieu! I can not say more. My feelings pardonnez moi."

He turned to Eulalia who was standing quietly beside her husband, her eyes on Dagelet.

"And, to you mu Reine de Californie, my respects for your fortitude and loyalty in being such a wonderful woman in the midst of such a remote country."

Eulalia's lips moved, but her remnrks were inaudible as the Count kissed her hund. There were nther farewells, then the Governor, followed by his soldiers and Indian bearers, his wife on one hand and his son at the other, moved away from tho camp on the beach.

As they rode the Governor and his wifo were each very silent, busy with their own thoughts. Young Pedro prattled beside them.

The Count had given him a silver medul which hod been struck off by the French Government to commemorate the great expedition of La Perouse arnund the world. On one side was nn effigy uf Lnuis XVI, snd on the other two olivo branches tied with a ribbon, and a scroll which read:

"Les fregates du rni de France, la Boussolo et l'Astrolabe, commondees par Mm. de la Perouse le de Langle, parties du prt de Brest, en Juin 1785."

The child rapturously polished the bright coin on his jacket, and asked his mother to translate it for him. She did, lifelessly.

The Governor sighed and spoke.

"At dawn, on the tide, they soil fnr all the seven seas. And I," he chuckled suddenly, "I will escort you home, my Lady, then ride over to the Mission Carmelo to talk with Fray Losuen about this new Mission Santo Barbora. For that is the next great thing to hoppen to our California."

"Ah! Sn you will not be hnme thls evening?"

"No, my love. I shall sup with the gnnd fathers, but will return early. You will pardnn me?"

Fnr a long moment she lnoked at him intently, then gazed straight nhead.

"Certainly, your Excellency," she said at last. When at the great gate to the presidio young Pedro elected to go with his father, she seemed in a strange mood

"Go with your father, my son," she snid, "but kiss me ndos." The boy lnoked startled, but pecked his mother hurriedly on the check.

Eulalia watched them until their figures and tha' of the servant who followed were lost around a curving hill.

"Certainly, Your Excellency," She Said at last.

Then she spurred her horse and rode rapidly across the parade-ground to the palacio.

Late that evening, the Comt de La Perouse, working with some of his scientists in their rude laboratory on the beach, was amazed when an attendant told him that a woman, with a baby in her arms, wished to see him.

And when the companion of La Gobernadora strode in, unabashed, he was still more surprised. With no preamble she told her story.

"And here he is," she said finally. "My baby, my Chichi You will take him, will you not, where he will be well, and live?"

"But of course, Madame!" exclaimed the Frenchman, his eyes bright with amusement. "I will see that he has the best of care, and I will loose him in the most beautiful jungle I can find, I assure you."

He was astonished to see the woman's h-r n Lnce bez n wo.king with

"nere is a little bundle of clothes I made him. He lins needed them here where it has been cold, and perhaps he will need them again before he reaches his jungle. See," she explained, holding out a tiny pair of trousers, and poking her finger through n hole, "see his dear little tail goes through here."

La Perouse had taken the monkey in his arms, but Angustias reached for him, strained him passionately to her breast. The little animal put out a tiny paw and stroked her face with queer little noises. She held him away from her, and stared into the worried human eyes, then thrust him back at the startled Frenchman.

"Take him quickly," she gasped. "Be good to him . . . he is my all . . . my boby."

Before Lo Perouse could say another word she stumbled out of the tent into the dark.

"Nom du nom de vieu singe!" roared La Perouse. "Here, Dagelet, you seem mnony and unoccupied. I give ynu this animal to keep in your charge, and to watch and ward, and put his dear little tail through the hole in his pantaloons until we land on a tropical isle! Mon Dieu, quelle femme."

Dagelet picked up the monkey dnlefully.

"And you think I have nothing to do!" he muttered. He wolked awoy from the tent, carrying the monkey and his bundle of clothes to a spot where a boat was moored, and an oarsman sat as though waiting for someone.

"Take this," barked Dagelet. "I will return."

Angustias, blinded with her tears, staggered through the sand until she reached firmer ground, then she made her way toward the presidio, sobbing and talking to herself.

"Chichi, my baby," she grieved, holding her empty orms to her breast, "my baby, my baby."

When she was quite near the presidio gate she noticed a figure moving hurriedly in the direction of the beach. It seemed to be the figure of a woman. Angustias slipped behind a treo end watched. The woman came elnser and Angustias could see a large bundle halanced on her head. Every few feet she turned around and looked back toward the presidio.

"Indizuela!" gasped Angustias. "What is she doing? Ah, the vixen, she is running away with some French sailor, I'll be bound. Well, we can't have that. I've alwoys had my suspicions of that one. Que la doncella honrada la pierna quebrada y en casa (The virtnous maid and the broken leg must stay at home)," she muttered. She took a few steps toward the girl, then stnpped. If the hussy was intent on jnining some French lover, she wnuld use violence rather than let Angustias stop her, she reflected. She needed a man to help her. As she hesitated, her eye still on the flying girl who was zigzagging through the sand, she heard the sound nf horses. She ran tnward them as they came in view. Then she saw it was the Governor.

She stopped. She must not let him see her. She nnd discovered him. He would reprimand her, she, Angustias, whom he hnd alwnys called "a good soldier." She started to step behind her tree again, but was too lete. The Governnr had seen her. So she took matters in her own hands nnd ran tnward him.

"Your Excellency!" she gasped, "look, see that woman running toward the bench! With the bundle on her head! It is Indizuela! She is running awny to join some French lover on the ships."

Pedrn Fages looked after the figure that Angustins pointed out. She did indeed seem to be fleeing, her erratic course tonk her now frnm one tree to nnother, nnd she was avoiding the npen spuces.

"Very well, Angustias, you return with Pedro to the mansinn. I will attend to this. Go with them," he ordered the servnnt.

He spurred his horse lightly and cantered toward the girl. As he drew near he saw she hnd staggered nnd dropped the grent bundle from her head. She was leaning over it, sobbing with exertion when he cnught up with her.

As he jumped from his horse, she turned away from him, and tried to cnver her face with the rebozo that swathed her head.

Fages spoke very gently.

"Mi chiquita," he said, "my poor little nne. Why are you running away from us all, and from your home, nnd those who are concerned in your welfare? Did you nnt say you loved the Governnr, and were grateful for all he had done for you? And now ynu run away, Indizuela!"

The girl suddenly became dynamic. She strnightened and faced the Governor boldly, tearing the rebozo from her head.

"So!" she screamed. "It is Indizuela you love, is it! Indizuela whom you follow after in the starlight! Indizuela, is it! Indizuela!"

Pedro Fages put his hand to his beard, then brushed his eyes as though he doubted his sight.

"Eulolia!" he said. "Eulalia! You were running away."

She stnmped over her bundle and tugged at it. "Of course I am running away. And you can not stop me. Indizuela is not leaving you," she panted, "so you will be happy." She lifted the bundle and staggered a tow steps.

Don Pedro watched her as thnugh he were viewing an incident in a dream, with drugged senses that could not react.

"I am leaving everything behind that you love," she said through her teeth, "the children, Indizuela and ynur California. For ever!"

Then he strode to her side and wrested her burden from her.

"Come," he said sternly, "no nonsense."

She struggled with him.

"No!" wildly. "Nn! Let me go! You can not hnld me here any longer! Let me . . ."

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Modern Treatment of Tuberculosis

In the early dnys the sanatorinm treatment consisted of rest, good food, fresh nir and expert supervision. There was little else to offer a patient. The progress of the disease had to he watched and the expected results came by what the physician could gather from physical examination and clinical assistance alone. For this renson, namely, close supervision, patients needed an institutinn and were more successfully treated there, as their regime was outlined for the entire twenty-four hnors there. What is more to the point, someone saw thnt this routine was cnrried out. When one asks for an argument relative to the value af sanatorium over home treatment and the questionnaire has stated that he will follow the same advise on routine at home, tell him it has never been done and thut sanatnriums can boast results that were never dreamed nf hy home treatment. In fact, for satisfaction from all nngles, the institution is far superior.

In the beginning at lenst all patients should he placed under sanatorinm care. Here there is nursing supervision and routine is carefully looked after. Education of the tuberculous is best accomplished in the institutions.

In many cities due tn collapse thernpy patients are given this treatment at dispensaries and allowed tn continue work in the early months of treatment; when we advocate this type nf treatment it is because of an economic necessity. It is not the ideal; it is a make-shift and most he looked on as such. It is unfnrtunate that medicine is sometimes forced into these make-shift methods. The more fortunate individuals can and should be advised to enter a reputable sanatorinm and there, under proper conditions, the patient has the ndvantage of study and, when his study is complete, sound advice can be given as to methods of treatment.

Then to commence the question of the greatest gond to the greatest number, which means the isolation of every open case, it seems thnt, if we are eventually to win the fight against tuberculosis, we must bend our efforts towards the isolation of the open cnse as well as the early diagnosis and education of the patient. All three can best he accomplished in the sanatorium. When surgery is necessary it should also he pointed out that the sanatorium routine is important, for the preparation of the patient, to get him into shape so that he will be benefited by the surgery and, in edocation, that the result of surgery will not be effective unless the sanatorinm routine is carried out after he has had his surgical treatment.

IT'S THE MOST TALKED OF BEER IN MICHIGAN

Everybody's Switching To This Dry, Zestful Beer From The Famous Cypress Casks

YOU can't beat the old days when it comes to making beer! That's why everybody is switching back now to good old-fashioned Goebel—the most talked of beer in Michigan! Here's a beer that gives you that dry, zestful, real-beer taste folks used to relish before Prohibition.

The Real Thing

Drink a zesty glass of Goebel and you'll taste real hops, real rice, real barley. And you'll get that extra goodness that comes only from honest ageing and slow mellowing in the famous Cypress Casks of Goebel.

Phone right now for a case of Goebel—or stop by for a glass tonight. See if you, too, don't agree with folks who say that this dry, tangy, old-style beer is far more peppy and refreshing than sweet beers!

MAKE THIS 3-BOTTLE TEST

Order a case of Goebel from your nearest dealer. Try three bottles. Sample its dry, tangy, real-beer flavor. If you don't call it the best beer you ever tasted, return the case and remaining contents to your dealer and the amount you paid will be refunded. This offer is guaranteed by the Goebel Brewing Co., Detroit, Michigan.

A GRAND BEER IN '93—BETTER STILL IN '38!

When the gay blades of the nineties rowed down the river for a "weenie roast" on the sand bar, the night air throbbed to the strains of "On The Banks Of The Wabash"—in the best barber-shop style! And how those boys knew their beer! They liked it dry and tangy, and they would have cheered for the Goebel of today!

LANSING LETTER

lease quarters in a warehouse district, away from the business area. Recently Attorney General Raymond Starr was called upon to pass on the legality of moving a state department wholesale to Detroit where office building space is not hard to obtain. Starr ruled against the transfer. Governor Murphy himself gave out a press statement that some solution must be found to keep the state government intact at the state capitol city.

A legislative commission to study the housing problem was unable to find a vacant office for its own use.

To date, the nearest approach to anything that looks like a solution is Brownrigg's admission that part of the payroll army is due to go. That ought to provide some room—maybe enough for the legislative study commission.

Relief Foremost

How to finance relief for the unemployed in Michigan still remains a problem.

As long as millions are needed to feed the hungry, there is little chance that school districts will get an increase in state aid over the present year. Districts received $41,200,000 in 1937-38, of which $16,000,000 come from the primary school fund and the balance from the state general fund.

Advocates of better education for the masses without local taxes to pay for it see a rising hope in legislation pending in Congress which would pour federal millions into public and parochial schools. Getting federal money without costing you anything is somewhat of a myth, however, as it has been proved that Michigan gets back less than half of what it contributes in form of federal taxes.

If more relief millions are needed at Lansing in 1939 and the entire biennium fund is nearly exhausted today, it is apparent that the state budget will continue to be unbalanced.

Fall Upturn Expected

Market pages of newspapers tell the cheerful news that general merchandise sales in small towns and rural areas were about 9½ per cent higher last month than for March.

Small towns are classified by advertising experts as those having 10,000 population or less. The small town-rural area, known as the "D" market, accounted for 32 per cent of all merchandise sales last year. In population this area has 54 per cent of the entire nation. It is a rich sales market.

You will be interested to know that the old-fashioned general store still is an important factor. Those general stores last year sold as much food as all the food stores in the country put together. Your city cousins may not believe it, but a reliable consumer research survey established it as a fact. Metropolitan experts had to be shown pictures before they could be convinced there was such an institution as a general store.

While Michigan tourist regions will be an exception, the real upturn in business is not expected until Fall.

Tourist Prospects Good

Michigan resort leaders are looking forward to a good season, despite the new depression.

The way the lake hotel people size 1938 up is this: People get fed up on their troubles. They like to "escape" —to get away—even though there may be unpaid bills on the merchants' books. A summer outing amid hot weather is an emotional safety valve. The one all-important essential is hot weather and then the highways will be loaded with people coming from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and other mid-western points.

European troubles and dividend reductions have combined to increase the number of inquiries received by Detroit and Chicago steamship companies. Lake travel will be popular this season. One company is abandoning the time-hallowed custom of seven day cruises. Three and four day trips with prices to fit the middle class budget are to be offered.

CIO Reverses

John Lewis' reverse last week in Pennsylvania where his CIO candidates were soundly drubbed has only strengthened the belief held by many observers that the Michigan CIO has seen its best days. The peak in strength came early in 1937 when a combination of circumstances made the sit-down lawlessness a seeming evidence of success.

In Detroit the CIO ticket was swamped.

Wildcat strikes this year in the ranks of the Michigan CIO were too much even for Richard Frankensteen, UAW vice-president, who proposed disciplining measures—but so far all in vain.

Gold Rush Era Recreated in New Palace Film

California in all its romantic glory of the gold rush and mission days is brought to the screen in "The Girl of the Golden West", co-starring Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, and coming May 28-29 to the Palace Theatre.

A lavish musical, the new picture introduces several original musical numbers by Sigmund Romberg and Gus Kahn and a spectacular early California festival, "The Mariachie".

"Judge Hardy's Children", third of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer "Hardy Family" series, with Lewis Stone, Mickey Rooney, Cecilia Parker and Fay Holden, will be shown May 30 at the Palace Theatre. It is a sequel to "You're Only Young Once" and is the same type of intimate, down-to-earth family comedy, this time taking the judge and his family to Washington where the youngsters have flirtations and the father outwits lobbyists.

George Seitz, who has piloted the series since it started with "A Family Affair, directed with deft skill many little touches of humor, pathos and dramatic thrills. Many scenes were filmed in Washington.

Peter Lorre is starred in the newest and most exciting adventure of The Saturday Evening Post's master of crime detection, "Thank You, Mr. Moto", opening May 31 at the Palace Theatre. Thomas Beck, Pauline Frederick, Jayne Regan, Sidney Blackmer, Sig Rumann and John Carradine are featured in the cast. Executive Producer Sol M. Wurtzel selected Norman Foster to direct.

The Golden Text, (Matt. 24:4) is: "Take heed that no man deceive you."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (II Tim. 2:15): "Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.192): "Your influence for good depends upon the weight you throw into the right scale. The good you do and embody gives you the only power obtainable."

MOTOR TAX DIVERSION MAY BE PUT ON BALLOT

A constitutional amendment to prohibit the diversion of motor vehicle revenues probably will be placed on the November ballot.

Pledges favoring the submission of this question to the people at the next general election were signed by more than 1,100 governmental, agricultural, highway improvement, tourist, and industrial leaders at the recent first annual banquet of the Michigan Good Roads Federation at Grand Rapids. Most of the signers said they would circulate petitions to place the issue on the ballot.

THIS IS A WARNING

A marihuana cigarettes case has come to light in Manceluna, with portions of some of the partly smoked fags being obtained by the officers. State police are collaborating in the case, which comes under the federal narcotics act and is a mighty serious thing.—From the Mancelona Herald.

During the past few months newspaper and various magazines have repeatedly warned the public to be on the look out for this dangerous drug, and the above item should be a "Stop, Look and Listen" signal to local people.

A distributor of these cigarettes (it is claimed there are agents of this type working all over the United States) usually goes into a community and after getting acquainted with the young people will casually offer them a smoke. According to facts published a person needs to smoke only one of these cigarettes to become a drug addict. A loss of all sense of decency, insanity and many other terrible things are the result. After a few days a distributor appoints some one to sell the fags and then leaves town.

Although marihuana grows as a weed in our backyards it is considered as deadly a drag as morphine, cocaine, heroin, etc.

Any strangers in town seen passing out cigarettes should be reported to officials at once. Parents should also warn their young people not to accept smokes from anyone.

We people in small communities like to believe that such a thing as drugs is not prevalent in our midst. It may not be to a great extent, but it has struck our neighboring vicinity —IT MAY COME HERE! BE PREPARED FOR IT!

GOOD RESORT YEAR IS SEEN BY GRAY

TOURIST ASSN. HEAD REPORTS ON RECENT TOUR

Reveals That Calls for Information On Michigan Resorts Are Greater Than Other Years

Prosperts for the tourist and resort business this year were learned first-hand by Hugh J. Gray, secretary-manager of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association and dean of the tourist industry in the state, who, in company with the three other tourist secretaries last week made a swing around through the key cities in states which furnish the bulk of our tourist business.

After visiting the Michigan information offices in Detroit, Cleveland, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago and conferring with newspapermen, automobile tour managers, travel executives and travel information bureaus the secretaries returned with the assocance that Michigan will have a good tourist year in 1938 and should show a substantial increase over 1937.

Some encouraging signs noted were:

The Automobile Club of St. Louis reported more calls for Michigan touring information than for any other section of the country.

Unsettled conditions in Europe have resulted in many cancellations of reservations for foreign travel which will be reflected in more travel within the United States and Michigan will benefit from that.

The Cincinnati people are "sold" on West Michigan with virtually all of the calls for Michigan information reaching the office in the Netherland Plaza hotel there asking specifically for points in West Michigan.

In commenting on the Michigan outstate information offices Mr. Gray said, "We found the Michigan information offices well located, suitably staffed and efficiently handling a large volume of inquiries for both specific and general information on Michigan. The offices are receiving excellent cooperation from the newspapers, travel agencies, railroads and other transportation companies. It is a conservative statement to say that Michigan will enjoy as good a tourist year this year as last and, on the basis of inquiries received 1938 should run as far ahead of 1937 as 1937 ran ahead of 1936."

Gray pointed out that a recent survey of travel experts located in key cities of the United States and Canada showed that 77 percent agreed that vavation travel this year will equal or exceed that of last year. An interesting sidelight on the European travel situation was brought out in the survey in that it showed that many tourist agents who formerly dealth exclusively in European and steamship cruises are now handling domestic business and consequently may be expected to divert some of their clients to domestic travel this year.

While on the tour the tourist secretaries were entertained at a special luncheon arranged for them by the Cleveland Plaindealer and were guests of R. M. Harvey of the Pennsylvania Railroad at a meeting of the Executives Club of St. Louis.

NO HOPE

Investigators for welfare and relief work have made one very startling discovery since the Revession. More than one-third, (Nearly 40 per cent), of the new applicants that have never been on Relief before are under 25 years of age. Most of them have one or two babies and one year ago the bread winner had a good job. Outlook very bright.

What happened in ONE YEAR. Due to labor conditions in Michigan the plant cut state jobs; moved one-third away. Work card taken up and no place to file new application as anywhere under seniority rules he is out. Here is an able bodied, honest American citizen junked for life before his first child is old enough to go to school. We have built up a new social system under which he is ostracized.

This young couple and all of their associates even go home to Pa and Ma. They are above 45, junked and on relief.

FARMS ARE METERING USE OF ELECTRICITY

Determine Cost to Provide Better Picture of New Facility

With Michigan leading the way in the nation for increasing the number of farms connected to power lines, a new system of demonstration farms where typical equipment is metered for costs is aiding farmers to get a better picture of their new servant, electricity.

Calhoun, Midland and Kent counties now have such meter equipped farms, reports D. G. Ebinger, Michigan State College specialist in rural electrification.

On the farm of Robert Sackett, Route 3, Marshall, Calhoun county farmers are finding visits to the Sackett demonstration valuable.

Typical of a month's power bill is one for $8.22. Three adults in the home received the following portions of the service for $3.06: Lights for house, poultry and barns, two poultry immersion heaters, two water pumps, toaster, percolator, washer, iron, radio, vacuum cleaner, food mixer and space heater for bathroom.

A milking machine for 20 cows took another 96 cents for the month or 4.8 cents per cow for the month. Heating five gallons of water daily for cleaning the milking machine cost another dollar.

Some of the extra work included feed grinding with a half horse motor, 21 cents, or 9 cents a ton. A feed elevator was operated at a cost of 3 cents for the month and a feed mixer cost another 3 cents while a corn sheller took 7 cents in power for 32 bushels. A heater for water used in the home utilized $2.86 in power for 420 gallons of water in a month. The entire bill of $8.22 was for 478 kilowatt hours, or an average of 1.72 cents a kilowatt.

SEASONAL EMPLOYEES SHOULD GET NUMBERS

Social Security Manager Cites Reasons for This Precaution

Persons expecting to hold seasonal jobs in canneries or summer hotels should obtain social security account numbers in advance.

That advice was contained in a statement received today from Clifton H. Little, manager of the Traverse City, Michigan field office of the Social Security Board. His full statement follows:

"It is to the advantage of every wage-earner to accumulate as large a wage record as possible, for it is upon his individual wage record that his eventual old-age insurance benefits will be based. Every dollar earned in covered employment, regardless of how temporary the job may be, helps to increase the wage total, and, consequently, the old age insurance benefits when due.

"Persons contemplating seasonal employment in covered occupations such as canneries or summer hotels should therefore file applications for social security account numbers now so as to have them ready for employers when employment begins. This applies, however, only to persons who have no account numbers, for no individual should be in possession of more than one number.

"A wage record is not established by the Social Security Board until an application for an account number has been filed. This may be done at any field office of the Board."

STATISTICS REVEAL OUTPUTS OF SAWMILL

Large Amount of Lumber Still Produced in Charlevoix County

Charlevoix county's five sawmills produce about 374,000 board feet of lumber per year, it is revealed in a survey of Lower Michigan's timber industry recently completed by Prof. Willett F. Ramsdell, of the University of Michigan's School of Forestry and Conservation.

The mills of the county employed 20 men for a total of 488 man days for the year 1935, which was covered by the study, according to Professor Ramsdell. The production for that year, he found, was approximately 103 per cent of the county's average for a recent five year period.

The total commercial cut of wood products for the county, not including fuel wood, but including all other round products such as posts and poles, was equivalent to 842,000 board feet.

Cedar led the list of species produced by Charlevoix county with a total of 333,000 board feet. It was followed by Hard Maple, with 160,000 board feet, and Hemlock with 135,000 board feet.

The county produced 1,769,000 shingles in addition to the above total during 1935.

We get trouble enough in this world without borrowing any. So never attempt to bear more than one burden of this kind at a time. Some people think they must bear three kinds—all they have had, all they now have, and all they ever expect to have.

EDITORIAL

WE CANNOT SLEEP

Will the people fall again into the same apathy after their fight on the reorganization bill as they did last year following the Supreme Court reform battle? The result of last year's let-down was the Black appointment to the Supreme Court.

This year, there are still a number of vitally important measures which Congress will consider. It's very important that we know about them and let our Congressmen know what we think.

One of them is the measure for Universal Conscription. The idea back of this bill seems to be that if the bill is passed, the nation would never dare to declare war because of the terrible burden which this bill would impose upon every citizen. The bill proposes to take the profits out of war, fix all prices, conscript all labor and management and take over every factory and piece of property in the country—in case of war!

We ought to know by now after all the International agreements and all the good-will conferences to preserve peace have been violated and scrapped that we simply cannot successfully regiment people by a law in order to prevent war. As General Johnson says, "Instead of strengthening the country for defense the result might be paralysis for defense—especially in the confiscatory tax provisions."

Let's keep wide-awake to Congressional discussion of this War Dictator Measure and prevent its adoption either by itself or as a rider attached to an appropriation bill—such as it proposed with the Navy bill.

Perhaps the coming of power to the Tennessee river has spoiled it esthetically. It has been years since it was mentioned in a song hit.

THEY TELL YOU

It has been a slogan of advertisers that "your best friend won't tell you what is the matter with you." While this may be more or less true when it comes to unpleasant physical ailments, such is not the case in politics, although it often takes a high sort of courage to break the rule.

There is the case, for example, of Barney Baruch, Democrat and American businessman, friend of and coworker with Woodrow Wilson, and personal friend and admirer of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Mr. Baruch the other day testified before a Senate committee in Washington on the general economic situation. He stated that the government is more responsible for the general unemployment than any other factor. Speaking of the administration's policy Mr. Baruch declared:

"If it remained what it recently appeared to be, there is no hope for re-employment and substantial recovery. If it could be changed along the lines I have tried to indicate I believe that we would have a rapid and immediate rise in all economic indexes.

"I say it with regret, but I would be less than candid if I failed to express my opinion that unemployment is now traceable more than to anything that business directly to government policy could or should do, and that if those policies are not changed, neither business nor government can ever solve this most terrible of our problems."

Mr. Baruch added that Uncle Sam must choose between the system of profits to private industry and "the new European idea of state regulation, and fun of punishment" and he expressed the belief that "if it became clear tomorrow that America has definitely chosen her traditional profits system, forces would be released that would rapidly hasten recovery and re-employment."

If you want some evidence of honest-to-goodness fish, get "Bill" Fessenden to show you a photo of those German browns he took recently from Boyne Falls pond. Heard the biggest weighed over two pounds and the rest must have been closely related to the big one. Hate to admit it, but those fish made me kinda jealous.

Visitors, not only from upper Michigan, but from practically every state, will miss the glad hand of welcome nnd courteous treatment of "Dad" Brady, for a number of years caretaker at the Charlevoix Tourist Camp.

"Dad" has given up his caretaker's contract and will be greatly missed by these hosts of friends, who called yearly at the camp, some staying for a while, others just stopping to say "hello".

Service to the city such as "Dad" has rendered should at least be recognized by a hand shnke and word of appreciation. Nothing in our opinion could be more fitting.

Al Bennett, local Metropolitan representative, would like to know it if anyone catches a fish from Round lnke wearing his pants with over $5 in silver money in the pockets. Al accidentally opened the swimming season here Friday afternoon. The fish tug Gypsy came too close to the rowboat in which he and Harold Richmond were fishing perch. Al got up and tried to push his boat nway from the tug and was upset doing it. He came up without his pants nnd was lucky he didn't get hurt, as the boat passed over him. Richmond stayed in the rowhoat.

From now on if you want to know what your money is being spent for, you'll have to go ask the city clerk to see the records. Reason is that the council after more than thirty years of letting the public know something about its own business has for economy sake, decided to cut the published payroll down to totals of varlous funds. Sort of a short-cut for an itemized statement the state law requires. Puts the city in the same entegory as the board of supervisors and board of education. The former honrd puts out copies of the audltor's report which are available if you care to take the time to hunt one up, and the school board puts out a condensed statement that means little of nothing to the average person. Trouhle with too many administrative agencies is they forget they are simply the people's business agents, and as such should let the puhlic know as much about the affairs of government, particularly expenditures of money, as any business organization or individual industrialist ls entitled to reports from his managers. A disposition to take the public into their confidence, to lay the cards on the table face up, would be a splendid gesture for the governmental bodies above mentioned to inaugurate.

Overheard Joe Foster trying to sell Angus Fochtman some airmail stamps in the postoffice one day last week. Angus said to Joe: "I don't need any airmail stamps—Bob Bridge gets my cheeks back too soon as it is now!"

Charlevoix Round lake waterfront is one of the busiest places you ever saw. Capt. Allie Moore had the Gilbert yacht Sylvia-Gee on the railway at Hamilton & Son Boat Yard for painting. The boat is to be ln commission early in June. Capt. Alfred Brow is getting the Olds yacht Reomar ready for a trip around June 25th to Detroit where the yaeht will be used most of the summer. Hamilton's place is a mad house of activity. Every hoat in the yard is being prepared for use and the whole waterfront presents the same picture. These indications ought to be good ones for Charlevoix.

Carl Remington, who comes to Charlevoix from Buchanan to fish early and late in the season, was up to his old tricks here last week-end. Carl knocked off the biggest mackinnw trout last season and last Frlday put over his usual stunt of bringing in the first steelhead entch. Carl nnd Morley Myers, his fishin' pardner, brought in four of those fighters from Lake Charlevoix. It wns the first large catch reported.

MOTHER OF REIMANN FAMILY HEARD ON WLS RADIO PROGRAM

Mrs. Augusta Reimann, 81, of Iron River, mother of Lewis C. Reimann, Camp Charlevoix director, and Ernest Reimann, camp caretaker, was paid a high tribute recently when selected to broadcast over station WLS the eve of Mother's Day on a spreial program.

An Elmhurst, Ill., newspaper commented in part as follows:

"Everyone says she looks like Schumann-Heink . . . well, she really is a Schumann-Heink . . . she has a glorious song in her heart!"

Mrs. Reimann is the mother of 13 auccessful and prominent citizens scattered all over the United States. The Reimann family is an unusual one with many eminent members around the table. Doctors, professional men and students are included among the five boys and eight girls. There are 26 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Reimann was one of two Illinois women nominated for the "American mother of 1938", but due to her advanced age, she was not eligible.

GROCERS ARE WARNED ABOUT UNGRADED EGGS

Unless Positive of Quality, Are Advised Not to Label

Michigan grocers are warned by the State Agriculture Department that they are liable to prosecution for sale of eggs as fresh, strictly fresh and new laid, when the eggs do not actually conform to Grade A standards.

"Eggs sold at retail and represented as the highest quality must meet the standards of high quality eggs at the time of sale to the consumer," Commissioner John B. Strange said.

"If a retailer is not certain," he said, "it is suggested that eggs not be labeled, since unlabeled or ungraded eggs may be sold in Michigan as long as they are edible but there must be no misrepresentation as to quality."

CITY PAID HOMAGE TO ITS WAR HEROES

IMPRESSIVE MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM MONDAY

Services Conducted at Memorial Park and Brookside Cemetery Were Largely Attended

Charlevoix paid homage to its soldier and sailor dead with ceremonies at Memorial Park and Brookside cemetery as veterans of past wars participated in a solemn observance of Memorial Day on Monday.

While missing from the ranks were veterans of the Civil War, members of Leslie T. Shapton Post, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of the Spanish-American war, the W. R. C., the Legion Auxiliary, other patriotic and fraternal organizations and school children were among those forming the marsh to the services. It was a colorful parade.

The ceremonial of casting a wreath upon the water for the sailor dead was observed at Memorial Park. Taps were sounded as the march was resumed to Brookside cemetery.

Numbers on the impressive program at the cemetery included "Star Spangled Banner" by the school band; invocation by Rev. Edward Neubecker; exercises by the Woman's Relief Corps; address by Rev. G. R. Parker; salute, taps; benediction by Rev. W. H. Rauch.

Rev. Parker, in his address, said, in part: "Our minds are focused upon the immediate reason for this occasion. To remember the valiant soldiers and sailors of pre-war days. That thinning line has nearly vanished, but our hearts still thrill at the memories of that Grand Army, and the brave men who fought for the freedom of Cuba from the tyranny of a Spanish unreasonableness. Then we come to the veterans of our own generation.

"We remember the days of '14, '17, '18. The glamour, the music, the speeches, the horror, the mounting denth lists nnd the broken hearts.

"We trust that as we gather today, through custom of course, that it will not be merely professional, hut with sincerity of heart and purpose.

"How will we do honor to these brave men Will we do it with wreaths, and flowers, singing nf songs and firing salutes Will we do it with empty words? Let us lay the wreaths, arrange the flowers, chant songs, listen tn the bugler and salutes. But let us also think together in a manner that will send us from here re-enlisted citizens of the greatest republic upon God's green earth."

FRANK D. FITZGERALD COMES HERE JUNE 15TH

Charlevoix Included in Itinerary of Northern Good Will Tour

Mr. Fitzgerald's visit here is part of the itinerary of a northern Michigan good will tour. He will be at Lakeview Inn between the hours of 2 and 3 p. m. and invites old friends and acquaintances as well as the public generally to be present.

Local Republican leaders who are assisting in arrangements for Mr. Fitzgerald's visit have announced there will be no speech-making and that the meeting is a get-together affair.

A celebration will be held on Saturday, June 4 to mark the start of construction on $500,000 project to cover 500 miles of rural transmission lines to serve 2000 customers.

The day will start with a basket picnic at noon in the Lakeside Park in Boyne City—free coffee will be furnished. The dinner will be followed by a parade to the site of the pole setting three miles east of Boyne City on the Boyne Falls road.

The ceremony will begin at two o'clock and will officially mark the start of construction. There will be short talks by a Washington representative of the REA and by representatives of the Michigan Public Utilities Commissinn.

EXTORTIONIST IS APPREHENDED HERE

WILLIAM MORRELL, 48, TAKEN BY FEDERAL AGENT

Has Coofessed Attempt to Extort $20,000 From Father of Kidnapped Peter Levine

William Morrell, alias William Jones, was arrested here at 7:30 Tuesday evening on a charge of extortion.

He was taken into custody at the Graves residence on Nettleton street by Federal Agent H. R. Duffey, Sheriff Floyd Ikens and Deputy Edgar Behrens.

Morrell has confessed, according to Sheriff Ikens, to an attempt to extort $20,000 from the parents of kidnapped Peter Levine, whose dismembered body was early this week found near his home at Rochelle, N. Y. He was not connected with the abduction, it is said.

Morrell, 48, whose wife and two children are now at Cadillac, wrote a letter on or about March 8, 1938, from Ann Arbor, to the father of Peter Levine, demanding $20,000 for the safe return of his son. Morrell said he was penniless and discouraged and wrote the nnte demanding the ransom thinking he might be able to collect the large sum.

Federal agents began immediately to search for Morrell and he led them through Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan before he was apprehended here. He was traced here through a letter written to his wife in Cadillac after he had hitched a ride with a Foster Beverage Co. truck into Fort Wayne, Ind., and back tn Charlevoix, where he was searching for employment.

Complaint was filed before the United States Commissioner at Traverse City, and a fugitive warrant issued. Bond was placed at $10,000 and Morrell is being held for transfer to Detroit by a United States marshall. Sheriff Ikens stated he had been previously asked to search for Morrell, believed to be in Charlevoix, by Muskegon officers, who held a criminal warrant for the man.

BERGMAN STAR AT STATE TRACK MEET

SCORED 19½ POINTS TO GIVE CHARLEVOIX 2ND PLACE

Local Athlete Won Three Firsts and Established Two New State Racords at Lansiog Event

Dick Bergman scored 19½ points to give Charlevnix high school second place in class C competition at the state track and field meet Saturday at Lansing. There were 65 class C schools represented by 339 nthletes.

In one of the most outstanding individual performances in state track records, Bergman alone out-paced 63 other schools. He established a new record of 15.6 in winning the high hurdles. The former record was 16 seconds flat. He tied with Turnipseed, versatile Mancelona athlete, in the low hurdles in the new state record time of 23.8. He won the high jump at the mark of 5 ft. 10 inches, and placed 5th in the broad jump.

Charlevoix high school was also represented by Allison and Goss. Allison placed 7th in the mile event which was run in a new record time of 4:40, which lowered the previous record by twn and one-tenth seconds. Goss, appearing in his first state meet, failed to qualify in the broad jump.

Coach Stewart Cnleman, who took the local trio to Lansing, stated the largest crowd on record was on hand for the state meet.

With the exception of a play-off Friday afternoon at Grayling for the class C conference baseball title, Charlevoix high school athletes completed one of the most suecessful seasons on record Saturday at Lansing. Seven trophies adorning the assembly room attest this fact. Charlevoix won the conference, district and regional basketball titles and was runner-up for the state class C crown. Conference and regional track titles und Bergman's performance gave the school the runner-up trophy in class C at Lansing.

SPORTSMAN'S CLUB PROGRAM STARTED

STOVER CREEK REARING PONDS STOCKED WITH FISH

Around 70,000 Steelhead, Brook and Brown Trout Received—Club to Raise Pheasants This Year

The fish propagation program of the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club fnr 1938 is under way.

Approximately 70,000 steelhead, brook and German brown trout have been released in the Stover creek rearing ponds to be raised to advnnced stage for planting in Charlevoix county lakes, rivers and streams this fall.

Seven of eight ponds in the system are in operation. Two upper ponds contain 25,000 brown trout, four ponds have 35,000 brook trout, and 8,000 Pacific coast steelhead, the Club's share of eggs hatched at Oden after cnnsignment last spring by the Federal Bureau of Fisheries to the local Club, nccupying the seventh pond. These fish are fingerlings. One pond remains to be filled. While the number of fish is less than a year ago, it is anticipated better results will be obtained by placing fewer fish in the ponds, thus preventing over-crowding.

Roy Ranger and Arthur Ranger have already planted two consignments of fish. A shipment of 300 steelhead, ranging from 6 to 9 inches in length were divided between Horton Bny and south arm of Lake Charlevoix near Eveline orchards. Another shipment nf 5,000 brook trout was divided between Horton and Stover creeks.

For the first time in many years and only after considerable effort, the Club has obtained pheasant eggs for hatching. A letter dated May 25th stated 600 eggs would be shipped from the Mason farm in abont 10 days. R. C. Korth has volunteered the facilities of his hatchery to hatch the eggs and grow the chicks to a stage where they can be given to individuals to raise. The chicks will not be released until after the fall hunting season. The plans including estublishment of a sanctuary at the Loeb Farms and a liberal release at this place, with the view that these desirable game birds will spread to adjacent areas. If this year's efforts are successful, the plan will be carried forward on a larger scale another year.

WINTER DEER MORTALITY WAS LARGE

BELIEVE 10,000 ANIMALS DIED FROM STARVATION

Cusino Yard in Upper Peninsula and Alpena District Was Hardest Hit, Report Reveals

At least 10,000 deer dead from starvation last winter. A large percentage of the places where they congregate in the winter, badly nverbrnwsed. Another heavy increase in the size of the herd with the addition of thousands of fawns this spring.

These are snme of the facts being pondered by the state conservation commissioners who received the data at their last meeting in the form of a report from the department's game division, based on a census of dead deer and u check on deer yards in different parts of the state.

Also included in the report now before the commissioners was the recommendation that an antlerless deer season he permitted in certain of the areas known to be populated by more deer than there is food for, on the premise that the excess deer might better be utilized for hunting than "wasted" in slow starvntion.

Notwithstanding some good breaks in the weather, conditions last winter were alarming in at least twe areas in the state, according to the report. Surveys made by the gnme investigators indicated that conditions were worst in the Cusino area in the upper peninsula, where the snow was unusually deep, and in the Turtle lake areu near Alpena in the lower peninsula, which is known tn have been overpopulated fnr several years. It is estimated, on the basis of census counts of dead deer found, that more than 2,000 of the animals starved to death in the Turtle lake area alone.

GRADUATION PROGRAM IMPRESSIVE

FINE ADDRESS GIVEN BY DR. GEORGE BUTTRICK

Fifty-Three Seniors Awarded Oiplomas at 50th Anniversary Commencement Wednesday Night

A banquet at the Bartlett Hotel, followed by a senior prom at the gymnasium Thursday evening, will hring to a close graduation activities of the Charlevoix high school senior class of '38.

Sunday evening's baccalaureate services and commencement exercises Wednesday evening filled the school gymnasium tn capacity as parents and friends of the graduates gathered to witness honors bestowed upon the 53 students completing their scholastic careers in Charlevoix schools.

Baccalaureate services were impressive. Rev. John Alexander, pastor of the Methodist church, delivered the sermon, based upon the class motto: "Tonight We Launch, Where Do We Anchnr." His talk was befitting the important turning point in the lives of the graduates and was filled with sound advise for the individual embarking for the first time from their "home port." The musical numbers on the program were especially fine.

Graduation exercises, the 50th anniversary for Charlevoix high school, were equally impressive, and the selection of Dr. George Buttrick, pastor of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City, as commencement speaker, was justified in the masterful address he delivered before the graduates and assembled relatives and friends.

Dr. Buttrick spoke on the topic: "The Disciplines of Liberty". After congratulating the class on their successful completion of one stretch of their journey through life, the speaker reminded them of the great debt they owe to those who have lived before them on this globe, to the workers of today who give them necessities, and to the parents and teachers who have helped to make them what they are. "The cult of the self-made man is an unlovely one," said Dr. Buttrick, and showed that it is not only unlovely, but false.

VOTERS DEFEATED PROPOSAL FOR FRANCHISE

Result of Special Election Halts Electric Light System Extension

Charlevoix electors at a special election last Wednesday, defented by a vote of 382 to 82 a proposal to grant a franchise in connection with a proposed electric light system extension.

Defeat of the proposal, a requirement sought by successful hidders nn a $98,000 hond issue approved at a special election last February to finance the extension, also invalidates a contract between the city council and Nordberg Manufacturing Co. for purchase of a diesel engine, as tho contract was suhject to sale of the honds.

The present status of the electric light extension is hack where it started. What future action will he taken is not knnwn.

SHEPARD SENIOR CLASS COMING HERE ON SUNDAY

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Ken Usher

Pnlice Chief Clarence Heise at the bridge when the Mispaw came in: Don't you know what I mean when I hold up my hand.

Woman driver: I ought to, I was a school teacher for thirty-five years.

Commander Eugene MacDonald was here Sunday with his yacht Mispaw on nne of more or less frequent visits to this harbor. This stop was while enroute to Chicago from a 22,000 mile winter cruise to South America and the South Seas. This writer remembers when "Gene" used to come here with a little cruiser which was a rowboat compared to the palatial ship in which he now sails around the world. He was always glad to show the kids hanging around the docks the Eskimo boats, clothing, spears and gadgets he collected on that north pnle expedition. He had the first of those diving outfits consisting of just a helmet and nn suit we ever saw. We used to think he was quite a fellow and from what his more intimate local acquaintances say, he hasn't changed a bit with his rise to wealth.

There is a lot of praise due Dick Bergman for his single-handed winning of second place in class C track competition at the state meet in Lansing last Saturday. It was a fitting climax to one of the most outstanding athletic careers in Charlevoix high school history. Dick starred in football and basketball as well as track. He graduates this spring.

A Surprise for the Folks!

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

With nne of every four persons in Michigan today on the public relief rolls, the matter of how welfare funds should be handled—whether by local officials or through a consolidated agency — promises tn become one of the leading political issues in 1938.

The present administration at Lansing has indicated that it is ready to stand in defense of the welfare act of 1937. This law would have gone into effect months ugo except for the fact that a referendum was authorized for the general election next fall through petitions circulated by county supervisors and county poor superintendents.

Governor Murphy believes in centralizing public relief, whereas the Republicans, as exemplified by Senator Vandenberg, favor a return of relief responsibility to local governments with the state furnishing most of the funds and merely exercising minor control how the money should be used.

Millinns of dollars are being spent here for relief and welfare. Because tax increases loom inevitable if relief spending continues unabated, ve-

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"God the Only Cause and Creator" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 5.

The Golden Text, (Rev. 4:11), is "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 104:24): "O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 331): "The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. He is divine Principle, Love, the universal cause, the only creator, and there is no other self-existence. He is all-inclusive, and is reflected by all that is real and eternal and by nothing else."

Canine Jailbreak

Gladstone — A mass release of "prisoners" from a "jail" occurred here recently, but it was a little different than such events usually are. In the early quiet of a Sunday morning, some daring person defied the law and entered the city dog pound, releasing nine strays which officers had just collected. Besides giving the dogs their freedom, the release solved a growing problem of food supply.

Tried To Be Jailed

Dearborn—"I had to figure out a way to force you to arrest me! I'm out of work, broke and hungry." This is what Jack Semans, 21, told police officers recently after he had adopted novel tactics in search of free room and board. Semans calmly announced that he had smashed the windshield of the police tow car. He got his free meals—for 30 days.

Check From First Bank

Iron River — Brushing the dirt from a little slip of paper that blew in his yard, J. H. Harding found he held a check dated 1904 and drawn on the old Commercial bank, the first bank in Iron River. The check was written by Patrick Kelly, one of Iron River's first businessmen.

Freak Asparagus Stalk

Watervliet — A freak asparagus stalk of the Mary Washington variety is on exhibit here. Raised by F. Woodworth of Southwest Watervliet, the stalk is 17 inches in length, three inches wide, and weighs one pound.

Still A Sportsman

Ovid—In spite of his age, C. W. Hier of Shepardsville still likes to go trout fishing. At the age of 91 this year, Hier secured his trout license shortly before season opened, and signed his name without the aid of glasses.

Go Feather Your Nest!

Harrisville—Three one-dollar bills that had been placed in an envelope for a money order and left in a mailbox on a rural route west of this city were missing when the mailman called. Investigation revealed that a bird had started to build a home in the back part of the mailbox, and was using the greenbacks to feather its nest.

Original Currier & Ives

Romeo — An original Currier & Ives print was recently found by Bruce Brandenburg in the third floor of the Main street building where he resides, and is now on display in a Romeo gas station. It depicts two men, one in tatters and one prosperously reposing in an easy chair. The first man is represented as saying, "I gave credit," and the second, "I sell for cash."

Cows Visit Mayor

Iron River—Apparently three big, brown cows were unaware of an Iron River ordinance prohibiting the roaming of cattle in the city. The bovine trio, out for an afternoon stroll, were not content until they reached the invitingly green lawn of Mayor Angelo Loia's home. So pleasant did they find his property that they remained for 20 minutes.

No Strike Here

Harbor Springs—Worried because one of her choice white leghorn hens seemed to be on a sitdown strike, refusing to move all day, Mrs. E. J. Hannn finally found out why. The hen had laid an egg measuring seven and three-quarters by six and one-quarter inches. The following day the hen laid an egg weighing three and one-quarter ounces, and measuring seven and one-half inches by five and three-quarter inches.

NEW PUBLIC HUNTING, FISHING IS PROVIDED

Conservation Dept. Procures Desirable Black River Frontage

Trout fishermen and hunters now have a new and promising territory to test out without trespassing on private property as the result of a recent purchase negotiated by the state conservation department.

The purchase totals 3,812 acres of land within and adjacent to the Pigeon river state forest. A good share of the acreage is upland; 700 acres is cedar swamp; and most of it is considered excellent hunting grounds. For the fishermen, the purchase includes about six miles along the Black river, regarded as an excellent trout stream.

DIG POISON IVY OR APPLY SALT

Skin that no one loves to touch—that's the skin of Michigan's increasing crop of poison ivy.

Fence rows and woods in Michigan are playing host to too much of the pest, warns C. R. Megee, crops research man of Michigan State College. Opening of scores of summer camps ought to spur operators of these club, scout and YMCA and YWCA properties to eradicate or try to control the poisonous plant.

Quickest method is to grub out the ivy. The three leaflets and white berries are easy means of identifying. Persons who work in the ivy patches should protect themselves from contact with the foliage.

Common salt can be used with a spray outfit. Three pounds are dissolved in a gallon of water. It takes about two to three gallons of the spray for a square rod.

Another chemical is sodium chlorate. Two to three pounds are dissolved in a gallon of water and the same amount as with the salt is sprayed on a square rod of poison ivy. This material is somewhat dangerous to handle unless proper precautions are taken. Clothing which picks up any of the spray should be washed out immediately, for friction alone is enough to ignite the cloth after the spray has dried. Rubber boots should be worn while spraying with the chlorate.

Yet the hazards of grubbing and salting are considered worth while by Megee. Those who have contacted the ivy and are especially sensitive to its poison will agree.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Case Gets Protests on "Bad Luck" Plates

As a variation from the annual deluge of letters from motorists who want certain automobile license plate numbers, Leon D. Case, secretary of State, has recently been getting strange protests from people who vow they can't drive with the numbers assigned them.

Inevitably, these people want different plates, but state law prohibits such transfers, Case points out in his answers. But last week, one man with the courage of his convictions, got himself new plates. Few people want their plates changed as badly as he did.

He wrote the department he believed the total of the digets of his plate was responsible for the fact he'd had five accidents while carrying it. His efforts to get new plates were in vain until he turned his plates into a branch office for cancellation, later applying and paying for a new set. This time the diget total suited him; state law and identification requirements were also satisfied.

One of the most puzzling cases arose recently when a motorist berated Case for even permitting one certain number combination to be made, pointing out: "No decent Christian would drive with such a plate." The allegation was that the number on the plate was "the mark of the Beast". The 18th verse of the 13th chapter of Revelations was mentioned as referring to the number combination "666" contained in the license serial objected to. Department clerks checked with the Bible; shook their heads.

Today's youth wants truth, says Stanley Walker, newspaperman and editorial specialist. Read what he says about the caliber of the men who will guide the world's progress in the near future. His article appears in This Week, the magazine with next Sunday's Detroit News.

But he slung the bundle over his saddle, and taking her around the shoulders that writhed and tried to slip from his grasp, he put one hand firmly over her mouth, and tried to move her toward the horse. She dug her heels in the sand, he could feel her meledictions and imprecations sputtering against his hand.

She writhed and struggled, clewing at his muffling fingers. The rebozo slipped around her neck, her hair tumbled wildly over her shoulders. But Pedro Fages clutched her firmly, and at last threw her over his shoulder, and lifted her to toss her on to the horse.

As soon as she touched the saddle she began to scream, and started to slide down. As her feet touched the earth at the side of the horse, Fages pinned her to the side of his enimal with one erm and looked at her a moment.

"You let me elone!" she exclaimed stridently. "I will not stay another minute here!"

Fages lifted his hand and rapped a stinging slap eeross Eulelie's jaws.

She put her hands to her face, end her mouth fell open in pain end surprise.

"Now, get an that horse," said the Governor aternly.

She hesitated just a second for the strong hand that was usuelly her mounting block, then serambled quickly into the seddle.

As they pessed the sentries et the presidio gates, she covered her heed and bent low. The sentries looked after them with lively euriosity.

At the door of the mansion Angustias' scared face met them. "Go to bed," said the Governor shortly.

With a gasp of understanding Angustias scuttled awey.

Eulalia cast herself on the bed, trembling and fearful, but the Governor did not even look et her. She rubbed her stinging cheek tenderly a moment, then undressed, and slipped beneath the covers. Still the Governor did not speak, nor make any move, only stood with folded arms, lonking at the floor.

At last, with a sigh, he stirred himself, and sank, a dejected dusty figure, before the Madonna.

He reached for his rosary and began his prayers. But his thoughts wandered from his devotions.

"Poor little thing Pnnr little thing. I hed not dreemed she hated California so. Hated me. Ave Maria Purisima . . . hates me! Ai, ai, all Who loves her so. Poor little thing. Ave Maria . . ."

He bowed his head still lower. His wife's frightened, frantic face, surrounded by her roughened tresses, her wide wet eyes, and little sharp teeth bared by trembling lips came into his mind ageln.

He groaned.

"Poor little thing . . . like a little frightened animel caught in a snare, goaded into gnawing off a foot, rather than to be held in a trep. Ave Marie!" He beat his breest softly, despeiringly. Then he slipped his hand beneeth his leather jerkin and drew out the scapular made from Junipero Serra's habit. Holding it in his hands was some comfort. Timidly he lifted it to his lips and kissed it.

"Poor little thing!" That was all his thoughts could form. "I understand. I, too, if I did not love this strange California, would wish to sell away. Even with my love, I have loneliness, the wish for companionship. Ave Maria! What shall I do now? God help me, holy Master Jesus, help me, Santa Maria, help me, holy Father Serra, intercede for me."

He had crouched so long, lost in prayer and bitterness, that when he raised his head, he saw it was already dawn. From the parade-ground there came the sound of a bugle's notes, and of horses' hoofs. Sharply he remembered he had ordered a guard to accompany him to the beach to witness the departure of the French ships.

He pulled himself stiffly to his feet, end looked across at the bed. Eulalia was asleep, one hand still curved over her outraged cheek. Tenderly he bent over her a moment then tiptoed out of the room.

On the beach blazed a huge fire of driftwood. The sand was marked with the prints of many feet. There were bits of refuse and scraps left by the departing French seilors. Fages looked about him. Ifere the tent which was the leboratory had stood, with its strange fascinating instruments. Ifere were the blackened cinders of the fire where the balloon had risen.

Fages sighed and lifted his glasses. It wes a thick morning. Fog moved in so densely he could scarcely see the water. He wondered if La Perouse could see the beems of the fire he had built in his honor.

He thought of Le Pante Dagelet . . . and dismissed him, once and for all, from his thoughts.

He remembered whet La Perouse had said, that on leaving California he must catch the Chinese monsoon into Asiatic waters. "My imegination must always precede my vessel by two or three thousend leegues," he had laughed. Fages envied him with ell his heart.

Suddenly a breeze moved, end lifted the fog for a few moments from the face of the waters.

Don Pedro and the watchers on shore saw the spread sails and towering masts of the Boussole end the Astrolnhe, nearer than it had seemed they could be, putting out of the bay into the open sea.

They cheered, moved by the sight of the shadowy ships. From one of them, the fleg-ship, came e burst of smoke, followed by e mist-muffled salute. The soldiers af the presidio guard fired a volley in reply.

Then as the fog moved down again they were lost to sight, and the fog did not lift again.

It was years later that the Viceroy of Mexico learned, by dispatches sent from Europe, that the Boussole end tho Aatrolabe had made the Sandwich Islands, end there deposited with the captain of e homeward-bound English ship all of tha findings of the Count Jeen Francois Galaup de La Perouse, concerning his expedition, and his visit to California, the fortitude of the Governor Don Pedro Fages, the kindness and piety of Pere Fermin Lasuen, end the hospitality of them both.

From the Sandwich Isles, the Frenchmen hed sailed away, had been seen once again by men in New Zealand, then disappeared.

The Astrolebe, the Boussole, the Count de Ln Perouse, Monsieur do Langle, Le Pante Dagelet, the scholars, scientists, sailors end lovers; the delicate instruments, the botanical and zoologieal specimens which had been picked up in the Frenchmen's expedition, were all lost in the Pacific. And the manner of their disaster remained for ever a mystery.

CHAPTER XXIII

"Now I will sing to my well beloved
e song of my beloved touching his vineyard.
My well beloved hath a vineyard in a very fruitful hill—"

Frey Fermin Lasuen, sitting beside the Governor on the hot earth beneath a great oak on top of a hill, repeated the words of Iselah as they watched the Indians picking the ripe grapes that burdened the gnarled and twisted vines.

It was the last day of the vendimia. The fruit hed been allowed to hang beneath the burning sun until the lest possible minute when rich juices would strain the purple skins to the utmost, without beginning to dry. Only a few stragglers remained in the vineyard. The fiesta de la vendimia was already starting as a bustle and stir in the direction of the barbecue pits, shouts and songs from the workers attested.

Fray Fermin, who had come over from Cermelo to bless the vintage, watched the Indian girl, Indizuela, as she passed them, a greet basket of grapes on her head.

"I went to speak to you of that little one," he said. "She is no longer a savage child, but a well-trained little Christian woman, fit to be a good wife to some man. It is time for her to wed. And beceuse she is your protege, you should know I heve it in my heart to arrange a merriage for her with young Pio."

"An Indian!" exclaimed the Governor.

"Why not? He is a good Christien, and since his beloved master's death he has been so bereft I feel he needs something happy in his life. Several timea, you know, he has run away to join his savege brethren, and I am efraid we will lose him entirely."

Fages mused, looking after the grneeful figure of the girl.

"I suppose you are right, Padre. But she still eeems a child to me. And I had rather thought she would merry, when the time came, one of the King's soldiers. Do you want me to speak with her? I will."

The father rose to his feet. "Then do it now, my son. I will go down to see how the fiesta is progressing."

He stretched in the bright sunlight, blinking as he feced the sun.

"Ah-h-h!" he breathed. "How good is this sun, end werm air! I am happy, your Excellency. Very happy. I shall go now in a few deys to Santa Barbara to begin preparations for founding the Mission Santa Barbara."

"Yes, Father. I am happy also about that, as you can well understand. If only Fray Junipero were here to be with us."

"Ah, well, I doubt not he knows well what is going forward. It seems most fitting to be beginning these preparations during the season of the vintage. For I am planning to plant for my beloved, my Master, another vineyard, and I pray the hill will be very fruitful, as yours is." He smiled, end Feges watched him walk away, his old face lit with exalted smiles.

Then he turned and watched Indizuele sauntering towerd him, her basket empty. Her hands were purple-steined, and her lips, for she had filched the most luscious grapes here end there es she picked. "Her eyes ere black, black as e starry night," thought Fages. As she ceme toward him, she smiled suddenly, and the flash of white teeth in her dark face was startling.

She was dark, dark es the eerth, and from her rose an aura of fruitfulness, of ancient earth-mysteries, hidden, savage, impenetrable.

Pedro Fages' blood pounded. His throat felt choked. A temple vein rose end pulsed euddenly. Ilis eyes swam, and his knees felt week.

"Indizuela!" he called, but his voice broke suddenly. He cleared his throat as the girl looked et him, still smiling with a subtle understending look in her eyes.

"I . . . I want to . . . epeak with you . . . Sit down."

She sank on to the earth, and with a little gesture seemed to become a part of it. From swimming eyes she looked up et him.

"Si, Senor?" she asked softly.

Feges clenched his hends. "Fray Fermin has seid," he blurted hestily, "that he wisnes to arrange a marriage for you with Pio. What do you say?"

She looked at him mockingly, gravely.

"That old man should think of other things than marriages. It is not decent for his thoughts to dwell on such things. So I have been taught."

"Do you want to marry Pio?" the Governor asked hurriedly. "Do you love him?"

"I have also been taught to tell the truth." She bent over and patted a handful af earth into a little pile, and smoothed it as she spoke. "I do not love Pio. I do not love any af the Indian boys, nor any of the soldiers." She looked at the Governor, with head suddenly thrawn back.

She laughed. "You know. You have always known, es I heve, thet I am for you. No one shell heve me but my lord, my beloved master. I em his, to gather as he does the grapes from his vineyard, and to crush, as he crushes them."

Fages listened to the low volce thet seemed to blend with the buzzing of the bees. What she said seemed natural, as though somewhere, some time, he had heard it before. As though in a spell he spoke.

"Yes," he said, in a voice not his own.

The girl took a deep breath.

"When?" she asked eimply. "Now? This is the vendimia."

The man trembled. He wea under e spell. He must break it . . . quickly . . . He looked about him in e panic. The getherers had finished their tasks, and now were clustered around the berbecue. Their voices seemed to come from a great distanee. There was no one near. Heat shimmered frnm the earth, but the Governor of California shivered.

Yes, it was the vendimia. Why not? She was his. So utterly his. And he needed her so. Not only his body, but his mind and spirit called for the fulfilment a blending with her would bring. But he fought the girl's witchcraft, end she sensed it.

"I know. It is your women. La Gobernadora. Pah!" she spat. "That white one. That cold cruel Spaniard! Listen!" She leaned forward eagerly. "I know what happened when the Frenchmen were here! I know who brought La Gobernadora through the gates of the presidio the night before the Frenchmen sailed! We can do awey with her!" She laughed triumphantly. "Look!" She elipped her hand in her bosom and brought out e little sack of skin. It wes dry and something rattled in it.

"Look! This is magic. I got it from a witch woman. It is strong medicine. If I will I ean make her wither eway and die . . . and then . . ."

The Governor unconsciously put his hand beneath his leather jerkin. "Junipera Serra . . ." he muttered, feeling the scrap of sanctified cloth. He closed his lids to shut out the warm wondér of the Indian girl's eyes.

"Go eway," he said gutturally. "Pleese, Indizuela, if you love me, go away."

The girl did not move. It was the Governor who rose on unsteady feet and staggered like a drunken man toward the fiesta.

BUYING FABRIC TESTS KNOWLEDGE

Modern mothers ask questions when they select fabrics for the children's clothing.

Will the cloth shrink, fade, wear well or soil easily? These are some of the things they want to know.

They may expect very little shrinkage from sanforized preshrunk fabrics, advises Margaret Partlow, instructor in textiles and clothing at Michigan State College. Likewise they may expect that colors will stay bright from vat dyes and that durability is promised by firm, evan weaves.

Are fabrics as firm as they look? By rubbing the cloth between the fingers or washing a sample, e finish such as sizing will disappear. Mercerized cotton, however, has a permanent luster.

"Brother and sister" suits often appear in pique, broadcloth, linen, percale, seersucker, gingham or Indian head cloth. Dainty dresses for little girls may be made from dotted Swiss, lawn, organdie or fine linen.

Sunsuits to be true to name ought to have tops of coarse mesh fabric or marquisette, Miss Partlow reports.

E AND B STEINIE BEER IS ALWAYS TASTY
E. & B. Brewing Co., Inc. Detroit

ENGINES WILL BE WORN LESS THIS SUMMER

But you want to know exactly why. You're leery of general statements that won't save you one piston ring or one quart of oil. So you want what the doctors call a specific. And that's what you get—a definite, substantial, physical protector that actually exists right in your engine as soon as you get it OIL-PLATED. Only patented Conoco Germ Processed oil from Your Mileage Merchant's station can give your engine OIL-PLATING. Other oils can't. No matter how much refining is claimed for them, they cannot surpass the correct refining of Conoco Germ Processed oil, but refining only takes things out. Going much farther, Germ Processing adds in the patented man-made substance that gives your engine OIL-PLATING. Only this addition by the Germ Process makes oil "join up" with the working parts, to keep them OIL-PLATED. All the while Germ Processed oil is used, OIL-PLATING is permanent. Like other plating, OIL-PLATING keeps wear from getting through. And like other plating, OIL-PLATING can't drain down at any time. Actually united to each surface, OIL-PLATING gives your engine lubrication that needn't wait for the oil pump . . . Before other oils could even begin to circulate, OIL-PLATING is ready to lubricate! Thus you know why the much-advertised harm of "dry starting" doesn't mean a thing with your engine OIL-PLATED. And you wouldn't expect any good plating to go flying off at Summer speeds, or to frizzle away in the Summer heat. Then expect the heat indicator to stay on the safe side, while the gauge-stick keeps saying, "Still full of Conoco Germ Processed oil!" That's why it's smart and thrifty today to have Your Mileage Merchant OIL PLATE YOUR ENGINE Continental Oil Co.

OPEN FROG SEASON ON NEXT WEDNESDAY

May Be Taken Legally in Michigan Until Late October

This frog question lends itself easily to many puns.

For instance, it might be said that after next Wednesday, no wise frog will do much frogging around in the open spaces. That's because the open season for taking frogs begins on that day. Or, putting it another way, that's the beginning of the season when the bigger the croaker the more likely he is to croak, if he doesn't keep under cover. In other words, every frog should look before he leaps, or he might jump right into somebody's frying pan.

The frog hunting business is fairly good in Michigan. Many frogs are taken each year for table purposes and also for laboratory use, colleges and universities and drug manufacturers being the largest buyers in the latter category.

PART-TIME EMPLOYES SHOULD OBTAIN SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER

Students who intend to hold temporary or part-time jobs during the summer months should file applications for old-age insurance by obtaining social security account numbers now, if they have not already done so.

This suggestion came from District Manager Clifton H. Little of the Traverse City Field Office of the Social Security Board in a statement issued today to high school and college students.

STRAITS BRIDGE URGED BIG ALPENA MEETING

Highway Men from Many Counties Join Behind Project

One thousand persons, from both the upper and lower peninsulas, heard a series of addresses at Alpena last Monday evening urging construction of the Straits of Mackinac bridge and paving of the lake shore drive between Alpena and Cheboygan.

James H. Cissel of Ann Arbor, engineer for the Straits of Mackinac bridge authority, said a $25,000 appropriation for a survey of the bridge project might permit the construction of some of the causeways under the federal government's contemplated "heavy spending" program.

The causeways, he said, could be utilized to shorten the ferry route across the straits until the spans could be erected.

Cissel declared the bridge project, estimated to cost between $25,000,000 and $35,000,000, is entirely practical.

The winter mortality would have been much greater, the report states, if weather conditions had been more severe. Although the upper peninsula was visited by heavy snows, the formation of a crust strong enough to permit the deer to walk, though not run, on it, enabled them to range farther than they could have otherwise. In the lower peninsula, snow was relatively light and thaws were frequent, the condition around Turtle lake being due to long-time overpopulation rather than winter overcrowding in yards.

Data accumulated during the last two winters by the game investigators indicates that more than 50 percent of the approximately 742,000 acres in the upper peninsula considered winter range within the territory inhabited by deer is overbrowsed. In the winter range in the lower peninsula, about 38 percent has been found to be overbrowsed. Thirty-one percent of the lower peninsula winter range is regarded as still being in good condition and about 30 percent in medium condition. In the upper peninsula, only about 12 percent of the yards are in good condition and 37 percent are in medium condition.

With the food supply inevitably declining as the deer herd increases, the report recommends that antlerless deer be hunted in the areas known to be overpopulated. The commissioners were urged to consider long-time cover and food management combined with controlled hunting to check continued increase of deer in areas already populated beyond their carrying capacity, and to prevent starvation.

FULL DATA ON BIRTH NEEDED TO OBTAIN SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER

Michigan employers applying to the Social Security Board for social security account numbers for former employees they are now unable to locate, are requested to furnish the month, day, and year of birth to complete their application.

It is estimated that 100,000 wage records have been received by the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission without the necessary social security account numbers. The Social Security Board urges upon all employers the necessity of requiring this information, from employers prior to or during their period of service.

Many employers have failed to do this. This failure is likely to cause delay in processing benefit claims filed by unemployed individuals after July 1.

take a tip from father

Mark Twain once said, "When I was a boy of 14 my father was so ignorant I could hardly stand to have the old man around. But when I was 18, I was astonished to know how much he had learned in 4 years."

Father has much useful knowledge gained from hard experience. When he says, "start a bank account as soon as you can," do it! It will please him immensely.

Income Tax?

The drums are being beaten in labor circles for a state income tax.

The new agitation, this one by the American Federation of Labor, centers its attention on the 3 cent sales tax which is branded as being inequitable and unfair on the working man. As this painless levy could not be repealed without a substitute for revenue, the conclusion is very obvious: Tax the incomes of individuals in the higher-earnings bracket.

Thirty-six states at present have state income taxes, Colorado and Kentucky joining the list in 1937. A majority of states having state income taxes also have sales taxes. The sales tax total is 28 to be exact, Alabama and Kansas enacting such laws in 1937.

Once a tax law gets on the statute book, it usually stays there.

Hence the current revival of agitation against the Michigan sales tax is regarded with considerable suspicion here. It looks like another effort to get MORE TAXES for MORE state spending. Each administration at Lansing, regardless of party, has shown steady increases in public expenditures. State Government expenditures last year were $23,485,319 as compared to $17,197,310 in the first year of Fitzgerald's term and $14,566,898 in the first year of Comstock's. In these same corresponding years, state payrolls jumped from $8,004,116 to $11,685,143 and then to $17,019,362.

More Taxes?

For the steenth time, Governor Murphy has again intimated to the press that he might, after all, summon the state legislature yet this year.

Whereas labor relations was the pressing need six months ago, today it is the growing deficiency in the state budget, like Mother Hubbard's famed cupboard.

The budget was about $12,606,000 out of balance when the legislators adjourned last July. Then when the recession developed and sales tax payments began to skid, Budget Director Smith's parings were nullified in effect, and the deficit on July 1 is estimated currently today between $15,000,000 and $20,600,000.

Some relief may be found if and when 2,500 to 3,000 state employees lose their jobs on July 1, as Civil Service Director Brownrigg has virtually promised. But such a recourse is distasteful to politicians of any administration, especially so in a campaign year.

The tax quest recalls that the house of representatives last year passed dog racing and slot machine licensing bills, both designed to raise more funds for the state to spend. You may expect to hear of some fantastic panaceus in 1939 for our spending troubles.

Our Climate

One of the after effects of the ice age, priceless to our developing tourist industry, is Michigan's climate.

Great cold waves in winter are robbed of some of their severity as they cross the lakes or are deflected by the warmer water. The Great Lakes absorb the heat of the summer and release it during the winter, thus making Michigan winters warmer on the average than those of neighboring states.

Summer climate is unequalled any place in the United States. Westerly winds are cooled by the lakes.

The result is that more and more people are discovering that Michigan has CLIMATE.

We need to evaluate our own virtues before they can be appreciated fully by others. Why not take a leaf from California's tourist history? Let us talk about THE MICHIGAN climate!

Conservation

That Michigan newspapers devote more space to conservation than newspapers in any other state was an unusual fact presented to Inland Daily Press association in Chicago the other day by Ben East, outdoors editor of the Booth dailies.

East told about the discovery made by newspaper editors that Michigan outdoors was of tremendous news interest to hundreds of thousands of newspaper readers. We issue more fishing and hunting licenses than any other state in the country.

With some 5,000 lakes in the upper and lower peninsula, and vast areas devoted solely to forests, the recreational possibilities of the state are only partly realized. The state itself is surrounded almost by blue waters. There are 57 state parks available without payment of a fee. Streams and lakes are stocked each year with fish. Fire fighting equipment has been developed to a higher degree in Michigan than in any other state in the Middle West.

As better highways are built and as resort facilities continue to improve, Michigan will be nationally recognized as the leading year-round tourist state.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Protecting Preschool Children Against "Catching" Diseases

No matter how hard a mother tries, she herself may not be able to insure her children against contracting children's diseases. There are, however, several things which she can do in the home which will lessen a child's chances of becoming infected. Then her doctor can give her definite help on diphtheria and smallpox, two diseases which every mother wishes to spare her children.

The everyday precautions that the mother can take to protect the young child are:

1. Keep the child away from sick people.

2. Isolate the sick child in the home and do not allow the other children to come near.

3. Teach the child to wash his hands before eating and after using the toilet, by having him do this faithfully day by day.

4. Keep the child in the best health possible, that he may build up a strong resistance against germs.

The medical preventative measures offered by the family physician to protect the young child are:

1. To prevent the child from contracting diphtheria: One dose of alum precipitated toxoid administered by the doctor to immunize the child. Several months later the Schick test will show whether or not the child is protected.

2. If the child contracts a sore throat: The doctor should take a culture to make sure whether or not it is diphtheriatic. If so, he will administer antitoxin which will cure the disease if it is given in the early stages. Otherwise the disease may leave complications.

3. To protect a child against smallpox: The doctor can vaccinate the child. This provides absolute protection against the disease.

Protection against diphtheria and smallpox is now recommended for every child during the first year of his life because the death rate from these diseases is highest in young children and because the child's reaction to the immunity treatment is lighter in babyhood than at any other time.

In 1937 in District Health Unit No. 3, composed of counties Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego, there were several pre-school children who became victims of the "childhood" diseases but very fortunately none proved to be fatal cases. Among those children between the ages of 1 to 6 we find scarlet fever was contracted by 31 children, measles by 18; chickenpox by 13; whooping cough by 12 and mumps by 3 children.

Tell your wife-to-be what you really think of her before marriage, advises one expert. That's right. Later on, you won't get a chance.

The most useless thing civilization seems to have accomplished in the last half century was to kill 10,000,000 men and spend $190,000,000,000 in order to swap the kaiser for a Hitler.

HUNTING LICENSES SHOW BIG INCREASE

Thirty Thousand More Hunted Deer in '37 Than Previous Year

That approximately 30,000 more persons hunted deer in Michigan last season than the year before, is indicated by the return of license remittances to the state department of conservation from dealers.

Tabulations completed to the first of this month showed 157,349 resident deer licenses sold as compared to 135,743 in 1936. In addition the same accounting recorded 1,214 non-resident licenses sold as compared to 849 in 1936.

Similar increases are being recorded in the various classes of small game licenses. Reports received to the same date include 487,333 resident hunting licenses, or an increase of more than 50,000 over the previous season.

Resident fishing licenses increased more than 65,000 the figure thus far compiled for 1937 being 587,490 compared to 520,777 in 1936. Temporary non-resident fishing permits gained from 35,525 in 1936 to 43,537 while non-resident permits for wives increased from 36,773 to 45,097.

Licenses for trapping were nearly doubled, from 12,352 to 21,410 thus far reported for the 1937 season.

With remittances still being received, it is expected that the total sale of deer licenses will reach the 140,000 predicted before the opening of the season.

Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, wife of the president of the United States and first lady of the land, has tentatively agreed to go to Traverse City from the nation's capitol and speak on the program of the 1938 Region 5 conference of the Michigan Education Association, to be held October 6 and 7.

AT THE MOVIES

Streamlined Sets Unique Feature of "Merrily We Live"

Double practicality was a feature of the streamlined stage set on which "Merrily We Live" was filmed. This picture, co-starring Constance Bennett and Brian Aherne, opens a two-day engagement at the Palace Theatre on June 4th.

In the first place, details of the lavish mansion were so faithfully carried out that a family could move in, set up housekeeping and entertain on a big scale.

More thrilling than the story the headlines tell is the one they have never told about the military occupation of China. An amazing drama within a drama, laid in an amazing city within a city, "International Settlement" is the picture of the hour . . . and a hundred big moments. Opening June 7 at the Palace Theatre, the 20th Century-Fox film features Dolores Del Rio, George Sanders, June Lang and Dick Baldwin.

Eleanor Holm enjoyed her motion picture debut in Hollywood, despite the fact that it involved a swift succession of thrilling adventures such as she had never before experienced.

America's mermaid queen makes her first screen appearance on June 7 at the Palace Theatre in "Tarzan's Revenge", Edgar Rice Burroughs' Twentieth Century-Fox release in which she is co-starred with Glenn Morris.

Six Girls Enact Broadway Drama

Six girls, living and loving within the shadows of Broadway's bright lights, are the leading characters in "Walking Down Broadway", 20th Century-Fox picture opening June 9 at the Palace Theatre. The heart-catching story of their desperation and longing, laughter and triumph, makes a picture as brightly exciting as Broadway itself.

The six girls are portrayed by Claire Trevor, Phyllis Brooks, Leah Ray, Dixie Dunbar, Lynn Bari and Jayne Regan. Michael Whalen, Tom Beck, Douglas Fowley, Walter Woolf King and Jed Prouty are also featured.

MURPHY PROCLAIMS STATE SAFETY WEEK

Period of May 23-29 Devoted to Lessening Traffic Toll

Pointing out that Michigan's 1937 accidental death toll of 3,843 was fourth highest in the nation, Governor Murphy has proclaimed May 23-29 Michigan Safety Week.

"Reduction of this toll of lives lost accidentally is an objective toward which we may all work with such means and in such ways as may be at our disposal," Murphy said.

"It must be pointed out that a state as heavily industrialized as Michigan naturally will have a comparatively large number of accidental deaths. But whatever the cause, these deaths—to say nothing of the number of persons maimed and crippled for life—represent human waste and economic.

"Back of them is a story of suffering and hardship for the families suddenly deprived of their breadwinners."

HEALTH RESEARCH PROJECT GIVEN APPROVAL

Ten Northern Counties Included in Health Department Job

Cong. John Luecke, of the 11th Michigan District, today announced that Executive approval has been given WPA project No. O. P. 465-51-3-111, State Serial No. 20720.

The project, contained in Presidential Letter No. 7883 and signed by the President on May 4, 1938, carries an allotment of $61,509 for the employment of needy professional, educational and clerical persons on a number of health research projects sponsored by the Michigan State Dept. of Health. It will operate in a number of counties including Kalkaska, Antrim, Otsego, Montmorency, Alpena, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Presque Isle and Emmet.

The project is now awaiting final confirmation by the Comptroller General, which is expected at an early date.

PERCH FISHERMEN ARE WARNED OF NEW LAWS

Pier Fishermen Subject to Catch Limit from Lake Michigan

Fishermen who like to take a can of worms or a bucket of minnows, and dangle lines from breakwaters or piers in Lake Michigan are reminded that there's a new regulation on perch fishing in the Great Lakes this year.

Where there was no limit on their catch before, the law now fixes the maximum take of perch at 50 for the Great Lakes and 25 per inland waters, in one day. The limit of 50 is also permissable on certain inland lakes which connect with the Great Lakes. These are Muskegon and White lakes in Muskegon; Charlevoix in Charlevoix county; Manistee, Arcadia and Portage in Manistee; Pere Marquette in Mason, Pentwater and Stony in Oceana; Black in Ottawa.

In spite of the priests moving about in their somber habits, the vendimia seemed a pagan festival. Beneath the ancient live-oaks, a crowd of merrymakers celebrated the vintage in manner traditional.

Among them Don Pedro noticed his guests from the Presidio at San Francisco and Santa Barbara, and a group of officers and sailors from the San Carlos which lay in Monterey Bay. Their heads were wreathed with vines, and they were drinking wine from the last vintage, singing, laughing, dancing; uttering robust jokes, circling around the barbecue pits where slaving cooks were lifting the savory roasted bull and hacking it into pieces.

Near by was the great vat where the grapes were poured to be crushed. A little stream ran near it, and there, all who wished to tread the wine washed their feet, then plunged into the purple pool with jocund shouts.

On a rough dais, beneath a ramada, sat La Gobernadora surrounded by young laughing officers, who vied with one another in composing flattering toasts to her beauty, her wit, her distinguished position as Queen of the Californias. She was dressed in the Maja costume, in her lap a great basket of grapes, and on her head a wreath of grape leaves. At her feet a soldier sat, his head tied in a scarlet handkerchief, and across his knees a guitar. He was singing a song to her, and she smiled, as Don Pedro watched, and lifted her glass to the troubador.

Don Pedro stared at Eulalia curiously, as though he had never seen her before. She seemed happy. This was what she loved, craved, after all; flattery, admiration, adulation. He stopped uncertainly. For a moment he thought he would turn and go back to the brown ardent Indian girl who still waited for him beneath the quiet sheltering tree. But young Pedro, watching the carving of the bull meat, saw him.

"There he is!" he shouted. "Now we can have the feast!"

So the Governor was drawn unwillingly into the festivities.

He took his seat beside La Gobernadora, ate, drank and replied absent-mindedly to all who spoke. It was only when he felt a light touch on his shoulder, and looking up saw Indizuela offering him a cup of wine, that he roused for a moment from his reveries. She smiled at him reproachfully and moved away, the wine jug poised on her shoulder.

After the feast, one of the Governor's old Catalan soldiers clapped his hands for attention.

"Senores y Senoras! Senoritos y Senoritas! Caballeros y amigos! Padres! Peones y Indios! I will sing! I will sing a song of our illustrious Gobernador, el Senor Don Pedro Fages!"

"Viva! Viva!" shouted the crowd. Someone placed a vine wreath on his head as the old soldier experimented with his guitar.

"I will sing a song of El Gobernador concerning his prowess as a mighty hunter, and how he saved the Indians of San Luis Obispo from being eaten alive by bears! How he saved his people from starving by giving them the bears to eat, and how a mission was founded because of all these doughty deeds!"

Then he began to sing a long series of coplas.

"No ships sailed into the bay,
We were starving day by day.
All the priests could do was pray.
Ay-ee, Don Pedro!

"All too weak to shoot a deer,
Feeling all that Death was near,
Filled with anguish and with fear!
Ay-ee, Don Pedro!

"But the mighty Catalan,
Pioneer and fighting man
He will save if any can!
Ay-ee, Don Pedro!"

"Ay-ee Don Pedro!" chorused the merrymakers joyously.

" 'Give me strong men two,' said he
'Who will bravely come with me.
We will shoot what we will see!'
Ay-ee, Don Pedro!

"Forth went he, this man of might,
Empty belly belted tight,
Hunting far by day and night.
Ay-ee, Don Pedro!"

Dozens of verses sang the old soldier, and at the end of each the audience howled, "Ay-ee, Don Pedro!" The Governor sat with bowed head, covered with confusion, and listened.

The singer went on, telling of the frightened Indians, rushing from their village, afraid of the giant bears that were killing them one by one.

"But our brave Don was not afraid,
With loaded gun and trusty blade,
He stalked into the canon's shade,
Ay-ee, Don Pedro!

"He walked into the wild beast's lair
And faced the savage grizzly bear,
And killed him in a fight most fair!
Ay-ee, Don Pedro!

"And when he'd killed one awful beast,
He killed another for a feast,
And wiped them out from great to least,
Ay-ee, Don Pedro!

"The Indians with great delight
Praised Don Pedro for his might,
And feasted him a day and night.
Ay-ee, Don Pedro!

"And hungry priests and soldiers fed
Upon the bears that he killed dead,
'Viva our hunter bold!' they said.
Ay-ee, Don Pedro!"

"Ay-ee, Don Pedro!"
"Hola!"
"Viva el Gobernador!"
"Viva!" The party gathered in a circle around him, singing and shouting, toasting him in tilting wine-cups, creating more verses for the endless song.

The Governor stood by quietly until the song was finished, but when the circle broke, he slipped away alone to the tree on the hill, and threw himself down on the ground. It was sunset, and color rioted everywhere on land and sea. The voices of the singers seemed to come from a great distance. He closed his eyes.

"Ay-ee, Don Pedro!" someone said softly.

Indizuela dropped on the ground beside him.

CHAPTER XXIV

After the vendimia and the harvest the winter season settled down upon the Royal Presidio of Monterey and the Mission San Carlos at Carmelo. Winter meant rain, days and weeks and months of rain. The Rio Carmelo flooded its banks as it filled, and a hundred rills and streams sprang into being. The trees sighed and dripped dismally, and there was little life astir except the screaming seagulls that, driven from the ocean by storms, came inland to seek food, shrieking and wheeling in the gray skies.

In the Palacio of the Governor all was gloom. Angustias grieved for Chichi, and moved about like a gloomy wraith.

Since the departure of the French explorers La Gobernadora seemed frozen, all except her somber eyes that burned resentfully from her white face. Little lines appeared about her mouth, and drew the corners of her lips down in a perpetual expression of unhappiness that wrung Don Pedro's heart. She spent hours, days, lying upon her bed, staring at nothing, doing nothing; or huddled before the sputtering fire, looking at the flames with a blank far-away expression that frightened the Governor with its hopelessness, its despair.

She no longer spent hours over her hair, or the little cares of her toilet, but wore the same gown, day in and day out, and even adopted the habit of wrapping her head in a scarf. She shivered constantly in the damp adobe house. Sometimes she would look out on the parade-grounds, churned to a muddy lake by the feet of horses and men, and catch sight of the wife of a soldier, a baby hugged close to her in a shawl, running from one house to another.

She almost envied these little soldiers' women, with their endless chatter about nothing, their contentment with empty lives. Sometimes she thought wildly of running out into the rain herself. But if she did, where would she go? So she only shivered and drew her manton closer about her.

Pedro Fages was profoundly distressed. Living in the small palacio with the unhappy woman Eulalia, loving her, sorrowing over her and unable to express one word of what he felt, for he had never referred to the dreadful night when he had struck her and dragged her back from running away, depressed his days and saddened his nights.

His only comfort was in reading over and over again the few books he possessed: "Las Sergas de Esplandian," "Sancho Panza" and the plays of Shakespeare. Long hours he would read, then impatiently order his horse and ride for hours through mud and rain, nowhere.

There was only one light, one spot of warmth in his darkness, and that was not the clear warmth of the sun, or the pure cold ray of a star, a light like a little fire shows from the depths of some murky cave. And that was Indizuela. Time and again he put the thought of the girl out of his mind, only to have her walk into his brain and heart, and through some witchcraft, take possession of him.

And so the winter pressed down on Monterey.

But from the south, from Santa Barbara, came letters from Fray Fermin Lasuen, bubbling with a youthful enthusiasm, that rose perennially in his old heart.

It was summer in the south of California, he wrote. The sun shone all day, and the stars at night. There had been some showers, and the brown hills had turned green quickly. The streams were full, and it was already like spring.

And on the feast day of Santa Barbara, December fourth, the Mission Santa Barbara was to be founded. All was ready. The people at the presidio, as well as the priests who were to found the mission, were waiting impatiently that day, and the arrival of his Excellency with La Senora la Gobernadora.

The feast day arrived. Santa Barbara, the Patroness, sent fair weather. The waters in the channel danced in a fresh breeze, and the blue hills and mountains, faintly tinged with green, rose behind the mission site like a beautiful curtain.

Frey Fermin Lasuen and Sergeant Ortega from the presidio had been anxiously awaiting the Governor. Ortega had sent messengers and an escort far north to meet him, but they had returned without the Governor, and without news of him. Fray Fermin was worried. A great responsibility was in his hands. This was the first mission of his own founding, carried out through the wishes of his beloved brother, Junipero Serra. For over two years the Governor had been planning this day, looking forward to it with great anticipation and anxiety, and now, with everything in readiness, the day already at its zenith, there was no Governor. And the mission could not be officially founded without his presence.

Fray Fermin scanned the distance as far north as his gaze could reach, then, with a patient sigh, sat down on the ground where he could see the little ramada beneath which the altar was erected, and where two bells hung, in readiness to ring out to all the world, the good news of the founding of the Mission Santa Barbara. A recumbent cross was on the ground near by, waiting to be erected on the spot where some day the mission church should arise.

The missionary looked lovingly at the scene. And as he looked, a vision came before his eyes. Instead of the humble ramada and rough cross, a lovely temple rose to comfort him. Glowing pinkly, its square towers and red tiled roofs rose majestically against the mountains. A great establishment stretched itself across the landscape: dormitories, gardens, workshops and wineries. The little group of dirty Canalenan Indians who stood about with dumb curiosity became miraculously thousands of clean happy neophytes, who worked, and sang as they worked. The handful of soldiers, who lolled on their horses and eyed the Indian women, became a dashing company of devout worshipers, pressing into the church, filling it full of reverence and adoration.

Fray Fermin gazed at his dream, and spoke.

"Ah, Padre Junipero!" he exclaimed gladly, "it has all been worth it, has it not! 'Sing, O heavens; and be joyful, O earth; and break forth into singing, O mountains; for the Lord hath comforted his people.' "

"Padre mio . . ."

So steeped was Lasuen in his dream; so real was the vision, that at the sound of the voice he started, really expecting to see the brown figure of his brother Junipero beside him. But it was Sergeant Ortega, who stood, a worried frown on his brow, his hat in his hand.

"Padre mio, it grows late. There is absolutely no sign of his Excellency. Soon the day of Our Holy Patroness will be past. What shall we better do?"

Painfully Lasuen made his decision. "We must go ahead with our ceremony," he said sadly. "And when his Excellency comes, we will have a rededication. There must be some good reason that he is not here." He rose painfully from the ground, sighing, "It is a disappointment, but it is in God's hands."

And so, on December 4, 1786, was founded the Mission Santa Barbara. The standard of Spain waved above the humble altar, and the sacred flags of the Church, Mary's blue banner, and the bloody banner of Christ. The bells rang, prayers were said, incense rose in pale blue clouds. Then it was over. The Indians returned to their villages, the soldiers returned to the presidio. Fray Lasuen was left with three brothers and a few soldiers to guard the shrine dedicated to the Holy Patroness of artillerymen.

Several days before Don Pedro planned to leave for the south for the dedication of the Mission Santa Barbara, he was riding the highlands back of Monterey and pondering how best to approach La Gobernadora on the matter of accompanying him. As he drove toward the presidio, the clouds lifted for a moment from the sea, and, it being sunset time, a rich glow spread over the gray ocean, turning it for a few minutes into molten gold and rosy silver. The Governor paused and admired the scene for a moment.

"A good omen!" he said with a deep breath. "All will turn out well, God willing!" As he cantered into the presidio grounds the guards at the gate smiled at him respectfully, noting the cheerful expression on his face that had for so long been unnaturally gloomy. And as he approached the palacio his heart lighted again as he made out gleams of fire- and candle - light stealing through the chinks of the closed shutters.

"Hola!" he cried heartily as he stamped into the sala. "And how are all in my household this evening? Did you notice the little bit of sunshine at sunset time?"

CONSERVATION OFFICERS WILL BE ARMED

Commission Votes to Furnish Revolvers for Field Men

Conservation officers will be armed with .38 calibre revolvers "for self defense only", the state conservation commission decided Friday.

The action was taken at the request of H. R. Sayre, field administration chief, who cited a recent incident in Mason county where three of his officers were beaten while making an arrest.

"The fight between fish law violators and conservation officers in Mason county probably never would have happened had it been generally known that our officers carried weapons and would use them in defense of their own lives," Sayre said.

Heretofore the 180 officers have not been authorized to carry guns. But some of them had carried their own occasionally, the commission learned. A total of $5,000 will be spent for the pistols.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

Fruits are quite rushing the season. Watermelons are as plentiful and low in price as they were last season at the fourth of July. Peaches and berries also are unusually early. Pineapples continue to be abundant and cheap.

Old white potatoes, sweets and yams are gradually disappearing from market. Apples, grapefruit, Florida oranges, mushrooms and Belgian endive are also much less plentiful.

Beef and pork loins are somewhat cheaper. Spring lamb is not yet as cheap as old lamb. Small fowl and ducks are reasonable in price. Eggs are again a little higher. Fish is plentiful and cheap.

Here are three seasonable dinner menus.

Auto Accidents in Michigan During 1937 . . .

SOMEONE INJURED EVERY 17 MINUTES

. . . You May Be Next!

Does that frighten you? We hope it does. That's plain, blunt and cruel, isn't it? But almost every accident is the result of someone's carelessness. Are you the guilty one?

No . . . a thousand times no . . . you say. The careless driver seldom admits his fault because careless drivers are not always aware of the fact that they are endangering the lives of pedestrians and other motorists. They don't all know the law and because they have been driving for years they feel that any mishap must be the other fellow's fault. Long experience in driving does not make a good driver. Give us the one who is not too cocksure of his ability to avoid an accident. Give us the driver who will be courteous. Give us the careful driver of little experience who respects life and property.

SHOT AT RANDOM

Praise is also due Allison and Goss for their participation in the state meet in view of the fact they were willing to forego an evening's pleasure at the J-Hop for the honor of their school. It is more than several other members of a track team which had already won conference and regional honors were willing to sacrifice. Athletic nbility, especially in small schools, comes in cycles. There are the good and bad periods—either feast or famine—so to speak. Charlevoix high school was at the peak this year. We would venture to say that this was probably the last time in several years when athletic prowess was of sufficient caliber to take state honors. It appears that some coaching in school loyalty as well as athletic nbility would not be out of place.

Sheriff Ikens: Do you ever take a bath?

Hobo: Oh, yes, once in the summer and not so often in the winter.

After all the varying advise handed out that night up at the council chambers, it looked like Milt Block might never come to a decision regarding what kind of materinl to cover the north wall of his building alongside East Park with. He's going ahead with a stucco job that's going to look mighty neat. Anyways, it was a revelation to find out how many expert masons we had in this old town of ours.

Ike: Give me a definition for home.

Clarence: Home is where you can acratch any place that itches.

Sure saw a lot of former Charlevoixans here over the Memorial week end. It was just like a home-coming celebration. Among them was Bert Ackert from Frankfort. It was his first visit here in 20 years and he had n great time renewing old acquaintances.

HIAWATHA "BIKE" CLUB IN MEMORIAL DAY PARADE MONDAY

Approximately 60 members of the Hiawatha Safety Bicycle Club participated Monday morning in the Memorial Day celebration held here.

All bikes were appropriately decorated for the occasion with first and second prizes awarded to the boys and girls who entered the parade. These prizes were nwarded by the local Gamble Store who is sponsoring the bicycle club in this city.

First prize for the boys was awarded Charles Wexstaff while second prize went to Howard Fales. Of the girls, Betty Pearl was given first prize and Audrey Trimble ran a close second. All of the boys and girls who entered the parade deserve a great deal of credit for the manner in which their bikes were decorated. Many of them had novel ideas which proved interesting, and certainly added a great deal to the Memorial Day celebration in this city.

After the parade, members of the club held a short meeting to form plans for a great field day and parade to be held Wednesday, June 8th, when the club will sponsor a hike hike to some nearby picnic grounds for a day of races and sporting events. All members have been notified to meet Monday afternoon, June 6th for completion of these plans.

The purpose of the Hiawatha Safety Bicycle Club is to teach its members the rules of safe bicycle riding and thereby prevent any possible accidents or mishaps to youths of the city. The local Gamble Store should be commended for its efforts in undertaking promotion of such an organization.

"Young people of today are earnest and realistic as they face our torn world," he continued, "and as is always the case with adolescents they have resolved to be free. Two contrasting attitudes are always found on this subject, that of the fatalist who holds that there is no such thing as freedom, and that of the self-expressionist who declares there is nothing but. Either attitude is destructive to real freedom, for we admit with every regret, every apology, and every condemnation, our belief in our partial freedom to choose our course. On the other hand, the doctrine of free self-expression leads to confusion. The only way to be free is to live within the law of our being. We are free when we do what we ought to do without compulsion. Freedom is an achievement."

The commencement program in its entirety was outstanding. Lyle Beattie and Alice McHugh very ably gave the salutatory and valedictory addresses. Musical selections by the school band, and a flute solo by Robert Dean, accompanied at the piano by his mother, Mrs. Carleton Dean, were exceptionally fine.

The class was presented by Harry E. Bingham, high school principal, and diplomas were awarded by Mrs. Marguerite Swinton, a member of the first graduating class in 1888, which added to the significance of the anniversary commencement.

Commissions and bonuses are included as wages under the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act, and contributions must be paid on them.

LOCAL BOATMEN HELD "BEE" TO BUILD NEW DOCKS AT IRONTON

Last Wednesday evening, a bee was held at Ironton to deck the Ironton docks, which were built by the Roe Co. of Harbor Springs, and sponsored by Eveline township and the county of Charlevoix.

In spite of threatening weather, volunteers began to gather at 5:30, bringing claw hammers, machine hammers, riveting hammers and articles no carpenter would call saws, but nevertheless greatly needed, and proceeded to perform the task at hand.

They were hardly started, before a veritable armada, composed largely of the fleet of the Charlevoix Marine Club, swooped down from the north. Among them were the Miss Canusa skippered by Myron Culver and Ed. Beaudoin; the Clar-Mick with C. S. Webster and son; the Wilmet piloted by W. H. and Louis Wallace, and the decks swarming with a bunch of young bloods who came seeking the fair maidens in this new "Port of Entry". Also the Meteor with Bruce Withers as Master, and the Martha Anne, Dr. Fred Young "filling in" as Helmsman.

Among the members of the crews and guests of the above named cruisers were Harry Ladd, W. C. and J. W. Bellinger, Joe Holmes, LaVerne Hiese, Capt. Al Browe, Don Clothier, Chas. Heise, Chick Gallagher and Commodore P. D. Campbell, whose enthusiasm and cooperation, together with W. C. Bellinger, made the dock at Ironton possible.

After the deck was laid, the buccaneers were invited up to the porch of the ferry-house, where coffee and doughnuts were served by Mrs. Capt. Alexander, Mrs. Ross Alexander and daughter Jane, Mrs. Ted Dissette, Susie Myers, Betty Riggin and others.

The view from the porch at this time, with all the slips of the dock filled with visiting craft, under the critical eye of Miss Surcease, the 150 ft. submarine chaser, owned by J. C. Dissette, and the county ferry shuttling back and forth across the channel all lighted up, was indeed an imposing one, only eclipsed when one by one the cruisers cast off their moorings and headed towards home in a long procession, leaving a promise that they would soon come again and would in the meantime tell the world that Ironton had one swell dock, where everybody would be welcome.

Capt. Sam Alexander, Ross Alexander and son, Pete Bennett, Ted Dissette and son, Ralph Price, Grocer Duel, Will Johnson and son, S. W. Mower, Ernest Brown, Frank and Maurice Milward and that old pirate Bill Sanderson, were among the local people present. Special appreciation is given to W. C. Bellinger, who donated and installed all the "tie to" cleats necessary for the entire dock. —Contributed.

NEW ORDINANCE IS PASSED BY COUNCIL

PROTECTS RESIDENTS AGAINST UNWANTED PEDDLERS

Amendment of Old Nuisance Ordinance Eliminates What Were Deemed Discriminatory Features

In an effort to protect residents of Charlevoix against the unwanted invasion of peddlers, the city council Monday night amended the present nuisance ordinance to make it enforceable.

An ordinance previously adopted and drawn along lines of those in numerous other Michigan cities, including Traverse City, was deemed invalid after Judge Parm C. Gilbert in Grand Traverse county circuit court ruled that the section which eliminated farmers from being included in the category of peddlers, was discriminatory and therefore illegal.

The amendment to the nuisance ordinance passed Monday night is virtually the same as the first ordinance except that Section 1, which eliminates farmers and gardners offering for sale the produce of their own farm or garden, is changed.

The amended section of the new ordinance reads as follows:

The City of Charlevoix ordains:

Section 1. Section 1 of Ordinance 183 of the ordinances of the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1. The practice of going in and upon private residences or premises in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, by any solicitor, peddler, hawker, itinerant merchant and transient vendor of merchandise, who have not been requested or invited so to do by the owner or owners, occupant or occupants of such private residences or premises, for the purpose of soliciting orders for the sale of goods, wares and merchandise and for the purpose of disposing of and peddling or hawking the same, is hereby declared to be a nuisance and punishable as such nuisance as a misdemeanor."

The ordinance will take affect twenty days from its adoption Monday night.

GRAYLING WINS CONFERENCE BASEBALL CROWN

Defeated Charlevoix 6 to 0 in Play-Off Game Last Friday

Grayling high school continues as the Northern Michigan class C conference baseball champ.

Winner in the eastern division, Grayling trimmed Charlevoix, the western division winner, by a 6 to 0 score in last Friday's play-off at Grayling.

Peterson, Grayling hurler, was never in danger. He struck out 12 Charlevoix batters and did not issue a walk. Gallagher, who pitched for Charlevoix, had two bad innings. Grayling gathered three runs and three hits and two errors in the first inning, scored one run in the 3rd frame and two more in the 5th.

4TH OF JULY CELEBRATION ASSURED

COMMITTEES AT WORK OUTLINING DAY'S PROGRAM

City Council, Board of Commerce and Merchants Cooperating to Finance Independence Day Fete

After several weeks of hesitancy due to uncertainty of financial support, committees have started preparations for a 4th of July celebration in Charlevoix.

The program will be carried out by the entertainment committee of the Board of Commerce, with Allen Campbell as general chairman, assisted by the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, whose respective committee heads are Fenton R. Bulow and W. E. Goss.

Features of the day's entertainment, now only tentatively planned, will include street sports, water sports including swimming and boat races, baseball games, band concerts and fireworks display. Efforts are being made to bring a carnival to the city over the holiday week end.

Augmenting funds alloted by the Board of Commerce and individual business establishments of the city, the council has pledged up to $400 to finance the day's program which will provide Charlevoix's celebration in accordance with an agreement which rotates the event between Boyne City, East Jordan and Charlevoix.

THIS COUNTY INCLUDED IN AERIAL SURVEY

Three Planes Will Be Used in Project Starting This Week

A $89,415 aerial photography project will be started in Michigan this week, Chairman Maurice A. Doan of the state agricultural conservation committee has announced.

Three airplanes, flying at an altitude of 14,000 feet, will be used in making a photographic record of the agricultural layout and the highway system in 53 Michigan counties. The U. S. Department of Agriculture and the highway department are sponsoring the project.

Principal purpose of the survey is to furnish information on crop development, soil erosion and farm management to administrators of the new federal farm bill. The information also will be valuable to the highway department in obtaining a composite picture of the state's road layout.

Charlevoix county is included in the survey. Photographs of 411 square miles will be taken in this county.

CHOOSE SITE FOR HUGH GRAY CAIRN

DEDICATION CEREMONY TO BE HELD ON JUNE 28TH

Travel Men from Nation Will Gather to Pay Honor to Michigan's Veteran Resort Promotor

Travel men from the nation will gather at a point half way between the north pole and the equator near Traverse City June 28 to do honor to Hugh J. Gray, pioneer leader in the tourist business, who for twenty years has been secretary of the West Michigan Tourist & Resort Association.

The entire state of Michigan is cooperating to make the event a success worthy of the gratitude, the state feels to the man who, almost single handed, began the task twenty years ago of changing Michigan, its lumbering industry fast fading into insignificance, to a vacation paradise. It was known by that time that the old axiom of the plough following the ax of the lumberjack would not be true in the cut-over pine lands of Michigan.

With a few far sighted men Mr. Gray took over the task of proving that the pinelands could be economically rehabilitated through a cooperative program of selling Michigan as a recreational area.

Success of this cooperative program has proved itself and Michigan last year stood in the first rank among the tourist states of the nation. The annual tourist business of the state has been estimated to amount to three hundred and four hundred million dollars.

Selection of the site of the testimonial cairn was made after the committee weighed carefully the merits of several suggested sites. First it was suggested that it be located at the end of Old Mission Peninsula, near the old lighthouse, but all of the sites were withdrawn one by one from consideration in favor of the location on US-31 a few miles north of Kewadin in Antrim county. The site will be landscaped by the highway department and made a beauty spot that will halt many of the tourists on their way to and from the Michigan vacation centers.

Each of the 83 counties of Michigan has sent a stone, with the name of the county cut in it, to be included in testimonial cairn

Taken to Grand Haven to Await Hearing in Grand Rapids

William Morrell, charged with writing an extortion letter to Murray Levine, New York, demanding $20,000 for the ransom of his son, Peter, was taken late last Friday afternoon for arraignment.

He waived examination before U. S. Circuit Court Commissioner William E. Myers, who set bond at $10,000. In the custody of U. S. Marshall Edwin D. Bolger and Deputy M. Bartes of Detroit, Morrell was taken to jail in Grand Haven, where he is awaiting appearance before Judge Fred M. Raymond at Grand Rapids, in proceedings to remove him to the eastern district of Michigan, for prosecution.

Morrell, an itinerant upholsterer who at one time ran the ERA mattress factory at Cadillac, was arrested in Charlevoix by a federal agent and local officers.

Joe Foster is looking for an upholsterer. Seems that guy Morrell, who thought all you had to do to get twenty thousand bucks was write a letter, started re-upholstering a piece of Joe's furniture and didn't get done before Mr. Hoover's G-man caught up with him. They wouldn't let him out long enough to finish the job, even with a ball and chain on him, nor can he take the furniture where they'll put him to think over that letter writing affair. Looks kinda bad for Joe, alright.

Speaking about fish stories, here's a dilly. Two Boyne City lads caught over two hundred pounds of fish near Young State Park a short time ago with their bare hands. Sixteen large German carp wandered too close to shore so that the custodian saw them. He called the two lads and they rolled up their pant legs, waded into the water and threw the carp up onto the beach. It was not a bad few minutes work even if the carp are only good for fertilizer.

Results of the Iowa democratic primary last Monday (June 6) were being studied this week at the Michigan capital city as a possible "straw in the wind" on how the federal government's new relief spending program will affect the Michigan election in November.

In the case of the Gillette-Wearin primary row, WPA administrater Harry Hopkins announced that if he were voting in the Iowa primary he would support Representative Wearin "on his record". The record consisted principally of the fact that Gillette voted against Roosevelt's court reorganization plan, while Wearin voted for it.

Arthur Krock Pulitzer prize-winning Washington correspondent of the Democratic New York Times, interprets Hopkins' statement as openly putting "all the relief billions into Democrat party politics", and he points out further that during the 1936 campaign "there were many evidences that relief workers were shepherded by their State politicians-bosses to vote the Democratic ticket solidly."

Fifty Head Choice Dairy Cattle and Sires Offered at First Livestock Sale

All indications point to a highly successful dairy sale at the East Jordan fair grounds on Thursday afternoon, June 16, when the Jordan Valley Livestock Sales Association will offer fifty head of choice dairy cattle and good dairy bulls and heifers. Already, consignments have been made by more than twenty breeders with others coming in daily. John Ter Avest states that this will be the best offering he has ever seen. Charles Murphy, president, announces that a special sales ring and platform has been constructed at the fair ground to accommodate the large crowd expected and to handle the cattle to good advantage. Advertising material has gone throughout the state.

It is hoped that through this medium that farmers can obtain better prices and better satisfaction than by individual effort. All the cooperative organizations in both Antrim and Charlevoix counties are cooperating in every respect. When this announcement reaches you, you still have time in consign your cattle for this sale. See John TerAvest at East Jordan or your local cooperative manager for all details. This looks like a huge success from every viewpoint. If the sale comes up to expectations, future sales on a much larger basis will be attempted. If you are in the market to buy, this will be a most wonderful opportunity as all cattle consigned will be fresh cows or close springers and will be free from Bang's Disease and T. B. Don't forget the date of Thursday afternoon, June 16. Remember you are not obligated to buy if you attend so come and see this choice offering.

Grasshopper Campaign Will Be Started Week of June 13

The Grasshopper Control Committee has now made definite plans to start mixing poison bait the week of June 13. This year the bait will be mixed in the Snyder feed mill at Boyne Falls. After carefully totaling the request for bait it was found that Boyne Falls reaches the most farmers at a minimum of distance.

It is expected that the material will arrive this week. This year the poison bait will be given out free. This is done with the intention of encouraging more farmers to spread this material where grasshoppers will be apt to be most abundant. A notice will be sent from the county agent's office to each farmer who has requested bait, notifying them when it will be available but I think it can be safely announced that the forepart of the week of June 13 can be planned. A count made on Monday, June 6, indicates that the grasshoppers are only about sixty per cent hatched and it is thought that another week's delay will give the maximum control. The better the job is done on the first treatment the less trouble will be encountered later on.

4-H Clubs and Schools Set Out 25,000 Young Pine Seedlings

Around 25,000 red and jack pine seedlings were planted in Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Cheboygan counties by members of the 4-H clubs. In many cases a plot of ground 40 or 80 acres, was deeded to the schools by the conservation department to be used as a school forest on which trees may be planted each year. The conservation department also gives each club from 2,000 to 5,000 trees each year.

This year, Michigan State College sent two of their men, Mr. Deters and Mr. Robbins from the Forestry Department, to instruct the members on the proper method of planting and caring for the trees. The conservation department also cooperated in obtaining the land and in helping to plant the trees.

Much interest has been shown by the boys and girls in the planting of the school forest. Each member placed a stake with his name on it at the head of the row which he set out. In the fall they plan to go back and check to see how many trees are living. The forest club activities do not end with the planting and checking of trees for during the winter a program of four meetings will be held for each club. Outside speakers, who are well-qualified to talk on conservation work, will be called in on these programs.

The schools which have organized 4-H school forests are:

Antrim county—Mancelona, Alba, Bellaire and Ellsworth.

Charlevoix county — Boyne Falls and Walloon Lake.

Emmet county—Pellston.

Cheboygan county—Wolverine and Mackinaw City.

During the second week of September delegates from the various clubs will have the opportunity to attend a week at the annual conservation camp which, for the past two years, has been held at Pigeon River Camp. The camp this year might be held at Chatham—across the straits.

A glooomy silence met him. Huddled nenr the fire sat Eulalin, with the baby girl on her lap. And leaning over the fire, looking like an old witch nr Indian sorceress, Angustias stewed some evil-smelling mixture in o pannikin. At Eulalia's feet the Indian nurse crouched and looked fearfully at her charge.

"What is the matter?" asked the Governor, all his cheeriness fading in the gloomy atmosphere.

"She is sick — the baby," murmured Eulalia.

"Ah!" Don Pedro retired anxiously to a corner ond watched helplessly while the women doctored the tiny girl, rubbing her little chest with unguents, dosing her with the evil-smelling mixture that Angustias had brewed. The child fretted and cried, but at last became quiet. Her nurse carri d her from the room, and Angustias followed.

Don Pedro strode toward Eulalia, and picked her up in his arms, cuddled her on his knee as though she were a child. She did not respond, did not struggle against him. But she was slack in his embrace, inert, unresponsive.

"Is the my little flower very ill?" he asked.

"She has a bad cold. This damp house . . " She looked about her.

"Oh, a little cold . . . she has had them before. Let us not worry about her. Let us be happy, Eulalia! Let us be happy again!"

He turned her face toward him, and lifted her chin on his finger. There was not a single answering gleam in the black eyes. But he persisted.

"Pack your traveling cantina with jewels, pack a chest with your finest clothes, and let us go south, to the Presidio of Santa Barbara for the founding of the mission. It will be a great affair! There will be feasting at the presidio, a boile, and the Queen of California should be there. And what is more, we will find summer there, Fray Fermin writes me, for the sun shines on the southland and it is already spring! Come with me, Eulalia!"

With scarcely any change in ner expression the lady shook her head.

"Ah, come, querida!" He held her closely, and whispered, "Let us make a little moon of honey of the expedition . . . a luna de miel! Yes!"

Eulalia pulled away from him, her face settling in stern lines.

"You should not ask me ta go oway from my sick child. And I do not think that you should go and leave her either."

Don Pedro loosened his arms. "That is nonsense, of course. She is not that ill, and besides she is in very good hands with Angustias. Nevertheless, I shall have to go anyway, for without me the founding of the mission is not legal." He stood, and she slipped off from his lap on to the floor gazing into the fire. The Governor began pacing the length of the sala.

"Yes, I should go no matter whether it were necessary nr not. The Mission Santa Barbara! At last, oh, at long last! It will be a happy day for me, and a happy and significant day for California when that mission is founded. When I think of all the talks and quarrels I had with my poor Padre Junipero about it, I am overjoyed to think that finally the mission is to be founded. Yes, I shall be there."

Eulalia glanced obliquely at him from where she sat. He was tugging his beard ann did not see her.

"Junipero Serrn!" she thought bitterly. "Can he never be entirely at rest? Is his spirit to follow me nlways; hount and punish me?" She shivered.

Pedro Fages delayed preparing for his trip until the last possible day, and with a deep disappointment in his heart, resolved to say nothing mnre to Eulalia. But he was frightened about her, os she sat hour after hour, saying nnthing, doing nothing, but watching the fire nnd listening to the rain that lashed the little house unmercifully. The baby was no better but certoinly no worse, yet he saw it wos hopeless to persuade his lady to go with him.

On the morning when he had planned his departure he stood before her, stern, unhappy.

"I must tell you adios, Senora," he said formally. "I will return as quickly as possible."

She said nothing, only turned and looked at him.

"Ah, come, Eulalia!" he exclaimed suddenly, his reserve breaking. "Come with me . . ."

"No," she replied coldly, "I will not come. Are you really going . . . actually going to leave me here, sick and miserable, with an ailing child, and a couple of silly women to take care of me? Are you really going?"

"Pues, my dear, you are not ill. You are just unhappy, you should . . ."

"Not ill! How can you say that? What do you know of me? I am ill, I am dying, I tell you! Hour by hour, day by day, I am dying in this place! Yet you will leave me, to go to your fiestas, and your mission foundings, and let me die alone!"

"Eulalia, this is not true. Control yourself!"

"Control myself!" She rose to her feet. "How dare you say that to me? What have I been doing, but controlling myself, my thoughts, my unhappiness, all this time! I am sick, I tell you I am dying!"

She was crying, hysterically, uncontrollably. Pedro reached to take her into his arms, hut she evaded him, screaming out at him unintelligibly.

"Eulalia . . . Eulalia . . ." he said.

But she was in the full sway of her emotions, a flood of feeling was carrying her along, and she did not struggle against the tide.

"Miserable, unhappy place!" she screamed. "I want to get away from this California! Never see it again! If I don't, I tell you, I shall die, or kill myself! No, don't touch me . . . keep away from me! Go to your Mission Santa Barbara, go . . . go. Ai, Dios!" She flung her hands above her head and clasped them, for the moment utterly bereft of her reason. As her hu nd came near to her, she leaped suddenly backward. "Beast! Devil!" she screamed, and crashed to the floor.

Her head struck a corner of the heavy table, and as she lay on the dirt floor, blood streamed from her temple.

Her screams had at last brought Angustias, frightened, into the room, and she was on her knees beside the now motionless figure before Fages.

"She has fainted," exclaimed Angustias breathlessly, "and cut her head . . . pobrecillo."

Pedro Fages threw his hat, gauntlets and riding whip inta a corner.

"Oh, God!" he muttered. "Oh, my God!" Then he lifted the lady in his arms and carried her ta her bed.

So the Mission of Santa Barbara was founded without the Governor of California being present.

But when the mission was already ten days old, the Governor, his son and a small party arrived at the place. Another ceremony was carried out in solemn reverence, at which the Governor attended with a stern set face. And when the rites were over, he knelt for a long time before the crude altar. Those who watched near him said when he arose, his face was wet with tears.

"He was Junipero Serra's good friend," they explained to one another pityingly. "He is thinking of him now no doubt."

So, though the legal dote of the founding of the Mission Santa Barbara was the fourteenth of December, that being the day when the Governor was present, the Governor always insisted that the real founding was on the Feast of the Lady Santa Barbara herself, that being December fourth.

The Governor lingered not for celebrations nor fiestas, but returned at once to Monterey.

"Now," he said to himself, looking back at the little spot where the church was to stand. "Now, at last, Padre Junipero, your prayers are answered, and my vows are kept."

CHAPTER XXV

For nearly three years, ever since Don Pedro had gone south to the founding of the Mission Sonto Barbara, Eulalia hod lived in as chaste a state as the old Spanish virgin. At first she had denied herself to him through sheer lossitude, then, realizing his need of her, his seeming dependence upon her, she had purposely withheld herself. She had determined that there should he favor for favor. For the privilege of holding her in his arms, he was to return with her to Mexico.

The plan had seemed beautifully simple to her, but when she mentioned it to her husband he had turned on her a strange unbelieving look, tugged his beard, muttered something about prostitution, and set up a camp cot in his office by the presidio gate.

So three years had passed. Don Pedro grew a little leaner, and his face a little wolfish with gleaming eyes and grizzled beard, but always stern, uncompromising. And Eulalia, with everything at stake upon her attractiveness, grew more beautiful, but nervously alert. Her black eyes were wory and predatory.

One day Angustias marched boldly toward her with a determined tread that bespoke some matter of import brewing in her mind.

"Nina!" she spoke sharply, standing with arms okimbo. "You will pardon me for speaking to you this way: God is my witness, I have kept quiet long enough. But this thing goes too far!"

"What thing?" murmured Eulalia easily.

"You know well enough. This thing of Don Pedro, bless his heart, sleeping down at his office. Three years! Humph!" She snorted loudly.

"Perhaps it is not fitting that a single woman, such as I, should speak of such things. Indeed it is painful, difficult, for me to do so, but I must . . ."

Eulalia smonthed an eyebrow with a finger-tip. "Um-m-m," she murmured. "I think I shall take a walk. Across the presidio. And call on his Excellency in his office." She rose grandly ond, holding her skirts aloof from the dust, walked erectly across the parade-ground.

In his office the Governor was puzzling over a letter he had received by a courier from San Francisco. So that when Eulalia swept imperiously into the office, he greeted her absently although surprisedly.

Eulalia sat impatiently in the chair he offered her, and looked around the office while the Governor talked excitedly. The whitewashed walls were hung with maps, crisscrossed with marks of trails over unknown country which Don Pedro himself had explored. His few books, which he had moved from the palacio, were on a rough shelf. And in one corner was his camp cot. She lifted her nose disdainfully at the crude furnishings as she remembered the splendid fittings of the viceregal palace at Mexico City. A fine office for the Governor of all the Californias!

She fretted uneasily, but the Governor did not notice her.

"So they dare!" he was saying, "they dare, these rash new people, to send ships to our Pacific Coast, which they must well know is territory of the King of Spain! What kind of people are they, in God's name! Are they not contented with the whole Atlantic Coast, that they must send ships here! I do not mind confessing to you, gentlemen, that I fear these people. They will make us trouble some day, mark my words. This continent, large as it is, is not large enough to hold us all. We should exterminate them."

Several officers nodded anxiously in assent.

"Well, these ships from . . . what is it they call themselves?"

"Los Estados Unidos de America."

More Operator Licenses Issued This Year Than Last

Figures just released from the Operators and Chauffeurs Division of the Department of State show that more operator licenses have been issued to date than during the same period last year. Up to June first there were 385,150 operator licenses issued as compared to 184,286 issued during the first five months of 1937.

In the two month period since the new compulsory examination law has been in effect there have been 108,595 licenses issued as compared with 90,360 issued during the same period of last year.

The issuing of duplicate operator licenses is also a big item in the operation of the department. So far this year 12,297 people have either lost or misplaced their operator's license against 11,439 of last year.

High Geared
BLUE SUNOCO
THE ONLY TRUE BLUE MOTOR FUEL than any other gasoline
Here's a story of motor fuel superiority . . . told, not by its manufacturer, but by the most critical of its users:—owners of new cars with high compression engines. These experienced drivers ranked Blue Sunoco first by 57.5% more votes than the next highest on the list . . . gave it 95% as many votes as the next two gasolines put together. Many of these gasolines were well-known premium-priced fuels. Certainly, facts like these should convince you that High Geared Blue Sunoco is the motor fuel for your car . . . because—since new cars require a better gasoline to perform satisfactorily, obviously such a gasoline will surely perform as well or possibly better in older cars. OLD REEFER CARS FIT FRUIT INDUSTRY

Lower Michigan Farmers Find Experiment Cheap and Satisfactory

Retired refrigerator cars may find an increasingly important place in the Michigan fruit industry. Two converted last year by growers at St. Clair and Hopkins, Mich., are to be tested again this summer with ice and with mechanical refrigeration in temporary storage of freshly picked fruit.

Surveys of the project by H. A. Cardinell, horticulturist of Michigan State College, indicate there is logic in "obtaining a three thousand dollar storage room for as little as $139."

Carl Schweikert, Hopkins, bought a retired refrigerator car in Milwaukee, Wis., for $175 with an charge for hauling the car to Kalamazoo. He paid $9.82 to have the car switched off at Hopkins. He paid another six dollars for timbers and blocking and paid out forty-two dollars for jacking and moving the car 1½ miles.

In the meantime, however, junk dealers bid anxiously for the scrap iron. The successful dealer obtained more than 10 tons of scrap from the running gear, wheels, bumpers, coupling units and air equipment. Schweikert received $92.93 for the junk.

In the fruit season as much as 800 bushels of peaches were stored in the car at a time, cooled with fan and icing. During one severe price drop the grower held on to the carlot for 10 days and obtained $1.10 a bushel instead of the earlier price of 35 cents.

Both Schweikert and Dr. L. G. Morrill, St. Clair, the other experimenter, used their cars later in the season for fall and winter apple storage with air cooling.

LARGE GATHERING AT POLE SETTING FETE

Start of Rural Electric Line at Boyne Celebrated Saturday

While the weather was not conducive to large attendance, the pole setting celebration of the Top O' Michigan Rural Electric Company passed off in good style on Saturday afternoon. It was preceded by a basket picnic at Riverside Park after which a parade of 200 cars proceeded to the site of the pole setting.

B. C. Mellencamp, Charlevoix county agricultural agent, acted as master of ceremonies, and Leon Miller, project attorney, briefly outlined the history of the local project. Thos. A. Colter, project superintendent, spoke as to the expected progress during the near future. Roy A. White, project engineer, also gave a brief talk. The county agricultural agents of Antrim, Emmet, Otsego, Presque Isle and Oceana counties were introduced as well as the members of the Board of Directors of the REA project now getting under way in Oceana county.

The officers and directors of the Top O' Michigan Rural Electric Company were also introduced. The concluding speaker on the program was C. A. Winder, chief engineer of the Michigan Public Utilities Commission. Two poles were set by crews contesting for prizes and holes were dug, the poles raised and the filling and tamping completed in a period of 18 minutes. There were around 750 people present and great interest was shown by all in the future of the project. The program concluded with the awarding of a large number of gate prizes provided by Boyne City merchants.

The officers of the company desire to emphasize the fact that prospective customers not on the first construction should get their memberships in to the office of the company at once in order to assure the securing of a further allotment to be available in July, providing sufficient memberships are secured. Members coming in for the second allotment may be assured of service yet this year.

MORE CARS, LESS PASSENGERS, AT STRAITS

Slight Increase in Vehicles Reported by Highway Department

Vehicular traffic at the Straits of Mackinac increased one-half of one per cent the first five months of this year over last year, but the number of passengers carried by the state ferries decreased six-tenths of one per cent, the state highway department reported today.

The first four months of the year both items averaged six per cent above the corresponding period of 1937, but the 29 per cent decrease in Straits traffic over the Memorial Day week end reduced the total.

The first five months of this year 33,268 vehicles were ferried across the Straits, compared with 33,097 and 47,414 passengers this year compared with 47,720 last.

RESORT OWNERS SEE BIG TOURIST SEASON

Concrete or Asphalt Roads Seen as An Aid to Industry

Bright prospects for the 1938 tourist season were painted for members of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association and the Michigan Hotel Association at their joint sessions in Ludington last Friday.

Predicting that "flying tourists" with their own planes would be prevalent in the future, Col. Floyd E. Evans, state aeronautics director, urged construction of landing fields in resort communities.

Notice

To The Public:

To correct a misapprehension which seems to exist in some quarters relative to the duties and powers of the City Treasurer, I want to make it plain that the Treasurer has nothing whatever to do with light and water bills except to receive the money therefor and credit it to the proper accounts. He has no authority to change the figures on any bill nor to allow or disallow discount, nor has he anything whatever to do with forcing collection of such accounts by sending out dunning notices, shutting off current, etc. In short, he is not in any way—directly nor—indirectly—connected—with the electric light and water department. He keeps no records of current or gallonage and has nothing to do with reading meters, changing addresses, granting extensions of time for payment of bills, or adjusting complaints.

The treasurer's sole function, under the law, is to receive all moneys paid into the city from all sources and to properly account for and deposit the same in the legally designated depositories. He only acts as collector in the case of taxes on personal property, in which case he has authority from the State of Michigan to levy upon the goods and chattels of the delinquent taxpayer. He also has some duties in connection with elections.

FRED V. TYLER, Treasurer,
City of Charlevoix.

Notice -- Dog Owners

Pursuant to request of the Board of Supervisors I am publishing herewith resolution of Claims Committee, adopted by Board of Supervisors at the April Session, relative to unlicensed dogs in Charlevoix county.

Resolution

"WHEREAS a large majority of owners of dogs annually neglect and refuse to pay their dog tax, AND WHEREAS the neglect and refusal has caused a serious condition, due to the small amount of revenue collected and the large expenditures of funds for the payment of damage done by dogs. This Board of Supervisors has coped with this condition until all efforts and patience have been exhausted, therefore

BE IT RESOLVED, that the County Treasurer furnish to the Prosecuting Attorney and to the Sheriff on June 15th, a list of all owners of dogs that are delinquent under the dog law, and

RESOLVED, that the Prosecuting Attorney issue warrants under the law and that the Sheriff be instructed to serve same, and

RESOLVED, that the Prosecuting Attorney have a notice of this action published in all the papers of the County stating these facts and that the dog law will be strictly enforced."

On and after June 15th, every unlicensed dog which was 3 months old or over on June 1st, and otherwise subject to license, is considered a public nuisance, and may be located and killed by the Sheriff or any member of the Department of Public Safety. Anyone owning, harboring or keeping an unlicensed dog after June 15th is liable to a fine of not to exceed $100.00 or imprisonment not exceeding 3 months or both. A license tag must be kept on the dog at all times except when engaged in lawful hunting accompanied by its owner or custodian. Dogs must be confined upon the premises of its owner or custodian at night except when otherwise under the reasonable control of some person.

Please see that Your Dog has a License before June 15

The Board of Supervisors has cut the fee of late years to a minimum to make it possible for everyone to pay. Let us try to co-operate with them. Licenses are obtainable now only from the County Treasurer.

Respectfully,

C. M. BICE,
Prosecuting Attorney.

Mr. Kroch continues: "Since the Administration has spent about $21,000,000,000 in various forms of relief—of which more than $14,000,000,000 has gone into non-recoverable items—and since millions of men and women look to Washington for continuation and favor on the rolls, the importance of the Hopkins revelation is clear."

Recent WPA-relief figures for Michigan disclosed that one of every four persons is dependent today on the government. In view of this fact, it is more and more apparent that the vast federal pump priming program, spending billions through WPA and direct relief, will be no insignificant factor in Michigan's 1938 general election regardless of what party leaders may have to say.

Getting Your Share

When the federal government has billions of dollars to hand out, whether for highways, parks, swimming pools or whatnot—you can find few voters who do not insist on getting their share. The same voters may disapprove of vast public spending, as a recent Gallup survey showed, but if it is to be done, local leaders rush to Washington to make sure the home community will get its proportionate part of the cash.

The psychology is this: "If you have to contribute by taxes to spending, get as much of the money as you can."

Scores of federal postoffices have been built in Michigan, largely due to this public pressure.

Once you come to this conclusion, the next step is to favor the election, or re-election, of a representative who stands well with the White House and has a good chance of getting a slice of the pie.

More than one Republican voted for Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, because he wanted local highway improvements and believed that "Pat" could get more federal road money than an anti-New Dealer. Vice-President Garner put it this way: "You can't beat an administration with billions of dollars to spend." It looks like Jack was right.

Fry Sounds Warning

In view of the possible implications of the vast federal relief spending, the recent utterances of State Treasurer Theodore I. Fry, an old-line, stalwart Democrat, are quite remarkable.

Now serving his third term, Treasurer Fry warned that the WPA and PWA was tending to increase dependency upon government and that continuation of such paternalism over any length of time would inevitably result in a "millstone—of ever increasing taxation."

In view of the increased spending in Michigan, $14,500,000 of state money being expended since last July 1, Fry's declaration indicated that taxpayers might have a foot higher cost of welfare either directly in form of new or higher taxes or indirectly in form of higher commodity prices. He warned further that in England where a fourth of the population depends on a dole, citizens are taxed one-fourth of their income. How about Michigan? Draw your own conclusion.

Swing to the Right

Frank Fitzgerald, republican candidate for governor, has indicated that economy and home-rule for relief may be his leading campaign issues, if he wins the party nomination next September.

Harry Toy, rival candidate, has been emphasizing law and order.

With these statements in mind, observers here find it significant that the state administration has made definite "turns to the right", of which Fry's speech at Fremont was one. Budget Director Harold Smith, collaborating with Governor Murphy, announces he will institute so-called drastic economies for the next fiscal year, starting July 1. Department heads are warned to curtail expenditures or else run the risk of the state being unable to meet payrolls, now over $2,000,000 a month.

And to the Toy appeal for law and order, Governor Murphy told 5,000 members of the A. F. of L. and CIO at Saginaw that "unions must stop unauthorized strikes and the seizure of property." The reference to "property seizure" recalls the 1938 seizure of utility plants by the CIO and the widespread sit-down epidemic of 1937.

Labor and Industry

Because of CIO—Goodyear labor trouble at Akron, a representative of the Akron Chamber of Commerce recently told B. C. Forbes, Hearst financial writer, "it was useless to attempt to attract any new industry whatsoever to Akron."

Akron's ill fortune, however, has been the good fortune of one Michigan small city—situated far from the automobile belt—which has secured a Goodyear tire factory, employing 200 persons, and only recently received inside confirmation of the company's decision to double the plant facilities.

Reverse the order and you have a possible picture of what may happen in certain Michigan industrial centers.

AT THE MOVIES

Laurel and Hardy Come to Palace Screen in 'Swiss Miss', Gay Comedy With Music

The inimitable, internationally beloved comedians, Laurel and Hardy, make their first co-starring appearance on the screen in more than a year in "Swiss Miss", a musical-comedy extravaganza laid in the Alps, which opens June 11 at the Palace Theatre as one of the most spectacular and pretentious feature-length productions ever turned out by the Hal Roach studios.

A cast of striking distinction supports the comedy kings in the new film, considerable interest being given the fact that the picture marks the debut on the American screen of Della Lind, hailed as one of Europe's most beautiful singing stars.

Peter Lorre Star in New 'Moto' Hit

Showing June 13-14 at the Palace Theatre, "Mr. Moto's Gamble" stars Peter Lorre in the title role and features Keye Luke, Dick Baldwin, Lynn Bari, Douglas Fowley, Jayne Regan, Harold Huber and Maxie Rosenbloom in the cast.

Cowboy Sings As He Shows Riding Feats

Thrilling feats of daring horsemanship highlight many of the dramatic moments of Principal Productions' outdoor adventure film, "Hawaiian Buckaroo", which opens June 15 at the Palace Theatre.

Starring Smith Ballew, famed cowboy songster, in the title role, the Twentieth Century-Fox release brings the roaring action of America's great Southwest to the tropical island paradise of Hawaii. This marks the first time that a Western drama has utilized this "natural" locale.

New Singing Find in "Battle" Film

For the first time since she has appeared on the screen, Louise Hovick will sing in 20th Century-Fox's comedy of the American Legionnaires in New York, "Battle of Broadway", opening June 17 at the Palace Theatre.

Miss Hovick sings a new number by Sidney Clare and Harry Akst, "The Daughter of Mademoiselle", the modern successor to the famous sweetheart of the A. E. F.

Victor McLaglen heads the cast of the film, and his pal between punches is Brian Donlevy.

Made Themselves Welcome

Oxford—The thieves that entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Allen while the owners were on a trip to St. Louis, Mo., made use of all available accommodations. Besides taking a radio, electric clock, two overcoats, two suits, and other wearing apparel belonging to the Allen's, the intruders, took a bath in the "hosts'" tub and spent the night in their bed.

RHUBARB HERALDS SUMMER'S FOODS

It takes rhubarb and some of the many pastries into which "pieplant" can spring to let Michigan families really know that a new season of homegrown foods has arrived.

Two dishes suggested by Jeanette Lee, instructor in foods at Michigan State College, are typical.

One is a pastry called spring tartlet. Ingredients are one cup of flour, one fourth teaspoon of salt, one third cup of butter and two tablespoons of sugar, one tablespoon lemon juice and some ice water.

Blend the butter with flour and salt and moisten with cold water to which the lemon juice has been added. Line muffin tins with the pastry and bake in a hot oven. When tartlets are cool, remove from tins and fill with rhubarb mixture.

The rhubarb mixture is simply made. A well seasoned rhubarb sauce is mixed with diced pineapple and strawberries, garnished with sweetened whipped cream.

For another standby, Miss Lee recommends individual deep dish rhubarb pie.

This takes four cups rhubarb cut in half inch pieces, two cups sugar, quarter cup of flour and quarter teaspoon of salt and one egg.

Mix together the sugar, flour and salt and egg which has been slightly beaten. Combine thoroughly with rhubarb and arrange in individual casseroles. Prepare plain pastry—roll out and cut circles large enough to well cover the top of the casseroles. Gash pastry in center of circles—place in casseroles and press edges firmly in place. Bake in a very hot oven (450°F.) for 30 minutes. If top crust browns too quickly reduce the heat after the first 10 minutes, and finish baking at 375°F.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Cora Anthony

Berries, strawberries, raspberries, blackberries and wild and cultivated blueberries, are storming the markets. Bing cherries keep them company. Peaches are big and luscious for so early in the season. Small cantaloupes and oranges are better value than large.

Beans and asparagus are less plentiful; beets, broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower and spinach more so. Lettuce is now low in price and tomatoes extremely cheap for the season.

Chickens, ducklings and spring lamb are moderately priced delicacies. Beef is still reasonable. Fish is plentiful and inexpensive. The rise in egg prices has stopped for the time being.

Here are three seasonable dinner menus.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.
Sunday school, 12 o'clock.
Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.
Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.
We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"God the Preserver of Man" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 12.

The Golden Text, (Isaiah 31:5), is "As birds flying, so will the Lord of hosts defend Jerusalem; defending also he will deliver it; and passing over he will preserve it."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isaiah 40:11): "He shall feed his flock like a shepherd: he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that are with young."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 518): "Love giveth to the least spiritual idea might, immortality, and goodness, which shine through all as the blossom shines through the bud. All the varied expressions of God reflect health, holiness, immortality — infinite Life, Truth, and Love."

FOREST FIRES LOWEST IN PAST SIX SEASONS

Rains During Spring Season Have Kept Fires to a Minimum

Fewer forest fires have occurred in the state this spring, up to the middle of this month, than during any spring except one for the last six years.

Aided by frequent rains which lessened early season hazards, the fire organization reports only about 3,000 acres burned over thus far. The exact report through the week ending May 17 showed a total of 281 fires and 3,042 acres burned.

Excepting 1936, the total is considerably smaller than that for any spring at the same date, for six years.

After January 1, 1939, the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission will pay benefits for partial employment.

There are nearly 10,000 different classifications of jobs filed in the offices of the Michigan State Employment Service.

WAIT FOR PRICE, WOOL MEN ADVISE

Ways to beat the present low trend in wool market prices are being stressed by leaders in the Michigan Cooperative Wool Marketing association.

In spite of a higher quality wool, Michigan fleeces are not bringing the necessary premium to encourage selling now. Leaders in the state cooperative recommend applications by wool growers for consignment to the wool marketing corporation with subsequent government loan at low interest rate and opportunity to wait in selling until the fall rise in price. Information is available from county agricultural agents.

MINOR DOESN'T NEED LICENSE, BUT MUST OBSERVE FISHING LAW

Even though little Johnny doesn't have to have a fishing license until after his 17th birthday, he can't go out and catch a mess of fish for ma and pa, out of season.

Inquiries received by the department of conservation concerning that point raised the question. The law does not require a fishing license of anyone under 17 years of age. But minors, no less than others, are subject to season and limit regulations.

TIRE SAFETY
On May 30, Floyd Roberts shattered all track records for the 500-mile Indianapolis Race, averaging 117.2 miles an hour using Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires.

FOR 19 CONSECUTIVE YEARS THE WINNERS OF THE INDIANAPOLIS 500-MILE RACE HAVE PROTECTED THEIR LIVES WITH FIRESTONE GUM-DIPPED TIRES

THEY said it couldn't be done — that tires could not withstand the torture of the new high speeds. Yet Floyd Roberts set a new record, at this year's Indianapolis Race, averaging 117.2 miles an hour for the 500 miles on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires.

With the sun-baked brick of the straight-away and the granite-hard surface of the turns pulling and grinding at their tires, 33 daring drivers, every one on Firestone Tires, waged a thrilling battle for gold and glory. Never before have tires been called upon to take such punishment. Never in all the history of the motor car has tire safety been put to such a gruelling test. Yet not one tire failed — not one single cord loosened — because Gum-Dipping, that famous Firestone patented process saturates and coats every cotton fiber in every cord in every ply with liquid rubber counteracting the tire-destroying internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

Why risk your life and the lives of others on unsafe tires? Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign today by equipping your car with Firestone Triple-Safe Tires — the only tires made that are safety-proved on the speedways for your protection on the highways.

Boy Bites Dog

Lapeer—That old typical example of what a news story is actually took place here recently. Four-year-old Jack Conners stopped at the home of Mrs. H. C. Kudner for his daily cookie. His dog, Peggy, found a baby robin on the ground in the Kudner yard and brought it to her master. When the dog refused to give up the bird, Jack bent down and bit Peggy on the forehead, whereupon the dog dropped the robin.

Crystal Falls — If she completes this, her senior year, without an absence or tardy mark on her record, Miss Krja Koivo will have achieved an attendance mark that has been bettered by only one or two students in the history of Crystal Falls schools. She has not missed a day nor been late for a single class since she was a student in the sixth grade.

An Informative Watch

Ovid—A highly informative watch is now on display in a local jewelry store. This unique timepiece, which was carried in the California gold fields in 1849, tells not only the time of day, but also the month of the year, the day of the week, the day of the month, and different phases of the moon.

Where the West Begins

Iron River — For John Anguilm, conservation officer who resides in this city, the West begins at Watersmeet, a town 34 miles distant. John has never been further west than Watersmeet, and although he is an employe of the state of Michigan, he has not gone to the western limits of the state at Ironwood. However, he has travelled eastward to the Atlantic ocean.

Rare Giant Hawk Shot

Lapeer—A rare species of hawk, whose identity has not yet been determined, was recently shot down near the Genesee county line. The bird measured five and a half feet between wing tips, and weighed four and a half pounds. It had been seen to seize wild ducks on a nearby lake and carry them skyward.

Buried Motto Discovered

Fenton—While Adam Richter was tearing up the kitchen floor at his farm home near here, he found between the floors a motto printed by hand on a sheet of cardboard, bearing the words, "Love Not Sleep, Lest Thou Come To Poverty". The card was signed by William Owen and was dated 1860.

Teacher Commutes to Class

Iron River—Most train commuters live in suburbs of great cities, but there is one commuter here who makes use of train service to carry him to the school where he teaches. His name is John P. Curley, night school instructor in Caspian. Boarding a train at Iron River at 6:45 p. m., he arrives in Caspian in time for his first class at seven.

TWENTY-NINE EXAMINED BY TB X-RAY AT BOYNE

Clinic Financed by Tuberculosis Xmas Seal Sales Is Held

Twenty-nine Charlevoix county residents recently were examined by means of the diagnostic chest x-ray for any evidence of tuberculosis. The Christmas seal tuberculosis clinic was conducted in Charlevoix county by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association in cooperation with the District Health Unit No. 3, under the direction of Dr. Carleton Dean.

Christmas seal pennies raised in the local sale of seals financed the clinic almost entirely. X-ray films were taken by Arnold J. Linden, technician in charge of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association's portable X-ray unit. The films have been sent to Gaylord where they will be read and interpreted by tuberculosis specialists.

The purpose of the Association's state-wide tuberculosis clinics is to provide modern examination for all who have been exposed to an active case of the White Plague. Early check-up, the Association explained, helps to prevent the spread of the disease among contacts—a group in which there are many potential cases.

Discovery of early tuberculosis is almost impossible without the x-ray. Although the warning symptoms are so slight that they often pass unnoticed, the x-ray can detect the disease in its earliest stages. Then the observance of simple health rules will help to halt the onset of the dangerous adult type of the disease. Modern weapons of discovery have given many the opportunity to check tuberculosis.

The first checks for unemployment compensation will not be paid until about August 1st. Claims can be made after July 1st, but there is a three week waiting period before benefits start.

Approximately four fifths of the workers in Michigan, 1,400,000, are covered by unemployment compensation.

City, State, County or Federal employees are not eligible for unemployment compensation benefits.

TOO EXPENSIVE FOR ANYONE

From the standpoint of dollars and cents, as well as of health, no one can afford tuberculosis. Not only is the disease an irreparable drain on physical vitality, but it also involves a heavy loss to individual and to community.

The person who contracts the White Plague loses his earning power for the duration of his treatment. His future capacity for self-support, too, often must be adapted to his changed physical condition. If his disease is discovered in the early stages, he can be treated for a year at an average cost of $810, the expense being borne by his county and the state. Case-finding records of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association show, however, that tuberculosis is not usually found until it is well advanced, when treatment for a year costs $1,620.

Unlike other infectious diseases, early tuberculosis is symptomless and seldom is accompanied by any noticeable feeling of illness. That is why many neglect to be thoroughly and periodically examined for evidence of the disease before it makes any headway in the lungs. A tuberculosis test taken with the yearly medical examination is the best way to prevent the development of tuberculosis in an individual. It will show within forty-eight hours or no tuberculosis germs are present in the body of the tested person. If the test is positive, meaning that at some time or other infection has occurred, an x-ray picture of the chest will show the extent of damage, if any, to the lung tissue. The cost of a tuberculosis test is negligible; the saving in money and in health is immeasurable.

crably over a month now since the wash-out at Loch creek and as far as anyone can see, nothing has been done about it. Everybody would like to see a relocation of the highway, but right now they would rather see something done to place it back in use, even if it was just to fill the hole sufficiently to allow traffic to cross.

There's a lot of food for thought and more for action in the contents of the following letter from Joseph H. King, Chicago, well known Charlevoix summer resident. We quote Mr. King:

"As you know, I have been a subscriber to the Courier for a good number of years. I have likewise been a taxpayer in your county and a member of the Chicago Club for twenty-five years. I do get about the country. I do read advertisements and one of the things that seems to be so inconsistent with our times is the advertising of the city of Charlevoix as the 'City Beautiful' but being made as homely as it can possibly be made by local, state and national advertisers. The approach to your city from the south is the ugliest thing I have seen in a long time, all due to the numerous billboards that line Highway 31.

"I am wondering if you could not use your good auspices with your city council, your chamber of commerce, and any other organization that you have in your midst, to work against this national eyesore.

"I am cutting from 'House and Garden' which magazine you probably saw, but for fear you miss this one, I would like to quote it. The title is: 'Will some advertiser try it?' Quote: 'Why wouldn't it be a good idea for some long-headed and altruistic manufacturer, instead of marring the landscape with signboards, to take over one hundred or so sections of barren public highways, plant them with trees and shrubs, and maintain the planting? A modest sign would give him credit. Instead of bill posters he would employ gardeners. Instead of ugliness he would create beauty for the weary roadside pilgrim.'

"The above seems to me to have wonderful appeal and in my opinion the psychology would be great. Now that you have made a start in cleaning up the lake front, why wouldn't it be a grand idea to clean up Charlevoix's back yard? I am sure you realize what I mean and I hope you will take it in the spirit in which I have written it."

Things certainly happened in a "big way" to members of the Courier crew Saturday. Foreman Courson is the proud papa of a baby daughter, born at Charlevoix Hospital. Mother and daughter are doin' fine. Our office secretary, Beth Heise, got herself married to Dan Geneit. Mr. and Mrs. Geneit . . . . well, they'll be home late this week.

The steelhead trout really started "hitting" in Lake Charlevoix, Sunday, and believe me, it made a lot of fellows happy. The light spring "run" up to last week end sure had the trolling camp boys worried, but things are rosier now. Saw one party of four come in with 7 nice ones at Don Clothier's camp. Just about every boat out (except yours truly) had one or two. Either Nick or that yaller dog of his is a Jonah.

It only takes a little work to make a whole lot of difference in the appearance of things. If you don't believe so, just take a look at those flower beds on each side of the entrance sidewalk at Lakeview Inn.

POPULAR LOCAL YOUNG COUPLE WED SATURDAY

Miss Carol Beth Heise and Dan W. Geneit Speak Nuptial Vows

At a pretty home wedding solemnized Saturday evening, Miss Carol Beth Heise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Heise, was united in marriage to Dan W. Geneit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Geneit, at the State street residence of her parents.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. R. Parker of the Congregational church, beneath an arch of bridalwreath and pink hawthorne in a room candle-lit and beautiful with flowers. The attendants were Miss Anna Mae Thorsen of Grand Rapids, and the groom's brother, Grover Jr. Mrs. William Foster played the wedding march.

The bride was charming in a gown of white satin. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and lillies of the valley and wore a beautiful wreath of orange blossom in her hair. The bridesmaid wore a gown of light blue chiffon and a corsage of orchids and lillies of the valley.

Out-of-town guests included Miss Thorsen and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eastway and children of Grand Rapids. Refreshments were served following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Geneit are graduates of Charlevoix high school and popular members of the local younger set. Mr. Geneit is a member of the local postoffice staff and Mrs. Geneit has a position at the Charlevoix Courier. They will return late this week from a honeymoon trip to Detroit.

BEAVER ISLAND HIGH WAS PROJECT SIGNED

President Roosevelt Approved WPA Allotment of $27,922 June 2

A telegraphic communication from Cong. John Lesche carried the information that President Roosevelt has signed a WPA project carrying an allotment of $27,922 for improvement of county roads on Beaver Island.

The project, covering all highways on the island, is sponsored by the Charlevoix county road commission. Final confirmation by the Comptroller General is expected at an early date.

HOLIDAY TRAFFIC AT STRAITS WAS OFF 29%

Inclement Weather Seen As Reason for Drop In Tourist Travel

Two "barometers" used by the state highway department in gauging Michigan's tourist travel recorded opposite readings for the first holiday of the summer season.

Traffic of the Straits of Mackinac for Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday of the Memorial Day week end slumped 29 per cent under the volume for the same four days last year. On the other hand, registrations at the highway tourist lodge on US-12 near New Buffalo increased 25 per cent.

Ferries at the Straits, operating on summer schedule for the first time this year, transported 4,078 vehicles during the 4-day holiday season this year. This compared with 5,795 vehicles for the same period a year ago. The figures at the tourist lodge were 3,515 registrations this year compared with 2,797 a year ago.

Varnum B. Stelzbaugh, deputy highway commissioner, attributed the traffic reduction at the Straits in part to inclement weather. He pointed out that traffic for the first four months of this year showed a 6 per cent increase over the same period a year ago.

Committees of the Charlevoix Board of Commerce have the stage all set for the entertainment Friday, June 17th, of members of the Detroit Board of Commerce arriving here at noon for a 12-hour stay on their annual cruise.

Charlevoix received some fine publicity Monday night as advance notices of the cruise were heralded over the Detroit News radio station WWJ. Charlevoix's recreational facilities were given wide public acclaim as plans for entertainment of the cruisers were outlined over the air.

According to present plans, the cruise ship City of Detroit III will anchor off the pier entrance and the passengers will be lightered ashore. Capt. Leroy Allers has offered to make two trips with the Mary Margaret and others will be brought in by members of the Charlevoix Marine Club with their boats. The passengers will be landed at the municipal yacht slips, foot of Mason street. Those furnishing automobiles to transport the visitors are requested to report there at 12:15 p. m.

Gordon Todd, secretary of the Board of Commerce, reports latest advices were that 313 registrations have been made for the cruise. Entertainment features will include a golf tournament at the Belvedere course, softball and horseshoe tournaments and fishing. The boat leaves here during the night for Sturgeon Bay, Wis., where the second stopover of the cruise will be made. Headquarters in Charlevoix will be at the Charlevoix Beach Hotel.

On Tuesday, June 21st, the Str. North American will bring the Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce on their fifth "good will" tour. The ship will arrive here at 8 a. m. and depart at 1:30 p. m. Besides the usual visits to local merchants and banquet aboard ship at noon, plans for a golf tournament and fishing parties are under way.

The third cruise visiting this city during June is scheduled for June 25th and brings the Society of Automotive Engineers and Detroit Athletic Club from Detroit.

TWO INFANT AND PRE-SCHOOL CLINICS FRIDAY

Morning Clinic at Maple Grove School Afternoon at North Bay

An infant and pre-school clinic will be held at the Maple Grove school in Hayes township on Friday morning, June 17, between 10 a. m. and 12 noon.

In the afternoon a similar clinic will be held at the North Bay school in Bay township from 1:30 to 4 p. m. At both clinics the District Health Department will offer a free physical check-up of any child up to six years of age and will also offer immunization against diphtheria and vaccination against smallpox.

It is especially urged that mothers bring the pre-schoolers who are about to enter school this coming fall, so that any defects that may be discovered may be corrected before September.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon from the home for Samuel Andrew Brown, long-time and highly respected local resident, who died Friday after an illness of several months.

Rev. John Alexander officiated at the funeral rites and burial was at Brookside cemetery.

Mr. Brown was born in Sciota, N. Y., September 12, 1855. At the age of eleven years he came to Norwood, where he resided until 1900, when he entered the blacksmith business in Charlevoix. He later took up the trade of stone mason.

Mr. Brown was a life-long member of the Methodist church, a charter member of the Atwood church, also a member of the local I. O. O. F.

Besides the widow he is survived by one son, William of Grand Rapids; a step-daughter, Mrs. Arthur Edwards, this city; two nephews, Frank and Louis DeLine of Washington; two nieces, Mrs. Hazel McPhee of Central Lake, and Mrs. Anna Dean of Ellsworth.

SOFT BALL LEAGUE IS ORGANIZED HERE

SEVEN TEAMS LINED UP FOR SUMMER SCHEDULE

Officers Elected and Board of Directors Formed — City Installing Flood Lights for Night Play

With the organization of a city-wide league, soft ball promises to be a popular recreation in Charlevoix during the summer season.

At a recent meeting, officers were elected and in the near future a schedule for the months of July and August will be worked out. Officers named were: Ray Kipke, president; "Bill" Supernaw, vice-president; Dan McGann, secretary-treasurer.

At the present time, seven teams with 90 members have been formed. They represent local and summer residents and will play under the names of K. of P., Board of Commerce, Ironton, Night Owls, Barons, North Side and Belvedere. A member of each team forms the board of directors. The summer schedule is expected to open July 1.

The league is not limited to the seven original teams and any group desiring to join the league is requested to inform Gordon Todd, secretary of the Board of Commerce. It is anticipated women's teams will also be organized for summer play.

Popularity of this sport is expected to increase greatly with the installation by the city at the south side recreational field of flood lights permitting night play. The city council has authorized the installation of twelve 15,000-watt lights. Officers of the league are greatly appreciative of this favor.

A pre-schedule contest between the K. of P. and Board of Commerce teams Tuesday evening ended in a 4 to 4 tie after extra innings. A play-off is scheduled for 6:30 Thursday evening. A large crowd was out for the game.

BIG AIR SHOW AT AIRPORT SUNDAY

CAPT. ART DAVIS AND FLIERS COMING JUNE 19

Most Spectacular Program of Air Stunts Ever Witnessed in North on Program of 12 Events

The Charlevoix municipal airport will be the scene of a spectacular flying show the afternoon of Sunday, June 19. The show will be under the direction of Captain Art Davis of East Lansing, who will be accompanied by a group of Franco-American pilots who are the "tops" in aviation.

Leslie T. Shapton Post, American Legion, is sponsoring the air show and will have charge of parking and policing during the event.

The aviators will bring three stunt ships. They will be piloted by Capt. Davis, Lieut. Ernie Conrad and George Starr. Present also will be Charlie Zmuda, who made delayed and Bat Wing jumps for Capt. Davis while in the south the past winter. H. E. Calvin, the Human Fly, rides the airplane while it is stunting and doing rolls, hanging onto the wing. This act has just been added to the program the last few places.

The program will start at 2:00 p. m. and will continue until 5 o'clock with 12 events to be run off for the entertainment of spectators. Four of the events scheduled have never been given in upper Michigan. The new stunts are flying under a bridge and breaking a balloon ten feet from the ground, stunting a plane at 200 miles per hour and rolling it with a party on top of its wings, a dog-fight between Capt. Davis and Lieut. Conrad, and finally a parachute demonstration of letting a parachute out only 100 feet above the ground.

The whole program of 12 events is thrilling and made a specialty by this trio of pilots. The breaking of a balloon 10 feet from the ground between two other balloons 30 feet apart by a plane with a wing-spread of 30 feet calls for exactness and accuracy of flying by Capt. Davis.

Capt. Davis will be remembered as one of the first pilots to fly in this territory. He appeared at the Bellaire fair in 1921, did exhibitions at the East Jordan fair the same year and appeared for the Petoskey American Legion in a show in 1925. His show is the only complete show in the United States and the only one which operated in the south last winter. Any one of the events is said to be worth the price of admission. Free parking and "eats" will be available at the airport. No passengers will be taken up until after the show. The Board of Commerce is cooperating with the Legion by furnishing the airport and policing.

The program of events will be found on page five of this issue.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST UNLICENSED DOGS

OWNERS GIVEN UNTIL JUNE 15TH TO OBEY LAW

Prosecutor's and Sheriff's Departments Following Mandate of Supervisors at April Session

Following the mandate of the Board of Supervisors at their April session, Charlevoix county law enforcement officers will launch an aggressive campaign against unlicensed dogs starting June 15th.

Moved to action by the neglect and refusal of many to pay dog tax, and the fact that the claims paid for damage by dogs amounted to far more than the collections from the dog tax, the supervisors took action which no doubt will remedy the situation.

By resolution, the board instructed the county treasurer to furnish the prosecuting attorney and sheriff's department a list of owners of unlicensed dogs on June 15th. The prosecutor was instructed to issue warrants against violators and the sheriff's department to serve them.

Following such instructions, Prosecuting Attorney C. M. Bice has issued public notice that on and after June 15th, every unlicensed dog three months of age or over will be considered a public nuisance and may be located and killed by the sheriff or any member of the department of public safety. Anyone owning, harboring or keeping an unlicensed dog after June 15th is liable to a fine not to exceed $100, or imprisonment not exceeding three months, or both. COUNCIL APPROVES INCREASED BUDGET

RESOLUTION SETS FUNDS FOR ENSUING FISCAL YEAR

Budget of $37,156.50 Will Require Tax of 15 Mills, Highest Rate in Many Years

Adoption of the annual budget and setting of the tax rate for the July, or summer roll, constituted one of the major items of business transacted Monday night by the city council.

The budget, providing funds for the various departments as well as for the interest and sinking fund to retire bonded indebtedness, was set at $37,156.50. This sum is an increase of $6,027.03 over a year ago when the budget figure was $31,129.47. To provide this amount, the council adopted a tax rate of 12 mills for general purposes and 3 mills for interest and sinking fund. Last year's rate was 12 mills for general purposes and 1 mill for interest and sinking fund.

Following are the comparative budgets for 1938-39 and 1937-38:

Fund	New	Old
Contingent	$ 8,867.69	$ 3,549.90
Health	300.00	300.00
Cemetery	2,000.00	2,000.00
Police	2,300.00	2,100.00
Fire	1,900.00	1,900.00
Park	5,000.00	3,500.00
Street	6,000.00	8,000.00
Sewer	1,000.00	1,200.00
Advertising	1,857.51	5,885.00
Auto Camp	400.00	250.00
Airport	100.00	50.00
	$29,725.20	$28,734.90
Int. & Sink.	7,431.30	2,394.57
	$37,156.50	$31,129.47

Increase in the funds included $5,317.79 in the contingent, $200 in the police, $150 in the auto camp, $50 in the airport and $1,500 in the park fund to care for expenses of the enlarged system. The interest and sinking fund was increased $5,036.73 to retire bonded indebtedness. The most marked decrease in funds was $4,027.49 lopped off the advertising fund and $2,000 from the street fund. The tax rate is the highest in many years, but is in keeping with the increased expenses brought about by extensions to the city park system and an enlarged and more comprehensive resort promotional program.

The council approved installation of flood lights at the soft ball coarts on the south side athletic field, providing for night play which has been urgently requested for several years. Supt. Herrick was authorized to make the installation at once.

LANSING LETTER

Sentiment is rising for a bridge over the Straits of Mackinac, linking the upper and lower peninsulas and solving permanently the problem of caring for an average traffic increase at the Straits of 22½ per cent each year.

Last week end we journeyed nearly 500 miles to Ironwood for an annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula development bureau and a get-together of Upper Peninsula newspaper publishers.

And the 500-mile trek was only half of our mileage. The distance from Detroit to Ironwood is greater than from Detroit to New York City. The land in the two peninsulas equal the total land of England and the Wales put together. Yes, it's a big state!

At the Ironwood round-up we heard emphatic statements on every hand of the practical necessity of a span at the Straits.

Engineer Boosts It

Five years ago the idea of a bridge from Mackinac City to St. Ignace was regarded by state officials here as rather fantastic.

W. Ira Bull, Extension Forester, Visits Forestry Demonstrations

Last Wednesday and Thursday W. Ira Bull, specialist in forestry, Michigan State College, accompanied by the members of the county soil conservation committee, spent a day in studying the various types of woodlots throughout the county. This was done primarily to give the county committee recommendations and suggestions as to the proper care of farm woodlots.

The improvement of farm woodlots is one of the approved practises for payment in the soil conservation program. This means that the county committee must be in a position to advise farmers what to do in improving their woodlots. On many farms this practise is the only one that can be conveniently adopted to make compliance, thus considerable importance is attached to this phase of activity.

Mr. Bull stated that he was much pleased with the woodlots that he visited and felt that every farmer should interest himself in its proper management. In most of the woodlots if the blemished, diseased, and mature wood was removed it would certainly encourage the growth of the new maple trees that sometimes are crowded out due to a too heavy stand of timber. It is planned to hold a series of three meetings next month to give farmers the opportunity of knowing just how to handle their woodlots for payment.

On Thursday Larry Wines, of Camp Wolverine, accompanied Mr. Bull on his inspection of the tree planting demonstrations. It was found that for the most part the young seedlings are making suitable growth. In one or two cases the stand was about 95 per cent at the present time which is considered excellent. Some years, when it is too dry, only 40 or 50 per cent will live but, fortunately, the conditions this spring have been very favornble. Charlevoix county can be justly proud of the forestry program that is being carried out. Farmers everywhere are becoming more interested in taking better care of their woodlots. In the next twenty or thirty years, if this interest is maintained, there will be great commercial value attached to the thousands and thousands of acres of woodland which is now developing wonderful maple growth.

Dairy Herd Test Hits New Record

Dairy herd [illegible] Michigan [illegible] 71, largest [illegible] W[illegible] herds. Of these 134 were sold for dairy purposes but the remaining 103 found 46 per cent sent to slaughter because they weren't earning their keep.

Udder trouble and Bang's disease accounted for many of the others sold out of herds.

More dairymen than usual pastured rye this spring. They found it cut feed costs. "Off flavor" difficulties apparently were not present when the cows were taken out of the rye fields a sufficient length of time before milking.

Two more trends in the dairy industry in the state are found in the association reports. Building of bull pens is one activity to promote safety and permit keeping valuable bulls that seem to have too much spirit and aggressiveness. Rather than send these bulls to the block, dairymen are building safe pens. Low seed cost for sudan grass also is leading many additional dairymen to plan more efficient midsummer pasture.

"The United States of America! What blasted effrontery! I suppose we are included in these United States! Subject to their king!"

"He is not a king, your Excellency. He calls himself a president."

"Pah! Not even a king! What is his name?" He examined the papers again. "Washington, General George Washington! Whew!" His tongue struggled with the English words. Now I an sending word to Don Jose Dario Arguello at San Francisco that if these two ships, the Columbia and the Lady Washington, put into San Francisco bay they are to be seized, and their captains—what are their unholy names? Captain James Kendrick and Captain Robert Gray—are to be thrown in prison."

The officers bowed and departed. Don Pedro turned toward his wife with inquiring eyes. She rose slowly and began moving about the little room.

"I remember the first time I saw a map like this," she said, pausing before the map of the Californias. "It was in the palace of the Viceroy." She traced a trail with her finger. "And they told me I could ride to Monterey in my coach. Hum. Liars!" she hissed suddenly.

Fages said nothing. She circled till she reached the cot. She sat down upon it.

"You have that old robe of pelican down on your cot!"

"So you remember it?" asked Don Pedro.

"Ah, yes . . . What a hard little bed," she murmured. "And so narrow." She raised her eyes to him.

"It is as narrow as the grave," replied Don Pedro. "And as hard as stone. But I am used to sleeping on it. I am as calloused as a Franciscan."

"It could hardly hold two people, could it? No matter how fond their love."

Don Pedro looked at her strangely.

"Two could sit upon it, side by side, and still be strangers," he said, and walked slowly to her.

She looked up at him invitingly. "Sit down then," she said, patting the robe of down, "and let us see if we two can not sit here and be friends."

He hesitated, then sank beside her.

"Querido . . . you great bear," she said, "come to your own room tonight . . . and let us talk."

He drew away from her.

"About what?" he asked suspiciously.

"About going back to Mexico together. You and I and the children. You have too many anxieties here . . . and we are not happy here together. Come, let us go back. Let us be happy the rest of our lives. You, and I too, have done our duty by our King in this California. Come"—she caressed him—"and the rest of our lives will be a honeymoon. Do you not desire that?"

For an unhappy moment Don Pedro stared into his wife's flushed pleading face, then abruptly jerked away from her and stood in the center of the room, fists clenched, brows knotted.

"Duty! Who are you to speak of duty! You do not know the meaning of the word! Wheedling me, deceiving me, trying to seduce me from what I consider right!"

Eulalia sprang to her feet.

"Very well! Do as you please!"

As the door closed behind her the Governor, with a curse, swept his desk clean with one hand. Papers, books, quills and ink scattered on the floor.

"Damn her!" he said fervently. "Damn her! What is it Indizuela called her? Cold, cruel Spaniard! Yes, the coldest and cruelest I ever knew. Why can not I be left in peace? I only ask to be alone to do my duty . . . I do not want to go back to Mexico, or to Spain!" He flung the words at the silent walls as though someone had challenged him.

"Very Well! Do as You Please!"

Then Eulalia's words came back to him. "To live a honeymoon the rest of our lives . . . a little comfort . . . a little ease . . ." They sounded reasonable when he said them to himself.

"Fifty years . . ." he muttered, "I am over fifty years, and the best of those years have been given to this siren, California. Why not go back?"

His foot rustled against the map that lay crumpled on the floor. He picked it up and smoothed it across the desk. As he did, his fingers almost unconsciously began tracing trails which he had traveled. Here was the mysterious country across the bay from San Francisco, the tule country, and a hundred spots where his camp-fires had been. Here were crosses that marked mission sites that he had helped dedicate; here was where he had the fight with the bears . . . Again he leaned his head in his hands and groaned.

"Ai, Dios mio, I can not leave my California! I would be lost anywhere else in all the wide world, this country only is my home, the home of my heart."

"I will not leave it!" he exclaimed suddenly. "Why should I sit here sniveling in my beard because my woman torments me? What has come over me? Am I no longer a man, and governor of California? Ha!" He smote his chest. "I shall go now, this very day, this very hour on a long visit. I shall go to Santa Barbara, and San Gabriel and San Diego, and have some festivities. And I shall leave Eulalia here alone. I shall be stern and hard . . . hard as my bed." He kicked the overturned cot.

"Come to her bed! Not I! I will go out and seek the company of worthy priests and good soldiers, pioneers all, and we will talk man talk, and drink deeply together."

He took his gun down from the wall and cuddled it in his arm.

"And you shall go with me, my friend, and we will kill the hugest bear in all California!"

In her room at the palacio Eulalia was writing a lengthy document. When she had finished it, she poured sand over the paper, then read the contents carefully. What she read evidently pleased her, for she smiled many times. Then she called for a servant, and the letter was delivered to a courier riding south with official dispatches.

"Where is the Governor's frank on this?" inquired the courier when he received it.

"It is from her Excellency," murmured the servant.

"Humph," grunted the courier, and tucked it carefully away in his bag.

CHAPTER XXVI

Eulalia watched the Governor preparing for his departure without a word. His impedimenta seemed to consist mainly of small casks of aguardiente, and skins of wine; of guns and ammunition. He wore his disreputable leather jerkin, and roughest boots. He packed a few other belongings haphazardly into his knapsack.

When he was ready, he bowed before his wife ironically and said with mock reverence.

"La Senora la Gobernadora! I go, and I know not when I return. Do not grieve for me, but control your impatience for my company until I return, which will be in due time, and according to my own free will. Adios!"

Eulalia said nothing, but drew her brows together darkly.

She watched Don Pedro and his party gallop away across the parade-ground toward the great gate which was swung open and ready for them.

A few miles outside the presidio, the Governor and his gay party came upon the mail courier, lying beneath a tree, his head pillowed on the sack of mail.

"Ho!" cried his Excellency. "What is this? Is it in such a manner that the King's business is carried on? But never mind," he added hastily as the fellow scrambled to his feet guiltily. "Never mind. Do not disturb yourself. I would like to lie down and rest too. Let us all rest, caballeros, and let us wash some of this dust out of our throats!"

All dismounted.

The courier spoke timidly.

"Excellency," he murmured deprecatingly, unfortunately, I must be on my way, not being on a pleasure trip, like yourself, and . . . and there is a letter in there that I have on my conscience. I should have asked you about it before I left the presidio. It does not bear your frank."

The Governor looked startled.

"So? And who has sent a letter out without my frank?"

"Her Excellency, La Senora La Gobernadora, Dona Eulalia."

"Ah! Let me have it, and I will attend to it."

The courier took the paper from among the rest and handed it to the Governor. It was addressed to the Viceroy of Mexico. The Governor shook his head and rubbed his eyes. The men watched him in amazement as he tore the letter open and read it."

"A woman's tongue is only three inches long, but it can kill a man of six feet! You," he said to the trembling courier, "get on your way at once. I will keep this letter. And the rest of us will return at once to the presidio."

At the exclamation of disappointment from his escort he laughed loudly.

"But we will stay only a short while, and before this sun has set we will be on our way again. Our pasear is interrupted, companeros, not abandoned!"

A little while later the presidio gates were again thrown open, and to the surprise of everyone, the Governor's party swept into the parade-ground in a cloud of dust and a clatter of hoofs.

From her window La Gobernadora watched El Gobernador ride madly toward the palacio, and before she could control the sudden trembling that seized her, he strode into the room.

Behind him came two soldiers, who had followed from the gate.

"Senora," thundered the Governor, "I have come to place you under arrest." He motioned to the two soldiers, who stepped smartly forward and took their places one at each side of Eulalia. Their eyes goggled with amazement, but they clanked the butts of their muskets smartly on the floor, and stood at attention.

"What is the meaning of this," inquired Eulalia, "is it a drunken prank? For what am I to be placed under arrest?"

"It is no drunken prank. Woman, you are under arrest for treason. I have here"—and he slapped Eulalia's letter to the Viceroy on to the table—"I have here a document written by you containing treasonable utterances against the Governor of the Californias. And any treason against the Governor of the Californias is treason against his Most Catholic Majesty the King of Spain. Therefore I put you under arrest."

Eulalia grew white around the lips, and her voice shook.

"T-t-treason?" she stammered.

"Yes; you have said here that the Governor of California has been going slowly but surely insane for the past three years. That all his acts are the acts of a madman, a maniac. That his governance here has been a long period of misrule. That he fails to co-operate with the priests in their religious work. That everyone is afraid of him, and dare not report his madness to the Viceroy. That he has repeatedly threatened your life, and the lives of others, and that he neglects his duties to consort with Indian women. Is that true?"

"Every word of it!"

"I mean is it true that you have written this?"

"Yes, I wrote it."

"Very well, then. I arrest you in the name of the King of Spain."

Eulalia wavered.

"But—but—you can not do that! What—what are you going to do with me?"

"You are to be incarcerated in the monjera, the quarters of the Indian women at Mission Carmelo until I return from my trip. Then I will consider your case."

"In the monjera! You can not do this to me! I will not go! You dare not degrade me, disgrace me this way, before the whole community! I will not go!"

"You do not hesitate to degrade and disgrace me before all California, Mexico and Spain, Senora. You shall go to the monjera, and at once. Prepare yourself."

"No! No! I will die first . . . Angustias!"

Angustias was cowering in a corner, watching the scene in terror. At the doors and windows frightened servants listened and looked.

"There is no use calling Angustias. I am through being ruled by women. Angustias will remain here with my children, and you shall go. At once, I said!" he thundered so suddenly that Eulalia jumped. "And if you hesitate any longer you shall go without any preparation. The matron at the monjera will give you a robe such as the Indian girls wear. Well, are you not going to get ready?"

"I am not. I am not going. Please, Pedro, do not do this to me, please. I am sorry . . . I wrote because I am so unhappy . . . it seemed the only way. Please, my darling, adored husband. Please, oh, please do not do this to me!" Whimpering like a child she threw herself at his feet before the scandalized eyes of the watching soldiers and servants. Angustias moved toward her, but the Governor motioned her back. His face was stern and drawn.

"Get up, woman! What a scene to make before these people! A woman's tears and a dog's limping are not real. Will you go now or shall I be forced to make you?"

Still she knelt on the floor.

"No! No! I will not go . . . you can not make me! Oh, Pedro! Oh, Mother of God! Oh, help me!"

The Governor clutched his beard with one hand and gritted his teeth.

"Pick her up," he ordered the soldiers, "tie her hands, and put her on a horse. Take her to the fathers at Carmel and tell them it is my orders she stay in the monjera until I return. Under no circumstances is she to leave before then. And if she misbehaves, she is to be beaten, like any recalcitrant Indian woman."

"Pedro!" Eulalia shrieked. "Pedro, not that! Ai, Dios mio . . . not that!"

The Governor was trembling as much as the terrified woman at his feet.

"Very well. Not beaten. But if she misbehaves, she must be put in the stocks. Take her at once."

As the frightened soldiers lifted her from the floor, she struggled like a cat, writhing and sobbing.

"Best tie her hands," ordered the Governor coldly. "Or you will be scratched." He handed one a handkerchief, and watched grimly while her struggling hands were tied at her back. She faced him with features distorted, streaked with tears, but her eyes fierce.

"Cruel, brutal, mad Pedro Fages!" she cried. "You will suffer for this!" She wrenched against the bonds that held her hands. "Oh, let me go! Let me go!"

Fages merely motioned to the soldiers, who dragged her out of the house. Still screaming and struggling, one of them managed to throw her before him on his horse. Angustias rushed from the house wringing her hands and weeping. All the servants crowded out-of-doors. The soldier touched his spurs to the horse. The shrieking writhing La Gobernadora and her escort started across the parade-ground toward the presidio gate. Angustias running lamenting beside.

CHAPTER XXVII

Forth on El Camino Real again rode the Governor of the Californias. The royal road was now a well-defined strip of yellow highway, slowly but surely, through pressure of many feet and hoof-beats of many horses, printing itself upon the pleasant soil of California connecting the Mission and Presidio of Upper California with the ancient Mission and one-time capital Loreto, in Lower California.

As he rode he remembered suddenly that 20 years had passed since he had first traveled this way. No road then; that first party of pioneers had pushed their way through virgin soil, breaking a trail through the wilderness, marking it here and there with cairns of stone, but oftener with crosses.

Twenty years! He started at the thought. Nearly half his life. In twenty years more he would be seventy. All those years for the siren, California. As he looked at the smiling spring sky, the acres and acres of wild-flowers, the canons full of live-oaks, sycamores, water alders, willows and all manner of trees and shrubs, as he sniffed the wild roses and drank from the clear springs; as he gazed at the mighty mountains or at the rolling restless surf of the Pacific he laughed.

"My life for California!" he said. "By God, she is worth it, the jade!"

Each morning that found them on the road he carefully stamped out the remains of the camp-fire, often on a spot where he had built fires many times before. And as he did this he wondered. Out of these ashes, on one of these little mounds, would a city rise some day? He sighed at the thought, but indulged in prophetic retrospection.

And at the missions he visited long with the padres; ate their good food, drank their good wine; admired their fat herds and sleek horses. Then passed on to the next mission. Passed through much rich country, or wild land alive with herds of antelope and elk, bear and mountain lions. He killed the giant bear he had promised himself, and carried most of it to the Mission San Gabriel Arcangel. There he rested for many days in the shade of the carefully tended trees, with the music of a little stream in his ears. And there he visited with some old, old friends who had traveled with him on the expedition.

"I am retiring," said one old compadre, Don Eufanio Sanchez, long sergeant of the guard at the Mission San Gabriel. "I am retiring," he repeated as Don Pedro sipped absently at his wine.

"From what . . . ?" questioned the Governor.

"From the King's Army. The King has granted me many varas of land. And I am choosing it well. There are springs on it, and meadow land for grazing, and land to raise corn and grapes. And I have already chosen the knoll on which I will build my house." He stretched his legs luxuriously before him and sighed with pleasurable anticipation. "Ah, and what a life that will be!"

"But your wife?" asked Don Pedro. "Will she consent to come here and live with you?"

EIGHT MILLION TREES PLANTED THIS SPRING

Reforestation Program Covers About 12,000 Acres, Report Shows

The 1938 spring reforestation program on Michigan state forests has been completed with about eight million trees set out on areas totalling approximately 12,000 acres.

Approximately 93 per cent of the total acreage was planted by ten CCC camps on nine of the state's 12 forests. No trees were planted on the Fife lake, Ogemaw and Alpena forests, none of which has a CCC camp operating on it. About 529,000 trees were planted on 660 acres by local labor financed out of private funds.

Shipment of trees from the Higgins lake nursery for reforestation purposes has been discontinued for this spring. The young seedlings and transplanted trees began to show new growth about the first of June, and trees should be transplanted only while in a dormant state.

Two hundred and eighty-three orders were received at the nursery for 1,375,000 jack, norway and white pine seedlings and transplants. One hundred and forty orders were planted on private lands while the remainder were for plantings of a public nature such as school or community forests, or plantings sponsored by other state agencies and institutions.

More than 10,000,000 trees at the nursery are ready for transplanting next fall.

LANSING LETTER

Not only was the engineering problem gigantic, but its financing offered a stumbling block to planners. The length of the structure would be about five miles, a maximum span of 1,700 feet with 150 feet clearance above the water and the maximum foundation depth for two piers supporting the main span of about 200 feet.

As for the cost, Prof. J. H. Cissel of the University of Michigan, secretary of the Mackinac straits bridge authority, estimates the total investment at 25 to 35 million dollars and he insists that the bridge will pay its own way from the start in toll charges.

Completion of the San Francisco-Oakland bridge and the Golden Gate bridge have convinced skeptics that the Mackinac span is possible as an engineering achievement. Michigan's tourist business is growing steadily, and highways in the upper peninsula are yet in the early stage of development. Project the tourist needs 25 years from today, and you will find it easy to be convinced that the Straits span would be an outstanding asset.

$100,000 Promotion

Newspaper space, worth $100,000 a year, is offered free to the tourist industry of Michigan by daily and weekly papers in the Michigan Press association under the leadership of Chester M. Howell, publisher at Chesaning.

In a speech before the Upper Peninsula Development bureau, Howell declared that newspapers were ready to pledge this amount of their space for promotion of every section of Michigan in a co-operative program designed to acquaint residents with their recreational, industrial and agricultural resources.

The "Know Michigan" program, Howell said, would effect $10 worth of advertising for every $1 of actual cost in preparation of photographs, news articles, mats and other incidental expense. And not a dime of it would go directly to any newspaper.

"Newspapers of Michigan have faith in the tourist industry," said Howell. "We realize that what is good for Michigan is good for us. We are ready to give far more than we receive. Newspapers in Michigan are not going to sell Michigan short."

Editors handed a $2,600 refund to the state administration last October from a $10,000 appropriation for publicizing Michigan through a tour of the National Editorial association.

Norman Thomas

The fanfare at Jersey City over Mayor Hague's free speech ban against Norman Thomas, socialist leader, recalls the tameness of Thomas' visit to the Michigan capital city.

At Michigan State college where students tossed labor agitators into the river as an episode of the CIO city holiday in 1937, the stately and scholarly Norman Thomas spoke at the People's church. College classes were dismissed by order of President Robert Shaw so that students could hear him.

Instead of getting columns of newspaper publicity glorifying him, Thomas found that he was just another lecturer. The whole affair proved to be as unexciting as a strawberry soda.

Communist Influence

Following the CIO "holiday" here at the Capitol City, Governor Frank Murphy spanked budding law and order leagues and declared that communistic influences had been responsible for the labor uprising.

Like a ghost of 1937 sit-down strike, William W. Weinstone, secretary of the Michigan Communist party, declared at the 10th national convention of the Communist party in New York City two weeks ago that communists in Michigan should support Governor Murphy for re-election.

It is all a bit annoying to leaders in democratic circles.

Communists favor a united front for "progressive action in the 1938 elections."

And so, whether the governor wants them or not, he's going to have the communists on his side next November!

School Bogeys

One of the most well organized and effective groups in Michigan is the Michigan Education association, representing thousands of public school teachers.

They constitute a power in Lansing. The legislature is usually receptive to their demands.

Declining revenue from the state sales tax has caused a proportionate cut in distribution of state funds to primary school districts. Recently at Flint a proposal was voiced by educators that all proceeds from the sales tax be turned over to the schools. The bogey is an old one: curtailment or shutdown of school facilities unless more financial aid is secured.

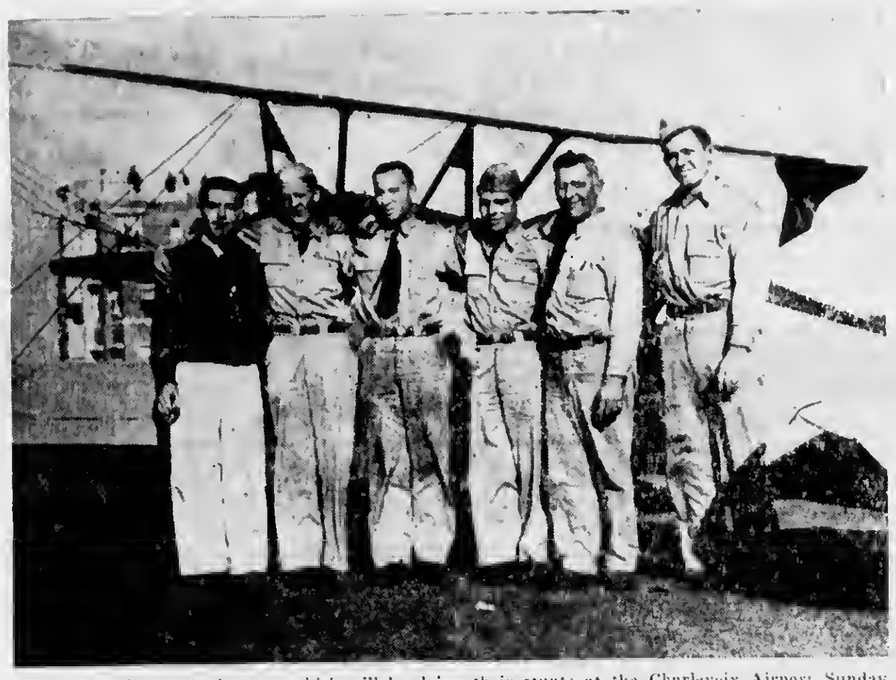
ART DAVIS' Franco-American Performers



The pilots above are the ones which will be doing their stunts at the Charlevoix Airport Sunday afternoon, June 19. They are left to right: Charlie Zmuda, who makes the parachute demonstration of how not to use a parachute; H. A. Calvin, who rides the top of Capt. Davis' airplane while he rolls it; Leonard Witt, a stunting pilot; Capt. Davis, who leads the dual stunting and keeps the program going; Lieut. Conrad, who does the dogfight with Capt. Davis and takes off later with his wings tied to Capt. Davis' and doing dual maneuvers over the airport.

And last is George Starr, who flies in the program doing solo aerobatics. The above pilots carry a waiver from the Department of Aeronautics so that the stunts are given just above the ground and not high in the air as they are usually. A public speaking system will be on the airport to announce the program as it goes on, so the free parking space should be taken early and everyone will be parked so that they can get out at any time, as this will be under the local Legion and police force.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Our Experience in Testing Milk

Three years ago this June District Health Department No. 3, entered upon the plan of testing locally milk supplies for Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego dairymen. This program was inaugurated in the belief that milk supplies could be handled much more satisfactorily and a more continuous check on supplies maintained than could be done by shipping samples to the state laboratories. The city of Charlevoix kindly consented to the use of its laboratory and equipment for that purpose. The present laboratory at the sewage treatment plant is well equipped for the purpose.

Mrs. Mildred Lamphear, who had previously carried on water analysis for the city of Charlevoix, was engaged by District Health Department to handle the milk analysis work. After Dr. A. R. Renwick, the sanitarian with the District Health Department, has collected samples from producers, Mrs. Lamphear tests the samples to determine the bacterial count per cubic centimeter of milk, i.e., about one-fifth of a teaspoonful of milk; and to determine by sediment testing the cleanliness state of the milk supply. Under her direction also the milk is tested for butter fat content.

Over this period of three years we can say that the cleanliness state of the supplies is much improved; seldom does a milk supply run too low on butter fat and when it does a correction is made. Furthermore, from a beginning in 1935 in which it was found that many of the bacterial counts ran into the hundreds of thousands; during 1937 it was exceptional and only occasional on the part of most dairymen to get such a high count. Of the 168 dairymen selling milk in this district, only 10 of them had supplies which were considered unsatisfactory because most of their tests ran above 40,000 per c.c.

The reason for this improvement, we believe, is better sanitary practices in handling milk such as wiping the cow's udders with a moist cloth before milking, keeping the cows properly curried, using dry hands to milk, in the better dairies using hooded milk pails, straining the milk thru cotton pads, cooling the milk to 50 degrees Fahrenheit or lower within 15 minutes to an hour after milking, sterilizing bottles and other dairy equipment with steam or with a chlorine solution, eliminating the milk from any cows that show signs of being sick, and of being cleanly in their own personal habits.

The bacterial count on a milk supply gives a very valuable indication of the sanitary quality of that supply. It is largely as a protective measure to the people of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego counties that this work is being done. We welcome the cooperation of the consumer as well as the producer, and sincerely hope that both will appreciate this service and assist us in maintaining a sanitary milk supply.

"Han you not heard? My poor wife, God rest her soul, died last year in Mexico City. She would never join me here. And I could not leave here. You understand? Life was lonely for her, I suppose. We had no children . . . and so . . ." He shrugged his shoulders. "God took her home. You are most fortunate, Don Pedro, in having Doña Eulalia with you. Most fortunate!"

"Yes," muttered Foges. "And what will you do with this great rancho and house you are going to build? Will you live alone? What will you do without wife or children?"

Don Epifanio stirred uneasily.

"Pues, compadre, you know how it is. I have already chosen me a wife. Just an Indian girl. That is, part Indian. Her father was a Spanish soldier, though God only knows who he was. But she is beautiful and very young, and has been well educated here at Mission San Gabriel. She can cook, and sew. She can even play the guitar! And she is young. Oh, yes, very young. Fifteen. But look you, I am barely fifty! So I will have many years ahead of me, and God willing, many children." He laughed. "Who knows but we will start a new race in this new land?"

Don Pedro was very quiet as the other dreamed of his future happiness over his wine-glass.

"Yes," mused the Governor to himself. "You will have a happy life. An ideal life. Ah, yes . . ."

The other broke into his musings.

"Why do you not retire, Don Pedro? You have given the best years of your life to your King and this country. The King would be more than willing to award you a great slice of this land that you have governed so long. Why not do it? Let someone else be governor, and have all the worries and anxieties, while you retire and establish a grand hacienda, enjoy your wife and children, and let the Indians do the work?"

Don Pedro was quiet a long time, idly twirling his beaker, and watching the ruddy juice washing in little waves against the glass. All unconsciously his old friend, in relating his own hopes, had laid bare the deepest desires of the Governor's heart.

A great estate of his own! He could see himself riding over the land; could see the sleek herds, the spirited horses he would raise; could see the fields of corn and grain, squashes, beans and chiles; he wandered through his own orchards and vineyards. Ai, Dios, that was what he wanted! A great house where he could entertain a hundred guests, and where a hundred servants would do his bidding; where there would be music and flowers and hospitality . . . and at the end a host of strong sons to speed his departure into that dark uncertain land . . . But the vision did not hold Eulalia.

With a bitter laugh he gulped his wine.

"Before God, Don Epifanio, you are sent by Satan to tempt me! That may be your life, but it can never be mine."

"I am sorry, my friend. For there are many of us who sympathize with you who are going to do this very thing of which I have spoken. In fact, many have sent for their wives and families—to come from Mexico, and, as I said before, those of us who have not wives will find them here. Yes, we will found a new civilization, I think, in this strange new land, and you should be one of the founders."

The Governor left San Gabriel, visited the troublous little village of Los Angeles, and left there shaking his head over the laziness and immorality of its inhabitants. South, then, to the Mission San Juan Capistrano, and at last to the Presidio and Mission of San Diego, the cradle of California. Then he turned north again, to return to Monterey, more restless, more unhappy, more disturbed in mind than when he had started on his journey. He had not left his anxieties behind. They had traveled with him. And to them was added the nagging certainty that he was at a crisis in his life. He could not continue living as he had been. He and Eulalia were killing each other.

He must resign as governor of the Californias.

And after that, what?

One of two things. Remain in the province as an hacendado, and fulfill his dearest dreams, regardless of Eulalia. Or return to Mexico, perhaps to Spain.

He groaned in spirit, and worried his grizzled beard as he considered that possibility.

The soft breath of California kissed his cheek as he rode north. The very brambles and wild roses reached out and clutched him with clinging fingers; and when he lay down at night the warm earth seemed to cradle him in loving arms that would not let him go.

When at last he rode through the gates of the Royal Presidio Monterey two months after he had swept through them, he had made a decision.

He would not leave California.

The priests at Mission Carmelo were shocked and horrified when La Gobernadora was delivered to them, no longer hysterically screaming as when she left the presidio, but cold and icy, sitting regally before the bewildered soldier on his horse. If she had been as the Governor had last seen her, good Fray Fermin would have feared her less, and thrown her to the tender mercies of the matron of the monjera for discipline.

But this cold haughty queen, who held her head so high and comported herself like a prisoner of state was someone to be feared.

So they put her quietly into the monjera, which Junipero Serra had long ago called a dove-cote . . . and there, through the long spring days, she lived with the Indian girls, under the chaperonage of the ancient Doña Marin. Doña Maria took a certain grim pleasure in watching over the proud Gobernadora, and though she did not exceed her duties in regard to her, she did not neglect any discipline which she considered necessary. Eulalia wove and sewed, sang psalms and prayed, outwardly as quiet as the stupidest Indian girl.

But when she lay at night on the pallet they had made for her on the floor, with a barred window high above her head, she would cram the coarse sheet into her mouth to keep from screaming. She boiled and seethed with rage, despair, outrage. Sometimes it was directed against the Governor, then it turned most bitterly against herself.

"Fool! Fool!" she muttered to herself. "Silly fool, to allow this to happen to me! Ai, Dios! Madre de Dios!"

There was one rule she refused to obey. And that was to attend the masses at the church. When this duty was urged upon her, she was silent, but drew her brows together dangerously. Then the priests and the matron were glad to leave her alone.

One day the Fray Presidente called for her, and Doña Maria escorted her to his quarters. She stood uncompromisingly stiff before him, but he motioned her to a chair.

"Be seated, Senora la Gobernadora," he murmured.

Eulalia smiled at the title. In the monjera she had been simply Doña Eulalia.

The father leaned back and looked at her curiously.

"I have been studying you since you have been here, my daughter," he said, "and I must say that I have found your conduct most exemplary."

Eulalia inclined her head.

He continued. "You have been docile, obedient, silent amid a discipline that must have been a severe punishment to you. And I should say that you have been very brave. Now, I do not know what the private difficulties are between you and his Excellency. I have heard, of course, of the events that led to your being brought here. Not officially, for his Excellency did not communicate them to me. But I can not help feeling that there is some grave misunderstanding between you that caused you to . . . to do as you did."

Eulalia leaned toward him, her hands gripping the arms of the chair.

"Ai, Padre mia," she breathed, "if you only knew . . ."

But the priest silenced her.

"I was going to say that I am sure the fault does not lie with you, whatever it is. For you have behaved under this punishment only as one who suffers unjustly, and is innocent of wrongdoing."

Eulalia leaned back and stared at him breathlessly.

"As your spiritual father, I tell you this. And as the spiritual father of his Excellency, Don Pedro, I must speak to him as I have spoken to you."

"Ah, no!" she cried suddenly. Then at the surprised expression on the priest's face, she controlled herself hastily.

"You think, then," she said haltingly, "that perhaps Don Pedro's conduct is . . ."

"Extraordinary, to say the least."

Eulalia smiled a secret smile of triumph.

She rose.

"Is that all, Father?" she asked meekly.

"That is all, for the present. But I am going to ask you one thing. Come to the early mass Sunday."

"Very well."

When, on the next Sunday, she entered the church with the Indian women she was trembling nervously. No comfortable chair was placed for her, as when she had been there before, and she needs must stand on the cold dirt floor, and kneel upon it, without any cushion. With her head wrapped in a coarse black rebozo, her face shone out, white and drawn with the strain of her incarceration. Doña Maria looked at her and compressed her lips.

"I am afraid for that one," she thought to herself. "She looks ill."

With shaking knees and voice, Eulalia followed the service. Her thoughts flew back to the first time she had taken part in the services in the church of Mission San Carlos, and Junipero Serra . . . She bent her head.

There at her feet, actually beneath her where she stood, lay his bones.

Junipero Serra, Junipero Serra! She nearly screamed the words aloud. Through the wood of his rough coffin, through the dirt that covered him, his eyes seemed to stare at her reproachfully, blazing at her from fleshless sockets . . . The strength of pride and will that had kept her suffering nerves in leash these two long months deserted her, and weeping hysterically, she collapsed on Junipero Serra's tomb.

When the Governor reached the presidio, almost the first report he had was from Augustias who told [illegible] that La Gobernadora, [illegible] in the monjera at Carmelo, had been very ill, but was now [illegible].

"[illegible] asked the old woman. "[illegible] I will [illegible] to Monterey."

[illegible]

had spoiled her, had been away from her too long; was her fiery spirit broken after these two long months in the monjera to which he had sentenced her?

He sent a messenger to her to tell her to come to him as soon as she was able.

For he could not trust himself to go to her.

And Eulalia, in the austere monjera, wept.

Suddenly, to her, nothing seemed so desirable as to be in her husband's arms, wherever he might go, whatever he might be.

CHAPTER XXVIII

Waiting restlessly for Eulalia to come to him, Don Pedro rode out to his vineyard in the bright spring morning. He left his horse and walked alone among the green vines. Tenderly he looked at them, admiring their robust growth, touching a tendril here, stroking a glossy leaf there. He knelt down on the earth beside a young vine and picked a bit of soil up in his fingers, as was his habit.

Over him the sky was unusually blue for this coastal region, and the sun was high and hot. A little in the distance he could see his orchard, some of the trees in early green, some still rosy with blossoms. And where the land was not cultivated it bloomed with wild-flowers.

"California!" he breathed. "She has given herself to me like a woman. Give her smiles and her tears and fruits of her body. I shall not leave such a fruitful mistress."

A single horse and rider came rapidly toward the vineyard. It was Eulalia.

Pedro Foges rose to his feet and looked about him.

"The vines are young," he murmured. "Next spring they will be young again. Ten springs . . . a score of springs, and they will still be young. But Eulalia . . ." He watched, almost in fear, as she slipped lithely from her horse and came toward him, at first slowly, then as she caught sight of him when he stood upright, in a little run, holding up her skirts, laughing like a girl, shading her eyes with her hand.

"But Eulalia is young now!" he cried to himself. "Ten springs, a score of springs . . . and then . . . NO!" Suddenly he brushed the soil of California from his fingers and sprang toward her. Dimly he noticed that her feet crushed the young vines as she ran.

"Pedro! My Pedro!" She sank at his feet in the dirt, laughing, weeping. "Pedro, oh, my Pedro!"

He lifted her in his arms, then put her on her feet, and knelt before her, swinging off his sombrero. He clasped her knees, looking up into her face. "Eulalia, my dear, my flower . . . you are beautiful, and pale. You have suffered . . ." He kissed her little shoe, and noticed the pungency of the vines she had crushed.

She pulled him upright to her, and took his face between her hands. "Pedro, my great bear, you are so brave, so strong . . . so cruel to me . . ."

"I am a great fool!" He groaned, straining her to him. "Eulalia, I have something to tell you. I am resigning as Governor of the Californias, and . . ."

"And?" she exclaimed, flushing suddenly, radiantly, "and we are going away from here . . . back to Mexico . . . Spain?"

Over her head he looked at the hills, the sky, the distant mountains, the sea, the orchards, the beloved vineyard. Tears filled his eyes and blurred the scene.

"Yes . . . away from here," he said.

CHAPTER XXIX

Triumphantly Eulalia sailed on the first ship that put out from Monterey, with the two children and Augustias. From the shore Pedro Foges watched the ship as far as he could see it, then turned and rode madly to the Mission Carmelo. He went into the little church, and kneeling by the tomb of Junipero Serra talked with his old friend.

It would be a year before his successor would arrive. And the time was all too short in which to say his farewells to the land he had loved so faithfully, so he had hastened first to the old missionary.

He spent the year putting his affairs in order, tending, with an aching heart, his trees and vines.

And at the end of the year his successor came. On board the old San Carlos arrived his old friend Capitan Romeu, who had persuaded Eulalia so long ago to come to California.

A few days later the San Carlos was due to sail. On that same day the great Spanish explorer Malaspina put the frigate Descubierta into the harbor of Monterey. Those on shore watched her launch a longboat, among the frisking whales. When the long boat landed there was a [illegible] of sail cloth.

"A dead calm," said the captain. "We will be here [illegible]."

"You are right," he said, "our first. But not, O Governor of all the Californias, our last."

Then he hastened to the waiting lancha and, turning his back resolutely on the land, was rowed to the waiting San Carlos. Soon the sails filled and Romeu, watching on the shore, saw the gallant old paquebot, which had borne Pedro Foges to California, slowly turn with the tide to bear him away.

GRAIN CROPS AND HAY IN FINE CONDITION

Prospects Indicate Above Average Yields on Michigan Farms

Small grains, hays, and pastures are in excellent condition in Michigan, according to Grant D. Clerk, associate agricultural statistician for the Michigan Cooperative Crop Reporting Service.

Indicated yields for winter wheat and rye are well above average, and in the case of winter wheat the outlook is even better than was reported a month ago. Such spring sown grains as oats, barley, and spring wheat were planted somewhat earlier than usual under very favorable conditions. In general, stands are good and growth has been rapid due to ample moisture and seasonable temperatures. Frequent rains during the latter half of May delayed the planting of corn and other row crops, particularly on heavy lands.

KRUEGER - LAVALLEE WEDDING SOLEMNIZED MONDAY AFTERNOON

Ruth Krueger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto P. Krueger, became the bride of Theodore R. LaVallee of Detroit, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. LaVallee of Big Rapids, at a ceremony solemnized at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon in the First Congregational church, with Rev. G. R. Parker officiating. Music was furnished by Mrs. A. J. Stelter, who played "Oh Promise Me" and traditional wedding marches.

Arrangements of palms formed the background for tall baskets of white snapdragons and peonies on each side of the altar and wall pockets held sprays of bridal wreath.

Miss Krueger entered the church on the arm of her father. Her gown was of ivory satin, fashioned with long fitted bodice, square neckline, full length sleeves and small buttons were used down the back to the hipline. Her Juliet cap banded by orange blossoms held in place her veil of illusion. Her flowers were sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Walter Scharf of Chicago, sister of the bride, attended as matron of honor and wore a gown of orange organdy. The neckline was high with Peter Pan collar and pleated frill down the front to the waistline, short puffed sleeves and full skirt. Her arm bouquet was of snapdragons, shading from orange to bronze.

Miss Esther Rohinson of Detroit, maid of honor, wore yellow organdy fashioned the same as the matron-of-honor's and her arm bouquet was of snapdragons, shading from yellow to orange.

The bridesmaids were Mary Helen Fochtman of Alma, and Dorothy Patridge, this city. Their gowns of yellow and orange organdy, respectively, were made like the maid-of-honor's and they carried variegated snapdragons. All of the attendants wore shoulder length face veils held in place with a tiny bunch of the yellow and orange snaps.

Phillip Maurer of Detroit, was best man and the ushers were Stanley Many and Charles W. Phelps of Detroit, and Walter Scharf of Chicago.

The bride's mother wore printed white crepe with white accessories and shoulder corsage of Joanna Hill roses. The bridegroom's mother chose navy blue crepe with shoulder corsage also of roses.

After the service, a reception was held at the Chicago Club casino. The bride's table was decorated with two large bowls of white flowers, one at each end, and centered with a beautiful five-tiered wedding cake. Colorful flowers were used throughout the room and in different corners of the room against a background of evergreens. Guests were seated at beautifully appointed tables.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. LaVallee left for a three week's honeymoon in the West. Upon their return they will reside in Detroit. For traveling, Mrs. LaVallee chose a white knit suit with which she wore a white polo coat. Her hat and accessories were also of the white.

Included among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. King and Mrs. C. Morse Ely, members of the Chicago Club.

CAMP WOLVERINE HAS NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

Library, Class Reems, Office and Dark Roem Added at Camp

A new school building, 120 by 20 feet is now under construction at the Wolverine CCC camp.

The building is being constructed by the CCC encollees and is to have a fifty foot library, four class rooms, one office and a photographic dark room and laboratory.

The lack of physical facilities, classrooms, equipment and proper lighting has been a severe handicap to a well balanced educational program in the past.

The new library will contain approximately a thousand volumes of text, reference and fiction books. Fifty-one different magazines of all types are received at camp as are six daily and two weekly newspapers.

The dedication date for the new building has been set for July 21, at which time a general camp open house will be conducted. Invitations are to be sent to various clubs, business, social and school officials in the surrounding communities. Officials from the Conservation and also from the War Department will attend and take part in the program. Governor Murphy and his staff are also to be invited.

NAME INSPECTORS FOR CONTROL OF FRUIT FLY

Orchard Owners Warned That June 15 Is Spraying Deadline

Ray Hutson, professor of entomology at Michigan State College, warns Michigan fruit growers that spray against codling moths must be on trees before the end of the week.

He set June 15 as the deadline for spraying the fruit fly. Any delay in using the preventative will have "disastrous" effect on the state's apple and cherry crop, he said. Cnnneries will reject fruits not properly sprayed, he pointed out.

Hutson said 29 counties in the southwestern part of the state have reported evidence of the fruit fly in cherry orchards. The infestation of the cherry fly precedes the codling moth, he said.

To aid in the fight against the insects, State Agricultural Commissioner John B. Strange announced appointments of 18 inspectors, including Lee Sneathen of Hayes township as inspector for Charlevoix county.

TWO CRUISES WERE ENTERTAINED HERE

CITY'S HOSPITALITY WAS GIVEN HIGH PRAISE

Third Cruise Comes Saturday With Society of Automotive Engineers and Detroit Athletic Club

Charlevoix's hospitality and facilities for recreation rose above par as the result of the visit here last Friday of members of the Detroit Board of Commerce, and Tuesday by the Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce.

Over three hundred members of the Detroit civic group were guests of the city from 11:45 a. m. to 10:10 p. m. last Friday following their arrival aboard the City of Detroit III. They were lightered ashore from the large ship at anchor off the channel entrance by the coast guard boat and boats owned by members of the Charlevoix Marine Club.

The subsequent hours were a round of pleasure. Eighty enjoyed golf at the Belvedere Club course, others formed fishing parties and the balance took sight-seeing trips. The Charlevoix Beach Hotel, cruise headquarters, and The Argonne were liberally patronized.

Directors and the entertainment committee of the Board of Commerce are very appreciative of the fine cooperation given by the Coast Guards, members of the Marine Club, the city band, Belvedere golf committee, WPA recreational leaders and all who lent their assistance. Ninety cars were asked for and 125 were available, indicating the fine cooperation given.

The assistance shown by all was certainly fine and made a decided hit with members of the cruise, who were loud in their praise of the fine treatment given them by citizens of Charlevoix.

Tuesday's cruise on the Str. North American, brought the Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce, together with a group of midwest newspaper representatives. It was the fifth annual visit and the second year by lake cruise. Golf, fishing and the customary visits to local business institutions occupied the visitors from 8:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m.

Local business men were guests of the cruisers at noon luncheon aboard ship. Mayor Robert Bridge and Gordon Todd, secretary of the Board of Commerce, welcomed the visitors. Response was given by Mr. Hckkman, president of the Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce. E. J. Edwards presented trophies to winners at golf and fishing.

MICHIGAN BASS SEASON JUNE 25

NEW REGULATIONS OUTLINED FOR ANGLER'S BENEFIT

Five Thousand Inland Lakes Will Be Thrown Open to Fishing for All Species of Game Fish

A last minute glance at a digest of the state's fishing laws, before the 1938 season opens this coming Saturday, shows a number of points which sporting fishermen always keep in mind.

Six inches is the minimum legal size for perch, bluegills and sunfish, among the most popular of the "pan-fish" species. Keeper size for both large and small mouth bass is 10 inches; 14 inches for pike; and, seven inches for all three species of trout—brook, brown and rainbow.

The maximum number of perch which a fisherman can take in one day or have in his possession at one time is 25 for inland waters and 50 for the Great Lakes and certain inland lakes designated by law. This is the first year a limit in number has been applied to this species on the Great Lakes.

The legal maximum for pike is five, as well as for black bass. There is a limit of 25 on bluegills, sunfish, warmouth bass, calico, rock and strawberry bass, crappies and perch, which may be figured for any one of the species or for a combination of them so long as the grand total does not exceed 25.

Under the new regulations, resident anglers who purchased licenses for the trout season are legally qualified for the pan-fish season, this permit being good for all species which are lawful take. Other anglers who do not intend to try for trout may obtain the "resident non-trout license" for 50 cents, which with an identification will entitle his wife to fish without additional charge. Provision for wives was not included with the trout license.

Out of state fishermen are offered two kinds of licenses. One is a "non-resident annual fishing" permit which costs two dollars and permits the licensee to take all authorized species. The other license, costing one dollar, is the "non-resident 10-day" permit which entitles the licensee to take all legal species for 10 days from date of issue. In both cases, wives may obtain the licenses for 50 cents.

All persons over 17 years of age must have licenses this year, the minimum having been reduced from 18.

Other greens have been top-dressed and seeded during the spring program of getting the course in shape for play. The work has been in charge of Jeff Novotny, who continues as groundskeeper.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Ken Usher

The Detroit Tigers have a lot of enthusiastic supporters in Charlevoix, hut we just ran across one who expresses his support in actions us well as thoughts. It's Billy Ochs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Ochs. Billy recently sent four-leaf clovers to every member of the Tiger squad as an omen of good luck (which, by the way, the Bengals sorely need) and as a reward for his thoughtfulness has a personal letter of appreciation from Frank Navin, owner of the Tigers. Hope Bill's clover leafs turn the trick.

It is mighty interesting to learn that Northern Michigan's oldest hotel is Charlevoix's oldest building, and that the hotel is still in operation by members of the family that established it. We refer to the Fountain City House. The hotel was built in 1865 by Richard Cooper, one of Charlevoix's early pioneers. Associated with her husband in the present management is Mrs. Harrison Bedford, a daughter of the builder. For many years after its construction, the Fountain City House was regarded as the most elaborately appointed hotel in Northern Michigan. To the pioneers of the 60's and 70's it was as magnificent as the most famous hotels of today are to the present generation. Before the days of highways, or even railroads, boats brought those attracted to Northern Michigan by its beauty and famous lakes and streams to the old hotel. It would appear that Richard Cooper

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

What's wrong with our small towns?

A recent effort by a newspaper syndicate house to interest editors in radio propaganda, as a means of "reviving Main Street", prompted us to give some thought this week to Michigan economic and social trends.

Trends are like a trade wind—a steady force that keeps blowing whether you like it or not.

You who live in small towns or on the rural routes and you city cousins who came from rural sections or occasionally visit there will be interested in these facts:

Seventy-three per cent of all Michigan small towns — 1,000 to 2,500 population—enjoyed an increase in population from 1920 to 1930. The depression's back-to-the-land movement has accelerated the trend, as a tour of inspection of these bustling villages will prove. New homes are being built. Vacant dwellings are scarce.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Gallagher of Detroit are visiting D. D. Gallagher and other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Grace Bundy and daughter, Mrs. Williams, returned to Detroit after a few days' visit on the island.

Ed. B. Gallagher and James W. Gallagher were business callers in Charlevoix Wednesday and Thursday.

Hugh and Mike Burke of Escanaba are here visiting their brother, Joseph, and other relatives and friends.

Willard Pischner, Elston Pischner, Annebelle deGerald, Jewell Gillespie and Emerald Gallagher were week end visitors in Charlevoix.

CENTRAL LAKE

Now for a dry spell.

Mrs. Grace Hooper of Eastport is attending graduation exercises of her daughter, Bertha, at Detroit this week.

Mrs. O. R. Morse has purchased the former Smith place near the bridge in Central Lake, and will move to it from the farm at Bay View.

Mrs. Lester Hubbel and Miss Edith Hubbel have returned to Ypsilanti after quite an extended visit here. Miss Edith will return next week to spend her birthday here.

Rev. Batterbee was unable to be at the rural rally this year on account of having to attend Menonite conference. All Methodist preachers were also away to Albion conference.

George Shumaker has moved into the Harry Clark house across from the Bay View school house. He is working the Mrs. Edwards and Mr. Brace farms this year with his new tractor.

Dr. Payne of Newaygo is renting the former A. P. building in Central Lake to a party from Charlevoix who will use it for a bakery and restaurant. C. H. Morse is doing some repairing on it this week.

Henry Miller and son, Howard, of Atwood, are stopping with the Preston Johnson family on the Lake Shore this summer. They have been attending Sunday school and church at Bay View this summer.

Jasper Dawson and family of Pontiac have returned home after a short visit at the John Dawson home, and with other friends and neighbors near Central Lake. He tells of hard times in his city, and of the work of CIO agents.

Rev. Kerr supplied for Rev. Matthews at Norwood last Sunday evening, during the absence of Rev. Matthews at Albion conference. The prayer-meeting of Rev. Kerr's at Norwood will be taken up for this week Wednesday.

The grasshoppers are making their appearance in great numbers and threaten to be terribly destructive to crops unless soon curbed by the county poison dope. The tent caterpillar worm appears to have been held back by the cold weather.

Ex-Governor Franklin D. Fitzgerald of Grand Ledge gave an excellent talk at Eastport Baptist church after the rally at 4:30 p. m. last Wednesday. He says the principle thing in these days is to save the children and give the state a good, clean government. He said he left the state with $8,775,000 to the good, and now we are $20,000,000 in debt.

INDUSTRIOUS ANT READY FOR RAIDS

It's no fable that an ant is industrious.

So a timely warning to Michigan housewives is sounded by Professor E. I. McDaniel of Michigan State College, who sees no reason for households to be plagued if a few precautions are taken with the food supply.

The grade school description of how ants follow up the findings of scouts is still gospel, says Professor McDaniel. Control of the foragers, however, is to forestall their work by several means.

One is not to leave food accessible. Crumbs of food, sugar supplies not adequately protected or preserves set out in open dishes are invitations for ants to crawl in by the hundreds.

If ants appear, then two more measures are appropriate. One is to take care of them inside the home.

Dry poison bait is easy to prepare. Make use of the ants' liking for brown sugar. But sprinkle the brown sugar with paris green. One ounce of the poison is sufficient to mix with one pound of the sugar. Keep the dry bait available until the ants disappear. If the sugar gets wet the bait loses its effectiveness. Commercially prepared baits also are recommended, also powders and repellants.

Any nicotine spray suitable for rose bushes also is effective for outside control of ants. Cultivation and crop rotation helps control in fields and gardens. Contact sprays of derris, pyrethrum or nicotine sulphate keep them off trees.

KIT CARSON LUMBER CO. WILL OPEN SATURDAY

New Concern Will Handle Complete Line of Building Materials and Supplies

The Kit Carson Lumber Co., Charlevoix newest business enterprise, will hold its official opening on Saturday, June 25th.

Located at the corner of South Bridge street and Carpenter Avenue, the concern brings to Charlevoix an institution combining the contracting business with a complete line of building supplies. Estimates as well as materials for construction work of any nature are available.

The business is housed in a structure 50x100 feet, which, incidentally was considerably enlarged over original plans. A service station, handling D-X gasoline and associated products, will be operated in connection. The office is adjoined by modernly appointed rest rooms and wide, sweeping concrete driveways approach the two self-calculating gasoline pumps, providing easy access from either direction off the trunk line highway.

In addition to a complete supply of lumber, the concern will handle doors, frames and sash; Huron cement; lime and plaster; Vulcanite asphalt roofing in shingle and roll; roofing metals; complete supply of nails; complete line of wallboards and plywoods.

Especial attention is centered upon the line of Kraftsman paints handled by the concern. The line, widely known here especially in marine circles, includes all kinds of marine paints and varnishes, as well as exterior and interior house paint, barn paint and paints for every purpose. Kraftsman paint is a Michigan product, manufactured in Grand Rapids.

As the name implies, the Kit Carson Lumber Co. is owned and operated by Kit Carson of East Jordan, who has been a contractor and builder in this region for many years. Mr. Carson until recently was associated with Earl Publow in the firm of Carson & Publow, building contractors, whose constructions include several recently built summer homes in this city. George Whitley is in charge of the business under Mr. Carson and has as assistants Milton Richardson and Kenneth Bird.

The general public is extended an invitation to visit and inspect this new business institution.

YOU GOING SWIMMING? HERE ARE SOME RULES

Experts Tell What Should and What Shouldn't Be Done

If you want to go swimming—and live to tell about it!—you are advised by the American Red Cross and other agencies to observe the following rules, made public recently:

Remember that man does not belong in the water. He was built to live and play on land, and when he ventures beyond his natural sphere he should do so with every precaution.

Do not go swimming any place alone, and at all times stay out of unguarded places you know nothing about.

Don't ever go swimming in less than two hours after eating.

Don't try any distance swimming unless you are accompanied by a boat bearing two persons, one to row and the other to jump in after you if you need assistance.

Come out of the water for a rest at the first sign of exhaustion, and come out to warm up at the first chill.

Diving is dangerous in unknown waters. You might dive into a submerged tree, a sunken log, or wreckage.

If you are subject to cramps of any kind, avoid long swims and always stay elose to shore.

Don't ever go in the water when it is uncomfortably cold, avoid sun burn, and remember that some persons can stand more exposure than others.

AT THE MOVIES

"Test Pilot" Has Star Triumverate In Stirring Roles

Acclaimed by aviation experts the most authentic aviation story ever filmed, "Test Pilot", starring Clark Gable, Myrna Loy and Spencer Tracy comes to the Palace Theatre next Sunday for a 2-day engagement.

Based on an original story by Lieutenant-Commander Frank Wead, the story is steeped in colorful traditions of the men who are building the future of aviation, test pilots who try new ships before they are approved.

The screen, which lately has focused a majority of its bigger productions on biographical subjects, has seen many remarkable portraits of characters taken from the past.

Few of these historic personalities, however, enjoyed a life more significant and romantic than the Marco Polo so few people seem to know, whom Samuel Goldwyn has chosen as the hero of "The Adventures of Marco Polo," his rollicking adventurous romance which brings Gary Cooper to the Palace Theatre for two days on June 28-29.

Uniforms suddenly dominate in the new motion pictures. The soldier is the current sereen hero.

All of these films were started before he current changes in Europe. Unlike war picures of the past, these productions are not based on actual battle sequences but deal with the individual rather than the mass of soldiers.

"Yellow Jack", opening at the Palace Thentre June 30, presents a picture of the Army during the Spanish-American War period. Robert Montgomery, Buddy Ebsen, Alan Curtis and William Henry offer themselves as human guinea pigs in Cuba in a scientific war on yellow fever.

MICHIGAN RANKS HIGH IN DAIRY PRODUCTION

Census Figures of 1936 Reveal State's Diversity in Dairying

By producing more than 80 million pounds of butter in 1937, Michigan has climbed into fourth place in rank of butter manufacturing states.

Census figures of 1936 reveal Michigan's diversity in dairying. From 905 thousand cows comes 4.5 billion pounds of milk. About 40 per cent of this milk is used as fluid milk. Sixty per cent or 2.7 billion pounds of milk is used for butter, cheese, ice cream, condensed, evaporated and powdered milk.

Besides ranking fourth in butter, Michigan ranks first in manufacture of sweetened condensed, third in powdered skim milk, unsweetened and sweetened condensed in bulk, also third in domestic Italian cheese. Michigan ranks seventh in cheddar cheese and sixth in ice cream, with more than 14 million gallons manufactured annually.

PETOSKEY CITY MANAGER KIWANIS SPEAKER

P. T. "Pete" Mitchell Gave Interesting Talk Tuesday Evening

P. T. "Pete" Mitchell, Petoskey city manager, gave an interesting talk before the local Kiwanis Club Tuesday evening.

Mr. Mitchell has been Petoskey's city manager for 14 years and from all reports has done a good job. In his talk, Mr. Mitchell cited the city manager form of government as efficient and economical for the reason it places control and operation of city affairs under one head and thus eliminates petty frictions. "With a manager who is honest, tactful, industrious and loyal to his job, and a city council acting as a buffer, you have an ideal set-up," Mr. Mitchell said.

POLICE WARN ON LAW GOVERNING FIREWORKS

Numerous Violations Have Been Reported in This City

Chief of Police Heise has reported numerous violations of the Michigan law prohibiting exploding of fireworks within the state. The chief asked for the cooperation of Charlevoix parents in preventing the violation of this law by Charlevoix children.

"Numerous reports have been made to the police the last few days regarding boys exploding firecrackers in and about homes of the city," the chief said today. "On one or two occasions boys have lighted firecrackers and then thrown them inside of homes, seriously frightening those persons in the homes and also causing serious fire dangers. We are asking that parents see that their children do not explode fireworks illegally in Charlevoix.

"The law provides that special permission may be secured for fireworks displays on the Fourth of July and other special occasions. We urge that persons desiring to have such displays get permission from the state."

HARRY S. TOY WILL VISIT CHARLEVOIX

This City Included in Itinerary by Candidate for Governor

Harry S. Toy this week is completing his organizational tour of the state in his campaign for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

He will swing through 25 counties in the upper half of the lower peninsula between Monday, June 20 and Friday, June 24. Principal stops are carded at Mt. Pleasant, Clare, Big Rapids, Ludington, Manistee, Cadillac, Traverse City, Charlevoix, Mackinaw City, Cheboygan, Petoskey, Gaylord, Grayling, Roscommon, West Branch and Gladwin.

Toy has been applauded from one end of the state to the other for his stand on civil service, and the amendments he proposes to make it truly effective, as presented to the Michigan League of Women Voters, and his demands that Michigan workers be given protection in their jobs and complete freedom in their choice of whether to join a union or not.

The purposes of the cruise are to present to the newspaper men accompanying the tour a first-hand opportunity to see and enjoy the vacation possibilities of the western Michigan shoreline, the Straits and St. Mary's river so that they may tell the hundreds of thousands of readers of their newspapers; and to afford the business men of Grand Rapids and the ports visited an opportunity to become better acquainted in order that they may work together more harmoniously in developing the vacation regions.

The press representatives on the cruise were: John P. Rhodes, Cincinnati Enquirer; Ed. Fulke, Toledo News Bee; Hugh C. Daly, Detroit Times; Kendrick Kimball, Detroit News; Jack Robinson, Chicago Herald and Examiner; David M. Nichol, Chicago Daily News; John J. McGinnis, Grand Rapids Press, and Carleton Cady, Grand Rapids Herald.

Charlevoix's third cruise is scheduled for Saturday, June 25th, and brings the Society of Atuomotive Engineers and the Detroit Athletic Club from Detroit. Both groups have previously visited Charlevoix. Golf and fishing will provide entertainment. The cruise ship will arrive here at noon and remain until 6 o'clock. Several hundred persons are expected.

WHITING PARK SITE OF WPA BOYS CAMP

LOCAL LEADERS SUPERVISING NEW SUMMER CAMP

Project Has Assistance of Board of Education, Board of Commerce and Local Individuals

Through the cooperation of the Board of Education, the Board of Commerce, and several private citizens, local WPA recreational leaders, Bob Pearl, Ed. Radle and Joe Szymankiewiez, have established a camp for boys at Whiting Park.

The school bus, which has been donated for transportation, took a load of twenty-one local boys out for the first three day camp last Monday and the reports are that they are having the time of their life. Camp activities are well organized and are run off according to a schedule arranged by the camp council. Swimming is conducted on a restricted area of the beach and under the competent supervision of all three leaders.

In order to give every boy in town between the ages of eight and sixteen an opportunity to attend, the camp will be run in three day periods. Any boy wishing to go to camp can get in one of the three day groups by registering with Gordon Todd at the Chamber of Commerce building. All the boys "chip in" for "gruh".

While this camp is now pretty well organized, it is still in a formative stage as an established recreational project. Plans are under way to establish a permanent camp somewhere near and give all the local boys a chance to participate in well supervized camping each year. Contributions in the form of tents, cooking utensils and other equipment, are needed and will be appreciated.

Can You Afford to be Sick?

Few of us can afford the expense and loss of time that serious illness entails. Yet rarely do we take the simple precautions to forestall a "sick spell." Consider your own case. If you are not feeling quite up to par, don't delay or drift along. Go at once to a trusted physician. Get his diagnosis. Be guided by his competent and experienced counsel. Not only is delay dangerous, but it usually results in adding substantially to your bill. And then—bring his prescription to us for accurate compounding.

4-H CANNING CONTEST ENTERS TENTH YEAR; OFFERS SPECIAL AWARD

The National 4-H Canning Contest conducted under supervision of the Agricultural Extension Service of the various states celebrates its tenth anniversary this year by supplementing the usual awards with a 25-quart pressure retort to each alternate state winner.

Over 225,000 girls and about 1,000 boys are estimated to be enrolled this season in canning activities, which are expected to produce for home consumption and exhibition 8,000,000 jars. Many of these Clubsters also carry garden and fruit growing projects, which have roundly 220,000 enrolled and yield 1,000,000 bushels of produce for canning and sale.

All regular enrolled canning Clubsters in the state are eligible to enter the contest which requires only that they fill out a form provided by their leaders on the amount canned, exhibits, contests and related activities.

Each county winner is awarded a handsome gold medal, the state victor receives an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress to be held in Chicago early in December, and college scholarships totaling $1,000 will be presented the four sectional winners and national winner through the Kerr Glass Corporation, which has supported the contest from the start.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Christian Science" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 26.

The Golden Text, (Isaiah 35:10), is: "The ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isa.55:1): "Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 12): "In divine Science, where prayers are mental, all may avail themselves of God as 'a very present help in trouble'. Love is impartial and universal in its adaptation and bestowals. It is the open fount which cries, 'Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters'."

July 26th Deadline Set for Petitions

Candidates for the nomination for the offices of Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Representative in Congress, State Senator, Representative to the State Legislature and county officials on the Democratic and Republican tickets must file their nominating petitions not later than 5:00 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, Tuesday, July 26th, according to Act 351 of the Michigan Public Acts of 1925. Candidates also will be nominated to fill the vacancies in the office of Circuit Judge in the seventh, seventeenth and thirty-second Judicial Circuits. In districts comprising more than one county, the candidates must file their petitions with the secretary of state, and in single county districts, candidates file their petitions with the county clerk.

The minimum number of petitioners whose names must be signed to petitions of candidates for the office of Governor and Lieutenant Governor is prescribed by the election laws, as being equal to not less than one per cent of the vote polled in the last preceding November election for the office of secretary of state, by the party of the candidate filing the petitions. However, petitions must not bear more than four times the number of names, the minimum provided by law.

Further provisions on this point are that petitions must be signed by at least one hundred residents in each of at least twenty counties of the state, and no more than twenty-five per cent of the minimum required number of signatures being those of voters residing in any one county. These latter provisions apply to candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor only. Democratic candidates for these two offices must file petitions bearing at least 8,486 names; Republican candidates must file their petitions bearing at least 8,063 names.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS By Cora Anthony

Week end shoppers will have no trouble selecting a reasonably priced roast for Sunday since all meats and most poultry are reasonable in price. Eggs and butter are both a little higher though still inexpensive.

Many vegetables are cheap, none high and there is great variety to choose from. Even broccoli, cauliflower and eggplant are inexpensive; peas and beans reasonable and spinach cheap. Salad greens, cucumbers and tomatoes are plentiful and cost little.

At this season fruit lovers can fend, in variety or on almost any favorite for melons, small fruits, berries, pineapples and citrus fruits are all available. Even new apples are beginning to come to market.

Here are three seasonable dinner menus.

Low Cost Dinner
Lamb Shoulder Chops
Creamed Potatoes Spinach
Bread and Butter
Vanilla Pudding with Berries
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Browned Potatoes Green Peas

FUNDAMENTAL

There are truths and principles fundamental to all knowledge, philosophy, and government. We call these "fundamentals" because they are the basis on which knowledge is founded, philosophy is evolved, and government is built.

These fundamentals give justification and vitality to all structures of which they are the cornerstones.

This is especially true of the Magna Charta and Bill of Rights of the English people, and the constitution of this American republic.

Our constitution lives because its fundamentals remain the same today as yesterday no matter how the ideas of people change.

Having met all requirements of 150 years the constitution remains the best test for all theories and inventions of the future.—Frank B. Craig.

SWIMMERS ARE TRAINED DOWN for ENDURANCE

..SO IS ISO-VIS MOTOR OIL ...that's why it's so long-lasting!

Trained down to sheer stamina and staying power—that's as important for a motor oil as for an athlete! Iso-Vis motor oil is an exceptional lubricant because of the degree to which Standard's special "workouts" have trained it down for endurance. Only the longest lasting oil is left in Iso-Vis. That's why Iso-Vis in your crankcase will mean "more miles before you need to add a quart!" You can prove it—and save.

Scenic Week-end Trips at Low Cost—No. 1

Here are three ideal tours suggested for this week-end which may easily be made by automobile. One of these interesting places to visit is only a few hours' drive from your home.

The approximate cost of the gasoline and oil you will use to reach these points in your car may be estimated by means of the map at right and the scale shown below.

Houghton and Higgins Lakes—No. 1

These enchanting lakes, with their sister lake, St. Helen, lie in the woodland paradise of Roscommon County. Excellent resorts, cottages, and camp altes are found along their shores, together with golf courses and parks. The lakes and near-by rivers abound in fish. Take U.S. 27, or Mich. 76 or 55.

Grand Haven—No. 2

For a week-end of swimming, fishing, boating, and golf, Grand Haven and its adjacent lakes offer an ideal area amid summer resort surroundings. Visitors will find a wide variety of accomodations, ranging from tourist cabins to modern hotels. The public bathing beach is safe, clean, and well guarded. Take U.S. 31 or 16.

The Sparks Cascades—No. 3

One of East Michigan's chief attractions is the illuminated cascades near Jackson, which contain eleven large falls, lighted nightly by 1230 varl-colored electric lamps. Annually more than a million and a half people visit these cascades. Numerous good hotels and tourist homes insure comfortable accommodations. Take U.S. 12 or 127, or Mich. 60.

How to Estimate Your Driving Costs

Computed by Standard Oil Company (Ind.) ©

First cut out the scale along the dotted lines and place it on the map with the "starting point" on the town nearest your home. Then swing the scale around until its edge touches the place you wish to visit.

From the figures on the scale you can determine within about 10% what the drive will cost you. To get the cost of a round trip, simply double the figure. The amounts shown will be correct for the great majority of cars, although naturally the cost will be slightly more for the largest cars.

hamlet—the one with 500 population or under—that has suffered the most in the past two decades. Two-fifths of these villages suffered declines.

Population trends away from the town are apt to increase in proportion to the distance from industrial cities. Development of good roads and the rapid increase in the use of high-speed automobiles has extended the commuting suburban zone out many miles into the rural territory around the larger cities.

For example, Macomb, Onkland, Monroe and most of the other counties in southern Michigan witnessed steady population growth of cities and villages alike. In northern Michigan, Antrim county, all four of the incorporated population centers—Central Lake, Bellaire, Mancelona and Elk Rapids — experienced losses in population. Yet this northern region, favored by legions of tourists, entertains an increasing summer population each year as good roads are built.

32 Per Cent Growth

While Michigan has grown in population at a faster rate than the rest of the country—the increase being 32 per cent between 1920 and 1930 alone—yet it cannot be said truthfully that the development has been at the cost of Michigan small towns, most of which have continued to thrive.

Nearly 18 per cent of the state's population comprises people born in other states. These are, for the most part, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania, New York, Wisconsin, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Nearly one-fourth of the population, according to the 1930 census, was foreign-born.

Since the World war, tens of thousands of Negroes have settled in Michigan industrial centers.

The urban population increased 47.3 per cent from 1920 to 1930, at the same time when the rural population declined 8.2 per cent.

No Exodus to Cities

What are the small town trends nationally?

In 1920, the percentage of the country's population living in small towns was 18.9 per cent.

By 1930 this proportion had grown to 19.2 per cent.

The small towns are more than holding their own in population, as the figures show for both Michigan and the nation as a whole. The high birth rate and migration from the farms enables the communities to show steady growth, even although many of their own young people go to the cities to find jobs.

It is significant that the rate of growth of America's small towns exceeded that of the country as a whole.

More Retail Stores

What has been happening to Main Street's business life during this period?

The most interesting development of small town business is the steady increase in the number of retail trade outlets per town.

A recent survey (1936) places the average at 52.5 stores per community. In 1910 the average stood at 27.7; in 1920 at 32.1; and in 1930 at 39.6. The jump from 27 to 52 represents a 90 per cent increase in 25 years!

In place of the old-time general store is the specialized retail business. These facts disprove again the popular misconception that small-town merchants are losing their trade to the city stores and mail-order houses. It seems to indicate that adjustments have been made to hold the country and small-town trade.

Cities have the trading edge in fields of ready-to-wear, dry goods, furniture and entertainment, but the small towns still are prominent in serving the rural trade with groceries, drugs, hardware, farm machines, automobiles and auto accessories, work clothes, bank service, restaurant service, and ordinary forms of recreation.

Decentralization Trend

Small towns with low-priced real estate, moderate taxes and good living conditions at low cost, have been attracting the factories that have previously clustered together in industrial centers.

Plymouth, a suburban community of Detroit, 25 miles out from the traffic rush, has been selected as the site of a factory now located inside Detroit.

Henry Ford, pioneer of the decentralizing idea for industry, has been building scores of model factories amid the quiet atmosphere of Michigan small towns. And it has found it to be good business.

The Dow Chemical Company at Midland is an example of big business that operates successfully in a small city. It's only 15 minutes from the office to the country club, and your next door resident is your neighbor. How much is this worth?

Office supplies of any description may be obtained quickly through this office. Charlevoix Courier.—Adv.3tf.

"MY MICHIGAN"

True Stories of Human Interest (Michigan Press Association)

Cat Adopts Rat

Mount Pleasant—"Johnnie", a baby muskrat, was discovered by Fred S. Parmalee, who was plowing a corn field. At first the Parmelee family fed Johnnie, whose tail was longer than his body, with a spoon. One morning they were surprised to find the house cat nursing Johnnie along with her own four tiny, day-old kittens. She has mothered him ever since.

Hall Papered With Money

Saline—In re-decorating a hallway in the farmhouse on the old Fosdick homestead last week, one wall was discovered papered with "wildcat" money, which was issued in Michigan in 1835-36. The discovery is reminded of an era in Michigan when banks were formed almost overnight with little material backing, precipitating an era of false prosperity.

Freak Chick Hatched

Baldwin—Almost a perfect Siamese, a chicken with four legs, four wings, one head and one body was hatched Sunday near here. With a body unusually large for a newly-hatched chick, it houses two complete chickens within one skin. A second head was found just under the skin behind the fully-formed head. The mother hen pecked her freakish child to death, but the odd bird's body was rescued and preserved.

Made His Comeback

Laingsburg—A rather unusual and successful comeback was staged here this year when Cecil Morris received his high school diploma, after a 15-year vacation. Dropping out of Owosso high school in his junior year, Morris got a job. As he became older, he wished to continue his schooling, so he transferred his credits to the local high school and completed his course.

A Lucky Find

Bangor—When Thomas Hill was convicted of illegal fishing and assessed a fine of $5.00 and costs of $3.50, he had no money to pay, so officers started out with him for the Genesee county jail to serve the alternate five days. Scarcely 20 steps from the jail, Hill found a $10.00 bill, and departed with $1.50 profit after paying his fine.

Truck Runs Away

St. Johns — When truck driver Chester Cherrie stopped at a local restaurant after a long haul, he left his truck in low gear. Somehow the brakes slipped, the motor turned over and the truck rolled down the street until it struck a stick. Then it swerved onto the sidewalk and sideswiped the corner of a store, gouging out a barrow load of bricks and cracking masonry nearly up to the second story windows.

Candid Gardener

Mancelona — An exasperated garden owner at Elk Rapids recently paid for a front-page advertisement in the Elk Rapids Progress which read: "Dog owners beware—all dogs bothering my garden from now on will be shot."

Mimeograph supplies of all sorts handled at Courier office.—Adv. 8tf.

"The Call", a stirring story of the sea that every man and boy will enjoy, appears in This Week, the magazine with Sunday's Detroit News. Watch for this gripping tale by J. M. Morgan.

To be free from care . . . drive with care!

WHEN you dream of the perfect vacation, have you a favorite background in mind? Here are some that Michigan provides:

Swimming pools at gay resorts . . . fine motor roads through lovely scenery . . . the world's largest inland steamships. Fishing streams, historic sights, famous industrial plants well worth a visit, State Parks with camping sites galore.

And thousands of lakes—some so large that you bathe in sea-like surf . . . and others so small that your canoe glides in utter stillness as you watch the sun go down.

The vacation of your dreams will cost less in Michigan . . . for the playgrounds here, being nearer, make your money go farther!

must have sensed the fact that the region would some day be a great summer playground, for he built the hotel on far greater dimensions than the early days warranted, and lived to see the transformation.

Myself, the Missus, and all the kids converged upon the Grand Rapids Ushers last week-end. They learned what a gathering was and responded in a manner providing one of the most pleasant visits we have had in many a year. The visit ended with a picnic on the way home at Cedar Springs. There were 15 Ushers around the table and (not bragging) our Charlevoix gang lacked one of furnishing half the crowd.

Had a pleasant surprise in Cadillac. Dropped into a service station there and bumped smack into Warren "Hap" Kibbe. Warren has bought a Standard station on U.S.131 near the south city limits of Cadillac. He said that after seven years on the road for the Standard Oil Company he had decided to get better acquainted with his family by getting into business and staying put in one place. When you're in Cadillac don't fail to stop and see Warren.

Found out something about good roads last week end. Made quite a trip around Kent county and want to tell you they have the best roads, no matter where you go or whether it's a main highway or crossroad, that I ever saw. Even the one-way traffic roads are smooth as a sidewalk. It would do a lot of counties good to go and find out how Kent does it.

Automobile traffic was mighty light for so late in June. One encouraging sign was the number of Illinois, Ohio and Indiana licenses we saw headed north. Didn't meet them going back south, either. Saw a car trying to climb a telephone pole nt Walton Junction and counted twenty birds, one snake, one frog and one turtle dead on the highway.

Biggest thrill I had in Grand Rapids was n ride on the derby racer out at Ramona lake. Hadn't been on the darn thing in years and was as scared as the first time. Guess we're always kids at heart.

Wish something could be done to make the coming 4th of July celebration like the old ones. It used to be that folks packed up the picnic basket and came to town for the day. Now they jump into their auto, come in to see the sports, jump into the auto again and go home for supper and the evening chores, then back again for the fireworks. One of the biggest thrills I ever had when a kid was when we went to Boyne City for a 4th of July celebration on the old "City of Boyne." Left early in the morning and didn't get back until late at night. Don't believe they have as much fun as they used to, at that.

Summer wouldn't be summer in Charlevoix without W. E. (Bill the Hatter) Wilkins. He's been here so many years that he is almost a fixture. Bill's opened up his place in the south part of the Brown building.

You won't need your glasses to see the Charlevoix Terminal Co.'s big storage tank when they get through with that painting job. The tank is being covered with a dull red that's mighty attractive and sure sets its enormous size.

PETOSKEY TO STAGE 5-DAY HOMECOMING

Extensive Program Outlined for Big Independence Celebration

Features and fun galore are promised at the five day celebration to be held in Petoskey, June 30 through July 4, at which time the first Homecoming ever to be held in that city will be combined with an elaborate Fourth of July celebration.

A thousand pound ox will be roasted on an open pit for a bar-b-q Saturday, as one of the features of the program.

Thirty-five nationally known speedsters have entered with many more expected in the three classes of the Michigan Outboard Motorboat Regatta to be held on Little Traverse Bay the afternoons of July 3 and 4.

Michigan State Police in this region will meet in pistol competition Friday afternoon followed by a machine gun and pistol exhibition of Sergeant Ray Sullivan of the Michigan State Police of Jackson.

A "Calico Dance", in which all the ladies will dress in cotton or calico dresses and cotton stockings is scheduled for Saturday evening. Dancing under the stars on the Petoskey Municipal Tennis Courts is slated for every night during the celebration with the exception of Thursday and Sunday.

An "Old Tyme Program" will be held in the Bay View auditorium Sunday evening at which time pioneers and homecomers will be honored.

FITZGERALD MET BY FRIENDS HERE

FINE RECEPTION IS GIVEN FORMER GOVERNOR

Republican Gubernatorial Candidate Pledges Economic Era If Elected at Fall Campaign

Former Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald declared here last Wednesday that a change in state administration this fall will be a "signal for business revival".

Fitzgerahl was in Charlevoix on a pre-campaign tour which has taken him into nearly every county in the lower peninsula. He met friends and supporters informally at Lakeview Inn. He is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

"Michigan has been used as a proving ground by the New Deal," Fitzgerald said. "It was here that an unholy alliance between radical labor cliques and the government permitted the birth and the growth of the sit down strike scourge. A favorite son of the New Deal was brought from the Philippine Islands to head a principality whose real ruler is in Washington. Michigan has followed faithfully in the footsteps of President Roosevelt's extravagant and fruitless spending program. This is the 'little New Deal' state, and when the people of Michigan turn their backs upon the type of government they now have it will inform the nation that the tide has turned.

"Labor must have the right to strike, in an orderly manner. It may not have, while I or any other responsible citizen, is governor, the right to illegally seize and hold the property of its employers."

Fitzgerald censured the fiscal program of the current administration. He said the state deficit is crowding the $20,000,000 mark now, and will go much higher. Fitzgerald pointed to the record of his administration in 1935 and 1936, stating that not only was an inherited deficit of $5,600,000 retired, but a cash surplus of $8,775,000 was built up.

GENE'S BEAUTY SHOPPE IS OPENED FOR SEASON

An advertisement elsewhere in this issue announces the opening of Gene's Beauty Shoppe at 310 West Hurlbut avenue. Gene Supernaw, long identified with beauty shop operation here, has established a modernly equipped shop at her home.

MARGARET McCANN WAS WED SATURDAY TO HERBERT CAMPBELL

Margaret McCann, daughter of Mrs. James McCann, became the bride of Herbert Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Campbell, at a ceremony solemnized at 9 o'clock Saturday morning by the Rev. Fr. Edward Neubecker at St. Mary's rectory. The service was followed by a high mass service at the St. Mary's church. The church was very beautifully decorated with peonies and roses.

The bride was very becoming in a gown of white marquisette and a floor length veil of white tulle held in place by a band of orange blossoms. Her flowers were white sweetheart roses, gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Miss Mary McCann of Detroit, sister of the bride, attended as bridesmaid and wore a gown of delphinium blue marquisette with an off the face hat of matching color. Her arm bouquet was of salmon pink gladiolus and blue delphiniums.

Dan McCann, brother of the bride, was best man.

The bride's mother chose powder blue chiffon, with a corsage of gardenias and lillies of the valley.

After the service, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. The house was decorated with peonies and roses, and the table was centered by a beautiful wedding cake. A buffet luncheon was served to 40 guests.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left for a two week's trip in Northern Canada. For traveling, Mrs. Campbell chose navy blue print with beige accessories.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Monroe Block of New York, Misses Mary and Ann McCann, Mrs. B. Nordrum, Richard Nordrum, Mrs. Laura Zipp, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Fennick, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Coveyou, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lovelace of Petoskey.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell were both members of the graduating class of 1933, and Mr. Campbell attended Junior College in Grand Rapids, and Mrs. Campbell attended Detroit Commercial College.

SEEK FEDERAL AID FOR IMPROVEMENTS

PROJECTS TOTALING $161,952.00 HAVE BEEN SUBMITTED

Electric Light System Extension and Improvements, City-Wide Park Program Are Included

Seeking to provide employment and needed civic improvements, the city council through Supt. Herrick has made application for federal funds on two projects totaling $161,952.00 from the current spend-lend program passed by Congress and signed by President Roosevelt.

A project providing a diesel unit for the electric light plant and general improvement of the municipal electric light system at a cost of $125,090, has been submitted to the PWA. The program requires a bond issue of approximately $89,300 and federal grant of $56,690 for financing. Broken down, the project provides approximately $55,000 for diesel engine and generator, $3,300 for engine foundation, $7,100 for switchboard changes and additions, $17,000 for building addition to house new unit, $17,000 for new transmission to hydro electric plant at Bellaire, $9,000 for improvements and repairs at the Bellaire plant, $4,000 for reconditioning steam boilers at the Charlevoix generating plant, $7,000 for engineering costs, $3,000 for contingencies, $1,100 for water intake for the diesel unit. Other miscellaneous items make up the total.

A previous proposal to issue bonds in the amount of $98,000 for a similar program was turned down by voters in May when a proposal to grant a franchise was defeated. Approval of the present project by federal agencies will produce the same results and save taxpayers approximately $30,000.

The second project, submitted to WPA, would provide a city-wide park improvement program at a cost of $36,052.90. Included in the project is the proposed new municipal bathing beach and pier on Lake Charlevoix off Ferry avenue together with required grading, filling, roads and landscaping; steel revetment, a fish pond, grading and filling newly acquired addition to East Park on Round lake; improvements at the Lake Michigan municipal beach including protecting wall to eliminating drift sand; a road to the water pumping station on Lake Michigan.

In addition to the two projects outlined above, Supt. Herrick is preparing for submission through the WPA city-wide street and sewer projects which will total $60,000 approximately.

PETOSKEY SENIOR IS WINNER OF CONTEST

James H. Garvin Wins Bankers' Assn. Scholarship at U. of M.

In December, 1937, the Michigan Bankers Association announced an essay contest open to any senior student of a Michigan high school. The winner of this contest was to receive a $500 scholarship to the University of Michigan, available in September, 1938. The subject of this essay was to be "How a Bank Serves Its Community."

This association announces that winning essays were sent in from 131 senior high school classes, and that the winner of this contest was: James H. Garvin, Petoskey high school, Petoskey; first alternate: Miss Betty Rae Hileman, Redford high school, Detroit; second alternate: Howard Griep, Cadillac high school, Cadillac.

Miss Rosemary Cooper was winner among local students competing in the contest.

START SUMMER BAND CONCERTS JULY 6TH

Program Each Wednesday Evening at City Memorial Park

The regular summer program of band concerts by the city band, directed by Max Smith, will begin Wednesday evening, July 6th.

Concerts will continue at Memorial Park each Wednesday evening during the remainder of the summer, with programs of old favorites and new selections.

4TH OF JULY CELEBRATION IS MONDAY

FULL DAY OF SPORTS, EXHIBITIONS AND ENTERTAINMENT PROVIDED FOR ANNUAL OBSERVANCE

Parade Opens Activities in Morning; Street Sports, Water Sports, Ball Games, Band Concerts, Aeroplane Stunting Among Attractions Listed; Fireworks Display Finale

Following the customary plan of rotation, Charlevoix county's 4th of July celebration will this year be staged in Charlevoix.

An extensive program of sports, exhibitions, softball and baseball games, water sports and the usual climaxing fireworks display has been arranged jointly by the Board of Commerce, Marine Club, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and WPA recreational leaders with Allen Campbell as general committee chairman.

The day's festivities open with a street parade at 11:00 a. m. Prizes of $25, $15 and $10 are being offered for the most attractive floats. This event is not designated to be elaborate, rather to obtain a full representation of local business concerns and those from other cities and nearby summer camps desiring to participate. While the parade is not scheduled until 11 o'clock, entries are requested to assemble floats at the Legion grounds at 10:30. Floyd Black will act as marshal of the parade.

A full afternoon program is planned, beginning with street sports at 1:00 o'clock. Events featured will be stunt races such as three-legged, sack, potato, fat man's races, etc., furnishing a departure from the usual athletic events. Water sports, to be staged on Round lake off East Park, will include row boat and canoe races, a fish box race for boys, greased pole, exhibition diving and other attractions. Entries in the street and water sports may be made with Gordon Todd any time prior to the events.

A feature of the water sports program will be an exhibition dive from the Bridge street swing bridge by Johnny Kamona, former Hawaiian swimming and diving champion, currently engaged with Betty Trojo's orchestra at The Argonne. The dive will conclude the water sports program. The last time such an exhibition was staged many years ago, the performer was seriously injured.

Harry A. Craig will give a patriotic address and welcome visitors at Memorial Park at 1:30 o'clock.

Two ball games are scheduled at south side athletic field. The Board of Commerce and K. of P. softball teams play at 3:30 and at 4:30 a baseball game between Boyne City and East Jordan is scheduled. At the same hour an exhibition drill, an event always of great interest, will be given by Charlevoix coast guards on Round lake.

Evening features open with aeroplane stunting over Round lake harbor at 7:30 o'clock. A band concert at Memorial Park follows at 8:00 and a street dance at 8:30 has promise of being a popular feature. A spectacular fireworks display over Round lake climaxes the day's program.

Automobile traffic on Bridge street will be closed during the day Monday between Mason street and Park avenue, it is understood.

The complete program of events will be found in an advertisement on page 8 of this issue and detailed programs will be distributed during the day next Monday.

BUSINESS PLACES WILL CLOSE AT NOON MONDAY

According to Gordon Todd, secretary of the Board of Commerce, all local business places will close between 12:30 and 4:00 p. m. Monday, July 4, for observance of Independence Day. City and county offices will be closed all day.

LOCAL FISH HATCHERY GIVEN FEDERAL FUNDS

See Possibility of Continuing Plans to Reopen Institution

Probability of reopening of the federal fish hatchery here is revived in Associated Press dispatch appearing in Tuesday's Grand Rapids Press, announcing a $10,000 allotment to the local hatchery.

The article reads: "The public works administration Monday allotted the bureau of fisheries $1,055,350 for 78 projects in 39 states. Allotments, for repairs, improvements and further development of fish culture stations included: Michigan—Charlevoix, $10,000."

Indications were given that the local hatchery would open last spring, but for some unknown reason the plan died out and nothing was done. With funds allotted, possibility of the project being revived appear excellent, although there is no information to this effect at the present time.

All members of the Hiawatha Safety Bicycle Club meet Monday, July 4, at 10 a. m. at Gamble Store. First prizes to boy and girl with best decorated bike in parade.—Adv. 26t1

IRONTON THEATRE TO OPEN JULY 12

WILL OPERATE UNDER NAME OF IRONTON PLAYHOUSE

York Theatre Group from Yale University Will Present Series of Broadway Successes

After a year's vacancy the theater at Ironton will be open again this summer for a season beginning July 12th and extending until September 3rd.

Formerly known as the National Dramatic Camp, the theatre will henceforth be called the Ironton Playhouse and will be run by the York Theatre Group from Yale University.

Eight members of the production staff have already arrived at Ironton where they have been busy redecorating the auditorium and getting the stage in shape for the rest of the production staff and the acting company who are expected to arrive from New York on July 1.

The group will present a series of six recent Broadway hits this summer, according to James L. Daggett, the manager, with a cast who will all come from their winter engagements in New York. The plays will open on Tuesday nights and will run straight through until Saturday with a change of bill each week.

Fifty road signs have already been put up by the company and it is hoped the theatre will draw crowds from all over Northern Michigan as well as from Charlevoix. An extensive advertising campaign is planned to open on July 1st.

SUPERVISORS ARE IN JUNE SESSION

EXPECT TO COMPLETE WORK WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

Sportsman's Club Protest on Stover Creek Water Diversion Results in Action by Board

Barring unforeseen circumstances, the Charlevoix county board of supervisors will conclude their June session Wednesday afternoon. Usually a two-day meeting, the current session ran into three days due to controversial issues.

A report by C. Y. Marshall and Earl W. Miller, representing the Sportsman's Club, on the diversion of water from Stover creek by the Belvedere Golf Club, was received with concern in view of the danger the practice created to successful operation of rearing ponds. A resolution from the fish and game committee of the board was adopted, calling for a complete investigation of the matter and whatever remedial action deemed necessary.

A request by R. C. Mellencamp, county agricultural agent, for additional car expense, proved a controversial issue. A motion to grant $250 was defeated, as was also a motion to grant $100. On a third vote the $100 additional allowance carried by a 16 to 9 vote. No action had been taken after tabling an agricultural committee report recommending $400 addition for agricultural extension work and $300 for the establishment of a permanant grasshopper bait station at Boyne Falls.

The board adopted a resolution deploring the negligence and dilatory attitude of the state highway department in its failure to act on the repair of a wash-out at Lock creek on M-66 which occurred last March. Another resolution by the advertising committee set forth the board's attitude in opposition to a prevalent practice of stamping individual advertising on the county's resort folder. Through another resolution, an invitation was extended the Michigan Association of County Clerks to hold its 1939 convention in Charlevoix.

The claims committee report on damage claims of approximately $205 was adopted.

Expenses of the county clerk, treasurer, sheriff and judge of probate to their respective state conventions will be allowed.

Reports of the equalization, road and poor committees, expected to be brought to the floor Wednesday afternoon, will complete the session.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE ANNOUNCES ITS SCHEDULE

Knight Owls Defeated Barons in Opening Game Tuesday Night

The summer schedule of the city-wide softball league opened Tuesday evening with the Knight Owls winning over the Barons by a 7 to 2 score.

The schedule up to and including Friday, July 8th, has been announced as follows: Wednesday, June 29, K. of P. vs. Knight Owls; Friday, July 1, B. of C. vs. K. of P.; Tuesday, July 5, Barons vs. B. of C.; Thursday, July 7, Barons vs. K. of P.; Friday, July 8, K. of P. vs. B. of C.

Subsequent schedules are expected to bring in additional teams and put the league on full schedule. Any groups desiring to join may notify Gordon Todd, secretary of the Board of Commerce.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Ken Usher

One of two things should be done with the Charlevoix auto camp. It should either be put in proper shape or closed entirely. A resort town cannot afford to receive the type of publicity resultant from an unkept auto camp, and that's what Charlevoix's is. The grass has not been cut, the toilets are not fit for a human, nothing has been painted. The whole thing is a mess. If anyone does not believe these statements, they may take a look for themselves.

While no praise can be offered for the mackinaw trout and steelhead fishing right at the present moment, bass fishing in Lake Charlevoix and inland lakes appears to be up to par. Art Wexstaff took some nice small mouth Sunday from Lake Charlevoix and Louis Bourisseau and a partner brought in a string of seven. Milo Todd took a party of down-staters out to 26 Lake and they came back with 11 large mouth. The West Twin produced some nice fish the opening morning also. Now if someone would herd some mackinaws out on South Point the boys would have very little to complain about.

Heard Police Chief Clarence Heise grumbling to himself the other day. Inquire to find out the reason and learned he had been sassed aplenty and couldn't do anything about it. It all happened one night last week when Mrs. Russell's pet parrot got loose and Clarence was given a call to rescue it from a tree up by Ge-

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

The greatest reforestation program in the United States is under way in the Upper Peninsula. A total of 110,000 acres of cutover waste land, left idle by lumber slashing, have been replanted with pine trees. Thirty thousand acres of trees are being added annually. Wholesale tree planting on such a large scale has never been achieved successfully elsewhere.

These facts were revealed this month to members of the Upper Peninsula Development bureau by Lyle Watts, forestry director for Michigan and Wisconsin.

To the people of the Upper Peninsula conservation and the tourist industry go hand in hand. Together, they offer the one and only hope of economic salvation. Many mines have closed. Lumbering has depleted nearly nine-tenths of the virgin forests. To the tens of thousands of unemployed residents, it is recreation, rather than agriculture or industry, that offers a ray of encouragement for their future.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

East End of County Experiences Great Losses From Grasshopper Injury

The grasshopper mixing station at the Snyder Mill, Boyne Falls, is just about the busiest spot in the entire county at the present time. The mixing station was opened on Friday noon, June 17. A crew of men, under the direction of Joseph Topolinski, supervisor of Boyne Valley township, numbering from six to eight men, has been exceedingly busy each day in mixing the bait.

The original survey made some weeks ago has been found to be inadequate. Many farmers did not realize that the hoppers would be such a serious menace at that time and did not sign up. Now the situation is such that anyone in the county, whether they have signed up for bait or not, can secure the quantity necessary to take care of their needs. Sometimes there has been from eight to ten men lined up waiting to secure their bait. The committee assures farmers that the station will be kept open until such a time as our materials allotted to the county run out and to the point that we feel grasshoppers have been controlled. It is difficult to conceive the damage already done. In many cases hay fields have been badly eaten. In other cases the new seedings have been completely destroyed. In other cases they have injured corn and contract crops. The hoppers are far more numerous in the east end of the county than the west end. A circular letter will be sent out notifying all farmers when the station closes so that they can come in at the last minute and get what they think is necessary to handle their situation.

Deep Digging Injures Roots

Cultivated crops ought to be putting out danger signs this time of year—"Go slow with the cultivator or we'll cut down on yields."

County Agricultural Agent B. C. Mellencamp, Boyne City, has equipped himself with facts and figures obtained by research at Michigan State College which show how easily crop roots can be injured by improper cultivation.

Beans look like sturdy plants once they get a good start. Yet H. R. Pettigrove of the farm crops staff at the college finds that yields can be cut enormously when roots are disturbed by too deep cultivation.

Disturb all of the surface soil but avoid pruning off the hairlike feeder roots, seems to be a safe rule. Some of the veteran bean growers in the Thumb area have figured out that it hurts beans to cultivate during blossoming. The blossom has nothing to do with cultivation, facts indicate, as beans can be injured at any time if shovels cut off the roots.

Similar effects occur with sugar beets. On the more than hundred thousand acres of beets that Michigan farmers will grow this summer, cultivation again can figure in profit and loss.

Joe Lill, associate agronomist of the division of sugar plants of the United States Department of Agriculture and stationed at the college, suggests getting shovels farther away from the rows and practically only skimming the surface as beets attain size. Near maturity the fine feeder roots practically fill all available space and even meet between the rows not far below the soil surface.

How does the public feel about Farley, Hull, Miss Perkins, Ickes and other members of the President's cabinet? The American Institute of Public Opinion is polling the nation on this subject. Watch for the results, next Sunday exclusively in The Detroit News.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

Edited by Herbert Johnson

"Chief" and Mrs. Reimann were on hand Thursday to greet their staff for the 1938 season and begin the 12th year of camp at Charlevoix. Ken Smith, the director for this season arrived early from his position at the Detroit University School to step into his new duties.

We saw Tom and Ann Hart drive up the camp road with a sailboat and a cloud of dust behind them. Tom begins his 3rd year as head of the sailing department. Ann, who is a registered nurse, will take care of all the bandages and sore spots. They drove up from Ann Arbor where Tom has been teaching in the English department of the University.

Bob Stevens drove up from Ann Arbor too, he had Frank Prael and Herb Johnson with him. Bob will help around in the boating department while Frank runs the tennis. Herb Johnson will direct the camp dramatics. We noticed the boys had Charlevoix and Michigan stickers on the car. Nicely divided loyalty we'd say.

Clyde and Mrs. Vroman were greeted warmly by the "Chief" when they arrived. Clyde has been busy during the winter working on his Ph.D in music at Michigan and Mrs. Vroman has been preparing for her much interrupted chores as camp secretary.

Andy Frostic came along pulling a new trunk he recently constructed—probably a result of his work as handicraft helper in '37; while Jim Voyce, popularly called "Good Old Jim", brought his exhibits of metnl, feather and wood crafts from his classes at Flint for us to see and imitate.

Among the new men who will act as counsellors we met Berger Larson who hails from the University of Michigan and will have charge of athletics. Berger has just been named to the "All Time Team" by baseball coach Fisher. "Fritz" Pinkham from Jackson soon gained the confidence of Larson and got in on all the great baseball methods. Watch Pinkham play to the grandstand now!

We also met Tom Wetherell who will run the swimming department. Tom, who comes from the University of Idaho, majors in "speed" swimming. We wonder if nearly n hundred boys won't slow him up some? John Schilling, also a new man, was talking to Tom about Paul Revere's Old North Church, Federal Street and other points of interest in Boston, Mass. where he has been living during the past winter while he studied at Harvard. At Dartmouth, where he took his pre-med work, John was a member of the varsity wrestling team. Schilling, we found is a New England republican which goes on his list of attributes along with boxing and wrestling. Or does it?

At dinner on Thursday we found Ben Trumbull trying to rope in a third helping by his lasso technique which he learned as part of his pastime at the University of Arizona. Ben had "Buck" Commings with him who also hails from the "Bad Lands", but "Buck" will only lasso horses. He will be horsemaster at camp. Fred Gillett came along just then and both boys got their ropes after him.

Joe Dain, who is back this year as assistant counsellor after 3 years as a camper, told us all about his work at Iowa. We were reminded then, that the counsellors this year represent many of the great colleges and universities of the nation such as Dartmouth, Michigan, Columbia, Idaho, Iowa, Arizona, Connecticut Westlyan, Union Theological Seminary, Michigan State, and Harvard College. Looks like a lot of "Rah Rah" to us!

After the special dessert on Thursday evening the boys wanted to give a "Chinese Toast" to Mrs. Sowers who is back for the 8th year in charge of the kitchen with her competent staff, but Mrs. Sowers was busy with Paul Harvey trying to find some room among the eatables for some newly arrived tomatoes. Paul, you remember, is our invaluable "Maitre d'Hote" at Charlevoix.

At the conference on Thursday we met Don Horton, who will be at home here with the many campers who come from Grosse Pointe High School where Don teaches dramatics. He will be "Snapshot Doctor" to the boys this year. Elmer Anderson was there too. "Al" will teach clay modeling and many allied crafts. Don, Al and some of the new men were heard questioning Ken Smith about this thing up here called the "mugwump". Ken couldn't help very much by showing it to them, for it was lost by one of the teams last year, and is still lost.

Joe Craig drove up late in the afternoon from Ohio in an open Chevie and when we say "open" we mean it, but when we say "Chevie" we wonder? The auto has taught Joe patience which he will be able to use to advantage as assistant counsellor in the junior department this year. Bob Million is back too—accent and all. Bob has been at school in Evansville, Indiana and took the long trip up to act as assistant among the intermediates.

At reakbfast on Saturday we were introduced to Mr. George Bach, who has some fine philosophy and had many interesting experiences, for Mr. Bach is a Bavarian woodcarver and former associate of Anton Lang and his Oberammergau woodcarvers at Grand Rapids. He has been thru many fascinating foreign lands. We can bet he will keep the boys happy this year.

Sunday we saw "Tad" and Mrs. Weiman come into camp with Bob and his sister. Tad wouldn't talk very much about his new position as footall coach at Princeton, but we can bet Bob will let us in on some of the goings-on. Bob will be here for the season as a camper and "Tad" will come up later to see all the boys.

Mrs. Bertha Hess left camp that afternoon for Ann Arbor. She had heen giving the staff some of her knowledge on child psychology which she teaches for the University of Michigan. Mrs. Hess was so impressed with Charlevoix that she left her son Ted here for the summer season. We, too, were impressed with Mrs. Hess and her instruction and that, we suppose, makes a "harmonious circle".

Ted and his fellow-camper Bob Weiman are getting all set for the rest of the fellows who will arrive Wednesday. "Chief" Reimann and his staff after a week of conferences and discussion are positive that Charlevoix with all its modern, well kept equipment, is ready for one of the largest enrollments of good fellows the season of '38 brings.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Cora Anthony

Hot weather and fruit seem to go together and the markets are cooperating by ocering almost every possible fruit, most of them at very reasonable prices. Use oranges, lemons, limes and pineapple for fruit drinks with berries and cherries for flavor, color or garnish. Peaches and plums make good compote, gooseherries and currants good preserves and jellies.

Vegetalbes are as plentiful and cheap as fruits. Meat prices are little changed, most poultry is a good value and fish abundant. Eggs should be hought in small quantities and carefully refrigerated at this season.

Here are three seasonale dinner menus.

FRUIT BULLETIN USEFUL IN STATE

Michigan's residents live in a land of milk, fruit and honey, so steps have been taken by the home economics division of Michigan State College to help families enjoy year around use of tbe state's bountiful fruit crops.

A new bulletin in color, "Fruits for Year Around Use", is avadable by writing the Bulletin Room, Michigan State College, East Lansing. Tho number of the publication is Circular Bulletin No. 164.

Ruth Griswold, author, points out reasons for writing the bulletin and compiling the recipes, by summing up five reasons for eating fruit.

"Their delightful color and delicious flavor stimulate jaded appetites," Miss Griswold says.

"They are easy to prepare, fresh or cooked, alone or combined with other fruits.

"They add minerals and vitamins in a universally well-liked way.

"They spply bulk in a desirable form.

"They combine well with other foods and add zest to everyday meals."

Four of the most popular Michigan fruits are considered. Recipes tell how to utilize cherries, blueberries, peaches and grapes. Many of the recipes call for the use of either fresh or canned fruits.

1938 EGG PROFIT DEPENDS ON CARE

Four mainstays for those Michigan poultrymen who want to steer their flocks into the profit column in spite of comparatively low egg prices ara listed by J. M. Moore, extension poultryman of Michigan State College and secretary of the Michigan State poultry improvement association.

Gathering egga three times a day is one summer job that should not be neglected, Moore contends. Eggs begin to incubate at 68 degrees Fahrenheit. To avoid poor quality the newly laid eggs should be taken out of the nests soon after they have been deposited by the biddies.

Second pointer is to immediately cool the eggs to 60 degrees or lower. A cool moist cellar is considered a good place to put eggs to cool, spreading them out in a thin layer so that air has a chance to circulate.

Moore offers profit pointer number three in the advice to produce and market only clean eggs. Dirty eggs absorb odor through the shell, affecting quality. Michigan has a state egg ruling that no dirty eggs can be sold as fresh or put in any market grade. Premiums are paid for quality eggs but these eggs must be clean. Sufficient nests, wire netting under perches, clean nesting material and placing nests in dark corners where the hens will not congregate are suggestions.

Fourth idea is to market often. Although eggs are in a shell they are just as perishable as meat and butter.

To facilitate recognition of better quality, an egg candling and grading school is scheduled at the college July 11 to 15 for the first 15 who enroll for the training.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

Ever since Japan started again to bomb innocent children and ruin whole cities we have waited patiently for our great press to reveal where they got the bombs and the planes to wreck this horrible havoc. Only one, The Christian Science Monitor, has had the nerve to tell, that during the last few months we have shipped millions of dollars worth of airplanes and equipment to that nation; which should be outlawed in the sight of God and man. But even the Monitor has failed to tell the names of the companies that are doing the shipping. We will express greater faith in the freedom of the press when this story is told, and, when they really start to ride Boss Hague out of Jersey City. Until this happens we are not going to he too proud of the profession, that squawks every time ITS toes are stepped on a little bit.

OF COURSE, you can't leave your engine standing on its head every time you park, but you can have it OIL-PLATED. And OIL-PLATING not only goes clear up inside your engine, but stays there — for hours—weeks—months—even while the engine is right-side up at a standstill! Now why is that better?

Well, this exclusive OIL-PLATING — formed in your engine solely by patented Conoco Germ Processed oil — is always up there ready to lubricate before other oils could even begin to circulate. Therefore, every start you make finds cylinders, rings, bearings and other parts self-lubricated in advance. The action of the patented Germ Process has kept them continuously charged with oil, or OIL-PLATED.

They cannot "start dry," and thus you are rid of engine enemy No. 1. Good platings don't evaporate either, or lose their grip during Summer spurts. You can tell that about OIL-PLATING by noting how Conoco Germ Processed oil maintains the oil-level. Head in at Your Mileage Merchant's. Continental Oil Company

HARRY TOY TALKS ON STATE ISSUES

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR HERE ON TOUR THURSDAY

Increased State Aid for Resort Business, State's Second Largest Industry, Advocated by Detroiter

Increased state aid for the tourist business was advocated by Harry S. Toy, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, here last Thursday.

Describing the resort and tourist trade as the state's second largest industry, with an annual income estimated at $300,000,000, Toy declared that the benefits to Michigan citizens could be greatly increased by a more adequate program of advertising and promotion by the state.

"Instead of looking to Washington for aid, Michigan can and should pay more attention to those things which we have and which can provide a larger income for our citizens," he said.

The conservation commission is doing a splendid job at the present time, but lacks funds to carry out a long-range program, Toy declared.

Toy was greeted by a large group of friends and interested citizens in the course of his stay in Charlevoix. When he completed his present tour Friday he had visited virtually every county in the state.

THRILL SHOW HERE ON FRIDAY EVENING

Stunt Men to Perform for Charlevoix Residents at the Airport Friday Evening

Widely known Wild Bill Welch, and his "Motor Maniacs" will stage an automobile and motorcycle thrill-packed show at 7:15 o'clock Friday evening at the airport. The event is under the sponsorship of Charlevoix County Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The show will present automobile and motorcycle stunts that will make the occasion one long to be remembered, the announcement says, adding that Wild Bill Welch and his troupe of dare devils are known thru the country for their feats.

Among the listed stunts are a crash into flaming solid board wall, a leap through the air with the car rolling completely over and a head-on crash with drivers remaining in the cars. A stunt man will also step from a car being driven at a mile a minute, while still another feature, is one in which a man allows a truck to pass over his body and lives to tell the tale.

Welch and his men, while putting on the stunts, stress safety, declaring that modern cars are built to withstand knocks and indicating that ability to think and act quickly in a crisis will save lives on the highways in ordinary driving.

Admission to show, which is by far the most thrilling ever to come to this city, has been placed at ten and twenty-five cents. A percentage of the proceeds will go to the sponsors.

QUEEN SELECTED FOR NAT. CHERRY FESTIVAL

Miss Josephine LaFranier, 18, of Traverse, Choice From Fifteen

Miss Josephine LaFrannier, 18 year old blond from Traverse City, was selected from a field of 15 northern Michigan beauties to be crowned Cherry Queen as one of the principal events of the National Cherry Festival to be held July 13 to 15.

An air tour planned for the Cherry Queen will take her to Washington where she will present a cherry pie to the president and to other high public officials enroute.

The Festival proper will open Wednesday, July 13, with an aerial bombardment of the city and will gather momentum when the Queen and her court arrive after a boat trip down the forty mile length of Grand Traverse Bay. On the second day the coronation of the Prince and Princess and the Juvenile Parade will take place during the day with the coronation of the Queen and the Queen's Ball in the evening.

The Grand Floral Parade on Friday afternoon will be the climax of the event, with Mummer's parade Friday night closing the Festival in a spirit of fun.

WINTER FISHING NOT GENERALLY HARMFUL

Few Lakes Fished and Species Taken Are Mostly Predators

Winter fishing is not generally harmful to summer fishing, the Institute of Fisheries Research of the University of Michigan and the State Department of Conservation reports. On the contrary, winter fishing may improve summer fishing by removing the species which prey on the fish most popular with summer fishermen.

Data from creel censuses on summer and winter fishing in Michigan lakes shows that: 1. relatively few lakes are fished in winter; 2. the lakes are fished much more heavily in summer than in winter; 3. the total catch and the catch per hour and per acre in winter are insignificant beside those in summer; and 4. the fish caught in winter are mainly predators.

The Institute found that summer fishing removed about 36 per acre, while winter anglers took only about 0.3 of a fish per acre. The effect of summer fishing was therefore about 120 times as great as that of winter fishing. Since Michigan lakes are estimated to have a population of over 1,000 legal fish per acre, the Institute points out, they are not being depleted by either summer or winter fishing.

A closed period in "pike lakes" such as Houghton Lake, the Institute suggests, protects the Great Northern Pike during the spawning season and seems more reasonable than eliminating the sport of winter fishing which some warm weather anglers have urged. Ice fishing officials of the Institute believe, may furnish fully as much and as valuable recreation as summer fishing and is deserving of equal consideration.

MICHIGAN POTATOES ARE MOVING UPWARD

State, Federal Grading Laws Responsible, Growers Informed

As a result of the new state and federal grading laws, Michigan potatoes have moved steadily upward on the price list prevailing in the big potato markets of the nation. This information was given out by Leo Card, director of markets and marketing for the state agricultural department, at a meeting of Northern Michigan potato growers held in Gaylord last week.

For many years Michigan potatoes were rated as eleventh on the list of potato producing states. Since the inspection of potatoes for inter-state shipment started, Michigan potatoes have been second and third on the list.

Your Child's Physical Defects

The most common physical defects found in children from 2 to 5 years of age are decayed teeth, poor nutrition (10 per cent underweight or 20 per cent overweight), diseased or too large tonsils and adenoids, and bad posture. Imperfect eyesight, poor hearing, skin trouble, and heart or lung disease are found also but not quite so often. By the time a child is 6 years old he may have one or more of these or other physical defects.

Why is it harmful to postpone correction of physical defects? The body is like a very complicated piece of machinery. We all know that a fine watch, though damaged, sometimes will go but will not keep good time. If it is not repaired it keeps worse and worse time and perhaps finally stops. A little child's body is much like the watch except that if the repair of his physical defect is put off too long it may not be possible to do a complete repair job, and the defect can not be wholly corrected. His body machine may be so damaged that it will never again be able to work to the best advantage.

What may happen if physical defects are not corrected? If the child's tonsils are in bad condition an infection can spread up the throat and through the little tube connecting the throat with the inside of the ear. This may make its appearance in a discharge or running at the ears, and deafness may be the final result. Bad tonsils may account for frequent attacks of rheumatism in the joints, or a long spell of "growing pains"—which really are a kind of rheumatism. Enlarged tonsils and adenoids may interfere with breathing and so prevent the lungs from getting all the air they require.

Decayed teeth are likely to be sore, and so the child may fail to chew his food properly and thus may not get sufficient nourishment. Toothaches tire him. Gumboils may form around broken decayed teeth, and the poison from the pus, or matter, in the gumboils filters into the child's blood. This can make him feel tired all the time, can keep him from gaining properly in weight, and may make him subject to serious illness.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT WILL REDUCE PAYROLL

Start Fiscal Year July 1 By Dismissing 250 Employes

The state highway department will start the fiscal year July 1 with a lay-off of 250 employes.

G. Donnld Kennedy, deputy state highway commissioner, in announcing the anticipated dismissals, said they were the initial step in a further retrenchment program necessitated by a 50 per cent adjustment in the department's general fund appropriation for the biennium. The total payroll cut on a yearly basis approximates $380,000. It brings the department's personnel down to 2,390 employes.

Kennedy said the current reduction is made possible by reason of the fact that the next construction program is to be undertaken more gradually than heretofore permitting the assignment of field employes to more than one project during the season.

FOREST FIRE DAMAGE STILL REMAINS LOW

June opened with an increase over the last week of May in forest fire damage, but the state's fire chiefs are not especially worried, yet.

The increase was only two acres, a total of 11 fires occurring and burning over 18 acres in comparison to 16 acres burned during the last week of May.

LOVE AND GRIN

June is the month of weddings and usually the bride and groom march down the aisle to the tuneful notes of the wedding march from "Lohengrin".

Six months of 1938 are gone with June, too! And we're all disgusted that the little New Year Baby didn't pick up a nicer calendar when he came to earth.

But we can do something about the rest of the six months remaining in that calendar. Every one of us can do something real toward recovery—Believe it or not! We can write off this dark page as if it never was, if every liberty loving citizen of this old U. S. A. will adopt a June slogan which sounds like the bride's Lohengrin March—It's "Love and Grin".

Just about 90 per cent of our trouble today is being wrought by agitators and radicals who are trying to take away our instinctive love and trust of each other and replace it with hate and intolerance. And they're trying to wipe off the American grin and replace it with sneers and long faces. The grin has always indicated the true American character—the ability to "smile when something goes dead wrong." Things right themselves sooner when a grin changes our very outlook on our troubles. So let's steal a march on the June bride and let's "Love and Grin".

INDEPENDENCE

"Small business men constitute the most independent group in America." So said Merle Thorpe in Nation's Business. He explained how the independent business men of England some centuries ago brought about repeal of the law which fixed wages and hours according to the price of grain. A century later their sons flung off the British yoke and secured economic freedom in America. "In another century and a half," said Writer Thorpe, "came the effort to curtail economic freedom on a large scale in the interest of 'recovery'. But emergency does not justify a compromise of principle. It was a small battery man of York, Pa., who went to jail for his convictions; a pantspresser and chicken dealer who fanned the momentous issue into national proportions. It was an unknown oil operator in Texas who chose a cell rather than submit to arbitrary rule, who was denied his liberty under a regulation which the supreme court later found existed only in a press release of the interior department. It is immensely significant that the measures for curtailing freedom of action were repealed in the hearts of the people long before they were acted upon by the supreme court. The small business man knows that political freedom and economic freedom go hand in hand."—Wayne Neb. Herald.

ONE THING

Does everybody strive to do at least one thing as well as the best or better than others do it? There are so many things one cannot do that it seems most unfortunate not to scale a comfortably high level in a chosen line. The person who does not understand music and whose comprehension of notes is largely restricted to the kind that draws interest, looks in amazement at the skill developed in producing harmony from a dumb instrument. The individual, up in music, is often equally confounded in trying to solve problems in high finance. The physician's knowledge of what to prescribe or the surgeon's skill in knowing how to proceed bewilder the layman. The sense of the course to take inspire confidence. The farmer's understanding of his herds and other animal charges, and his knowledge of when and what to plant, make one without training wonder if he knows as much in some other line. Manifestly, one cannot know everything or do everything, but if he tries to excel in what he understands, he may not feel like apologizing to himself for not doing his best.

"Sally, Irene and Mery" Star-Glorious Top-Hit Film Entertainment

The greatest round-up of big name stars of any musical yet, a whole "who's-who" of the screen's pepper-uppers, frolics to town with three sirens of swing in search of social security who find themselves sidetracked by love in "Sally, Irene and Mary". The new 20th Century-Fox rhythm romance with the lift-and-liit that have made Darryl F. Zenuck shows tops in entertainment, opens July 2 at the Palace Theatre.

Jane Withers in New Comedy Hit

Jane Withers is with a band of gypsies now, gypsying to beat the band, in the happy-hit of the season, "Rascals", opening July 4 at the Palace Theatre. The 20th Century-Fox comedy hit features Rochelle Hudson, Robert Wilcox and Borrah Minevitch and His Gang.

Cast of "Three Comrades" Couldn't Have Moved a Step Without "Baby"

For the first time in his screen career, Robert Taylor shares honors with an automobile. The car is "Baby", a 1925 Avian-Soison with which Tnyler, Margaret Sullavan, Frenchot Tone and Robert Young play many of their scenes in "Three Comrades", opening July 5 at the Palace Theatre.

Without "Baby", Erich Maria Remarque could not have written "Three Comrades", for the racing car has a very important role in the picture.

Great Heroes of Romance are Film Bits

More dashing and colorful than ever, Warner Baxter is co-featured with Freddie Bertholomew in "Kidnapped", opening July 7 at the Polnce Theatre. The film introduces for the first time the sensational new star discovery, flame-heired Arleen Whelnn.

We are informed that fatalities in automobile accidents have been reduced twenty-six per cent during the last six months—an encouraging record, believed due to the activities of safety organizations.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Secretary of State Warns Candidates on Petitions

Leon D. Case, secretary of state, points out that nominating petitions for any candidate who files with the secretary of state, county or city clerk cannot be accepted unless accompanied by an affidavit concerning any change in name of the candidate. The law covering the change of name affidavit was passed by the 1935 legislature. The law sperifically bars the secretary of state from accepting petitions not accompanied by an affidavit made on the prescribed forms in cases where candidates have changed their name since January 1, 1933. These forms are available at the department of state and at the office of city and county clerks.

Candidates filing petitions for the office of governor, lieutenant governor and representative in congress from the 17th congressional district shall appear in person before the secretary of state within ifteen days after filing their petitions and shall file with said officer, a certified affidavit as to their identity. Candidates for congressional districts located entirely in Wayne county, file with the Wayne county clerk.

Provisions of the state election law covering the signing of nominatiog petitions for candidates for state and local offices have also been cited by Case for guidance of signers. It is unlawful for any voter to sign more than one nominating petition for the same office except where there are two or more persons to be elected to the some office. Violation of this provision of the law is classed as a misdemeanor. No voter in Michigan can lawfully sign nominating petitions for more than one candidate for governor. Many instances of this violation hove been noted on petitions signed in the past. Duplicate signatures are eliminated as petitions are checked.

"When should my Business BORROW?"

Borrowing is usually a wise policy when it will lead to new or increased business profits. Here are a few conditions under which a loan may prove profitable to your business:

1. To finance seasonal needs;
2. To modernize, or add, equipment;
3. To carry accounts receivable;
4. To earn cash discounts.

These are only a few of the many sound reasons for a commercial loan. We will be glad to discuss your requirements and, where warranted, to advance the needed funds.

LANSING LETTER

ernments, is advocated by Forester Watts.

It is illuminating to know that a group of Michigan conservation enthusiasts, led by John Norton, publisher of the Escanaba Press, fathered the establishment of federal forests by congressional enactment.

On commercial basis selective logging is difficult to put into practice, because of competitive conditions. As long as some lumber firms insist on cutting all merchandisable timber in each acre, lumber men declare that the forester's dream of selective logging will never be realized.

More than 600 million feet of lumber were cut last year in the Upper Peninsula — far in excess of what should be allowed if the forests are to be maintained permanently.

It is another case of free competition vs. public ownership. Again the Great White Father is being implored to solve our problems.

"Dead-End" Region

For years the Upper Peninsula has been on a "dead-end" street.

Because of the vast distance from the Soo to Ironwood the development of good roads has been slow.

Today, U.S.2 is paved most of the way west from Sault Ste. Marie. This route is very scenic, skirting along Lake Michigan from St. Ignace west to Brevort within sight of blue water at all times. Eventually this beautiful highway may be extended west along the lake shore to Port Inland, near Manistique.

From Watersmeet to Ironwood this route takes you through a dense forest country without even a farmhouse in sight for nearly 50 miles.

Building of a bridge at the Straits will likely attract heavy transcontinental traffic through Michigan. The Port Huron bridge will be the gateway for west-bound traffic. Ironwood will be the gateway for east-bound tourists.

Strange Contrasts

Until you have visited the Upper Peninsula, you do not know Michigan.

It is a land of remarkable contrasts.

A few years ago it was one of the two worst relief areas in the United States. A large percentage of the entire population was on welfare. Poverty cast a shadow over idle mining centers.

Today, the Upper Peninsula looks to recreation—the tourist industry—as the hope for future economic activity. And recreation means sightseeing, fishing and hunting in the daytime and entertainment at night.

We visited the luxurious Gateway Inn, Kunsky's $300,000 establishment on the state line near Land O' Lakes, Wisconsin, just a few miles south of Watersmeet. Imagine this: Eight of the finest bowling alleys you have ever seen; a dozen billiard tables; a huge restaurant with the gayest modern decorations and superb equipment; a club bar and a gaming bar; and the entire building outside outlined in red neon lights.

Fashionable city people, smartly attired in resort togs, mingle with lumberjacks—and all in a smart sophisticated atmosphere imported up into the "North Country", miles from a city!

Upper Peninsula people are the most hospitable people in the Middle West. They think nothing of driving 150 miles for an evening's entertainment together.

"Barefoot Charlie"

Two miles from the dazzling Gateway, which was built by a Detroit theatrical magnate, is a rustic log establishment built and managed by an eccentric "wood tick" by the name of "Barefoot Charlie".

"Barefoot" couldn't build a chicken coop if he tried.

He is a wizard, however, with an axe. His big wigwam is an artistic achievement. "Charlie" goes barefooted winter and summer, while his tourist guests dine of food and liquor.

Outside is the unbroken forest country for miles and miles.

Contrast these entertainment spots—and there are literally hundreds of others catering to the same demand—with the tremendous problem of unemployment, and you begin to appreciate the lusty virility of this Upper Peninsula region in Michigan. Again, we repeat, it is a region of remarkable contrasts.

Hurley's Honky-Tonks

Wisconsin is the state of the progressive party.

But the LaFollete dynasty of liberal ideas in political science also has liberal ideas in the matter of public morals.

Take Hurley, for example, the Wisconsin town just across the river from Ironwood. Here is a rip-roaring, swaggering town of 86 wide-open saloons, most of them operating 24 hours a day, side by side for nearly eight solid blocks.

Hurley has the old frontier bravado, posed solely for the tourist trade. It offers a sharp contrast to Ironwood, a bustling modern city in Michigan with two fine hotels, etc.

You don't know Michigan until you have visited the Upper Peninsula!

LITTLE ACORNS GROW OAKS

The man pictured on the June "Commentator" is Dewitt M. Emery, President of the National Small Business Men's Association. He is a man six feet, six inches tall, weight 240 pounds and is a red-headed "small-business" man. Maybe it's his red hair that makes him a good leader for this middle-class American association. Maybe it's his modesty combined with grit and determination.

When the New Deal invited the small businessmen to Washington, the meeting furnished front page comedy for the newspapers and for the Administration. But the 10-point program of their leader was read and incorporated in the Congressional Record.

These middle-class Americans whose small businesses are suffering from the intrusion of government in business are becoming stronger daily and this summer will hold a convention to discuss the national welfare and adopt a platform covering all political and economical affairs.

Maybe this time they'll prove that the last laugh is the best.

Miss Mary C. Bastian of Albion, a graduute engineer from the University of Michigan, class of '38, has taken a position at the Charlevoix Abstract & Engineering Company as assistant to Robert F. Sloan. Women graduate engineers are few in the field and Miss Bastian is one of the exceptions.

Have you noticed that the out-of-state car licenses to be seen on the main drag nowadays out-number local licenses by a wide margin? Counted 62 cars in two blocks the other day and found 51 with outside licenses compared to 11 with home county tags. It's a fine indication.

If you want to see what wonders some paint and small repairs will do, drop in for a few minutes at The Argonne. "Bill" Kerns could never be accused of not keeping up appearances and this season is no exception.

When I see the youngsters enjoying themselves at the many wonderful places they have to play and go swimming here at home it brings to mind a comparison of my own kid days. We done our swimming in someone's brick quarry when we managed to get to go. The water was rank and snakes numerous. Had to go many miles to get to a lake and most of the time had trouble finding enough water to cover our hunions. Nature certainly is kind to some places.

A lot of little improvements accummulate to a big total when it comes to fixing up. That's what Supt. Herrick has the city street department doing. Sidewalk patching here and there, new driveways at both ends of the alley between Park avenue and Clinton street and not the sudden drop kind, either, oil and chloride treatment of all gravel streets and alleys to lay the dust.

CRUISE SHIP FAILED TO REACH LOCAL PORT

South Americao Grounded Saturday In Straits; Cruise Called Off

The schedule cruise to Charlevoix of the Str. South American with the Society of Automotive Engineers and the Detroit Athletic Club failed to materialize last Saturday.

The ship ran aground on Tin Shoal southeast of Mackinac Island early Saturday morning and, according to latest reports, is still fast despite efforts of a tug to reflout her.

The 125 passengers uboard were taken to Mackinac Island on the Str. Algoma and were later transferred to Mackinaw City where they took the train for home.

It was believed the ship was not damaged by the accident although half its length was raised from the water. The ship was enroute to this port when it ran aground. A 6-hour stop was scheduled here.

4TH OF JULY CELEBRATION A SUCCESS

HUGE CROWD HERE MONDAY FOR DAY'S ACTIVITIES

Parade An Outstanding Event On A Program Which Provided Many Fine Entertaioing Features

Charlevoix lived up to its reputation for entertainment Monday with a 4th of July program that was ample and carried out with precision.

While the influx of vacationists probably did not come up to last year's record crowd, hotels, rooming houses, restuurants and trolling camps catering to the tourist trade did the best business so far this season, and the city was crowded throughout the day hy these drawn here to witness the festivities.

Popular comment heralded the parade which opened the day's program as one of the hest ever witnessed here. It presented a fine representatinn of local business eoncerns and those of summer camps in this vicinity. First prize was awarded the Irontnn Playhouse with a float showing a replica of their theater and greunds. Floyd Black's entry of the coach drawn by three horses representing "Pa, Ma and Daughter" took scoend place, and third prize went to the Meyer Auto Service entry. Others which should be given favorable mention were the Ironten Hill Billies with their tractor drawing a wagon leaded with persons dressed in Hill Billy fashion, the Belvedere Club depicting summer sports represented by a group of attractive girls, the Kamp Kairdree, Monte's Cafe, Oleson Mattress Co., Foster Beverages, Beaudein Service Station and young Guy Smith with his pony.

Huge crowds witnessed the various sports and exhibition events. Johnny Kamona, former Hawaiian diving and swimming champion, revealed he had lost little of his skill with his dive off the swing bridge, which, incidentally was accomplished with expertness no less than five times during the day. His ability as a diver and also a swimmer was a revelation.

POWER BOATING GIVES CHARLEVOIX A BOOST

Through the efforts particularly of the Charlevoix Marine Club, this city received a fine lot of publicity in the July issue of Power Boating.

The full front cover is devoted to a view of Charlevoix's harbor entrance looking towards Lake Michigan. Another photograph on an inside page shows the hathing beach and piers in the hackground. A cruise article covering Lake Michigan ports devotes considerable space to Charlevoix, its harbor facilities, services given yachtsmen hy the Board of Commerce, etc.

An article written by Bill Bellinger and captioned: "Charlevoix Is Ready for Season," tells of the local channel and harbor improvements, officers of the Marine Club und quite general information regarding the city.

Publicity of this nature is invaluable, especially for a lake port city with such a fine harbor as Charlevoix possesses, and those responsible for this fine publicity are to he commended for their efforts.

LEWIS BROS. CIRCUS HERE JULY 21

AMERICAN LEGION SPONSORING THREE-RING SHOW

Fine Entertainment Promised by Well Known Circus Troupe; Show at South Side Grounds

The mere news headline nf the coming of the circus to any town presages the advent of the summer and autumn season. It sends a thrill of excitement through the youngsters and peps up the elders for a circus is just different—that's all.

There is a certain awe and splendor from the time one reaches the show lot: The snarling and growling of the animals that echo throughout the grounds; the graceful and almost a human mind evidenced mid the great group of educated horses. From the sublime we find ourselves admiring spectators of those funny clowns, whose life is spent in making others laugh and who seldom laugh or even smile; the clowns always are in happy accord with the merry circus throng. The great death defying wizards of the air, that nimbly float through space, defying the fears of danger that you and I may be entertained.

"Lewis Bros." big 3 ring circus and menagerie comes to this community not as an unknown quantity but a tried and proven organization of real merit—whose motto is "give the people their money's worth and even more."

We anticipate the kiddies as well as we grown-ups will have our community well represented on that day. While seme will like the lions, elephants and tigers end the wilder animals of the jungle, many will be amazed at the beautiful horses, ponies and dogs, say nothing about the great herd of trained goats, an animal we all thought was hopeless.

Mr. Lewis superintends all performances in person and extends a hearty invitation to the patrons to visit all departments before or after the main exhibition. The Lewis Bros. Circus has become an institution and ranks far above the average circus playing these size towns. There will be two performances, one in the afternoon at two, and the other at 8 in the evening.

"WILD BILL" WELCH ENTERTAINED BIG CROWD

Several hundred persons were thrilled by the deredevil stunts of "Wild Bill" Welch and his "Motor Maniacs" last Friday evening at the municipal airport. The event was sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and provided thrills never before witnessed by a local audience.

IRONTON PLAYERS ANNOUNCE OPENING

MYSTERY MELODRAMA FIRST OFFERING TUESDAY, JULY 12

Present Elizabeth McFadden's "Double Door", Which Ran Twn Years in New York City

For their first bill of the 1938 season the Ironton Playhouse will present Elizabeth McFadden's "Double Door", a mystery melodrama which run for two years in New York. The play will open on Tuesday, July 12 and run throughout the week.

"Double Door" according to critics who saw the play at its New York premiere, is the best American melodrama written about an actual case history. The play tells the story of the Van Brett family of New York and the disposal of their fortune.

Clayton Flagg, the leading man at the Playhouse, flew here three days ago to play Rip Van Brett, the same part which he played in the New York production recently. Jane Anderton, who plays the part of Victoria, appeared in several productions of the American Academy in New York before joining the Playhouse.

"Double Door" has been picked to open the season, according to James L. Daggett, the manager, because of its unusual success in eastern summer theaters. It will be followed by the hilarious comedy of Anita Loos—"Gentlemen Prefer Blondes".

SUPERVISORS CONCLUDE JUNE MEET

THREE-DAY SESSION ENDED WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

Numerous Appropriations Allowed—Matter on Equalization Caused Rift in Proceedings

Completing a three-day session last Wednesday afternoon, the Charlevoix county board of supervisors adjourned until the regular October meeting.

Establishment at Hoyne Falls of a permanent grasshopper poison halt station was approved by the adoption of an agricultural committee motion setting aside $300 from the county agricultural extension fund to finance construction of the station. Continuance of the current program against grasshoppers was insured by the allotment of an additional $100.

An appropriation of $75 was granted for the annual county picnic at Whiting Park which will he conducted by the American Legion.

The frequently raised question of election of road commissioners had another airing and resulted in a 10 to 8 defeat of a road committee motion seeking to turn the election back to the board of supervisors. The voters will continue to make the choice.

A road commission request for $5,000 from the board to augment funds being used in a county WPA road project was settled with adoption of a motion to grant the amount after the commission had exhausted the $10,000 already allotted to the project. The appropriation, if necessary, would he made at the October session.

The county valuation was raised from $8,808,113 to $8,885,145 by the equalization committee, an increase of $77,032, which was spread quite generally. Charlevoix's increase was $6,920. Following are the comparative valuations for 1937 and 1938:

	1937	1938
Bay	$ 254,685	$ 251,755
Boyne Valley	335,500	338,800
Chandler	45,358	45,445
Charlevoix	266,560	260,710
Evangeline	128,050	130,300
Eveline	540,515	547,160
Hayes	406,950	409,720
Hudson	101,475	102,675
Marion	372,620	373,720
Melrose	547,540	569,315
Norwood	222,420	222,705
Peaine	94,700	101,825
St. James	110,330	113,205
South Arm	383,700	383,675
Wilson	282,170	280,085
Boyne City	1,015,060	1,015,420
Charlevoix	2,920,080	2,927,000
East Jordan	781,020	810,940

Equalization was another controversial issue and as usual Charlevoix came out on the short end. For several years an attempt has been made to influence the county equalization committee to recognize the Charlevoix valuation as set by the board of review. In other words, the board of review valuation is approximately $2,477,000, while the equalization committee of the board of supervisors sets the figure at $2,927,000.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Ken Usher

A horse isn't supposed to know anything about that old adage: "Don't bite the hand that feeds you," so I guess that sort of excuses that nag that bit the middle finger off the left hand of J. R. Loper down near Central Lake.

Candidates for county offices haven't come out in the open much up to the present time. No doubt those already in office will seek to hold their positions, and from the rumors we hear now and then, most will have opposition.

Next Monday night, July 11th, is the annual school meeting. Wish there was some way to instill into the minds of the public that the schools are one of the community's most important institutions and as such should have closer attention by its patrons. Three years ago there were perhaps three dozen persons in attendance, two years ago hardly enough for a quorum and last year not many more. And I'll bet a dime that no individual has attended a board meeting in the past few years unless they had something to sell. Is it but little wonder that the public has little or anything to say about school policy? It's their own fault. And while on the topic the thought comes to mind that while our school system provides manual arts, athletics, etc., for the boys, there isn't a darn extra-curricular activity for the girls who happen, we'll venture to guess, to out-number the boys by

Leaving 'Em All Behind

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

That federal pump-priming for national recovery is also going to be vote-priming for Governor Frank Murphy in Michigan this fall is rather generally conceded today at the capital city.

Even republican hopefuls are looking a bit wistful, if not downright envious, at the forthcoming gush of millions from Washington, D. C.

Yes, the mad scramble is on for gifts from the Great White Father.

Michigan wants to get its share, as its taxes to the federal government have been more than double the funds it has obtained. Governor Murphy proclaims that he is going to "sit down" on the White House step until Michigan gets all the millions it can grab.

As we pointed out in this column one month ago, the federal spending campaign for 1938 will be no small factor in the forthcoming election. Let's look at the latest developments.

U. S. Funds for Bridge

At Port Huron where he surveyed the Blue Waters international bridge for the first time, Governor Murphy announced that federal funds for a bridge at the Straits of Mackinac was practically assured, that President

CATTLE QUARANTINE IS PLANNED THIS COUNTY

Importation Cattle Not Tested for Bang's Disease to Be Stopped

Plans to quarantine those counties in the lower peninsula of Michigan above the base line extending east and west along the southern borders of Iosco and Manistee counties against the importation of cattle unless certified free of Bang's disease, was disclosed in an address at the annual meeting of the Big Rapids Livestock Sales organization.

Disclosing that nine of the counties in that district, Antrim, Charlevoix, Otsego, Crawford, Kalkaska, Grand Traverse, Wexford, Missaukee and Roscommon, had been free of the disease since last October in a co-operative program by the state department with the United States Department of Agriculture, Strange said that as soon as the tests in all counties were completed that quarantine of area is planned.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

Edited by Fritz Pinkham

The boys arrived in Camp on Wednesday by train, auto and power boat. By 10 a. m. more than three-fourths of the boys had arrived. There was no swim the first morning since most of the time was taken up greeting old friends and new campers, and organizing the cabins.

Throughout the afternoon ball games by the three sections occupied some of the campers while others were having their throat cultures taken by "Doc" Darling and Ann "Nurse" Hart. Pillow fights arranged by "All Time" Berger Larson and his assistants Bob Million and Fred Gillett completed a very full day for all.

On their second day in camp the young vacationers were introduced to the activities offered in the daily program. The more popular of the group were hunting, tennis, athletics, riding, handicraft, boxing and the new group in woodcarving.

The woodcarving this year is under the direction of George Bach, who is a native of Bavaria, but who has been in this country for the past fifty years. Somewhat "Dickens-like" in appearance, his kindly manner and his interesting conversation about his work, the interesting people he has known including Anton Lang of Obermmergau fame who was Mr. Bach's associate for some years and his many stories of Italy, Switzerland, Bavaria, Germany, France and England have aroused the interest of all here. Mr. Bach developed his work under the supervision of the Oberammergau woodcarvers until at the present time he is one of the outstanding men in the profession in this country. He has brought with him many interesting exhibits of his work for all to see who visit him in his "Studio-cabin".

The evening of the second day in camp, each of the cabins went off by itself and around a small campfire discussed the new life here at Charlevoix.

The campers chose their favorite activities the next morning and got started on them. The afternoon was given over to free time with the counsellors on hand to assist the boys in any way they could. On the third evening in camp the respective cabins were on their own hooks again with the counsellors in charge of many interesting pastimes. "Doc" Darling's cabin had a glorious time riding under the supervision of Morse Cummings, the real cowboy direct from the wide open spaces of Arizona.

Saturday morning the boys went to regular activities, and in the afternoon an obstacle relay race started the annual "Green and Grey" competition off with a very loud "Bang". Every season the camp is divided into two sides called the "Greens" and the "Greys". Then each side has a big meeting and a captain and representative to the head committee are chosen. Those chosen are: Don Blue of Flint, head of the senior Greys, Charles Marcus, head of the senior Greens, while Bill Hart of the senior section was chosen representative. Fred Matthaei was made captain of the intermediate Greens while James Whittemore is head of the Greys in that section. Dave Bennett was elected as the section representative. Among the juniors, Dick LaFever of Ann Arbor was chosen head of the Greys. Herb Dow of Midland is the new Green captain, and is the first camper who has won the distinction while still " a first year man". Ned Greenthal of Milwaukee was made representative for the section.

The Greys won the obstacle race thus getting the Mugwump, which is a club shaped arrangement of much tradition. The side in possession of the Mugwump must show it every three days. They must run in front of their section and yell "Mugwump" three times meanwhile blowing a whistle. The other side tries to get the huge club from the running opponents. If the showing is successful the original side hides the Mugwump until they show it again. However, if the opposing side takes it away from them, they, in turn, hide it and thus have it on their side. The Mugwump lasts all season and is the best means to get points in the "Green and Grey" competition.

Saturday was the first in a series of "Cowboy Days". Everyone in camp donned their gayest riding outfit and a prize of riding all he wishes for one day went to the best looking cowboy. The judges were "Chief" Reimann, Ken Smith, and Ben Trumbull. Charles MacCallum was chosen the first winner. He wore a black cowboy's hat, a bright red shirt and a very bright handkerchief with cowboy trousers and boots.

In the evening the first Council Ring meeting was held to initiate the new campers. The outstanding events of the evening were the old campers leading the new campers blindfolded, to the Council Ring in the woods, the "fire from heaven" and the secret ceremonies in the Council Ring.

Everyone in camp enjoyed the extra hour of sleep on Sunday morning. Chapel was held on the front porch of the Lodge with the "Chief" as speaker. His topic was "Learning to Be Liked".

In the afternoon each section took a trip out of camp, the juniors to Lake Michigan, the Intermediates to Strawberry Cove and the Seniors spent the time sailing on Lake Charlevoix..

Monday morning was spent in the regular activities and swimming, while a track meet filled the afternoon with excitement. The Greys won the meet. The results were: Bernard Noelting won the 100 yard dash and the 220 yard dash, Bill Hart won the shotput, Don Blue the baseball throw, Bob Wieman the high jump, Bernard Noelting the broad jump while the relays were split.

Intermediates: Steve Julia, 50 and 100 yard dash; Fred Matthaei, Steve Julia and Hal Wheeler triple tied in the high jump, Whittemore won the shotput, while Sonny Talbot took honors in the broad jump.

In the Junior section games took the place of the track meet. The results were a tie.

The Greys won the most points during the day in all sections combined and thus won a point in the Green and Grey competition. The score now stands 2-0 in favor of the Greys.

The annual 4th of July barbeque was held in the evening. The lambs cooked all afternoon and "were they good", watermelon wound up the most successful bar-b-que the camp has had in about 10 years. Hats off to you, Paul Harvey, and your committee. A fireworks display sent to camp by several of the boys' fathers was noisily received by all when Jim Voyce and his committee fired of a great variety of bombs, sky rockets, pin wheels and flares of all sorts.

WPA PROVIDES GUARDS FOR STATE'S BEACHES

A. C. Belding Named Supervisor at Young State Park

Additional service to the public at state parks will be made possible this season through approval of a WPA project for extra personnel.

The project calls for the assignment of lifeguards to parks having beaches, and for the employment of nature guides and playground supervisors. It is expected the project will not only afford greater safety for the millions who visit Michigan's parks each summer, but will also make their visit more interesting.

Selection of the guides, guards and supervisors has already been started and they will be given special training and instruction before taking up their duties.

Young State Park, near Boyne City, being well supplied with nature study material, has been chosen as one of the parks in which that subject will be taught, along with providing a life guard. A. C. Belding of this city, will be in charge. Classes and tours will be conducted according to schedule and anyone may take the course without charge.

COUNCIL APPROVAL IS GIVEN TWO PROJECTS

At one time his syndicated articles were published in more than a third of the newspapers in Michigan and were circulated in every county.

Michigan's 1938 tourist business is holding even with the 1937 record season despite the depressed business conditions, the state highway department reports.

During the three-day holiday period just ended 7,430 vehicles were carried across the Straits compared with 9,017 a year ago or a 17 6-10 decrease.

4TH OF JULY CELEBRATION A SUCCESS

Public addresses were given by Attorney Arthur L. Fitch and Harry A. Craig. The exhibition drill by the Coast Guards drew the usual interest and coastguardsmen furnished patrols during water sports and otherwise during the day. Concerts by the East Jordan and Charlevoix bands drew favorable comment, as did also the aeroplane stunting by the Barber Flying school of Boyne City. Nyle Jessup's magician act in escaping from a nailed, roped and locked box at Memorial Park. The fireworks display over Round lake in the evening was termed one of the most spectacular ever staged here.

The versatile Bergman boys dominated the water sports, copping five of the prizes awarded. Results of the various events were as follows:

Greased pole—1st, Bud Bergman; 2nd, Eugene Bergman; 3rd, Billy Lusk. 100-yard swim for girls under 16 years—1st, Margery Smith; 2nd Joan VonDolcke. 100-yard swim for boys under 16 years — 1st, Robert Gill; 2nd Bud Kirby of Boyne City; 3rd, Eugene Bergman. Men's 100-yard swim—Bud Bergman (only finisher); fish box race — 1st, Geno Bergman.

A picked team of Charlevoix softball players defeated a Grand Rapids girl team from Winter & Crampton by a 6 to 2 score, and Boyne City trimmed East Jordan by a 5 to 3 count in a close baseball game.

From every standpoint the celebration was a marked success and reflected credit upon the individuals and committee members responsible for carrying it out.

KIDDIES GET REDUCED CIRCUS ADMISSION BY COURIER COUPONS

The Charlevoix Courier takes pleasure in announcing that it has made arrangements with Lewis Brothers Circus Menagerie and Trained Animal Show whereby all the kiddies in this community may see this high class circus for only 15c.

Lewis Brothers Circus is an established show and is bigger and better than ever before, and has traveled in many states in the past twenty years. We have investigated this circus and while it is not the largest show on earth, we have found that it is honorably conducted, and it presents a highly interesting and varied three ring performance of real merit, with many unusual features on its program. We are confident it is just the kind of circus this community would like to patronize. Lewis Brothers Circus will exhibit at Charlevoix Thursday, July 21, and in today's issue of the Courier a coupon is printed which will admit one child to the big show of the circus when presented with 15c at the ticket wagon at the Athletic Field show grounds where the circus will give two performances at 2 and 8 p. m., rain or shine.

This circus is absolutely clean and above board in every department. There is nothing that could offend the most fastidious taste. There are positively no games of any kind tolerated either on the circus grounds or in its side show. It is a straight out-and-out circus and one of the best now on tour.

The Courier is very much elated over the fact that we can give the children of this community the privilege of seeing this great and entertaining circus for the small sum of only 15c. No youngsters in this vicinity should miss this opportunity.

AUTOMOBILE FATALITIES SHOW A GREAT DECREASE

The State Health Department today reported 98 automobile deaths for May as compared with 160 for the same month last year. Michigan, leading the nation in the reduction of automobile deaths, has a total of 453 for the year. This indicates a reduction of 41 per cent from the 768 deaths recorded for the same period of 1937, the department revealed.

OPEN REFUGE AREAS FOR DEER HUNTING

Over-Populated Sections Picked Out by Conservation Department

Recognizing that the number of deer exceeds the available food supply in many sections of the state, the conservation commission at its June meeting ordered certain refuge areas opened to hunting.

As a result of this action, based on the knowledge that hundreds of deer starve in Michigan every winter due to lack of sufficient feed, the Iosco refuge will be opened to a bow and arrow season ahead of the regular deer hunt; the Gladwin refuge will be opened during the deer season and the closed areas in the Molasses River and Lunden refuges will be consideraldy smaller.

Munuscong Bay refuge, Isle Royale and Leelanau county will remain closed to hunting.

Decision on the opening of Allegan county and Beaver island to deer hunting was postponed to a later meeting.

Conservative estimates of the number of deer believed to have starved to death last winter were fixed at 10,000. Since there is no practical way of increasing the graze supply for next winter, even heavier losses are expected if the weather is severe.

INCREASE PATROLS ON STATE INLAND WATERS

Conservation Dept. Adds Additional Boats During Bass Season

Patrol of Michigan's fishing waters by boat is now at virtual full strength with about 12 craft in use in the upper peninsula, about 18 on lakes in the lower peninsula and seven on the Great Lakes.

Purchase of additional boats has permitted expansion of the inland patrol over that maintained during the fishing season a year ago. The inland patrol is set up to allow considerable flexibility in shifting boats from one lake to another. A number of trailers have been constructed for use in transporting boats to different points so that a much wider area can be covered than if the boats were fixed on certain waters for the season. With the equipment now available, boats can be moved from one part to another so that a roving check can be maintained on all of the largest lakes in both the upper and lower peninsulas.

AT THE MOVIES

"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" Is Shirley's Best-of-All Musical

You'd never know the old farm now—it's a streamlined Radio Center, with Shirley Temple on a happiness hook-up in the title role of "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm", her best-of-all musical. The first star of the screen is supported by her starriest cast, sunniest songs, swingiest dances and a hey-hey load of laughter in this new 20th Century-Fox musicomedy hit opening July 9 at the Palace Theatre.

When radio appears down by the old mill stream it raises a bumper crop of song and fun, with Randolph Scott and Gloria Stuart united in glorious romance, Jack Haley and Slim Summerville making merry, and tap-king Bill Robinson and Shirley at tap-speed. Phyllis Brooks, Helen Westley, The Raymond Scott Quintet, Alan Dinehart and J. Edward Bromberg also are featured, and when all is said and sung, could you ask for anything more?

"Josette" She's Got Zis and Zat! Gay Comedy Stars Delightful Trio

It's vive l'amour in naughty New Orleans!

It's vive Don Ameche, vive Simone Simon! and vive Robert Young!

For that matter it's vive "Josette" in Charlevoix as long as the Palace Theatre runs this oo-la-la-laughing-est love escapade by 20th Century-Fox scheduled to open July 11.

This spicy, tantalizing story is gayer than a Mardi Gras, with these three delightful stars. Don is more romantic than you've known him on screen or radio. Simone is the tantalizing little French coquette. She's got zis! And she's got zat! And Bob is the ardent swain who won't take no for an answer—not even in French.

Luise Rainer as "The Toy Wife" New Palace Film

"The Toy Wife", starring Luise Rainer, with Melvyn Douglas and Robert Young sharing honors as leading men, is the special attraction which comes July 13 to the Palace Theatre for a two day showing. The film is Miss Rainer's first since she and Spencer Tracy, both Academy Award winners for 1937, were co-starred in "Big City".

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Infantile Eczema

Infantile eczemas, as such, are generally considered to be of two types, namely those with sores which have crusts and the dry scaling form. Oftentimes babies with this condition give a history of some sensitivity in their parents such as eczema, hay fever, asthma, etc. Many of these children are found to have a positive skin test to egg white and may be benefitted by the withdrawal of eggs from the diet; but in many others no relationship can be demonstrated. For this reason skin tests alone are not often satisfactory. It is sometimes possible to obtain a history of some particular food which causes the eczema and yet does not react to skin testing. However, the eczematous child should along with other procedures have sensitization tests that are of value in many cases. The management of such a case would be about as follows:

The determining of the effect of additional foods, the use of trial diets, sensitization tests of few common substances and the active treatment of the condition.

If milk is the cause of the eczema some other milk such as evaporated milk might be tried. The elimination of eggs is sometimes beneficial. Sometimes certain cereals might be eliminated. Sometimes the wearing apparel causes the difficulty such as silk. Some of these points might help the parent in assisting the physician who is trying to determine the causes of the eczema and oftentimes when the proper substance can be obtained the eczema can be materially benefitted or cured.

The hair and dandruff of horses, and the pelts and feathers of animals and fowls have at various times contributed to the discomfort of the allergic child. Cats, rabbits, chickens and ducks have also been found to aggravate a rash when in contact with the child's skin. Seasonal influences must also be considered in eliminating the cause of eczema. The use of woolen clothes, furs and blankets may cause a flare up of a supposedly cured case of eczema in the winter. In summer there may be a corresponding cessation of the rash because of the disuse of these fabrics, an increase in sun and a limitation in diet.

The hopefulness of eczema is that the child tends to outgrow it. The hopefulness aspects appear when there are so many existing sensitivities that these will leave him with detrimental influences more or less throughout his life.

NEW CENSUS SURVEY WILL BE MADE HERE

Retail and Wholesale Businesses Will Receive Questionnaires

A new census survey of retail and wholesale business for 1937-38 is being started by the Department of Commerce and within a few days questionaires will be received by local businesses engaged in this type of trade.

The census department is asking that these questionnaires be filled out and returned at once to expedite the collection of the information which goes into the survey. Inasmuch as the rseponse from Charlevoix will establish this city's rating, the local Board of Commerce is asking that all local business men file their returns promptly.

Information contained in the questionnaires will, as usual, be kept strictly confidential.

MURPHY SAYS STRAITS BRIDGE WILL BE BUILT

Survey Scheduled Soon for the Purpose of Obtaining Federal Funds

Governor Frank Murphy announced recently that a new survey will be started soon for the purpose of obtaining Federal funds for construction of the $30,000,000 Straits of Mackinac bridge which, he said "assuredly will be built".

He intimated that he had received a promise of Federal funds with which to begin work on the bridge to connect the two peninsulns.

"There is no question that the bridge will be built," he said. "Michigan never will be united until it is built."

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Tourists Welcome to Michigan

Apparently the law makers when drafting the present Michigan Motor Vehicle Law were cognizant of the fact that the tourist trade in the state was Michigan's second largest industry, when the granted exemption to out-of-state car owners to travel in Michigan with the plates of their own state. People coming to Michigan for vacations are not required to buy Michigan license plates to drive in the state; they may use their own plates for as long a period as ninety days before being required to purchase Michigan plates. However, this exemption does not apply to out of state people who come to Michigan for the purpose of earning a living or to establish a permanent residence. These people must provide themselves with a Michigan title and a set of Michigan's license plates within a reasonable time.

Michigan house trailers are required to have license plates, but those house trailers coming from states which do not require licenses are exempted in Michigan, if the trailer is attached to a car bearing the license plates of states that do not require trailer registrations.

Leon D. Case, secretary of state, warns out-of-state drivers to abide by Michigan motor vehicle laws so that they may enjoy the privileges grnnted them by the state, and not he unnecessarily delayed on their vacations.

LANSING LETTER

Roosevelt was "enthusiastic" and that steps would be taken at once to set up a new straits bridge authority including a "nationnlly-known engineer" as its advisor.

Among the pet dreams of the tourist leaders in Michigan is a bridge at the Straits.

If federal money could he obtained at once to make possible the bridge undertaking, the stnte administration would have a nice bright red feather in its hat. At present the resort business men all the way from Berrien county to Gogebic county are miffed at the governor's reform crusade which has halted a rich harvest of tourist nickels, dimes and quarters into slot machines. Many a resort owner has paid his taxes and insurance with slot machine receipts contributed by outstate visitors.

And, too, there is still grumbling over the professed inability of the four tourist associations to obtain an interview with the stnte executive at Lansing.

The Straits bridge offers an ideal truce.

Straits Traffic Mounts

Back of all the pre-campaign speech-making—for actually the fall campaign has not yet begun—is a growing realization in Michigan that the proposal for a Straits bridge is supported by some rather convincing facts.

Take the following eye-openers: During the 15 years of ferry operation by the state highway department, traffic has increased from 10,000 vehicles in 1910 to nearly 275,000 last year. In five years the ferry fleet has been doubled. At the present rate of growth Michigan's motor vehicle is due to double within the next 15 years; the number of motor vehicles on public highways is due to increase 40 per cent.

Aerial photographs taken one year ago of the July Fourth traffic jam at the Straits shows a continuous line of waiting cars nearly ten miles long!

Happy memories of Michigan as the nation's leading vacation land may depend upon the peak load ferry service at the Straits. Yet, it is simply impractical to provide enough ferry boats to take care of holiday rushes.

Staggering Relief Load

George Granger, state relief administrator, raised eyebrows the other day when he announced that approximately 75,000 of the 104,200 persons in Michigan now getting direct relief are unemployables.

No matter how times improve Michigan will have to care for 75,000 citizens who cannot work, Granger reminds.

The problem of unemployment relief is staggering enough, as many industrial centers find as they scrape treasuries for funds and implore nid from Lansing and Washington. Lansing itself has dipped into 1939 appropriations and special funds for $6,500,000 relief cash.

Taxpayers will hear more of tha Michigan problem of unemployed and unemployables, as a referendum will be held in November on the state welfare act.

Deficit $13,800,000

One year ago the state legislature adjourned, leaving a $18,000,000 deficit in the governor's lap.

The generous law-makers, having done a little wealth distributing of their own, had the thoughtfulness to invest the governor with powers of a financial dictator. Harold Smith, budget director, was told to trim expenditures.

The other day the prospect of the deficit, in advance of an official announcement, was given at $13,800,000. Some progress has been made, it will he agreed, in reducing a deficit from $18,000,000 to $13,800,000.

According to an Associated Press story from Washington, Michigan and Oklahoma are the only two states in 48 which are going further into the red. Only a half dozen states report budget deficits at all. Oklahoma reports $21,450,000; New York, $10,200,000 as compared with $94,428,496 in 1933; California, $7,500,000. Surplus states include Pennsylvania with $92,695,000; Indiana, $24,000,000; Illinois $19,124,000; Minnesota, $1,250,000; Wisconsin, "pay-as-you-go"; and Ohio and Rhode Island where state laws require a balance.

Simultaneously with the spending program at Washington, you may expect to hear of an economy program at Lansing.

How far the economies will go is something else.

With relief of unemployed and unemployables and an increased state deficit running side by side at the 1938 half-way mark, the tax problem again surges to the front. After all, the next session of the state legislature is only six months off.

TO THE TAXPAYERS of the City of Charlevoix

Notice is hereby given that the Tax Roll of the City of Charlevoix for the year 1938 has been delivered to me, and that the taxes therein levied are payable at my office, in the Carnegie Library Building, at any time on or before the 15th day of September, 1938, without charge for collection.

On all taxes remaining unpaid after that date, a collection fee of four cents on the dollar will be charged and collected.

SHOT AT RANDOM

two-to-one. It must be admitted that the teachers as individuals did try to give the girls some sort of supervisors gym activities, but the plan failed by a mile of what it should and could be. And then there is home economics, which if properly learned, would be a worthwhile addition to any girl's store of knowledge after graduation. If there are other parents aware of the lack of activities for girls and of the same frame of mind as this writer, the school meeting next Monday night is an excellent place to express such views.

Mrs. Robert Schubert of Eastport, is carrying several shot in her back and head as the result of one of them "I didn't know it was loaded" incidents.

It took three big boats to pull the Str. South American off Tin Shoal near Mackinac Island after she ran on in a fog a week ago Saturday. The vessel was bound for Charlevoix with members of the Detroit Athletic Club and Society of Automotive Engineers when the accident occurred and Charlevoix lust out entertaining the cruisers.

Had a fellow tell me the other day that he didn't mind being stopped from double parking on Bridge street himself, hut that it sure "burned him up" when he went down the street a few minutes later and found the car of a police officer or city official double parked. The fellow has a right to be sore, we'd say.

Reflecting the number of tourists visiting Charlevoix over the week end was the July 4th registration at the Board of Commerce information bureau. It was the heaviest of the season with 102 names.

Want to say that the fellows out at the Ironton Playhouse are a fine group and you'll agree when you meet them. They open the season with Elizabeth McFadden's "Double Door" next Tuesday night. Your support of the Ironton Playhouse would be appreciated by the players, not to mention that it would benefit an institution which is a decidedly fine asset to this community from not only a standpoint of furnishing high class entertainment for summer visitors, but materially as well.

Seems rather inconsistent that the Charlevoix Spartsman's Club has to fight to keep a water supply in Stover creek for their rearing ponds. The summer visitors want good fishing and donate generously in finances towards the Club's program. Yet on the other hand there's the Belvedere Golf Club, whose members fork over to help the rearing of fish, pumping the creek dry to water their golf course and killing off the fish. Presents a rather difficult problem. The Club cut the number of fish this year because last year the water supply was insufficient for a greater number. They want to go ahead with a program of enlarging the ponds, but don't dare for fear they won't have water enough to operate them. It would seem too bad to have to take legal steps to stop the water diversion, but if necessary, the importance of having good fishing would justify such action.

That's a swell new sign Milt Block had put up at the Quality Food Store.

FAMOUS ORCHESTRA FOR "QUEEN'S" BALL

Bunny Berigan to Play for Annual Traverse City Fete

Heeding the demands of returning college students the Cherry Festival Committee at Traverse City has engaged Bunny Berigan to play for the annual Queen's Ball of the Festival Wednesday, July 13.

With 14 of the leading "name" bands in the country under consideration, the committee engaged Berigan in preference to such outstanding orchestra leaders as Abs Lyman and Eddie Duchin, one of whom would have been hooked had not college students at Traverso City and the surrounding summer colonies insisted the committee try to get Berigan. The committee was able to book Berigan because he was coming from New York to play for a week at the Fox theatre in Detroit July 15th and arrangements were made with the Music Corporation of America to bring his orchestra into Michigan two days earlier.

Perhaps no dance band has risen to fame as rapidly as Berigan's. Less than two years ago Berigan left Benny Goodman's orchestra to organize his own. Now his popularity rivals Goodman's and Dorsey's. Berigan himself is rated the greatest of swing trumpeters. His orchestra of 14 people includes the well known swing songstress, Gail Reese.

MICHIGAN BELL HAS A HEAVY TAX LOAD

1938 Remittance Increase of $637,000 Over Previous Year

Total tax bills of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company for 1937 amounted to $5,066,000, an increase of 14½%, or $637,000, over the previous year, it was revealed at Lansing Thursday, June 30, by Frank L. Hull, the company's tax attorney, when he handed a check for $1,413,954.90 to State Auditor General George T. Gundry. The check represented one-half of the $2,827,909.80 the Michigan Bell will pay into the state primary school fund, the other half to be paid before November 1.

The Michigan Bell Company's 1937 tax bill is divided as follows: To the state of Michigan, property tax, $2,828,000; other taxes to the state, $255,000; to the federal government, $1,948,000; to others, principally municipalities, on property that is not at present used in operation of the telephone business, $35,000.

The company's state property taxes constitute the largest payment by any public utility into the primary school fund, from which it will be returned to the 83 counties of the state in proportion to their school population, thus going directly into local school channels.

GAME BIRDS ARE REPORTED ON INCREASE

Favorable Census Taken in Lower and Upper Peninsula Districts

Encouraging reports concerning apparent increases in numbers of game birds in both the upper and lower peninsulas are filtering in from field men of the game division of the Michigan department of conservation.

Partridge census taken recently in the Pigeon river area in Cheboygan county indicate the season is about two weeks earlier than in 1936 or 1937, eggs hatching about June 1. Numbers of chicks appear to be running high. Ruffed grouse are reported to be fairly plentiful in most districts of the lower peninsula, except in the Houghton lake state forest and on the Gladwin refuge.

There are indications that ruffed grouse and sharp-tailed grouse are coming back fast in the upper peninsula, especially in the Crystal Falls district, and reports from Ewen, Baraga and Escanaba convey similar information.

Partridge are reported to be more numerous at Cusino and residents of the Seney marsh area are said to be seeing more prairie chickens than they have since the spring of 1934.

More than 50 acres of food patches in the Seney marsh area were sowed to buckwheat, rye, barley, oats, field peas and reed-canary grass before July 1.

If the weather is favorable and the grain matures, it should furnish feed for prairie chickens during the fall and winter. The grain will be cut and stacked on racks in order to make it available after the heavy snows come.

The Congregational Churches welcome summer visitors to their services.—27t1pd.

FEDERAL ALLOTMENT GIVEN CLINIC WORK

Provides Assistants to Health Officers of District No. 3

Congressman John Luecke, of the 11th Michigan district, was notified today that the President has approved O. P. 665-51-3-9 to assist the regular staff of District Health Unit No. 3 of the Michigan State Health Department by acting as attendants at medical and dental clinics.

This project will operate in Emmet, Antrim, Otsego and Charlevoix counties, and carries an allotment of $3,912. The work includes assisting in the clinics during conference periods, checking on delinquent patients registered in the clinic in order that clinic contact may be maintained; and keeping records on clerical findings and service rendered. No nurses will be used on this project. There is no normal budgetary allowance for this work, and no regularly employed personnel will be displaced. The sponsor is District Health Unit No. 3.

SUPERVISORS CONCLUDE JUNE MEET

While the difference would not be noticed by the taxpayer and creates a problem of mathematics, it is the uncompromising attitude of the county committee which causes the rift.

We quote in part a minority report presented by Supervisor D. F. Maech, which was defeated:

"One argument advanced is that the city of Charlevoix is a prosperous community while other communities of the county are not prosperous. We insist that this is not a valid claim. The real question is whether the valuations found by the assessor and board of review are actually fair, equal and uniform. It cannot be assumed that the assessing officers have not had in mind, in fixing valuations, the condition of the community and acted accordingly. Neither can it be assumed that they have been unfair or dishonest about it. They are presumed to know property and its value.

"Coupled with this claim as to prosperity, after the majority of the committee have admitted a decline in prosperity in Charlevoix as well as in other taxing units of the county, that this community has been hard hit with a large decrease in business, lowered values of all property and reduced rentals, still they say the value is still there and actually exists. Such an argument is pure speculation and flies in the face of all known facts and economic laws. Who can know or even estimate what the values will be next year or the year after? The only thing to be considered is: What is the value now in this year 1938? Not what it may be next year. This is what the minority members complain of and oppose.

"A claim is advanced that Charlevoix had acquired lands for parks and other improvements and thus removed such lands from the tax rolls. This is true, but it was done in a determined effort, and a costly one, too, to help recovery, provide employment, and in a hope of increasing business in the community and also of this entire region, whereby the entire county profits directly or indirectly. The city of East Jordan and also Boyne City have made noticeable improvements in the matter of parks and they are to be commended for it. Ought these communities and their tax-paying people to be penalized for their industry and thrift? That is a false policy and if allowed will retard improvement.

"An investigation of real estate transfers in Charlevoix disclosed that they are at a low ebb. Most transfers have been only the usual exchanges of property and many have been the result of necessity. There have been few outside investments, there is no demand for real estate of any consquence and slight prospects for the future. Rentals are down to rock bottom, with few inquiries. Our summer hotels and cottages are at the lowest point in years. The owners are unable to make even ordinary repairs and the property is deteriorating. These are known facts and any member of this board can see and ascertain them for himself if he choses to do so. This condition is not special or peculiar to Charlevoix. It prevails everywhere."

A motor tour of the Little Traverse Bay region is scheduled before the group joins their train again at Petoskey.

BEAVER ISLAND OPENED FOR DEER HUNTING

Commission Will Not Renew Ban Which Expires This Fall

The Charlevoix Sportsman's Club difficulties caused from diversion of water by the Belvedere Golf Club from Stover creek, where the club operates rearing ponds, were taken before the eonservation commission at their meeting in Traverse City last Thursday evening.

Roy Ranger, president, Earl Miller and C. Y. Marshall, members, presented the situation in an effort to ascertain what remedial measures could be taken. The commission referred the matter to the attorney general's department and advice from that source is now awaited.

The commission decided to permit deer hunting on Beaver Island this fall for the first time in many years. The order closing the island to deer hunting expires this fall and will not be renewed by the commission.

The commission decided to keep Allegan county closed to deer hunting for another year. Numerous complaints have been received from the county concerning damage done to crops by the deer herds.

PLAYHOUSE OPENING DREW CROWD

SELL-OUT HOUSE FOR FIRST PRODUCTION TUESDAY

Charlevoix and Northern Resort Well Represented at Showing of "Double Door" at Ironton

Marked by a display of fireworks and opening night festivities, the Ironton Playhouse presented its first production of the summer season Tuesday evening before a sell-out house which included a large number of Charlevoix residents.

The reservations, according to James L. Daggett, manager, were made by both local persons and summer guests staying in the various hotels and cottages. The occasion inaugurated the first appearance of the present company in this vicinity at the completely redecorated playhouse near the Ironton ferry.

In addition, vacationists from Wequetonsing, Harbor Springs, Petoskey and Walloon Lake saw the opening bill, "Double Door", with many of the original New York players. One party, piloted by George Earle, Jr., son of Gov. Earle of Pennsylvania, flew here from Harrisburg.

Tuesday's bill, which is scheduled to run through the week, was the first production of the summer season given by the York Theatre group, present occupants of the Playhouse. The present management has no connection with former groups at the Playhouse, Mr. Daggett said.

Among Charlevoix people who saw the opening were Mrs. Florence Mitheefer and guests, Mrs. Marjorie Roemler-Kinard and party, from the Belvedere Club; Mrs. O. W. Johnson and Mrs. Eugene Talbot Jr. and party from the Chicago Club; Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Steiner of Belvedere Hotel, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Mower of Ironton.

ARABIAN ACT IS CIRCUS FEATURE

FAMOUS TROUPE WITH LEWIS BROTHERS' SHOW

Many Fine Attractions Billed for Circus Showing Under Legion Auspices Here July 21st

Hasesen Ben Abadidis and his troupe of Arabian tumblers, sun spinners, pyramid builders, and adagio artists will appear here with Lewis Brothers Big Three Ring Circus Thursday, July 21, at the southside athletic field.

Dressed in their native attire, and with all the color and glamour of the desert tribe, this sensational troupe makes its second annual tour with an American circus this season. Casting each other about, cavorting thru the air in bird-like fashion, these dark-skinned Arabs lend a very colorful feature to the great show presented by Lewis Brothers.

The circus is making its twentieth annual tour of the United States, and its enlarged performtance is presented in three rings that may easily be viewed by all those attending. Sensational aerialists, an army of funny clowns, peerless acrobats and wild and domestic animal acts all help to make up this two hour program for the circus. Going at full speed from the very first blast from the whistle of the master of ceremony, this big show brings thousands of thrills, plenty of laughter, clean entertainment, and fun for all attending.

Featured along with this great Arabian troupe are many American and European performers. A very attractive sideshow is carried with the great organization, including among its entertainers, Ma and Pa Sherman, Texas radio singers, of Crazy Water Crystal fame; the management assures all attending that no monstrosities, or hideous or vulgar attractions are found anywhere on the grounds. You need have no fear of any overcharge anywhere. The price of admission to the main show entitles you to a seat in the huge big-top and admission to the menagerie.

You may feel perfectly safe in sending your youngsters to the afternoon show or to the evening performance, as the uniformed attendants will see that they are properly seated and taken care of.

The show appears here next Thursday, July 21, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and at 8 in the evening, rain or shine. Doors open one hour earlier.

NEW ELECTION PROCEDURE EXPLAINED

VOTERS NEED NOT DISCLOSE PARTY AFFILIATIONS

Secret Ballot Provided by New Law Will Be Used First Time at September Primaries

Leon D. Case, secretary of state, who according to law is the chief election official, calls attention to Act No. 37, P. A. of 1937, which provides for a secret ballot at partisan primaries throughout the state. Its purpose is to eliminate the necessity of an elector disclosing his or her party preference, as has been the requirement heretofore.

Under the old law, when a voter visited the polling place to vote in a partisan primary election, the clerk, after locating the voter's name and address in the poll hook and determining that you were a qualified voter, asked which party ticket was preferred and gave you the ticket or ballot requested.

Under the new law, the voter, after heing certified by the election clerk, will be handed a set of ballots, each bearing the same number and stapled together in the upper left hand corner. The election inspector who hands out the hallots, instructs the voter to vote one of the ballots only. The voter takes these ballots into the voting compartment and marks the party ticket preferred. After marking the ballot the voter detaches it from the other ballots and folds it with the perforated or numbered corner outside. The voter hands both ballots, folded the same and separately, to the election inspector, designating the voted hallot by saying, "I've marked this one", "I voted this one", or by some other indicating words. The inspector will then place the marked ballot in the ballot hox marked "Voted Ballots" and the blank ballots in the box marked "Balnk Ballots". At no time will any one be able to tell the party affiliation of the voter.

MICHIGAN RIVIERA TENNIS TOURNEY AUG. 8-14

Officers Plan New Policy to Make Event a Regional Affair

Officers of the Charlevoix Tennis Club, in cooperation with Dr. Carleton Dean, chairman of the Board of Commerce tennis committee, are making preliminary plans for the annual Michigan Riviera tennis championships.

The tournament, which officials this year plan to modify to a more regional affair while still sponsoring competition sanctioned by the Western Lawn Tennis Association, will be held August 8-14, at the Inn clay courts.

The modification will be embodied largely in a poliey of discontinuing allowance of traveling, board and room expenses to nationally prominent players, although tennis talent of such caliber will be invited to participate as in the past upon their own. This plan, it is anticipated, may lessen the caliber of competition, thus throwing the titles wide open to tennis talent of the northern Michigan resort region. It is admittedly an experimental plan, expected to create greater local interest.

Further detalls of the tournament will be announced when worked out by club officials.

PLANNING SOUNDINGS FOR STRAITS BRIDGE

Highway Officials Announce Work Will Be Done This Summer

Soundings for possible location of the proposed $30,000,000 Straits of Mackinac bridge will be made this summer, the state highway department has revealed.

Crews will make test borings "before fall" on both sides of the straits and sounds in the straits it was learned.

The bridge as proposed by James H. Cissel of the University of Michigan, would be a cantilever-type, two and one-half miles long, with an 8,700 foot causeway at the south end and one 2,200 feet long at the north.

If the span ever was built the automobile distance between Mackinaw City and St. Ignace would be 4.2 miles, half of the distance now necessary. Six ferrics now transport vebicles across the stralts.

Construction of the huge bridge has been advocated for years, chiefly hy resort owners and associations who predict that Michigan's tourist trade will require it and outmode the ferries now in service.

COUNTY CLERKS TO MEET HERE IN '39

STATE ASSOCIATION MEETING AT BELVEDERE HOTEL

Fenton R. Bulow, Charlevoix County Clerk, Named Vice-President of State Association

Charlevoix has been selected as the site for the 1939 annual meeting of the Michigan County Clerks' Association.

Charlevoix's bid for the meeting was carried to the 1938 session which closed Saturday at Hastings by Fenton R. Bulow, Charlevoix county clerk, who was elevated to the vice-presidency of the association this year; Gordon Todd, secretary of the Charlevoix Board of Commerce; Clarence B. Meggison, chairman of the board's conventions committee; and Mrs. Carl C. Steiner, co-manager of the Belvedere Hotel.

The 1939 meeting for Michigan's 83 county clerks will be held the first week in July at the Belvedere Hotel. With its central location for counties of the lower and upper peninsulas, this city is expected to draw most of the county clerks and their families, together with state officials and supervisors of many counties. Over three hundred were present at the annual hanquet at Hastings.

Efforts are now being made to bring the annual conventions of other county groups to this city during 1939.

KIWANIANS HEAR INTERESTING TALK ON SWEDEN

Joseph H. King, Well Known Summor Resident, Speaker Tuesday

Joseph H. King, well known Chicago Club summer resident, gave a very interesting talk Tuesday evening before the Kiwanis Club at their meeting at the Belvedere Hotel.

Mr. King's topic was the observations of a business man on a trip through Sweden. As president of the Public Health Institute, Chicago, he is very much interested in public health and civic affairs and his trip through Sweden was a study along these lines. The simple life of the Swedish people, their honesty, thriftiness and spirit of loyalty was finely portrayed in such a way that everyone felt that they would like to visit Sweden.

SCHOOLS IN GOOD STATE OF FINANCE

WILL START 1938-39 TERM WITH SUBSTANTIAL BALANCE

Henry Partridge and Clair S. Webster Elected to Succeed Themselves As Trustees

The annual meeting of Charlevoix school district No. 1, city and township, drew an attendance of around fifty persons Monday evening.

Two members of the board of education were re-elected to succed themselves. Clair S. Webster, who was named last year to fill the unexpired term of Harker Kirby, was chosen without opposition. Henry Partridge, present president of the board, was re-elected over Walker A. Miles, the second nominee. Both will serve three-year terms.

The treasurer's report was read by Dr. Carleton Dean in the absence of Carl Kohler, Mr. Webster read the librarian's report and Clarence B. Meggison the secretary's report. All reports were approved.

The treasurer's report revealed a balance of approximately $8,300 in hand in the general fund to start the 1938-39 school year and a balance of approximately $4,100 in the interest and sinking funds for the retirement of bonded indebtedness. In view of rumored decreases in state aid for the coming year, some apprehension was expressed over the possibility of continuing the present program. The secretary's report outlined improvements in the school buildings and public library during the past year and pointed out that such improvements are being done on a budget plan as finances permit.

Mrs. E. J. Edwards brought up the matter of providing domestic science as a part of the curriculum, stressing the absence of such studies for girls. Upon motion of Earl A. Young a vote was taken to obtain an expression from patrons on the proposal. The result was a conclusive unanimous vote in favor of providing the course.

Members of the board related that an attempt was being made to bring 4-H Club extension work into the city schools to provide extra curricular work for girls. If the plan is not successful other steps will be taken to meet the wishes of patrons.

At this time the District Health Department will offer a free physical check-up of any child up to six years of age and will also offer immunization against diphtheria and vaccination against smallpox.

It is especially urged that mothers bring the preschoolers who are about to enter school this coming fall so that any defects that may be discovered may be corrected before September.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Ken Usher

The state highway department announces the awarding of contracts totaling $10,000,000 for highway construction projects, but so far appears to have failed to find enough jingle in their purse to provide even temporary repairs for that washout on M-66 at Loeb creek. Looks like VanWagoner must be sore at us up here, or else we didn't vote right at the last election.

Guess we may as well save wear and tear on the old typewriter. All the urging last week for attendance at the annual school meeting resulted in a turn-out of 45 persons out of several hundred patrons. It was encouraging however, to see a few new faces in the assemblage. There's nothing like persistency, so we'll urge that everyone who possibly ean do so turn out for the annual meeting of Charlevoix Hospital board of trustees July 20th. The Hospital is another important civic institution, but despite this fact there's been trouble in the past getting a quorum at its meetings. Just for your information, the meeting will be held at 8 o'clock at the council rooms in the library. Try to be there!

LANSING LETTER

"Modern Michigan" are two words with power.

They portray a word picture of the first impression received by thousands of outstate visitors.

The uniform newness of state highways, to take one example, is in sharp contrast with the obsolete condition of much of the roadways in eastern states. It is a consistent pleasure to drive your car in Michigan.

Michigan cities are young for the most part. It is difficult to find an old building in Detroit because af the city's rapid growth. Flint, the industrial boom town, is astonishingly new, and as you might expeet the schools are among the finest in the state.

Michigan population expanded 32 per eent in the 1920-1930 decade, and that means thousands of new homes, new stores, new churches. Compared with most other mid-west states, Michigan merits the word "Modern".

Job of Painting Requires Facts

Painting is more than the art of decoration and requires more than a bucket of paint and a brush, members of the agricultural engineering staff of Michigan State College inform Michigan residents.

Even the best of paint will not give good results, endure and remain attractive as a protective coat unless important factors are observed, warns C. H. Jefferson, research assistant at the college.

"Up in the northern counties it seems remarkable that the old white pine buildings have endured for many years without paint," Jefferson says. "Remember that woods used today not only are less durable but have lost some of their decay resisting properties in kiln drying. Paint is necessary to preserve woods used in today's newer buildings. Moisture and wood destroying fungi must be kept out of the wood pores."

First pointer offered by Jefferson is that a surface to be painted should be clean and dry before the job is begun.

Only high quality paint should be considered. It costs no more to apply. Because of the many good brands, Jefferson's principal suggestion is to purchase from a reliable dealer. A representative good paint, carrying the composition on the label might offer in pigment, 40 per cent titanium white, 40 per cent white lead and 20 per cent zinc oxide. Ninety per cent of the vehicle or liquid would be linseed oil mixed and the other 10 per cent would be turpentine and dryer. The mixture of pigment and vehicle would consist of 75.3 per cent pigment and 24.7 vehicle.

All persons are not expert painters. Jefferson suggests writing to the United States Forest Products Laboratory at Madison, Wisconsin, for the publications, "The Program of Paint Maintenance for the Frame House", "When and How to Paint Farm Buildings", and "Painting Exterior Woodwork".

Over Sixty Tons of Poison Bran Already Used in Grasshopper Control Project

The damage to crops from grasshoppers has been the greatest for the last fifteen years. They are so numerous that it is even a problem to control them with poison bait. Up to Wednesday night, July 6, over sixty tons of this material had been prepared at the Boyne Falls station and distributed to hundreds of farmers.

The allotment given Charlevoix county has been inadequate to take care of the situation. As a result, an additional supply of five barrels of poison had to be purchased in order to carry on this fight to the finish. This allotment was based upon requests by farmers in the various infested townships. In some townships the sign up was nearly one hundred per cent while in others very little took place.

The committee in charge felt that everyone needing material should be taken care of thus for each one who has signed up approximately two who didn't sign up previously has received material. But in any case the committee will take the proper steps to see that each person may receive sufficient poison bait to protect his crops.

The station will be open for business until further notice. In all probability something like one hundred tons of bait will be used in this county. This is nearly five times the amount put out in previous years.

Jersey Parish Show Again to be Held at Charlevoix County Fair

Plans have been definitely developed to hold the Northwest Jersey Parish Show at the East Jordan Fair the first week in September. The executive committee, consisting of George Meggison, president, Herman DeYoung, vice president, and Carl Brown of Harbor Springs, secretary-treasurer, with County Agent Mellencamp, met with the committee representing the Charlevoix County Fair on Friday night, July 8.

This year it is expected to have four counties participate with something like twenty different exhibitors. This should be even a more outstanding exhibit of Jerseys than the one in 1937. Approximately forty individuals will be in this competition. Departing from the usual procedure, all animals in the same class will receive the same premium whether being placed first or last. Each county herd will be made up of one animal in each of the various classes so that the very best animals in the entire county will be seen at the show. If you are a lover of good livestock you certainly will not want to miss this great display of outstanding Jerseys in Northern Michigan.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

Edited by Herbert Johnson

Camper Clyde Talbot remarked this morning that he, "never knew how much fun there was in always having something to do until he came to camp", and this reminded us that we have had very happy campers, because they have been very busy weeks up here in the Limberlost.

On Tuesday the campers changed their activities, and new boys were with the counsellors in sailing, handicraft, photography, boating, modeling, metalcraft, leathercraft, boxing, baseball, tennis, swimming and the other activities. We noticed that Herbert Dow, Dave Bennett, Peter DeCamp and Dogan Arthur started work immediately on a burned-wood "treasure" chest that Andy Frostic has made very popular. Hal Wheeler, Ben Wandel, Howard Fritzgerald and Charles Backman set right to work in the photography department to help Don Horton organize a snapshot competition. "All-time" Berger Larson had a large group of fellows up on the baseball field, and with Ken Vincent pitching and Doug Stock at the bat, it looked like a real game. Jackie Farr, Burr Needham, Dave Hunting, Walter Fader, Bill Sill, Alex Riker, Chus. Helmick, and Beresford Palmer were waiting their chance at the bat.

The big event on Wednesday was the swimming meet for the Juniors and Intermediates which was run in the Green and Gray Competition. The Greens won with 52 points to the Gray's 50. Fred Matthaei is captain of the Intermediate Greens and his men in the event included Guy Greene, Johnny Worcester, Dave Bennett, Walter Fader, Clyde Talbot, William Wilson, Gerald Vroman, Tommy Hunter, Doug Stock, Jason Bloomberg, Jackie Farr and Dave Bennett.

In the evening the all-camp night committee ran a game night in the clubhouse with 13 different games of chance and skill. Franklin Rassieur and Tom McNamara tied in the Junior section and took the watermelon awarded to them back to the Junior section for a juicy bite. Charlie Backman won in the other sections and shared his watermelon with cabin 14. If noise is ever an indication of a good time, this was a rousing party.

The "T" in Thursday must also mean "Trips", for on that day four cabins were off at various places. Billy Smith, Earle Milner, George McKean, Konrad Matthaei and Mont Wickham set off with their counsellor, Al Anderson, for Susan Lake. Clyde Vromnn took his boys there too. We saw James Gault, Fred Rassieur, Tom McNamara and Ned Greenthal bobbing around on the lake. John Shilling of the Intermediate section took a good trip down the Jordan River with campers Doug Stock, Fred Matthaei, Stephen Baits, Jason Bloomberg and Jim Whittemore. Doc Darling had his fellows from cabin 11 on a trip to Walloon Lake. All these boys will have a real idea of campcraft after such an early start.

Saturday was a gala day with special "all-camp" features. Bill Sill won the award for looking most like someone from a Dude Ranch. Most of the boys were dressed in ranchmen's clothes, and looked ready for all of the dude ranch features that camp is offering this summer. Dave Bennett was also chosen by the judges as was Sonny Talbot, Franklin Rassieur, Jim Robinson, Mont Wickham and Herbert Dow.

In the afternoon a boxing bout was held at the ring, and a good one it was. From the Junior section Tom McNamara defeated Ned Greenthal. Jackie Farr defeated Steve Julia. Of the Intermediates Gerald Vroman was bowed by Fred Miner. Noelting beat McReynolds of the Senior section, and John Shilling had a no-decision bout with Don Blue. As an added feature for fun and fury "Champ Charlie" Marcus wrestled with "Hard Bill" Hart, but there was more laughs than grunts and "more tickle than tough".

Following the bouts, the Senior campers challenged the Counsellors to a baseball game. It ended in a tie, but the spirit was all on the side af the counsellors. We beard musical Ken Smitb shout "Overture" for "Batter-up"!

In the evening the "Merry Murky Minstrels" performed for the entire camp. The chorus which sat in scenery representing a watermelon, and they with their black faces showing through, representing watermelon seeds, were Fred Matthaei, Doug Stock, Don Horton, Tom Hart, Al Anderson, Dave Bennett, Nelson Opper, Clyde Vroman, Frank Prael, Dixon Jarvis, John Squier and Bob Stevens. Fred Gillette and Bob Million were the endmen witb Bill Hart as "Mr. Interlocutor". Joe Dain, Jim Whittemore and John Squier helped in the skits. The performance was well received, but most of the cast is having a difficult time trying to stop talking "darky".

On Sunday morning the Sunday service was held in the clubhouse because of rain. Around the log fire the camp sang many good hymns and Counsellor Don Horton gave a fine talk on the camp motto "I Would Be True for There are Those Who Trust Me". In the afternoon the sections went on trips to various parts of the surrounding country.

And now, the boys are all waiting for Tuesday night to come for it will be the first dance with the girls from Kamp Kairphree. It has been rumored that the girls' hearts have been beating extru fast for over a week while they have been waiting for the big night to come. There will be extra hot water for all of the seniors and intermediates so that they can get their necks and ears really clean.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Grade A Milk: What It Should Mean

A "Grade A" milk is one which should rate higher than the ordinary run of raw milk. The Grade A producer should know the full provisions of the law governing that particular grade of raw milk and labor to conform to the requirements of production. Should the dairyman continue to fail to meet with the Grade A requirements, particularly with any of the sanitary requirements; he should not be allowed to label his milk as a Grade A product. In the district covered by Health Unit No. 3, consisting of the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego, one former Grade A dairyman was forced to discontinue selling milk altogether because his milk supply—labelled Grade A—was distinctly an inferior milk. It is the intention of the inspector this year to check all "Grade A" dairies severely on their sanitary requirements, before new licenses are issued and in case they are judged to fall short of meeting said sanitary requirements to stop them from selling the milk under a Grade A label.

The sanitary requirement of a Grade A milk are, in brief: (1) That it shall come from cows that nre found to be healthy; (2) That milk handlers shall be in good health as determined by a medical examination if necessary; (3) That the cows shall be stabled in bnrns that are kept in a cleanly condition; and which are well ventilated and well lighted; (4) That a separate milk house or milk room free from contaminating surroundings shall be provided; said milk room to be kept in a cleanly condition, protected by screening against flies, and properly drained; (5) That the milk shall be strained through clean cotton; (6) That the milk shall he cooled immediately after milking to 50 degrees F. or lower; (7) That bottles nnd other dairy equipment shall be satisfactorily sterilized by steam before re-using; (8) That the bacterial count of a Grade A milk shall not exceed 50,000 per cubic centimeter of milk, i.e., a fifth of a teaspoonful.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Cora Anthony

The seesaw of meat and poultry prices put meats, particularly beef and lamb, up and poultry down. Frying chickens and ducklings are cheaper than even last year's low prices. Broilers and fowl are also very reasonable.

Fruits, both tropical and native, are plentiful and inexpensive. Georgia Elberta peaches are at their height for eating and canning. Plums apricots, herries and melons are plentiful. The long list of summer vegetables includes no high priced items.

Here are three seasonable dinner menus.

Golfers! A rollicking locker room story with a hundred laughs appears in This Week, the colorgravure magazine with Sunday's Detroit News. Watch for "Impractical Joke" by Everett Rhodes Castle. Par shooters as well as duffers who have yet to break a buadred will enjoy this gay yarn.

CHEAP LITERATURE

It appears that one Michigan city is "doing something" about the newsstand literature while the rest of us are merely complaining about it.

Ann Arbor has banned from the news-stands three of the much criticized magazines. It would be praiseworthy if our community would follow suit and eliminate the obscene or borderline-to-obscenity publications. There's so much good reading matter put up in so many different forms, that we do not need the cheaply obscene, no matter how expensive the paper or how clever the artists!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.
Sunday school, 12 o'clock.
Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.
Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Life" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 17.

The Golden Text, (John 5:26), is "As the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Matt.7:13,14): "Enter ye in at the strait gute: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat: Becuuse strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 324): "The way is straight and narrow, which leads to the understanding that God is the only Life."

AT THE MOVIES

"In Old Chicago" Hits Peak in New Cycle of Spectacular Films

The urge to make big pictures, pictures honestly deserving those much abused adjectives "tremendous", "spectacular" and even "colossal", seems to come in cycles. And these cycles reach their crest roughly, very roughly, at ten-year intervals.

We seem to be right at the high point of such a cycle now, with a lot of big pictures showing, and "In Old Chicago" with its enormous budget scheduled for an opening at the Palace Theatre July 16. The chances seem to be, if the cycle is correct, that the next few years will see a slump in spectacle pictures, no more than one being produced a year, if that.

Ritz Brothers In Latest Comedy

The three Ritz Brothers, taking a hilarious, tongue-in-the-cheek poke at the radio broadcasting studio's penchant for talent quests, are scheduled to open July 18 at the Palace Theatre in their latest starring comedy, "Kentucky Moonshine".

Crosby and Lillie Head Comedy Cast

An ace singer who can clown and an ace clown who can sing, pool their talents in Paramount's smashing new musical comedy, "Doctor Rhythm", which comes July 20 to the screen of the Palace Theatre. They are Bing Crosby, fresh from his triumph in "Double or Nothing", and the inimitable Beatrice Lillie, who has panicked audiences all the world over and now appears in her first important screen venture.

Film "Bluebeard" Sets Record for Alimony Giving

It's going to be hard on American husbands if Reno-hound wives take too literally the new Claudette Colbert-Gary Cooper comedy, "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife", which opens July 22 at the Palace Theatre. For in it, Cooper sets a record for alimony-giving which only a dozen or so capitalists could equal.

He will oppose Fred Bradley, Rogers City, for the Republican nomination and hails from the home county of John Luecke, present Democratic incumbent.

NEW SEED TEST LAW RESULTS IN SEIZURES

Agricultural Commission Finds Many Shipments Worthless Seed

With test of vegetable seeds, conducted for the first time this year under the new seed law, disclosing that many lots of seeds of this class having little or no seeding value, Commissioner John B. Strange of the department of agriculture today warned seedsmen that their shipments of 1939 seed into Michigan would be seized at the state's borders unless the quality of their products is improved.

Approximately 450 cases of seeds are under seizure in Michigan at the present time, including shipments into Charlevoix county.

"The new amendments," said Commissioner Strange, "to our seed law have resulted in an increase of approximately 100 per cent in the number of samples being tested by the laboratories.

ELECTRIC FENCE IS GAINING POPULARITY

M. S. C. Reports Heavy Sales—Roy Meyers, Ironton, Local Agent

Electric fence is covering ground at a shocking rate in Michigan, if a preliminary survey by members of the agricultural engineering department at Michigan State College is an indication.

One manufacturer alone sold nearly 5,000 electric fence installations in 1937 in the state.

With this new type enclosure that facilitates use of pasture that otherwise might go to waste or be used inefficiently, D. G. Ebinger, rural electrification specialist at the college, sees several precautions which farmers can utilize.

Roy Meyers, who operates a service station at Ironton, is agent in this territory for electric fencing.

Maple Park, one-time high school athletic field, owned by Frank Kaden, Boyne City merchant, has been cleared and ready for the club.

The plane is an Aeronca model C3 which is owned by the club.

TOY DENIES REPORTS HE WILL WITHDRAW

Candidate for Governor Brands Rumors Malicious Gossip

Reports that he will withdraw as a candidate for governor are branded as "malicious products of a whispering campaign" by Harry S. Toy.

The former attorney general and supreme court justice says that the "whispering campaign" is being resorted to "in an attempt to discourage the thousands of rank and file citizens and new voters who see in my candidacy the means of a Republican victory in November."

OVER TWO MILLION COTTONTAILS WERE BAGGED

Estimates that more than two and one-quarter million cottontail rabbits were bagged in Michigan during the last hunting season are interpreted by state game investigators as a good indication that the state is not suffering from any alarming scarcity of this animal.

EMMET SPORTSMAN'S RALLY IS ANNOUNCED

All Day Program With Contests Set for July 31st at Oden

The event which is expected to draw the largest crowd to Emmet county this season is the Emmet County Sportsmen's Rally scheduled for Sunday, July 31, at the Oden State Fish Hatchery on U.S.31 north of Petoskey. Based on last year's attendance, 10,000 people are expected to attend the all-day affair and to take part in the trap shooting, bait and fly casting contests, coon dog trials and fly fishing for live trout. This is the second annual rally sponsored by the Emmet County Sportsmen's club.

K. C. Shepardson of Kendallville, Ind., nationally known trap shooting expert, will give exhibitions of his skill, and an expert archer will perform. Cash prizes are offered in the all-day trap shoot and coon dog trials, and valuable prizes will be awarded winners in the casting accuracy contests and other games.

The rally will last from 7:00 a. m. until dark, with awarding of the prizes at 5:00 p. m., according to Chalmers Curtis, Jr., president of the Sportsmen's club. Exhibition and contest entries are being handled by Herman Kaye of Petoskey, chairman of the rally. Women sportsmen as well as men, are invited to enter all events.

A novelty will be the turtle race for boys and girls. Prizes will be given to the owners of the winning racers.

The rally will also include a lunch served by Petoskey B. P. O. Elks lodge No. 629; a big basket lunch at noon for families; bingo games; conservation exhibits of game, fish and educational material; archery events and a display of archery equipment; a fish planting program and numerous games for both adults and children.

A 14-foot Johnson outboard motor boat and motor will be one of the prizes. The rally is open to everyone without charge. There will be plenty of free parking space.

FOREST FIRE LOSS IN STATE LOW THIS YEAR

One Fourth Less Fires At Half-Way Mark of Summer Is Reached

Approximately one half of the forest fire season has passed and only about one fourth as many fires have occurred in the state's forested areas as burned last season.

Figuring that the fire season usually extends from six to seven months, beginning in April and waning in October, the fire record is considerably more than 50 percent better thus far than last year, which experienced the lowest forest fire acreage loss in the state's history.

By the end of June, a total of 382 fires had been reported, burning 3,995 acres. Last year's total was about 15,000 acres.

How to Estimate Your Driving Costs

Computed by Standard Oil Company (Ind.)

First cut out the scale along the dotted lines and place it on the map with the "starting point" on tha town nearast your home. Then swing the scala around until its edge touches the place you wish to visit.

From the figures on the scale you can determine within about 10% what the drive will cost you. To get the cost of a round trip, simply double the figure. The amounts shown will be correct for the great majority of cars, although naturally the cost will be slightly more for the largest cars.

WE ARE CRITICIZED ONE WAY OR THE OTHER

Running a newspaper is no snap. People bawl us out whether we print their contributions or throw them in the waste paper basket. Here's a squib that about covers the situation: "Being a columnist is no picnic.

If we print jokes people say we are silly;

If we don't they say we are too serious.

If we clip things from other newspapers,

We are too lazy to write them ourselves;

If we won't we are too fond of our own stuff.

If we don't print contributions,

We don't appreciate true genius;

If we do print them the column is filled with junk.

Now like as not someone will say,

We swiped this from some other newspaper—

WELL, WE DID!

EDITORIAL

ALPHONSE AND GASTON

When this department carried a piece some time ago concerning the two political aspirants for the gubernatorial chair who are running in the present primary, we expressed the belief that the cause of the Republican party would be furthered by making it a good clean honest scrap. We did not say it should wind up in a loving match out behind the garden wall where even the neighbors couldn't get a peek. That wasn't the idea at all. All we feared was that some of the dirty linen (and we all have it) shouldn't be brought out too much in the open, along with personal animosities which always smell, and consequently ruin what appeared to be a pretty good chance of making another comeback in Michigan. But, of the two evils, we would prefer to see the whole line covered with soiled linen rather than see them wind up kissing each other like a couple moonstruck school children.—C.B.K.

Congress has voted down a bill to bar federal and state job-holders from political conventions. Which is just as well, for if job-holders were forbidden to attend there might not be any conventions.

SECURITY

With elaborate and costly government machinery set up to insure social security, we seem to have less of it right now than ever. With industry slowed down and idleness increased, chances for young persons seeking fields of employment grow less, temporarily so, we hope. Oldsters let out of jobs with no savings often look in vain for gainful work and must turn to relatives or public relief sources for support. But the middle west is now getting ready to realize record crops and if nothing happens to destroy the prospects, it will be a big help in furnishing jobs and stimulating business. Then the too frequent disposition to repudiate obligations should change. Old-time pride in achievement should revive. Large crop production will help industry, and in turn industry employing more men, will increase consumption of farm products. People may then turn from relief rolls and paddle their own canoes. Directly and indirectly, crop abundance will do more than the government's social security or any other government plan to push back the depression or recession and restore normal conditions.—Wayne (Neb.) Herald.

To get benefits, unemployed individuals must be able to work and available for work. Unemployment compensation will only be paid to workers who have registered as required at the employment office nearest their home, and who have properly filed claim for benefits.

NEGROES AND COMMUNISM

In the United States, the Communist Party has endeavored to give the Negroes a little foretaste of the millennium. Until the recent rise of the CIO, the Communists, almost alone among the organized groups of the white man's world, offered the Negro a place to go where he might feel himself entirely beyond the reach of race discriminations. In the party, the Negro found, or was led to believe that he had found, fraternalism free from patronizing. This unbiased acceptance of the Negro has helped to develop his self-confidence and to give him a sense of power. The Communists have not yet signed up the Negro masses, but they are helping to make the masses vocal. And for the first time, thanks to Communist preaching, an increasing number of poor blacks have been persuaded that they are no longer, as they once were, members of a minority group.

The choice made in 1936 was not between two parties bidding for the Negroes' political favor, but between two answers to the Negroes' economic problems. The Roosevelt-New Deal answer appeared to offer more than the Landon-Republican answer.

These economic issues are likely to be more, not less, important to the Negro voter. And on economic matters, the mind of the Black Belt is far from made up. It is confused, uncertain and restless—a lush field for the panacea preachers. And many intelligent Negroes who are not caught by easy answers or fly-by-night doctrines are agreed that there is nothing visible on either the economic or the political horizon that gives promise of any satisfactory deliverance for their race. They and the Negro community generally are inclined, therefore, to foster the growth of race solidarity, to support those efforts as mass action which, here a little and there a little, are proving effective, and to prepare to get for themselves what they are at last convinced their white deliverer will never give.—Saturday Evening Post.

THE OLD ORDER

A brief news item in the papers the other day told of the Ann Arbor Press losing its contract with the University to do their printing. This contract averaged $30,000 worth of business a year, and went the way of all flesh because labor troubles had apparently caused the University Press to fail in keeping up on its end of the deal. The N. L. R. B. recently found the Press guilty of four counts and passed some sort of a decision on them, not important as far as this article is concerned, but merely shows them to be in the same boat as thousands of others throughout the country.

We cannot blame the University. That is, we do not wish to blame the University for their patience was perhaps exhausted. Yet, in a rather varied experience as concerns colleges, we failed to find one that did not literally CRAM this radicalism DOWN your throat. But we will skip that angle and return to the Union itself which brought about the disturbance. It used to be a fine, old, well established organization. I have known many who did belong, and some who still do. They were honest and upright in their dealings with every employer they had dealt with through the years, but the minute they started dickering with Lewis and his gang, they lost that fine prestige. And they lost more, far more, by losing the faith their employers had always had in them.

In a newspaper office where we are well-acquainted we know a man that paid his dues on the dot for 16 long years. The very second they started fooling around with Broun and the rest of the pink complexioned laddies, he quit. "None of that stuff for me" he said, and we didn't blame him. Maybe some day they will earn back this lost prestige, but in the meantime it is too bad so many of us have to suffer the consequences of their folly.

LANSING LETTER

tourist millions, it is likely that the result would be another two-word picture: "Diversified Michigan".

In agriculture our diversified crops are well known. In southern counties you will find the conventional fields of corn, wheat, and oats. Then you come to the beet sugar belt, huge orchards of fruit trees, acres of beans and berries, and long endless rows of onions and mint. Dairying heads the list in production income. Michigan butter may not be well advertised, but it is unexcelled any place in the Mid-West.

Because of its varied agriculture, Michigan rarely has a farm depression.

Industries

The upper peninsula for years has depended on the mining of copper and iron. Even today its lumber industry is important.

Mining of salt is a prominent industry at Manistee.

Salt brine, an unusual natural resource, is pumped out of the ground at Midland by the Dow Chemical Company to sustain a booming modern city amid rather desolate surroundings.

Mount Pleasant and Gladwin have been made prosperous in recent years because of oil and gas.

And if you don't mind the soot and smoke, you can buy Michigan coal!

For natural resources, Michigan offers copper, iron, salt, oil, gas, and coal. Surely this merits the description "diversified".

Recreation

Michigan offers diversified recreation.

If you prefer mountains, you can see them on the shores of Lake Superior.

If you want deep sea fishing, you can derive all the thrills right at Traverse City or Charlevoix. A few weeks ago Jake Gallusky of Petoskey landed a 32-pound Mackinaw trout on deep trolling tackle off Good Hart. The 32-pounder equals last season's fish taken by Dave Ramsby and Ralph Meyers.

If you want sand beaches for bathing, Michigan offers literally hundreds of miles of the finest beaches in the nation.

If you want lakes, the state possesses 5,000 of 'em — all sizes and shapes.

If you enjoy sail boating, cruising, surf riding or any of the sports of the sea shore, Michigan has provided endless variety.

More fishing licenses are issued in the state than in any other state. Our hunting fame is familiar to all.

Scenic Straits

Several weeks ago we were crossing the Straits of Mackinaw in a speed boat, bound for Mackinaw City.

In the speed boat were two elderly couples, both from Kalamazoo. They had never seen the Straits before, although they had lived in Michigan for many years. One man enthused "Last winter my wife and I spent several weeks at Bermuda. We paid $22 a day, American plan, at a hotel. Other charges were proportionately high. At the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island we enjoyed a better time, and spent less to get it. Except possibly for the color of the sea at Bermuda, Mackinac Island offers the equal of scenery and climate, and the surprising thing to me is that all this has been here, all the time, right in Michigan and we didn't appreciate it."

For smart sophisticated atmosphere, including night club entertainment, Stewart Woodfill's Grand Hotel is "Taps" in Michigan resort country. Contrasting with Bermuda's $22 a day rate, the Grand Hotel begins at $7 (American plan).

Truly, Mackinac Island is a world of its own, set amid a rare setting between the two peninsulas of Michigan.

Lakes and Streams

For the thousands who enjoy fly casting for trout in a picturesque, pine tree banked stream or who prefer to troll for steelheads, wall eyes and bass, or use an old-fashioned pole for bluegills and perch, Michigan has hundreds of streams and inland lakes that are kept carefully stocked by the state conservation department.

The recreation industry is second in Michigan.

Again, it offers diversified appeals to fit the purse, taste and the moment's mood.

Michigan is the only state where industry and recreation are equally important. The world's largest industrial plant is located on the River Rouge in Wayne county. Our tourist income exceeds California or Florida.

Truly, it is an air-conditioned vacationland, producing a stimulating and healthful climate that contributes to industrial efficiency in winter and to outdoor enjoyment in summer.

Feeling SORRY Don't Bring a DEAD Child BACK to Life . . .

Have you the courage to read this ad . . . or do you shudder at the gruesome thought suggested? No . . . we're not going to give you cold, stark, unfeeling statistics on how many children were killed in the State of Michigan last year. You know there was a child killed because a motorist was careless. And the man who killed that child says he would give his life to bring her back to life. He is a broken man today because this tragedy did not end with death to the child. It has cut deep . . . it has hurt and wrought havoc in the lives of many.

Are you a careful driver? Do you know the traffic rules and regulations? Above all . . . do you observe them . . . not just most of the time but ALWAYS? One slip can make you sorry for the rest of your life . . . can shatter your confidence . . . can bring grief and unhealing wounds to others. Please . . . please drive carefully!

tion department buys from commercial trap net fishermen operating off Beaver and Hog Islands. The result of this practice is that an average of 200 bass are being caught in Walloon lake daily, while over at Hog and Garden Islands, where there used to be the most wonderful bass fishing a person could imagine, you can now dunk your bait by the hour and won't even get a nibble. The Beaver Islanders, coming to the realization that their marvelous bass fishing is coming to an end, would like to have the territory closed to trap net fishing. Just learned also that Thumb (Lake Louise) and Deer lakes are being stocked with these bass from the Beavers, so what it amounts to is that the county's inland lakes are being stocked at the expense of the Beavers. It's just like "borrowing from Peter to pay Paul."

BACHMAN COMES TO CAMP CHARLEVOIX

MICHIGAN STATE COACH IS GUEST OF REIMANNS

Famous As One of Rockne's Notre Dame Players, Gives Football Iostruction to Campers

(By Camp Correspondent)

Charles W. Backman, who is football coach at Michigan State College and is a distinguished citizen of this atate noted for his ability in developing championship football teams in mnny parts of this country, and for his ability as an outstanding authority on the sport, is spending part of his summer vacation at Charlevoix as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis C. Reimann at Camp Charlevoix across the lake.

Mr. Bachman studied at Notre Dame while the greatest of all coaches, Knute Rockne, was an assistant there. Backman was a member of the championship teams of those early years and was often cited for his brilliant playing.

He received his degree in 1917 and immediately enlisted in the naval service. While in Frnnce, Backman organized teams among the donghboys, and his personality and character helped in developing many friendships.

Upon his return to this country he went as coach to Northwestern University and later transferred to the University of Kansas, where he served for 5 years. In 1933 he was called to Michigan State College in East Lansing, where for many years the teams had heen overshadowed hy the great teams nf Coach Yost at the University of Michigan.

Now in his 5th year at Michigan State, Backman has just emerged from a championship year having beat most of the "Big Ten" schools and other developed teams in the East such as New York University. Backman's teams have been victorious over the University of Michigan for the past four years.

"Charlie" Bachman spends most of his time teaching the campers at Camp Charlevoix the ground work for goud football. His son, Charles Backman, Jr. is at the camp for the season. On Tuesday Mr. Backman was guest speaker at the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club.

CHARLEVOIX TEAMS DIVIDED SOFTBALL BILL

Board of Commerce Wins First Night Game; Knights of Pythias Losers

Charlevoix softball teams divided a double bill which inaogurated night play at the newly-lighted south side athletic field Sunday evening.

Preceding the opening contest, Gordon Todd expressed appreciation to the city council for the provision of lights for night play. Don Herrick, city superintendeot, pitched the first hall.

Lyle Beaudoin hurled the Board of Commerce to a 12 to 7 victory over the Zaiger Bevernge outfit in the opening tilt. The winners scored 3 in the 2nd, six in the 6th and three in the 7th inning. Beaudoin kept the hits well scattered and had goud field support.

The Knights uf Pythias lost to the Petoskey Electrics by a 7 to 4 count in the second contest. Jonior Supernaw was the losing hurler and Wnger won for Petoskey. The K. of P's. led going into the fourth inning but were blanked the rest of the way while Petoskey picked up six runs.

A large crowd of fans was on hand for the first night games and found the newly-lighted diamond a fine layout.

IRONTON PLAYERS OPEN SECOND BILL

'GENTLEMEN PREFER BLONDES' IS CURRENT FEATURE

All Northern Michigan Represented in Audience Gathered for Anita Loos' Celebrated Comedy

Before a first night audience including residents and resorters from many points in northern Michigan, the Ironton Playhouse opened its second bill of the season last night with Anita Loos' celebrated comedy "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes". This play marked the second week at Ironton for the York Square Players.

The present hill, running through Saturday, stars Elsa Bramish in the role of Lorilei Lee—the roll created a few years ago on Broadway by June Walker. The part has been a favorite one with actresses ever since, permitting a great degree of original comedy interpretation. Critics have called it one of the most "pertinent comedies of our times", treating, as it does, with the gold-digging woman playing her wits against the European nobility.

Scheduled for next week is Noel Coward's "Tonight at Eight-Thirty"—the most recent of the English playwright's work. Following a year's run in New York during the 1937 season, it has just been released for summer stock production.

EVENING STAR WINNER OF RACE TO MACKINAC

Led Large Fleet from Port Huroo to Mackinac Island

Stragglers continued to arrive Tuesday at the finish line in the annual Port Huron-to-Mackinac Island sailing race as the crew of the winning buat, Evening Star, enjoyed a rest and celebrated victory.

Fred S. Ford's 56-foot yawl crossed the finish line at 3:09.2 yesterday, covering the trip through Lake Huron in 49 hours and five minutes. This time gave the Evening Star an 18-minute edge over the second-place boat, John F. French's French Boy, wbich reached Mackinaw at 5:29.2.

THURSDAY IS CIRCUS DAY IN CHARLEVOIX

LEWIS BROTHERS SHOW COMES FOR TWO PERFORMANCES

Sensational Acts Both Afternoon and Evening to Be Given at American Legion Grounds

In connection with the visit of the Lewis Bros. Circus, which will exhibit at Charlevoix on Thursday, July 21 for one day, it is safe in saying there are more wonderfol features and sensational acts in the Lewis Brothers' programme than any popular priced circus for the season of 1938.

There are three rings, chock full of arenic and aerial acts, all going at one and the same time, animal acts of the highest possible calibre, high-school horses, menage acts, trained ponies, dogs, monkeys, elephants and pigs.

Introducing Mae Lewis, and her school of high jumping horses, challenging any and all to present their equal.

Then the Real Wild West—from the West when the West was West. Tom Cooper, and his Congress of Rough Riders, ropers, and bull dogers presenting the most realistie Wild West ever presented with a circus performance. William Moreen and his wonderful troupe of tumblers in their whirlwind acrobatic and pyramid building—seemingly almost impossible feats of strength and agility.

Then the annex containing many features new to the public—freaks of nature, and monstrosities from all parts of the world.

Marrie Matson and her troupe of daredevils in aerial stunts that defy gravity, presenting death-defying feats in mid-air. This is only one of many features of this greatest of all popolar priced circuses that will visit your city this season.

The only big show coming to Charlevoix this season. Performances twice daily at 2 and 8 p. m. A parade at 1 o'clock will precede the afternoon performance.

NEW SET-UP IS MADE FOR VITAL STATISTICS

Death and Birth Records to Be Compiled by Health Unit No. 3

The Michigan Departmont of Health, bureau of vital statistics, is inaugurating a new system regarding original birth and death certificates.

On June 2, Dr. Carleton Dean, director of District Health Department No. 3, constituting the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego, received his appointment as special agent of the census, from tho Bureau of Census at Washington. Formerly the original birth and death records occorring in this district were sent immediately to Lansing by the township and city registrars.

Under this new set-up they are sent to the District Health Department, where they are checked for completeness, a copy is made for the health department, and the original records are then forwarded to Lansing. The purpose of this change is to aid the Michigan Department of Health in getting more complete hirth and death records, and following up any unrecorded births and deaths.

This system is already in practice in 30 Michigan counties and has proved very successful.

HOTEL CLOSING REPORTS MERE RUMOR

LOCAL MANAGERS JOIN TO QUELL ERRONEOUS WORD

Hugh Gray, Western Michigan Tourist and Resort Assn., Promises Hotels Cooperation

Prompted by erroneons reports, apparently of state-wide circulation, that not only Charlevoix summer hotels, but other northern Michigan hostelries such as the Grand at Mackinac Island nnd the Perry at Petoskey, were either closed or closing, local managers and the Board of Commerce have joined in an effort to quell the rumors.

The concerted action came Tuesday afternoon when word was returned here from several distantly separated points that The Inn, Belvedere and Charlevoix Beach hotels were closed. Inquiry also revealed that similar reports were being made aboot other northern Michigan summer hotels.

These reports are branded as mere rumor, without foundation or fact. All local summer hotels are open and operating and will continue to do so until the customary closing dates.

Gordon Todd, secretary of the Board of Commerce, reported the situation to Hugh J. Gray, secretary of the Western Michigan Tourist and Resort Association at Grand Rapids. Mr. Gray promised that bulletins would be issued immediately denying the reports and that the association would cooperate fully to correct the erroneous impression resulting.

MISSOURI BANDITS TAKEN AT PETOSKEY

ESCAPED CONVICTS CAUGHT AFTER HOLD-UP ATTEMPT

Restaurant and Service Station Robberies Admitted by Pair — Taken to Traverse City

Northern Michigan's most intensive man-hunt ended early Monday morning when the second of two Missouri outlaws was captured near Petoskey.

The first of the pair, Dorvell "Lefty" Gray ,21, was taken at the Petoskey home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoffman, Sunday morning, after he had rented a room. The second, Leo Spencer, was captured at the farm home of Kenneth Bare in Resort township early Monday morning after a 24-hour search in which hundreds of state, county and city police officers participated.

The men stole a car in Missouri after their escape from the state prison at Jefferson City and made their way toward Michigan. They staged hold-ups of gas stations and restaurants in Cadillac, Ludington and Traverse City before heading this way.

A state police net was set throughout northern Michigan Saturday with sheriff's deputies and local police assisting.

Early Sunday morning State Troopers Bennett Garton and Henry Sendek, of the Cheboygan post, saw the handit car at Wimpy's a restaurant near the intersectinn of M-131 and US-31 on the west side of the city. The police drove their ear in behind the bandit car. Spencer was inside the restaurant and Gray in the ear. Spencer burst from the store and rao into the woods on the east side of the restaurant nnd Gray leaped from the car and took to the woods on the other side. As the men disappeared in the darkness, the troopers fired with sawed-off shotguns and revolvers but did not hit the men.

The swing bridge over the channel on US-31 was guarded constantly while search progressed for the two outlaws to thwart anticipated attempts to escape the region. Local police and Sheriff Floyd Ikens and deputies aided in the man hunt.

Confessions of the two men revealed they had visited this city Saturday night and had gone into local amusement places before going to Petoskey. State police had been close on their trail for several days in the central part of the state.

The two men were taken by state police to Traverse City. It is understood they will be prosecuted there on a charge of armed robbery of a gasoline service station.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Ken Usher

It certainly stirs a fellow up no little to hear 'em tell about those Lake Superior fishing trips like the Keilers took on their yacht "Miss Kentucky". They caught hundreds of pounds of fish just as easy as falling off a log. Heard the largest mackinaw was a 40-puund whopper.

It must have been pleasant for those who have argued for the installation of recreational facilities in East Park to see the crowd playing shuffle board Sunday afternoon. Sometimes we have to stub our toe in order to see the light and the incident above mentioned is sufficient proof that East Park is the proper place for such facilities. We need more of such things in Charlevoix. If the courts were lighted for night play it would surprise everyone how their popularity wnuld increase. Lights at the tennis courts on the schnol grounds might also be suggested.

Thought Glenn See had gone screwy the other day. Saw him out in front of his place scanning the sky Sunday morning early and then again Monday found him doing the same thing out at the airport. Thought the matter had gone far enough, so asked him the whyfor of it all and found out he had been looking for two days for E. A. Lupe and a party of friends who were supposed to come up hy plane from Grand Rapids to go fishing. According to Glenn, a car wasn't fast

How the Future Looks to Him

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

Homer Martin's accusations of communistic influence in the ranks of the United Automobile Workers, second largest CIO group, form an ironic anti-climax to the sit-down epidemic of just one year ago.

It forms a fascinating chapter in Michigan labor history.

To the student of history, the pendulum is swinging back. In seizing private property and in defying constitutional law and order, the CIO went too far. Instead uf benefitting the cause of labor, radical leadership in the UAW injured it.

Martin's purge is tactit admission that Governor Murphy was right when he declared in a post-strike statement that communistic influences were to blame for labor's misdirected efforts at automobile factories. It recalls the overnight rise of the Lansing Law and Order league, headed by Dwight Rich, school superintendent and cuol-headed Legionnaire, who inspired public opinion to demand law observance.

Rapid Growth

Yet, a glance at the phenomenal growth of Michigan's industrial life will convince you that a lack uf labor trouble would be a miracle.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

Edited by Herbert Johnson

During the past week many things have happened here at camp, and many more are on the program for this week. Things are going full force and everyone is having a great time.

Coach "Charlie" Bachman, football man at Michigan State, arrived Sunday to teach the campers some of the fundamentals of football, and from the looks of things just an hour or so after his arrival, it will keep him pretty busy. Mr. Bachman is here for the first time following other men in the game who have been teaching at camp in previous years. Bob Cooper, of University of Michigan fame, taught here in '36 and was followed by Herm Everhardus, All-American from the University, who was at camp last season. "Charlie" Bachman is a graduate of Notre Dame and has done remarkable work developing players of outstanding merit, and has just finished a championship year at East Lansing.

Last Wednesday afternoon Camp Algonquain was host to some of our boys who took part in hardball and softball games and in riflery. The "Algonquainites" won the ball game, but our team triumphed in riflery under the direction of Joe Dain. The baseball team had little practice, and Berger Larson thought they put up a great battle against a much more experienced team. This was the first in a series of athletic matches with friendly camps on nearby lakes.

On Thursday the campers went to their first choices in the morning activities and everyone seems to be making fast progress. While there were quite a few non-swimmers in camp two weeks ago, all these boys have now secured their Red Cross beginners buttons and many of the old swimmers are members of the class which is now being offered in life saving.

Several overnights were out of camp last week. Thursday night Jim Voyce took his cabin up to the Jordan River by truck and down the river and over to camp via canoe. In the group were Dick Koehel, Dick Toncray, John Squier, Bob Armstrong, Charles Bachman, Jr. and Verl Kutt.

John Shilling took his cabin on a trip the same night. Chuck Helmick, Doug. Stock, Fred Matthael, Steve Balts, Jason Blonmberg and Jim Whittemore were in the group that went to Lake Susan.

The "Alert", which was recently launched in the best ship-shaped condition and boasting a new cabin, sailed with Ben Trumbull's cabin for a long trip up the lake. Hal Wheeler was on the trip as was Jackie Farr, Steve Julia, Guy Green, Johnnie Avis, Philip Worcester and Jim Robinson.

Herb. Johnson had his group on a trip to Walloon on Monday. Dave Bennett, Dave Hunting, Clyde Talbot, Peter DeCamp, Walter Fader and Dogan Arthur were on the trip and came back tired but happy.

Friday night at camp was the annual "Gyp" Night. Don Horton had charge, and many of the boys found that they weren't as much up on their knowledge of tricks as they thought. "Squeezie Wheezie", "Lighthouse Loons" and the "Siam Prayer" were new ones that too many of the boys fell for.

Saturday afternoon was a busy one for the boys and an important one for them since the Greens and Grays were at it again, this time with a vigorous baseball game. The Greens came through the victors and have now 12 points to the Grays 9.

"The Hand of Siva", a one-act play, was presented in the Clubhouse in the evening. Captain Ashby was played by Dixon Jarvis; M. Durot by Ted Ashby, Mr. Wellington by Tom Witherell, Kodah Kahn by Bob Million and Fred Gillette cleverly portrayed an Indian servant.

Sunday morning the church service was held in the chapel close by the camp in the woods. In what is always an inspiring atmosphere the quartet sang "Oh Worship the King" and Tom Hurt was the speaker of the morning. Ken Smith presided at the service. Afterwards the boys came back to their cabins to write the customary Sunday letter to their parents or friends.

Preparations have already begun for "Dad's Day" which is always much looked forward to. The date is July 30th and the Dads are invited for breakfast at 8 o'clock eastern standard time. A program of activities in which both father and son may participate has been prepared, and a banquet in the evening with an interesting speaker will finish the day's celebration. This year the fathers are asked to bring with them any old toys or books that more unfortunate children in this section may have as gifts. These will be given to the children when they visit camp on "Neighborhood Day".

Other dates of importance are August 13 when the camp carnival will be held for campers, parents, townspeople and friends; on August 23rd the final banquet will be held in the clubhouse.

August 2 to 8 will be the time for the Beaver Island trip, and August 2 to 6 has been set for the visit to Tahquamenon Falls on which many of the campers will entrall.

August 14 will be the date of the first annual Camp Charlevoix-Horse Show.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

Grasshopper Bait Station Started On Beaver Island

Having received word that grasshoppers were doing considerable damage to the crops on Beaver Island, on a visit made last week a mixing station was set up under the direction of Roland McCann, supervisor. Half a ton of bran and one barrel of poison is on hand to take care of the situation. Reports indicate that several fields have been completely destroyed. This material, if properly used, should greatly decrease the population of hoppers.

Great interest in the electrification project was manifest. Already a request has gone to Washington for a sufficient appropriation to build in the neighborhood of seventeen miles of transmission lines which would serve St. James and the major farm areas.

The officers of the Top O' Michigan Rural Electric Company advise that when the conformation has been received that their immediate efforts will be made to bring the project to a successful conclusion. It is expected that within the next ten days definite action will start. This project will include the construction of a power plant as Beaver Island is so located that no power is available at the present time. The officers of the company state that the project has every indication of being completed yet this year.

Sudan Poisoning Puzzles College

Is Michigan climate purveying a mysterious immunity for dairy cows from the poisoning that kills cows on similar pasture in other states?

An apparent lack of proof of the danger in Michigan results in an appeal by J. G. Hays, extension dairyman at Michigan State College. He urges Michigan dairy farmers to watch cows on sudan grass pasture. If any fall ill he suggests not only calling a competent veterinarian, but notifying county agricultural agents on the extension staff of the college. In Charlevoix county, B. C. Mellencamp will be able to aid in this survey of the mystery.

In other states dairy feeding specialists warn farmers against feeding immature sudan grass, against feeding stunted sudan grass or against pasturing cows on sudan grass after it has been frosted.

Yet at the college the sudan grass has been fed to college dairy cows in all those stages. And they haven't become sick or even discouraged.

have had very good comments from those who attended their first performance. This week's program will be "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" which will be interesting.

We have received the announcement of a baby boy, David James, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Nebis in Caro, Mich. Mrs. Nebis will be remembered as Katharine Tumath, daughter of Mrs. Lottie Tumath. Congratulations are extended from our community.

This next Sunday morning at the regular church hour Rev. Albertus Van Raalte of the First Presbyterian Church at Niagara Falls, N. Y., will have charge of the services. Rev. Van Raalte is a son-in-law of Dr. Pillsbury and we hope to have our church filled again this week.

The local base ball team has begun their summer schedule. Sunday, Barnard defeated them with base ball and Monday night on the new field in Charlevoix the north side won in the last half of the seventh inning. Our local team played a very good game both times and with more practice which they haven't had, will do better.

We have received word that Wm. Titus, a former Dramatic Camp member, from Grand Rapids, had enlisted in the army in Spain and was killed in action several weeks ago. He was a poet and playwright connected with the Civic Players in Grand Rapids. He was a captain of a company of Americans in the Lincoln battalion at the time of his death.

CENTRAL LAKE

Cherry picking is starting in earnest this week.

The McLachlans and Hockins at Creswell, and Kewadin, South Milton, Old Mission and Traverse City people are busy with the cherries this week, and many are coming back who have gone to pick, for there is an overflow of help.

William and Ralph Norton and families of Lansing and Flint, respectively, are visiting relatives and friends in and around Central Lake this week. The boys, former pupils of our brother, A. G. Morse, we have not seen for 15 years.

Carl Ohman and lady friend of Ludington, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hjelta of Creswell, were visitors at the Grant Sommervilles at Central Lake last Saturday. Carl's people are still living in Ludington and his father working on the carferry.

Mrs. Eloda Carpenter Dillingham, whom we have not seen for twenty years, a former pupil of the writer's, is up from Rockford for a short visit with her parents, the Art Carpenter people, west of Central Lake. They have been helping with the cherry picking.

William McGuire and family of Centerville, near Pontiac, are visiting at the parental home of Mrs. McGuire, the John Dawsons at Central Lake, this week. They called on the Forest Dewey family at Ellsworth, and the Walter Anderson family at Creswell last week.

Mrs. Clarence Cary and children of Detroit are visiting the Wm. Cary family at Central Lake this week, and also looking after the rental of the Cary cottages on Green river, north of Central Lake. Clarence Carey has been on the police force at Detroit for a number of years.

Attendances at Sundny school Sunday were: Creswell, 31; Turner, 35; Grand View, 30; and Bay View 27. South Milton had a record crowd of 40. We hope all will have a number on the program for the Twin Bridges picnic, which takes place on Wednesday, August 3rd, this year.

Visitors present at Creswell Sunday school last Sunday were William Lawrenz and Miss Schroeder of Detroit. Mr. Lawrenz favored us with a fine solo, played by Miss Marguerite Lawrenz. Mr. Lawrenz brought along several more views of Europe that Miss Lawrenz intends to exhibit if a stereopticon can be secured.

Gerald Bradford of Flint, who has been visiting his grandparents, the Louiselles, began working for James Wilson at Wildwood Monday. His parents, the Bradfords, formerly of Ellsworth, are residing at Flint. His uncle, Harry Bradford, was killed years ago by a log rolling over him at the Essex mill near Ellsworth.

Homer Loper of the Torch force of Central Lake, and the Louiselle brothers, also visited at Creswell. The Louiselles went on to Turner, where they sang two fine songs. It is hoped to have the Emory sisters, Doris and Lillian, sing next Sunday at Turner, when Rev. Weaver will be present. Mr. Christensen was present again at Turner last Sunday.

Tom Edwards of Detroit, with his family, are stopping awhile with his mother, Mrs. Bertha Edwards, on her farm at Bay View, north of Central Lake. Mr. Edwards has a government position at Flint. He is pleased to note that the Gleaners, of which he is a member, are intending to let the county have their grounds at Eastport for a county park. This will then be available to everybody for resort purposes and picnics.

PHOTOS TAKEN HERE FOR RESORT FOLDERS

Representatives Tourist Associations, Bring Models, Take Pictures

Charlevoix scenes will furnish photographic material for Michigan's resort advertising next year as the result of a visit here last week of photographers gathering material for the 1939 campaign.

A. C. Scheilfe and R. K. Arnold, representing the West Michigan, Southeast Michigan, East Michigan and Upper Peninsula tourist associations, and the Michigan Automobile Club, guided by Gordon Todd, secretary of the Board of Commerce, took "shots" of the harbor, parks, bathing beaches and other scenic spots. The Misses Dorothy Wilson and Yvonne Gillespie accompanied the photographers and acted as models.

Views taken on the state-wide tour will be used by Michigan's resort promotional associations in booklets, folders and newspaper advertising for 1939.

GIVES SUGGESTIONS FOR CARE OF LINEN

Suggestions for the laundering of table linen, given by Lois Hays, instructor in institution administration at Michigan State college, are:

1. New linens should be laundered before being used. With few exceptions, fine table linens should not be sent to a commercial laundry.

2. Stains should be removed before the linen is laundered, otherwise they may become set and not easily removed.

3. Small tears or worn places should be mended.

4. Hot water and a neutral soap will not injure linen or cotton fabrica. Lukewarm water and a mild soap should be used for rayon. Starch is never used for any table linen.

5. White linens should be dried in the sun. Avoid strong sunlight for colored linens.

6. Cotton and linen table coverings are ironed when damp, first on the wrong side and then on the right. Iron should move crosswise of the fabric. This keeps the linen in shape and produces a high luster in linen damasks. A hotter iron may be used on cotton fabrics than on linen, as cotton does not scorch so easily. Rayon table cloths should be ironed while wet and with a warm iron to prevent the rayon from disintegrating.

7. Linens should be folded with the right side out. If storage space permits, they may be rolled to prevent creasing. Napkins are folded with right side out in squares, rectangular or triangular shapes. Dinner napkins are always folded square. Table runners may be folded once or rolled. Blue tissue paper is often used to wrap fine white linens as it excludes light and prevents the linen from yellowing.

staff have aided in the search for poisoning. The sudan does contain the deadly hydrocyanic acid or prussic acid when analyzed. Yet in Michigan the cows fail to blink an eye. In other states they lie down and die.

About the only warning Hays has to offer definitely is that sudan grass doesn't seem to make satisfactory hay as its feeding value is not much better than timothy. Farmers, however, are urged to try and use seed each season that is pure sudan and not related to cane or sorghum. These plants seem to increase the probability of developing the poison.

Colt Breaking Demonstration Attracted Large Attendance

The colt breaking demonstration held last week at the farm of William Korthase, Boyne City, attracted the attention of over ninety folks who came to see plenty of action. The colt that was used in the demonstration was one that had apparently formed several bad habits, one of which was to stop whenever he chose. H. M. Moxley, extension specialist, stated that this type of colt was the hardest to break as they are apt to lay back in the harness. However, when this colt was hitched back of a team and tied in so that he could not go too far ahead or lay back in the harness, the system worked.

Of great interest to the many farmers in attendance was a foot trimming discussion. By the use of various ropes he demonstrated how any horse could be handled. His advise to the farmers was to handle the feet first and then the job of breaking a colt is relatively easy. Judging from the interest manifest in this demonstration, efforts will be made to have a similar project for next year.

Farm Women's Week — July 24-29 at Michigan State College

Farm Women's Week at the Michigan State College will doubtless attract something like 800 women from every county in Michigan. This is held annually to permit farm women to study home and community problems of vital importance, to have a week's vacation and rest that one may better meet these problems, to make new friends, to enjoy the beautiful campus, and to gain inspiration.

Present indications point to ten women who will attend this conference from Charlevoix county. During the week the women will attend classes on all subjects pertaining to farm life. Outstanding leaders in home economics will give lectures throughout the week.

The women will arrive on the campus Sunday afternoon and will return home Friday afternoon. Any lady interested in attending this conference should immediately get in touch with the county agent's office to receive further details. Year after year the women return from this college with the hope that they can attend the next one. Additional information in regard to this Farm Women's Week will be published later. Watch for it.

LANSING LETTER

In 1910 the manufacturing plants of the state employed 362,414 persons, quite a good-sized army of workers. This compares favorably with the 1880 total of only 192,241.

After 1910 came the introduction of mass production methods, the so-called assembly line, and the constant lowering of consumer prices while the product was ever improved through scientific research. The next two decades saw the development of the "American plan" which became world-famous and induced commissions from all parts of the world to visit Michigan's automobile plants in quest of the secret of our industrial efficiency.

Bruce Barton, advertising authority, has said that the "American system" comprised research, mass production, and low prices.

Certainly living standards for consumer and employee alike were raised as prices went down, while the worker gained doubly through shortening of working hours and lifting of the wage level.

By 1930 Michigan industrial plants employed 786,031 persons. Of this number, about one-half, or 342,000 by 1935 worked in automobile factories.

Management Problem

With the sudden spurt in payrolls, whereby tens of thousands of workers were put to work, industrialists began to realize, belatedly at first, that they were dealing not only with iron and wood and other inarticulate things, but with human being who, being human, did not always grasp the fundamentals of economics.

In the judgment of Walter Lippman, columnist, the sit-down strikes demonstrated to General Motors corporation that the management of hundreds of thousands of workers in its 15 far-flung plants was no small responsibility. It called for constructive leadership in making our industrial democracy truly democratic.

Putting its finger on the worker's pulse, General Motors became convinced that the so-called "spy-system, whereby private detectives are employed as workers, created more trouble than it prevented. The detectives were discharged.

Management thus is moving toward mutual confidence between the employer and his co-worker, the employee. It is trying to restore the old relationship of "good neighbor" which once existed in the small plant where the boss knew his fellow workers by their first names.

Legion "Fascism"

American Legionnaires in Michigan are still laughing "up their sleeve" at the sensational report released to the National Education association by a research man at the Columbia Teachers' college to the effect that the Legion had gone "fascist".

Coming as it did just at the conclusion of a very successful "Wolverine Boys' State" at Michigan State College it prompted no end of merriment. The educator had charged that the war veterans were militarists. The citizenship school at the state college is a perfect answer, so Legionnaires believe, to this accusation.

Nearly 850 boys from all parts of Michigan were given a week's training in democratic government without so much as a glance at an army rifle or the sound of a military command. It was the antithesis of fascism. One of the Legionnaire workers, in fact, was invited to leave voluntarily when leaders found that he had imbibed privately on the side before bedtime. After all, the Legion is growing old.

Unemployment

Candidates for office in the mining region of the Upper Peninsula will burst in oratorical denials, but federal surveys have convinced those in high command that thousands of unemployed persons there will have to go elsewhere to find work.

The Keweenaw peninsula, for example, contains entire communities of unemployed residents.

Copper mines there have gone to great depths, making it unprofitable to compete with mines where copper is found near the ground. Under auspices of the State of Michigan, geologists are now seeking to uncover new veins and to revive the languishing industry.

How entire communities can be transferred to other fields is a problem that staggers the immagination of social planners. It is one of the tragedies in Michigan.

Politicians shake their heads. Facts run counter to pride. The answer must come as most answers do—from the fortitude and ingenuity of the American people themselves.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Your Child's Health Examination

Children grow rapidly in the years between the second and fifth or sixth birthdays. Consequently changes in health and in behavior come quickly. So the preschool child should have a health examination at least every six months. In this way a physical defect can be caught before it gets serious or a bad behavior habit checked before it is beyond control. If your child has not been having frequent examinations, it is advisable that he be examined in the spring or early summer before entering school so that corrections can be made before school opens. It is desirable that he enter school as nearly physically perfect as possible. This would mean a great saving in time, money, and anxiety for everyone, for it would prevent much of the sickness among school children. It would also help to limit the number of little things as colds and toothache, or because they do not see the blackboard easily or do not hear all that the other children are able to hear.

Most very young children are comparatively free from physical defects; but by the time they are 6 years old they may not be in such good condition. The only way to learn about this beyond any doubt in regard to your own child is to have him examined by a physician.

Certain defects are not easily noticed. Only a complete health examination can reveal them, and only a physician is trained to detect these and to give you sound advice about what the examination may bring to light.

The physician who makes the examination will be glad to show you the defects he finds, to tell you why they occurred, and to point out the dangers likely to follow if the defects are not corrected. Improved health habits, such as a change in diet or in the hours of sleep, often will help. These the physician talks to you about, explaining the points to be considered particularly in regard to your child. Or you may want to ask him for advice concerning a troublesome matter in bringing the child up. Some of the problems that confront a parent regarding his child's health are:

1. If your child is held back after he enters school, not because of lack of intelligence but because of an uncorrected physical defect such as bad hearing or poor eyesight, he may have to repeat the first grade and perhaps the second; and he may conclude that he is different from the rest of the children and that they are better than he is. He may become afraid of them and dislike school. How may this affect his conduct, character, and later development?

2. When are you going to have your child given a health examination?

3. Whom are you going to have make it?

4. As you study your child, on what items of the examination blank that will be used by the physician do you wish especially to ask the physician for advice?

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Motorists Protected From Buying Stolen Cars From Other States

To protect the prospective purchaser of used and new cars from out of state, Leon D. Case, secretary of state, has recently inaugurated a system of checking motor and serial numbers of cars purchased out of state.

Before the title of the car is delivered, the department of state investigators or branch managers, make a physical investigation of the car to make certain that the actual motor number and serial number on the car correspond to those on the bill of sale or certificate of registration and title of the former state.

By this method it has been discovered in a great many cases that the numbers do not correspond. In such instances the incorrect number is checked against the stolen car report to eliminate the possibility of a dealer or individual buying a stolen car. If no stolen report is found, it is then necessary for the seller to have his home state correct the error and certify the same before Michigan will issue a certificate of title.

Experience has shown that the average driver has no idea as to whether the motor number on his certificate of title is actually the one embossed on the motor of his car.

enough for Lupe, so he took to the air. They got fog-bound Sunday at Grand Rapids, finally got as far as Cadillac and had a flat tire on the plane, so returned. The Monday trip didn't materialize either, and Lupe didn't show up until Monday night (by auto). Glenn sure was getting a big kick out of it all. He figured Lupe could have made the trip by car in four hours easy, fussed around two days with the plane business and then finally drove up. Life's that way.

Meaning no discredit at all to the national cherry festival held last week at Traverse City, couldn't help but notice that the event, combined with election year, gave the politicians a fine chance to spout. About the whole caboodle of state officials were there and they didn't confine their remarks to cherries, either.

The North Siders have got their bathing pier on Lake Charlevoix. A temporary dock has been built at the foot of Chicago avenue and a diving raft is thrown in for good measure. A permanent pier will be built later.

Dropped up to the south side athletic field Sunday night and overheard someone say the new lighted softball field was the best in Northern Michigan. Charlevoix has a lot of the "bests in Northern Michigan" if they are properly developed.

TEMPORARY BATHING PIER ON NORTH SIDE

WPA Approval Awaited on Both North and South Beach Projects

The request of north side summer residents for a bathing pier on Lake Charlevoix has been met by construction of a temporary pier at the foot of Chicago avenue.

This pier, nearly one hundred feet long, will fill the requirement for the present summer season. A permanent pier is included in a city-wide park and water front project submitted to WPA. The city council is now negotiating for a site which will likely be obtained through lease from the Pere Marquette Railway Company of the old transfer dock frontage north of the present Inn Hotel park.

Work on the pier at the new municipal bathing beach off Ferry avenue is nearly completed. The work is being done by Jim Roe's outfit. Piles will be driven and timbers placed. Completion of the pier and development of the bathing beach is included in a WPA project upon which approval is now awaited.

JOHN KNIGHT INVOLVED IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

Released on Bond to Appear in Petoskey Court July 25th

John Knight, well-known Charlevoix summer resident, is under bond to appear before Justice Joseph P. Murphy at Petoskey, on Monday, July 25, to answer charges resulting from an automobile accident which occurred at the intersection of US-31 and the Petoskey-Bay View Country Club road early Sunday morning.

Knight, who is 28 years old and lives in Detroit, was held in the county jail until midnight Sunday. At 12:05 a. m. he was taken before Justice Joseph P. Murphy and released on $500 bond signed by himself and A. T. Washburne, his attorney.

According to Sheriff's Deputy Ed Sears, Knight was driving toward Petoskey and veered far to the left side of the highway in making the turn at the edge of the Bay View Association grounds. His car crashed into another driven by LeRoy West, 21, of Battle Creek. Dale Johnson, 26, of Petoskey, was riding with West and suffered injuries which may prove serinus. West was discharged after treatment for cuts and bruises at Petoskey Hospital. Knight was not injured.

Justice Murphy said Monday that a warrant and complaint charging drunk driving were on file against Knight. The arraignment was delayed until July 25 so that it might be changed according to the outcome of Johnson's injuries.

COAL FREIGHTER STUCK IN CHANNEL TUESDAY

Combination of Wind and Current Held Vessel Against Piers

A combination of unfavorable wind and current in the channel between Round lake and Lake Michigan tied up the Gartland Steamship Company freighter W. E. Fitzgerald for several hours Tuesday night.

The 475-foot ship, headed light into Lake Michigan after unloading a cargo of coal at Boyne City, was wedged in the channel in front of the coast guard station, the bow against the south pier and the stern against the north pier. A northwest wind carried the bow over and an out-going current held the stern.

The ship was released shortly after midnight by the coast guard patrol boat which towed the vessel out into the channel with a line on her bow. The ship was undamnged.

LEASE-INN BATHING BEACH FOR SEASON

TEMPORARY PROVISION FOR NORTH SIDERS MADE

Await WPA Approval for Development of Two Municipal Bathing Beaches on Lake Charlevoix

Woes of the city council in its efforts to provide bathing benches for summer residents, particularly the north side colony, came to a climax at Monday night's session.

Difficulties caused by unforseen delays, objections of owners of property adjacent to proposed sites and finally closing to the public of what is known as The Inn bathing beach in front of the Pere Marquette Railway Company depot, all came to a head when representatives of the north side colony confronted the council with their objections to the lack of public Lake Charlevoix bathing facilities.

The result was an arrangement with Mr. Halpert, owner of The Inn hotel, for lease of The Inn bathing beach and park at a consideration of $300 for the balance of the present summer season, providing temporary solution of the problem.

In the meantime WPA approval is awaited to complete development of a municipal beach off Ferry avenue and a north side beach which is now apparently pending location of a site. Piling and timber work on a pier at the Ferry avenue beach is completed.

The council accepted the resignation of Hurry W. Ladd as caretaker of the tourist camp. Clarence Bartlett has been employed as caretaker and is now on the job. Improvements to the camp are being made under the direction of City Superintendent Don Herrick.

The request of Ed. Irwin, whose Moonlight Bandoliers have leased Moonlight Gardens for the summer, for a permit to hold Sunday night dances was granted without formal vote on the condition that if any restraining ordinance is discovered, the council will act in accordance.

INTEREST PROMISE A BIG RIVIERA ENTRY

Many Inquiries Being Received for Tooroey Scheduled Aug. 8-14

If inquiries received and interest shown may be taken as an indication, the annual Michigan Riviera tennis championships will rank with previous years in standpoint of entries.

The event is scheduled for the week of August 8-14 at The Inn clay courts. Sanction has been granted by the Western Lawn Tennis Association upon application by the Charlevnix Tennis Club, sponsors of the tournament.

Elimination of player expense is expected to cut down the number of nationally prominent players, but at the same time increase the entrants from the northern Michigan resort colonies, who, in the absence of top-notchers, will make a try for the sanctioned Riviera crowns.

Entries for the tournament will be open until noon on Monday, August 8th, and may be addressed to Gordon Todd, Secretary, Charlevoix Board of Commerce.

FOREST FIRES REMAIN AT A LOWER AVERAGE

Ample Rainfall During August Will Aid Department

Notwithstanding a slight increase in the number of forest fires during the first part of the month, the acreage loss remains considerably under the figure for the same time a year ago.

Providing a normal amount of precipitation falls during August, the state's forest fire fighters are not expecting much trouble until fall. Ordinarily the greatest fire hazard prevails during spring and fall.

During the first 10 days this month, 33 fires in the lower peninsula and seven in the upper peninsula were reported, bringing the season's total to 422 with an acreage burn of 4,009. Last year's record of 18,000 acres was lowest in history.

COWARD PLAYS AT IRONTON THEATER

PROVIDE THIRD BILL PRESENTED AT PLAYHOUSE

John Jenoings and Jane Anderton in Leading Roles of "Tonight at Eight-Thirty", Current Feature

Noel Coward's latest group of plays, presented last year in New York and London under the title of "Tonight at Eight-Thirty" has been selected as the third offering of the Ironton Playhouse this summer. It will continue all this week with John Jennings and Jane Anderton in the roles originally taken in New York by the author, Noel Coward, and Gertrude Lawrence.

"Tonight at Eight-Thirty" is a group of three one-act plays written especially for professional production. It was Coward's answer to the belief that one-act plays were for amateurs only. The success of the plays on Broadway proved that the shorter dramatic form could "draw" just as well as the longer plays, and "Tonight at Eight-Thirty" ran for an entire season. It has only recently been released by the author for production outside New York and the Ironton Playhouse is one of the first summer stock companies to secure it.

Due to the number of parties making the trip to Ironton by boat from Charlevoix, arrangements have been made by the manager, James L. Daggett, to meet boats at the Ironton docks and transfer them to the Playhouse. Anyone anticipating the trip by boat may telephone the Playhouse the time of their arrival.

The Charlevoix Marine Club's fourth annual water carnival and Venetian boat parade will be held Sunday, July 31.

Previously an event of August, the program last year and this season is set ahead to provide entertainment for yachtsmen participating in the Chicago-Mackinac Island race, who yearly visit this harbor following the race.

Sunday's program will open with water contests in the early afternoon and climaxes with a spectacular Venetian boat parade and fireworks display over Round lake harbor in the evening.

Age divisions have been classified as follows: Juveniles, up to 12 years; juniors, 12 to 16 years; seniors, 16 years and over. Entries for the swimming and diving events must be registered at the Board of Commerce office by 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, July 30th. Canoe tilting and canoe racing are listed along with diving and swimming events. Medals and prizes will be awarded the winners in each event. Stewart Colegman heads the committee in charge of the program of water contests.

The evening program will open with a concert by the city band at Memorial Park. Following this feature there will be a program of novelties and singing. The specialty numbers have not been announced.

The climax of the evening will be the spectacular and colorful Venetian boat parade, for which Charlevoix has become famous and for which thousands gather from the northern Michigan resort region to witness. C. S. Webster, heading the committee in charge of the parade, has registered a greater number of boats than in any previous year for the event.

The closing feature will be a beautiful fireworks display over Round lake harbor.

As in the past, swimming and diving contests, as well as canoe tilting and races, will be held off East Park. The plan of using rafts and conducting the races parallel to the shore as on July 4th, will be followed again, giving spectators an excellent view of the program.

Three-Way Race for Nomination As County Treasurer—Five Democrats Filed Petitions

Eighteen Republican and five Democratic nomination petitions have been filed with the county clerk for the ten Charlevoix county elective offices at the September 13 primaries.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Ken Usher

The new roadway, curbing and landscaping at the municipal dock on Round lake harbor is certainly a credit to Charlevoix.

Deputy Sheriff Edgar Behrens lost his dog "Tippy", a wire-haired terrier, last Thursday. He had given the pooch up as gone. However, the next day he dropped in on the Lewis Brothers circus at Petoskey and much to his surprise found a circus clown trying to teach "Tippy" tricks. "Tippy" was returned by his abductor and what might have been a promising circus performer is still just the kid's pooch.

Frederick S. Ford's yawl "Evening Star", winner of the recent Port Huron-Mackinac Island race, is well known in local marine circles. The boat was in winter quarters at the Hamilton & Son boatyard and was outfitted there this spring for its owners. The yawl is a trim affair with black hull, mahogany and oak deck and trimmings. Every inch of her denoted grace and speed. She gave time to 28 other boats in the race and won. At present the owner and party are cruising in Georgian Bay.

The most interesting, educational 200 acres in Michigan are at Dearborn.

Reflecting the ideas of Henry Ford are two institutions at this Detroit suburb. One is known as the Edison Institute Museum, a collection of Americana devoted to agriculture, manufacture and transportation. The other is Greenfield Village, a living community dedicated to our American pioneers.

For a small admission charge of 25 cents for adults, children being admitted free at all times, you can visit both of these unique institutions. A tour is a walking lesson in American history.

Come early, for there is much to see.

Rev. G. A. Weaver preached the funeral sermon for A. Benjamin Clark of East Jordan last Monday afternoon. Mr. Clark was an old resident of Evelyn Orchard district, but of late years had been living in town. He was a great church and Sunday school worker, will be greatly missed by many. He was for many years superintendent of one of Rev. Weaver's Sunday schools.

Attendances at Sunday-school last Sunday were: Creswell, 24; Grand View, 23; Turner, 27; South Milton, 39. Rev. Weaver was present at Creswell and Turners, where he addressed the Sunday school. He also announced the Twin Bridges picnic to be held next week, Wednesday, August 3, 1938, at their grounds three miles north of Mancelona cemetery corners. Everybody invited. The several Sunday schools will have numbers on the program.

Last Sunday morning the gas station home of Louis DeYoung in north end of Eastport, caught fire and soon burned to the ground. Household contents were about all destroyed. Mr. DeYoung had operated the station a little over a year. The station building and tanks were not burned. Mr. DeYoung had conducted quite a successful business, and has the sympathy of many patrons. We have not heard if he intends to rebuild. Mr. DeYoung came from east of Ellsworth.

Swimmer's Itch or Schistosome Dermatitis

At some of the inland lakes of northern Michigan there has been reported a skin eruption known as swimmer's itch. In the Journal of the American Medical Association of March 31, 1928, appeared the first discussion of this condition and its cause.

Schistosome dermatitis or swimmer's itch is a condition of the skin of swimmers usually characterized by a more or less severe skin eruption with itching. There is redness of the affected parts, fever and considerable pain. It occurs in those who swim or wade in the waters of lakes, rivers, ponds or beach pools which support many snails.

The causative agent is the larval stage of certain species of parasitic worms which normally live as adults within the field mouse and various water birds as gulls, terns, ducks, geese and swans. These worms penetrate through the skin of any of these warm-blooded animals, enter a blood vessel or lymph duct and thus pass through the circulatory system to the liver. Here they develop into young adults which finally work their way out into some of the veins where they deposit their eggs, usually in the intestinal wall. If the worms penetrate into a man they wander about under the skin and die, thus releasing foreign proteins which give rise to the well known conditions of itching, skin eruptions, a swollen red area and often fever.

The parasites have a complex life history since they require two hosts, a warm-blooded animal and a snail. The life history is briefly this: The eggs produced by the female worm break through the intestinal wall of their warm-blooded host and are voided with the intestinal wastes from their host, often in the water. The embryo which hatches from the eggs swims about and if it encounters a snail of the right kind and age it actively penetrates into the long sac-like structure. Here is produced a brood of individuals resembling itself.

The members of this generation produce a brood of young parasites of quite a different nature. Each is provided with a forked tail for locomotion in water, a special penetrating organ with special glands for use in working its way out of its parent and out of the snail into the water. Finally after a short period of swimming in the water, these individuals by their penetration organs actively bore within the skin of any warm-blooded animal with which they come in contact. If it is a human being he may suffer an attack of swimmer's itch.

The snail is necessary to this life cycle, but the right kind of snails must be found. In the absence of the right snails, the embryos hatching from the eggs must perish. Thus it is that from swimming pools which have no snails swimmer's itch cannot be contracted. This also explains why bathers at many beaches never have it. And the presence of extensive snail beds also explains why at some beaches outbreaks of swimmer's itch are common. Pollution has nothing to do with this eruption.

Surveys of the lakes near the University of Michigan Biological Station in Cheboygan county have yielded valuable information in regard to the conditions under which this swimmer's itch may be contracted. Since ponds and beach pools usually support many snails of the right kind, those who frequent these pools by wading are likely to have attacks of this itch. Those with larger areas of the skin exposed are likely to have more extensive areas of the itch than those whose skin is well covered. The worms apparently do not go through clothing. Some people are immune and never show any effects even from considerable exposure in waters known to yield many cases of swimmer's itch each summer.

Shallow bays or arms of a lake, especially where there is some vegetation and where the sand may contain considerable organic matter mixed with it or spread over it are likely to yield cases of this itch since these conditions are ideal for certain species of snails. These areas are more likely to be formed on the west or northwest sides of Michigan lakes because the strong prevailing winds are westerly or northwesterly. Similar conditions may be found on other sides of the lake if points jut out to form protected shallow bays. Deep bays with narrow shoals shelving rapidly into deep water are probably less likely to furnish suitable conditions for snails and consequently for this itch. Nevertheless snails are usually abundant in the more protected parts of such bays.

Swimming beaches on exposed sandy shoals on the east and southeast sides of large deep lakes and especially where deep water comes up to the margin of an abrupt shelf, are not likely to present cases of swimmer's itch. Such beaches are usually free from vegetation and from algae on account of strong wave action caused by the prevailing high winds. Snails are not abundant under these conditions. Also when a shelf of such a beach runs off abruptly into water of a depth of 20 feet or more the area suitable for snails is greatly reduced.

What can be done about it? Can the snails be killed off? The killing of the snails in a pond is entirely possible but in a sizeable lake would be difficult and expensive. Extensive and repeated treatments with copper sulphate might kill the snails but would almost certainly destroy the fish as well.

It should be entirely possible to have a site for a proposed bathing beach examined by an expert to determine whether it may be free from infected snails and consequently free from probability of swimmer's itch. For bathing beaches and camps already established and from which there are records of swimmer's itch it should be possible to determine the location of snail beds and the directions of the wind which may bring the worms over the beach; also the directions of the wind which will make the beach safe for swimmers.

Swimmer's itch is not caused by pollution. The sending of water samples to the Department of Health for analysis can never reveal the cause of this skin eruption. Only an examination on the spot by a competent parasitologist can determine the cause and the course to be persued if swimmer's itch (schistosome dermatitis) is to be avoided.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

Edited by Herbert W. Johnson

If all the letters in "Camp Charlevoix" were used to tell of the major activities we have had at camp during the past week it would go something like this:

"C" is for the Council Ring ceremony held on Wednesday evening when all the campers dressed as Indians and Ken Smith and Mr. Reimann were the chiefs. Camper Jack Longway from Flint and football coach Charles W. Bachman were the braves to be initiated into the Tribe of Charlevoix. Later, Chief Bachmnn made a fine speech reminding us how fortunate we were to be members of such a fine "Tribe".

"A" must be for Arts at camp under the able direction of Counsellor Al Anderson, for the boys this week have done some remarkable work modeling faces of the seven dwarfs, painting pictures on glass and forming Indian bowls and trays. Dogan Arthur, Billy Smith, Dave Bennett and Peter DeCnmp seem to be the chief artists.

"M" undoubtedly is for the movies which "Charlie" Bachman gave on Sunday evening of foothall games between his team at Michigan State College and the University of Michigan and another of one against Temple. "Charlie" explained the plays to us, and we found how important brains are in the game.

"P" is for Photography, and especially the contest which was held this week hy Counsellor Horton. Joe Lackey won the first place with a picture of n camper walking down one of the camp roads. Joe Dain got honorable mention as did Hnl Wheeler. The contest has been extended and the boys are fast becoming camern minded.

The "C" in Charlevoix belongs to Cabin 15 for the Canoe trip down the Jordan River and into camp. The paddlers included Charles McKean, Bill Sill, Steven Woodruff, Ted Ashby Ken Vincent. Burr Needham apd Joe Lackey. Frank Prael paddled the food.

"H" must mean the Horse trip that Cowboy Cummings and John Shilling took cabin 12 out on Thursday. Fred Matthaei rode as did Doug Stock, Charlie Helmick, Stephen Baits, Jason Bloomberg, and Jim Whittemore.

Another "A" is for the "Alert" trip down the lake that brought so many stories of high seas and queer adventures to the camp for a few days afterward. Ben Trumbull was the skipper, assisted by Andy Frostic and Joe Craig. Albert Loeb, George Osborn, James Curtis, Charles MacCallum and Tom Bennett were along to help and have some fun too.

"R" can only mean one thing at Camp Charlevoix—Riding. Every boy in camp is making the most of his opportunity to ride more than he probably will for the rest of his life. This "Dude Ranch" of ours is developing so many horsemen that Horsemaster Cummings promises an elaborate nnd skillful Horse Show in a few weeks.

"L" is for Leathercraft, and all the fine things the boys are making—belts, suspenders, wallets, key cases and many others. Looks like leisure's losing land!

"E" is a hard one. Guess we will give that to the Elephants that the juniors saw at the circus on Thursday afternoon. All the young 'uns traveled into town with their lunches to see the trapeze artists, the clowns, the lions and everything else a good circus has to offer. James Gault, Ned Greenthal, Franklin Rassieur and Tom McNamara told us it was the best circus ever.

"V" is for Victory, and we had a taste of that on Wednesday afternoon when the softball team won the game with the fellows from Camp Algonquain with a score of 11-7. The hardhall team didn't fare so well and lost their game by 3 runs.

"O" is the first letter in "Owners in Spain" which is the title of the one-act play that tickled the audience on Saturday evening in the clubhouse, for in it Ken Smith, Bob Stevens, Al Anderson and Don Horton played four old women in a poor house. "Lighthouse Loons" was also well given hy John Shilling, Berger Larson, Andy Frostic and Clyde Vroman on the stage. Billy Smith, Dogan Arthur, Doug Stock, Fred Matthael, Joe Lackey, John Squier, Jim Whittemore, Jason Bloomberg and Dick Toncray roused many laughs as pupils in "Professor Snidersmultze's Kindergarden".

"I" is for "Interest", not the commercial kind, but the kind that Mr. Bach, our Bavarian woodcarver is rousing with his craft on our campus. Steve Julia, Johnny Avis and Walter Fader were in the other afternoon learning how to make much from chips off of old blocks.

"X"—well, that is a humdinger! "X" can do only one thing in our day and age—it marks the spot. The only spot we are interested in these days is this spot—Camp Charlevoix.

Guess we had better put someone special on the spot this week. Wonder how Dads would do? Guess that's it. Dad's Day is this weekend and the boys are all anxious for their Dads to be on the spot ready at breakfast to spend a day of camp life with them. Mothers are invited too, nnd Mrs. Reimann will have a tea for them in the afternoon.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp

Grain Bins Need to be Bug Free

Farmers contemplating storing grain either to obtain a federal wheat loan or for ordinary future use will need to clean and disinfect the bins.

Ray Hutson, Michigan State College entomologist, suggests a number of pointers to aid grain men in this work.

Before putting the new grain into the bin, make sure that the bin is clean and tight. The sweepings from the bin should be removed from the immediate vicinity and burned to destroy any possible source of insect infestation, such as might come from grain beetles and other insects that ciuld work themselves back into the bins and damage the newly stored grain.

After the bins have been thoroughly dry-cleaned by sweeping, the bin should be scrubbed with an old broom and boiling hot lye and water. Hutson suggests about a pound of ordinary crystal lye to each gallon of water. This solution should be worked down into the cracks and crevices, if the bin is made of wood. After the bin has dried, the inside should be lined with several thicknesses of building paper or newspapers overlnpped at the edges and held by paste. Not only should the floor be covered hy the paper but also the sides of the bin.

"If at all possible, never place new grain upon the old grain, or next to it," Hutson cautions.

Further details about grain storage may be obtained from your county agricultural agent or by writing to the Michigan State College Department of Entomology, East Lansing.

Requests for Home Landscaping Outlines May Now be Made

A recent letter from O. I. Gregg, landscape specialist, Michigan State College, states that all folks requesting his assistance in beautifying their home surroundings should immediately contact the county ngent at Boyne City. Due to lack of traveling expenses and time required the initial drawings and photographs for the various cooperators will have to be sent in to the county office for checking and from these the number of days in each county will he determined.

It may also be stated that a farm has preference over town property in this connection. Not more than twelve plans may be mnde this year so it will be to your benefit to send your request in as soon as possible.

Prof. Earl Weaver, Head of Dairy Department, MSC, Will Address Annual Meeting of Jordan Valley Co-Operative Creamery

The officers of the Jordan Valley Co-operative Creamery are greatly pleased to announce that Professor Earl Weaver, head of the dairy department, Michigan State College, will be the main speaker at the annual meeting on Monday night, August first, at the East Jordan high school auditorium. Professor Weaver will make his first trip in northern Michigan for this occasion and will be delighted to meet with the dairymen in this section.

The creamery now has completed its seventh year and has made a remarkable success. Based on the higher prices paid farmers as a result of this co-operative organization, it is estimated that over fifty thousand dollars more has been paid out than would have been the case without its existence.

4-H Dairy Members Practice Judging

Approximately twenty members of 4-H duiry clubs met at the farm home of the Ecklund Brothers last Thursday with Nevels Pearson, assistant state club leader, and spent the afternoon in dairy judging. At Ecklund's farm a clnss of four Holsteins were judged and discussed. The next stop was nt the Guernsey herd of Albert Elliott, where emphasis was placed on judging of Guernseys. The last stop was at George Meggison's farm. He has one of the outstanding purebred Jersey herds of Michigan.

From this group delegates will he selected to represent Charlevoix county at the Northern Michigan Club Encampment which takes place nt Gaylord the week of August 8th.

RAILROADS HAVE BIG PAYROLL IN COUNTY

Forty-Seven Employes Draw $60,653.50 Yearly, Report Reveals

The economic value of the railroads to Charlevoix county is featured in a poster prepared by the Michigan Railroad Employes and Citizens League and currently being exhibited in all railroad stations in this county and in the state.

The poster emphasizes the railroads' importance on the basis of employes, payrolls, mileage and taxes in each county. In this county are 47 rail employes, earning $60,653.50 yearly. There are 45 miles of track and $17,317.19 of the state's railroad taxes come into this county in the form of primary money for school purposes.

"Michigan's railroads are among the state's three leading industries and its greatest single taxpayer", Floyd E. Drake, executive secretary of the League and author of the poster, declares in discussing it.

ESTIMATE 500 DEER ON BEAVER ISLAND

No Over-Crowding Reported, But Sufficient to Warrant Hunting

Beaver Island, which will be open to deer hunting this fall after being closed for a decade, offers example of how rapidly the whitetail multiplies when protected in good habitat.

The present herd on the island is estimated at about 500 and this number is believed to have multiplied from an original stocking of 17 deer which were placed on the island in 1927 and 1928. So far as it has been possible for the conservation department investigators to determine, there were no deer on the island when 13 were planted there in 1927. These consisted of seven doe fawns, three adult does, two buck fawns and one two-year-old buck. In 1928 four more deer, two adult does and two doe fawns, were placed on the island.

Hunting has been prohibited on the island since the 1927 stocking at which time the conservation department agreed to keep the territory closed for 10 years. At its meeting this month the conservation commission decided not to renew the order closing the island.

The commission's decision was reached on the basis of an investigation made this spring by I. H. Bartlett of the department's game division who reported the island "had enough deer to hunt" and abundant feed and cover for them.

MICHIGAN DUCK SEASON GETS EXTENSION

Hunting October 1 to November 1—Bag Limits Are Increased

The Agriculture Department has added 15 days to the duck, geese, jacksnipe, and coot hunting season, giving hunters a 45-day open season for the first time in three years.

The season begins October 1 and ends November 1 in the northern zone, of which Michigan is a part. It runs from October 15 to November 28 in the central zone, of states including Indiana; and from November 15 to December 29 in southern states.

Two other major rules were liberalized. Possession limitations on ducks and geese were increased to two days' bag, of 20 ducks and 10 geese. Hunters also may bag a total of three of the following duck species which have been protected during the last few years: canvasbacks, redheads, bufflehead, and ruddy ducks.

The "three shell" limitation on repenting shotguns was retained, as were prohibitions on baiting of waterfowl and the use of live decoys.

The bay limit on jacksnipes was set at 15 and at 25 for coots.

Officials said the regulations were liberalized because of an increase in most species in the last few years largely as a result of reduced annual kills while stricter rules were in effect.

CHANGE DISTRIBUTION SALES TAX LICENSES

All Licensees Will Receive Return Books by August 1st

The state's 80,000 sales tax licensees will receive their 1938-39 return books and licenses by August 1, it was stated today by Draper Allen, managing director of the State Board of Tax Administration. The books are printed and addressed and stored in the Lansing postoffice.

Until August 1 the department will recognize the 1937-38 license sticker now in place on store windows and doors. After that date the 1938-39 sticker must be displayed.

In previous years the return books were mailed out daily as they were ready and some confusion occurred. This year every taxpayer will receive his book and sticker at the same time and Allen requested that licensees wait until the August 1 deadline is passed before inquiring about non-reception of licenses.

The department will not issue licenses unless the taxpayer forwards the license application fee of $1.00 together with the blue license application blank found in the 1937-38 return book, Allen stated.

Gerald Smith, 21, entered a plea of guilty to driving away an auto owned by Weadall Lockman, Boyne City postal employe. His sentence was deferred to the October term pending payment of $30 costs and $25 damage to car. Theodore Herrick, 21, implicated in the same theft, was remanded to the probate court for further investigation of a record which includes former probate court delinquencies.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT STARTS PAYROLL CUTS

Wage Slash of from 6 to 15 Per Cent Is Now In Effect

Pay cuts of 6 to 15 per cent were effective this week for every employe of the state highway department.

Voluntarily accepting a $1,125-a-year reduction in his own salary, Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner announced that the department would cooperate with Governor Murphy in his pay-cut economy program. Department salaries are paid out of gasoline tax revenues and the payroll reduction will have no effect on the condition of the state's general fund.

The commissioner, back from the International Road Congress at The Hague, also took occasion to reiterate that he is not a candidate for governor. He returned to find that petitions in behalf of his candidacy had been placed in circulation. He quickly denied any knowledge of the petitions and said they were without any authorization from him.

The age of forestry practice is not known but as chronicled in the Bible, forests were given attention before Christ's day.

POTATO INSPECTORS HAVE STARTED EARLY

Bumper Crops Prospects Speeds Up Employment of Inspectors

Michigan's 1938 bumper potato crop growing under ideal conditions has made necessary employment of federal-state inspectors a month earlier this year, the Michigan agriculture department has revealed.

Four inspectors were placed in the Bay City-Saginaw district this week; one in Kalamazoo and one in Grand Rapids.

Commissioner John B. Strange said that ideal growing weather has produced a large crop of early potatoes of exceptionally good quality.

"Most of them will meet the specifications of U. S. No. 1 grade," he predicted. "While most of the crop will be sold in the state, potatoes will be inspected when offered for resale."

Strange reminded that the grower is exempt from inspection when selling direct to the consumer.

Scenic Week-end Trips at Low Cost—No. 3

Here are three alluring beauty spots and points of interest right in your own state, at least one of which you may easily reach by car at small expense on your week-end vacation.

The cost of gasoline and oil you will use in making any one of these trips may be quickly determined by following the directions given below the map at right.

Greenfield Village—No. 1

When you leave your automobile and enter this enchanting village by carriage you will travel far into the past. You will see the courthouse where Lincoln tried his first case, the Chapel of Martha-Mary, the Edison Museum, containing relics of colonial artistry—and many other interesting sights, including historic homes and public buildings. Take U.S. 12 to the city of Dearborn.

Thunder Bay—No. 2

In natural beauty and opportunities for recreation, this outdoor wonderland in Alpena County is almost unsurpassed. You may enjoy bathing, boating, or fishing in Lake Huron or near-by lakes and streams. Excellent hotels and tourist homes are to be found in the city of Alpena. Take U.S. 23 or Mich. 32.

Manistee National Forest—No. 3

Extending eastward from the outskirts of the city of Manistee lies this national forest playground through which runs the beautiful Manistee river, long famed for its fish. There, from July 1st to 4th, is held the annual Forest Festival, which draws visitors from all parts of the state. Take U.S. 31 or Mich. 55.

How to Estimate Your Driving Costs

Computed by Standard Oil Company (Ind.)

First cut out the scale along the dotted line and place it on the map with the "starting point" on the town nearest your home. Then swing the scale around until its edge touches the place you wish to visit.

From the figures on the scale you can determine within about 10% what the drive will cost you. To get the cost of a round trip simply double the figure. The amounts shown will be correct for the great majority of cars, although naturally the cost will be slightly more for the largest cars.

AT THE MOVIES

Barbara Stanwyck Seen With Herbert Marshall, Ian Hunter in Forceful "Always Goodbye"

"Always Goodbye" says "hello" to motion picture audiences of Charlevoix when it starts its run July 30 at the Palace Theatre.

In the arrival of this 20th Century-Fox dramatic production the fans are promised some surprising features.

First, the picture co-stars those ever-and-increasingly popular experts of the deeper tones of screen dramatics—Barbara Stanwyck and Herbert Marshall.

Film Favorite

Then, Ian Hunter heads the featured cast. Long a film favorite, the actor's last 20th Century-Fox film was the memorable "To Mary—With Love".

Next, it offers the debut of little Johnnie Russell, the five-year-old Brooklyn tot who, reports have it, plays the focal role of the story around which all the grown-up lives weave their destinies.

Following this, the motion picture audience will meet again the newest of the "exponents of the lighter vein" Cesar Romero, who in one amazing role with Sonja Hennie several months ago, took the cinemaddicts by storm with his humor-technique.

"I'll Give a Million" Is Gay Hit; Warner Baxter's Starring Best

Orchids, yachts, mansions,—after all, what do they mean?—if it's only orchids, yachts and mansions the girls are after! So a debonair millionaire gives his million the air and goes looking for a girl who is looking only for love!

In this vein, "I'll Give a Million", to open August 5th at the Palace Theater, becomes one of the gayest, most hilarious cinematic romances to come out of Hollywood in an age.

Romantic Warner Baxter, gorgeously glamorous Marjorie Weaver—at last in glittering raiment; Peter Lorre, the erstwhile menace Mr. Moto, in a riotously funny characterization; beloved Jenn Hersholt in a part as charming as his famous Country Doctor; that master of facial facility, John Carradine; exciting Lynn Bari; Fritz Feld in the best thing he has done since the Pied Piper in Rheinhardt's "The Miracle".

For quick relief from indigestion, heartburn and acid stomach due to excessive smoking and drinking try Adla Tablets. Sold on money back guarantee. F. J. Fessengen & Son, Druggists.

LANSING LETTER

blades, scythes from the first rough metal blades affixed to a tree branch to the cradle scythes. You will see specimens of Ambler's mowing machines, patented in 1834, and a reaper built in Brockport, New York, in 1848.

Here is the Mills engine of 1877, 50 years ahead of its time in the use of superheated steam and forced draught, and the Westinghouse vertical agricultural engine used by Henry Ford in the threshing season of 1882.

Whereas electricity now does many of the chores at the farm-home, our pioneer ancestors devised various tread-mills, horse-operated and even the dog-powered types, to relieve the farmer's wife of the drudgery of operating plunger churns.

Industrial Changes

How machinery has eased the burdens and shortened the hours for the American worker is graphically shown in the manufacture section of the Edison Institute Museum.

Here is the earliest engine, known as a Newcomen atmospheric pressure engine, a reciprocating engine of the walking beam type, developing 11 horsepower and used to pump water out of an English coal mine.

Engine improvements perfected by Watt are also displayed.

And as you might well expect, there is a fascinating collection of lamps, candle lamps, and Edison's inlamps, candle lamps, and Edison's incandescent lamps. The evolution of the vacuum cleaner is portrayed along with stoves, refrigerators, typewriters, cameras, and even printing presses.

These collections alone will make an optimist out of the most chronic "the-world-is-getting-worse" kicker.

They are rose-colored glasses.

Michigan History

Much of the recent history of Michigan is reflected in the transportation section of the Edison Institute Museum.

As the progress of Michigan has been due largely to development of the automobile, hence the motor vehicle exhibit attracts widespread interest among all visitors.

Early American makes include the Winton, Haynes, Cadillac and Reo, various "electrics" and steamers of Stanley, White and others.

The story of the Ford automobile is told from the first car completed in 1896 through subsequent developments to the historic Model T, represented by the 15,000,000th car, and the Model A, represented by the 20,000,000th car.

You will see the car that won the first automobile race in this country—Riker's "Bullet", a streamlined, skeleton affair of ancient vintage which was powered by storage batteries and overcame all-comers, steamers, electric and gasoline-powered cars, to capture the title.

McGuffey

As pioneer life in America is often associated with William Holmes McGuffey, whose readers blazed the trail to graded instruction in the Middle West, it is only logical that Greenfield Village should start its daily living with a log school made of logs brought from the Holmes farm in Pennsylvania where Dr. McGuffey was born.

Classes in the first and second grade are held here during each regular school year. After reaching third grade, the village school pupil moves to the Scotch Settlement school or to the Town Hall school. Hot lunches are served each noon at the Clinton Inn, a typical hostelry of 100 years ago which stood in Clinton, Michigan, on the great Sauk Indian trail. Early stage coaches leaving Detroit for Chicago made the Clinton Inn their first overnight stop.

Church services are held each Sunday in the Chapel of Martha-Mary, named for mothers of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford. In the tower a sweet-toned bell, cast by Paul Revere, Jr., announces the morning services each morning for the village school children.

Other buildings in the Village are the Logan County Courthouse, a general store from Waterford, Michigan, Deluge fire engine house, Loranger gristmill, sawmill, sorghum and cider mill, blacksmith shop, Currier shoe shop, tintype studio, post office, depot, Stephen Foster house, Edison homestead, Cape Cod windmill, Edison's Menlo Park laboratory, and even the steamer "Suwanee" on the Suwanee river.

Greenfield Village will interest young and old.

It is a story of America.
